Mt. Lake Amends Proposed Ordinance

The first reading of a proposed town ordinance to regulate subdivision of land was heard at a recent Mt. Lake Park Town Council meeting.

In response to opposition expressed at a public hearing several weeks ago, the council agreed to eliminate the originally proposed one-mile jurisdiction over property outside the town limits, as having to comply with the ordinance. The ordinance as proposed now will only govern subdivision of land within the corporate boundaries.

The second reading of the ordinance will be held at a public hearing on Thursday, March 12, at 7 p. m. in the Town Hall.

In other town business, Wendell Keaton, Garrett County Municipal Coordinator, presented to the council the possibility of putting up new signs in the town.

The Vacationland CB Club informed the council of its desire to hold bingo games in its clubhouse, leased from the town. The matter was referred to the town's attorney, Bob Watson, for investigation.

It was announced that Fra Jinkins, the town's Zoning Administrator, has resigned from that position due to ill health.

The Mayor and Town Council will meet again March 12.

Pollution Project Upgrade Continues At Westvaco Mill

Work is continuing at Westvaco's Luke mill on a major pollution abatement project to upgrade the efficiency of the mill's No. 3 Recovery Boiler Precipitator, according to an announcement by Dr. David G. McMaster, Luke mill manager.

Work has been underway there since the fall of 1980, with the $3.7 million project expected to be completed this spring.

The project consists of extensive repair to the tile shell, replacement of all internals, new stainless steel exhaust stacks, additional power sets are being added, as well as other major improvement work.

A 250-foot high tower crane with a 220-foot long boom is being used to help complete the project. The crane arrived from Germany for the work last summer.

Prime contractors on the site are: Sauer Industrial Contracting, Inc. and Sargent Electric Company, Pittsburgh; W. N. Yoder & Sons, Inc., Cumberland; and AMB Corporation, Muskegon, Michigan.

Water Conservation Information Offered

The Maryland Water Resources Administration has recently prepared an information sheet recommending simple water conservation measures that can be instituted in the home to reduce water use. "Wise use of the State's valuable water supplies can be enhanced by effective home water conservation measures. By reducing water use, cost savings in both water and energy may be realized by the home owner," says Charles A. Wheeler of the WRA Water Supply Division. He went on to say that, "In spite of adequate supplies, making an effort to conserve water now may mean that mandatory water restrictions could be avoided this summer."

The information sheet suggests various water use practices that can, at little or no cost, provide a significant reduction in home water use. To obtain a copy of the information sheet, interested persons may call 301-293-3875 or write Water Supply Division, Water Resources Administration, Tawes State Office Building, D-3, Annapolis, Maryland 21401.

State Forest Income Up In 1980

by Michael R. Gregory
Maryland Forest Service
During the 1980 fiscal year, the four state forests in Western Maryland generated more than $280,000 from the sale of timber on their lands.

This sum represents the highest income ever derived from these state forest lands. The four state forests, Green Ridge, Potomac, Garrett, and Savage River, harvested a total of 725 acres, less than one percent of their total land area. These 725 acres yielded close to 3 million board feet of sawtimber and 7,847 cords of pulpwood. In addition the state forests provided the public with 3,143 cords of fuelwood through their firewood program. This volume of firewood represents the same heating potential as 626,000 gallons of fuel oil. In this respect the state forests not only helped to conserve this nation's oil reserves but offered many people the opportunity to lower their heating bills by burning wood.

It may be of some interest that of the $280,000 generated on state forests, twenty-five percent or $70,000 was returned to Allegany and Garrett County for use as they deemed necessary. As such the state forests helped to provide funding for everything from paving county roads to improving the education programs in our schools.

In addition to timber the state forests provided further benefits in terms of serving as a source water, wildlife habitat, recreation, and education. Fishermen and hunters came to the forests in search of fish and game, and found both fairly abundant. Hikers, snowmobilers, and cross-country skiers found the trails on state forest to their liking and made good use of them in the pursuit of their recreational pastimes. Our state forest also offered many people the opportunity to view the beautiful forest lands which have made Western Maryland so popular. In light of all these benefits few could argue that 1980 was a good year for both the public and state forest. However, the best news is that 1981 promises to be even better.

Rebate Scheme Disclosed By Consumer Bureau

The Consumer Protection Division of the Maryland Attorney General's Office today warned consumers to ignore an apparent gasoline rebate scheme that has been advertised in an Eastern Shore weekly newspaper, as well as The Citizen newspaper, distributed in Garrett County from Frostburg.

An advertisement on January 29th in the Marylander and Herald in Princess Anne, Somerset County, implied that readers who sent $5 to a purported retail oil association in Heflin, Alabama, will receive a 50-cent rebate on each gallon of gasoline, diesel oil, propane and home heating oil they purchase in 1981.

Investigations being conducted by the Federal postal authorities and the Alabama Attorney General's Office indicate that no such rebate program exists.

A postal inspector in Alabama says the investigation suggests that the Retail Oil Association which has been placing the advertisement in numerous weekly newspapers around the country is a "phantom" organization.

So far, the Salisbury branch of the Maryland Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division has received two inquiries regarding the advertisement, but no complaints about it have been filed. The Alabama Attorney General's Office also reports receiving numerous inquiries about the ad but no complaints in which consumers allege loss of money.

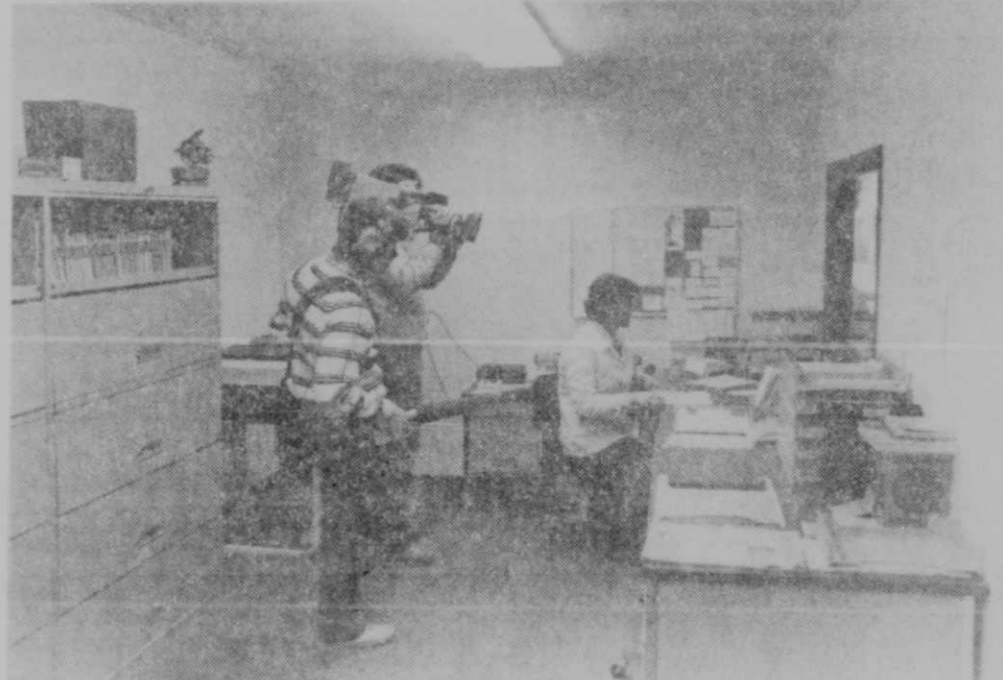

Federal postal authorities in Birmingham, Alabama obtained a temporary restraining order against the suspicious post office box on February 5 and are holding all the mail being sent to it.

A postal inspector said between 40 and 50 letters a day are arriving at the Heflin, Alabama box from some 45 states. He estimated that only a half dozen letters have been received from Maryland consumers.

If the U. S. Postal Service grants a request by Alabama officials to issue a false representation order against the purported oil association, then all the mail received since February 5 will be returned to the senders, the Alabama postal inspector said.

FILMING BEGINS as Dr. Walter Naumann, left, enters the new Accident Health Center, followed by members of the crew of Baltimore's Evening Magazine. The search for a doctor, and the efforts of the Community Health Board resulted in the establishment of the clinic, and the services of the first doctor in more than 40 years for the Accident Community. The program is expected to be aired in early March on WJZ-TV 13.

BUSINESS AS USUAL — The filming crew from Baltimore's Evening Magazine seems to have little effect on Judy Alexander, the Accident Community Health Center's receptionist, as she speaks with a patient during business hours at the clinic. The crew filmed events of the average working day for viewing in early March.

The advertisements by The Retail Oil Association apparently surfaced in late 1980.

"Everyone can receive a rebate from The Retail Oil Association in accordance with official governing regulations," the ad reads.

Consumers are asked to fill out a form estimating the gallons of fuel they will purchase this year and return it to the Alabama address with a $5 fee for "postage, processing and instructions," allowing six to eight weeks for processing the rebate application.

The Consumer Protection Division warns that schemes in which money is requested for "instructions," or which only give a post office box as an address, are highly suspect. By the time consumers realize they have not received anything, the person renting the box has disappeared with the money.

Alabama officials estimate that some $5,000 was obtained by the alleged oil association prior to issuance of the temporary restraining order earlier this month.

A man they term a "hired hand" of the suspicious association admits renting the postal box and says he forwarded some of the receipts to his employer in Texas, who has not been located so far.

Southern High Band Boosters Meeting Noted

The March meeting of the Southern Band Boosters will be held March 10 at 7:30 p. m. in the band room.

The regular meeting date was changed in order to have the availability of the cafeteria for showing films of band performances.

Richard Clever, band director, plans to show the films which are made during the competition performances by the Southern Highlander Band in Toledo, Ohio in October and in Jacksonville, Florida in November.

The public is invited to the film showing, which will begin at 8:15 p. m.

Over Half Of Maryland Schools Offer Breakfast

Over half of Maryland's 1,325 public schools are now offering school breakfast and almost 50,000 children now eat breakfast in school daily, according to a release from the Maryland State Department of Education. Joan Weatherholtz, Chief of the Food and Nutrition Branch for the Department, says the number of schools in that fast-growing program now stands at 724. Over a hundred of that total were added in 1980 following legislation by the 1980 Maryland General Assembly encouraging participation by elementary schools in low income communities.

To promote still wider school breakfast service, the state school agency has named the week of March 2 School Breakfast Week in Maryland. Planned are activities in local school systems including posters to promote good breakfast habits, new breakfast recipes, and nutrition education activities.

Local Student On Dean's List At St. Mary's

One hundred seventy two students have been named to the 1980 fall semester Dean's List at St. Mary's College of Maryland according to Dr. Harmon Haymes, Vice President for Academic Affairs. Full-time students earning a grade point average of 3.50 or better for the semester are named to the List in recognition of their academic achievement. Thirty two seniors, 47 juniors, 43 sophomores, 49 freshmen and 1 special student comprise the list.

Among those students making the list was Andrew Bailey, a sophomore math major from Oakland. He is a son of Mrs. Arnela Hamill, South Second Street.

St. Mary's College of Maryland is a four year, public college of liberal arts and sciences for men and women. It is situated on the St. Mary's River in St. Mary's City.

Commodity Futures Seminar Scheduled

Robert H. Longenecker, a registered commodity trading advisor and licensed commodity broker, will conduct a seminar on how to invest in commodity futures on Thursday, February 26 in the community room of the First National Bank of Oakland. The seminar will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Commodity futures are contracts used to buy and sell commodities such as gold, silver, soybeans, wheat, cattle and foreign currencies. They are used to hedge inventories and liabilities against unexpected price changes as well as for purposes of price speculation. The contracts are traded on major exchanges in Chicago and New York much like stocks and bonds. The Commodity Futures Trading Commission is the agency of the federal government which regulates the buying and selling of commodity futures.

The purpose of the seminar is to prepare investors to trade commodity futures successfully. The basic concepts and terminology of trading commodity futures will be presented. In addition, Mr. Longenecker will talk about price prediction and important trading principles which can increase the likelihood of success.

The seminar is open to the public at no cost.

APPRAISALS

Forestry Program Improves Over 1.9 Million Acres

The Forestry Incentives Program, administered by USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, has reforested or improved over 1.9 million acres of woodlands, according to Stuart C. Peterson, Acting Chairperson of the Maryland State ASC Committee. From these acres, the nation will ultimately derive over five billion cubic feet of timber and timber products, he said.

FIP now entering its seventh year, encourages private non-industrial landowners to raise marketable timber on their land and shares the cost of forestry practices with them. To assure that forests are managed professionally and efficiently, the U. S. Forest Service provides technical help through State foresters. "This helps relieve landowners' fears about timber raising because it takes from 20 to 40 years to derive returns from money invested in forestry," Peterson said.

Here in Maryland, 2,798 woodland acres have been improved under FIP with $107,202 in cost-share payments made to Maryland producers during 1980.

Tree planting and tree stand improvement are two major practices under the program. Tree planting is intended to increase the production of timber and improve the environment. Tree stand improvement is aimed at increasing tree growth on sites suitable for production of sawtimber and veneer logs.

The demand for sawtimber, plywood logs and quality hardwood logs in this country is expected to exceed the supply within 25 years, Peterson said, unless many more trees are planted each year and much more forest land is placed under good management.

Nationally, ASCS has provided over $70 million in cost-share funds to landowners under the Forestry Program. To be eligible, farmers must own at least ten but not more than 1,000 acres of forest land.

WVU Professor Researching New Method To Increase Milk Protein

When a farmer feeds a cow, he's feeding 60 trillion other creatures as well. They are the microbes — some 300 species of them — which live in her rumen.

The rumen, with a capacity that can exceed 40 gallons, is located in front of the stomach. Rumen microbes serve a cow by breaking down coarse carbohydrates which her own digestive system is not equipped to handle. Unfortunately they also have an appetite for protein, which the cow could easily digest without assistance.

At West Virginia University, William Hoover has designed and built an array of artificial rumens to study, among other things, ways to get protein safely past the rumen microbes.

"The rumen organisms degrade protein far in excess of their own needs," explained Dr. Hoover, professor of dairy nutrition. "They convert it into ammonia, which they live on. The excess ammonia is converted into urea in the cow's liver and then excreted. So you've lost a lot of good protein."

In his current study, Hoover is treating feed given to the artificial rumens with very small amounts of formaldehyde. The formaldehyde should make the protein less soluble and therefore less available for microbial digestion.

Little about an artificial rumen suggests the innards of a cow.

It's a sophisticated machine of motors, meters, tubes, hoses and glass chambers. The rumen substitute itself, called a fermenter, is a cylindrical jar half-immersed in heated water. Inside, spinning paddles agitate an opaque brownish soup full of swirling food particles. The microbes are far too small to be seen by the unaided eye.

Overall, the relationship between a cow and her microbes is mutually advantageous and cows have evolved ways to help their microbial partners. By mixing with her saliva the equivalent of a pound of baking soda every day, a cow saves the microbes from destroying themselves with the acids they produce as waste products. Muscular contraction of the rumen keeps the food in constant circulation, ensuring maximum opportunities for digestion.

It is to a cow's advantage to keep her microbial population large. Close to half of her protein supply consists of the microbes themselves, which she digests when they pass into her stomach.

"It's the combined microbe protein and feed protein which supports a cow," Hoover said. "We want to optimize the supply from both sources."

Early results with formaldehyde-treated feed show most proteins remaining intact after their encounter with the rumen microbes. In fact, the formaldehyde seems to be successful in preventing a lot of digestion, and not only of protein. "That's something we'll have to look into," Hoover said.

While formaldehyde may be fed to beef animals, the U. S. Food and Drug Administration prohibits its use with dairy cows because the chemical can get into milk. "It's really the principle we want to establish," Hoover said. "If formaldehyde works, so will something else."

Specialist Links Mastitis With Stray Voltage

Nervous cows who don't like to spend time in the milking parlor could be trying to tell their owners something, says Dr. Robert R. Peters, Extension milking management specialist and assistant professor of dairy science at the University of Maryland.

Stray or "tingle" voltage from poor electrical wiring, faulty equipment, improper grounding or neutral-to-earth differentials may be the culprit which makes dairy cows jump and often brings on more cases of mastitis (udder inflammation) in the dairy herd, Dr. Peters comments.

Some experts feel that 20 percent of all milking parlor operations are affected by the stray-voltage malady. Numerous stall-milking dairy operations are also affected, especially the larger ones, according to the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service.

Maryland dairy farmers and industry representatives will have a chance to learn more about this problem next month during the 16th annual meeting of the Maryland Mastitis Council. The event is scheduled for March 12 in the fire hall at Walkersville (Frederick county), beginning at 9:30 a.m. From 11:30 a.m. through mid-afternoon, the program will be devoted entirely to stray-voltage problems. Guest speakers will include Dr. Robert D. Appleman, an Extension dairyman and professor of animal science at the University of Minnesota. Dr. Appleman is co-author of a 1980 booklet, titled Stray Voltage Problems With Dairy Cows (North Central Regional Extension Publication 125).

The meeting is being co-sponsored by the University of Maryland's Cooperative Extension Service and Department of Dairy Science, along with the Maryland Mastitis Council. A moderate registration fee will be charged to help defray meeting costs and a noon luncheon.

Milk Production Up In January

The average daily milk production in Maryland rose to 33.9 pounds per cow in January, a half pound increase from the previous month and 1.3 pounds more than a year ago. According to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service, milk production totalled 130 million pounds, two percent above last month and three percent above a year ago.

Milk produced per cow in January averaged 1,050 pounds, 40 pounds above a year ago. There were 124,000 milk cows on farms this month, unchanged from December, but 1,000 less than a year ago.

Maryland milk producers received $13.90 per hundredweight on a 3.5 percent butterfat basis for milk delivered to plants during December. Actual deliveries during December averaged $14.60 per hundredweight. The preliminary price for January averaged $14.70 per hundredweight at 3.9 percent butterfat.

Maryland dairymen paid more for feed in January than a year ago. Most feeds remained unchanged from a month earlier, except for sixteen percent protein feed which rose $6.00 to $205.00 a ton and twenty percent protein feed which dropped $5.00 to $215.00.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

SUDSY GUY — Soaps are my favorite shows. Who is Paul on "The Young and the Restless," and is he married? Where can I write him? He is my favorite actor, Vickie, Lubbock, Texas.

Paul is played by Doug Davidson who was born in Glendale, Calif. He still lives there, with his Welsh corgi dog named Ebenezer. Doug is single. His role on the soap came about by chance when he was visiting a friend in the show. He met the show's producers on the set, made some guest appearances and that led to his becoming a regular. Write him in care of the show at CBS Television City, Los Angeles, CA 90036.

I've seen Robert Walden, who plays Joe Rossi on "Lou Grant," somewhere before. Has he ever been in any other TV series? Terri-Lynne Katz, Brattleboro, Vt.

You're so observant, you'd make a good reporter yourself. Robert Walden was Dr. Martin Cohen on the show, "The New Doctors," which was part of the series, "The Bold Ones." Walden's character came into the series in 1972 to replace the departed Dr. Ted Stuart.

Robert Walden

Michael Sarrazin

INVESTIGATIVE REPORTER — I just know

I can't tell you where to go. He is not filming anything now and if he were, you would not be able to visit the set unless you knew someone in a high place at the studio. In Los Angeles, however, one sees actors everywhere. I see Jim Arness, Sally Field, Erik Estrada and Paul Michael Glaser, among others, in the supermarket where I shop. If you happen to run into Sarrazin, then you are fated to meet.

THANK YOU — I would like to thank Richard Chamberlain and Yoko Shimada for Shogun. Where can I write them? Also is Chamberlain married? D.R.C., Little Rock, Ark.

Yoko lives in Japan, and Richard, who is single, lives in Beverly Hills. Write them both in care of Shogun, NBC-TV, Burbank, CA 91505.

(Do you have a question about TV? Write Val Carew at 200 Park Avenue, Room 602, New York, NY 10166.)

In "Fugitive Family," an earlier film, I spent two and a half weeks in the Napa Valley of California and got quite a background in wine-making even to pruning and grafting vines.

For his recent in "The Pride of Jesse Hallam," no fresh study was necessary. He learned that early, by osmosis. "I grew up in Brooklyn's Little Italy and I went with my friends to more funerals and masses than I could count — not that I do a caricature."

In order to get the feel of being incarcerated, Kate Jackson, formerly of "Charlie's Angels," had herself off to the California Institute for Women to talk with some of the 200 women serving time there. A stickler for authenticity, she tried to carry a step further. She asked to be locked up in a cell overnight.

The authorities proved uncooperative, however. They couldn't guarantee her safety, she said, so they sped her toward the freeways and home before sundown. Miss Jackson, co-star, Perry King, skipped the prison briefing this time. Seems he's already gone that route — at California Terminal Island — for a film he did last year.

But the honors for the toughest learning task of this season may go to Ron Carey for a "Barney Miller" episode. He gets his share of laughs but rarely a prolonged spotlight as the self-righteous, self-promoting Officer Levitt. In the recent "Stormy Weather" episode, however, Levitt turns out to be the only member of the 12th Precinct who can communicate with a deaf prostitute, played by Phyllis Frelich.

Ms. Frelich, the holder of Broadway's current "Best Actress," Tony Award for her portrayal of a deaf woman in "Children of a Lesser God," really is deaf and relies on sign language.

Two weeks of work with a certified sign-language teacher got Carey over his stage fright and toward his goal of being so authentic that no one deaf viewer could say he goofed up.

Has modern art become old-fashioned today?

"By 1975," says Robert Hughes, "all the isms were waning."

In "The Future That Was," the conclusion to the BBC series "The Shock of the New," airing Sunday, March 1 on PBS, host Hughes discusses the end of modernism as the primary artistic style of the century.

The avant-garde, he suggests, no longer exists; it has been defeated by the one thing it couldn't predict or control: widespread acceptance by the masses it once tried to shock.

The museum, as Hughes sees it, played a major role in the "institutionalization" of modern art. When New York's Museum of Modern Art was founded in 1929, he notes, even the name was odd. "Wasn't the avant-garde against museums in principle?" he asks. "Hadn't the Futurists wanted to burn them down?"

Once the museums began to seek and hang modern art, they gave it the credentials and respectability it had so notably lacked. Because of this, Hughes says, modernism would tend to seem noble and exemplary rather than tense and controversial.

Hand in hand with museum acceptance — although more slowly — came the astonishing growth of the art market, a phenomenon Hughes views with a certain melancholy. "I started writing about art 20 years ago. In those far-off days you could spend time in a museum without ever once thinking about what the art might cost. But then, in the '60s, something began to happen."

First there was a trickle, and then a stream and then a great roaring flood of propaganda about art investment. The price of a work of art now became part of its function. It redefined the art — whose new job was to sit on the wall and get more expensive.

Not surprisingly, some artists began to concentrate on creating works which could not be institutionalized in museums. In "performance art," the artist submerged himself in water, walked on glass, or created some other kind of what Hughes calls high-intensity theater.

Others, like sculptor Walter De Maria, chose to work on a scale and in media which could not possibly be put into a museum. His "Lightning Field" is made up of 400 steel spikes, planted in absolutely even rows in a patch of New Mexico desert one mile long and one kilometer wide.

On the other hand, the last 20 years or so have also produced art that depends absolutely on the museum for its existence. Minimalist art, such as Carl Andre's "Equivalent VIII," which is nothing more or less than 120 bricks piled in two even layers, is a case in point.

"A Rodin in a parking lot," Hughes says, "is still a misplaced Rodin. But this in a parking lot is just bricks. In this way, the museum becomes a nearly equal partner with the artist; it helps create the work."

Collaborations with museums and multi-million dollar canvases are not what modernism and modern artists were originally trying to create. Is modernism, then, exhausted? Museum of Modern Art curator William Rubin says that a handful of great geniuses, great painters, could emerge within the next 10 years and revitalize the tradition. But he also admits that there is a lot of evidence that a period has ended.

Well, then what's next?

"The basic project of art is always to make the world whole and comprehensible to us," Hughes concludes, "to restore it to us in all its glory and occasional nastiness — not through argument, but through feeling, and then to close the gap between you and everything that is not you, so as to pass from feeling to meaning."

This task can never be finished. We don't have an avant-garde any more, but we're certainly always going to have art.

THURSDAY

Tony Joe White's hard-hitting lyrics and rhythms ("Rainy Night in Georgia," "Poke Salad Annie") become part of "Austin City Limits," airing Thursday, Feb. 26, on PBS.

Brenda Vaccaro takes on an important role

There were several reasons why Brenda Vaccaro chose to accept a starring role in a television special, opposite Johnny Cash and Eli Wallach. Some were personal, some were professional, and at least one was based on her own sense of values.

Miss Vaccaro stars with Cash, Wallach and Ben Marley in a two-hour drama special, "The Pride of Jesse Hallam," which will air Tuesday, March 3 on CBS.

In the special, Cash plays an adult functional illiterate who is encouraged by his boss (Wallach) to learn how to read. Miss Vaccaro stars as the teacher, Marion Galtieri, who ultimately helps him. She has a difficult time, though, since Hallam is tempted more than once to abandon his task and return to his simpler life.

"The Pride of Jesse Hallam" is the first offering in CBS's 1981 Television Reading Program. The Reading Program is a nationwide project designed to tap children's enthusiasm for television and use it to help improve their reading skills. Students across the country will receive matched-to-broadcast scripts of "The Pride of Jesse Hallam," which they can read in the classroom aloud. Teachers will receive guides to the show that can help them stimulate discussion and assign related creative projects.

A major factor in Miss Vaccaro's decision to take the role was, she says, the "good, strong message" in the drama. She says television should be used to its best advantage as an informational medium, and stories like "The Pride of Jesse Hallam" can be very important for viewers for that reason.

Since there are an estimated 25 million adult functional illiterates in this country, Miss Vaccaro hopes that some of the people who will watch the drama will identify with the character Johnny Cash plays, and perhaps find the courage within themselves to learn how to read.

From a personal standpoint, Miss Vaccaro relished the thought of working with both Wallach and Cash.

"I've known Eli Wallach for 20 years," she said, "and never worked with him. This chance was like my birthday — like Christmas, like Easter — I was in awe."

Working with Cash also gave Miss Vaccaro a thrill. The country music star has done some acting, but is best known, of course, for his musical talents. As a music fan, Miss Vaccaro was pleased to have the chance to meet Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash.

"I've always listened to his music," the actress says. "I've always been an admirer. He's a great American, a great human being. He understands the kind of man he's playing. He has a lot of compassion."

Commitment is the common thread that connects the character Miss Vaccaro plays to the actress herself. When Marion Galtieri decides to undertake the difficult task of trying to teach Jesse Hallam to read, Miss Vaccaro says, it was the expression of her need as an educator.

"She needed to teach, to care, to belong to some commitment," Miss Vaccaro said. "Commitment is important, whether you teach, or you act."

Andrea Evans marries — and models clothes

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

HOLLYWOOD — Lots of things have been happening lately in the life of Andrea Evans, who plays Tina Clayton on "One Life to Live." She and castmate Wayne Massey (Johnny Drummond) were married on Feb. 14th, with the encouragement of Wayne's young son, Judd.

Andrea Evans (Tina Clayton on "One Life to Live")

A second exciting event in Andrea's life was the chance to model clothes for famed photographer, Francesco Scavullo. The fashion show was all part of a beauty spread in Harper's Bazaar magazine.

Viewers of "As the World Turns" have been very disturbed by the fact that veteran soap actress Helen Wagner (Nancy Hughes) was written out of the show. Helen, whose role was dwindling under the current "ATWT" writers, didn't renew her contract. Suzanne Davidson (Betty Stewart) is enjoying herself at Syracuse University. The young, talented actress left her long-time soap role to continue her education and to take a vacation from her soap-acting chores. But don't be surprised if this young talent turns up on "ATWT" or some other soap in the future.

By the time you read this column, Barbara (Robert Joyner Hughes on "ATWT") may no longer be with the show. Rumor has it that one of Barbara's long-time castmates wasn't at all pleased with all the air time that Ms. Rodell's character had been receiving, and evidently so voiced her complaint to the right people. Barbara had been written out of the script once before and then brought back. Backstage politicking, it would seem, is still going strong.

Anita Jodelsohn, a newcomer to soaps, who didn't have any problem at all adapting to her role as Simone, Lance Prentiss' fiancée on "The Young and the Restless," And while Anita was adapting, Roberta Leighton (Cathy Reed) was vacationing from her role on the same show. Roberta visited Palm Springs where her parents reside.

Leslie Dalton (Elizabeth Spaulding) has decided to leave her "Guiding Light" role. Although she may reappear on the soap from time to time, Ms. Dalton is concentrating on stage work at the moment and has been working with a New York theater group.

ROD STEIGER STARS as a priest who tries to exorcise demons from a suburban family's dream house in "The Amityville Horror." This thriller has never before been shown on network television. CBS airs it as a special movie presentation on Sunday, March 1.

CINDY SAYS

No opera for hostages; Quiet about 'Caligula'

By CINDY ADAMS
 NEW YORK — Although there was neither time, spirit nor strength left to accept his offer, Luciano Pavarotti offered to tie a yellow ribbon around our 32 returned Americans, and sing his heart, soul, lungs, liver and stomach out for them for free. Something or someone seems to have reached Peter O'Toole. He's suddenly stopped rapping "Caligula," the movie in which he plays His Royal Highness, Caligula. Previously O'Toole had blasted it as "horrible rubbish," which is British for "a stinker." Danielle Brisebois, 11 years old and the hottest kid on TV's "Archie Bunker's Place," had a hating party. The kid's going to cut a record album with Carroll O'Connor, should anybody ask.

Robert Alda, star of "The Gertrude and Arthur" and "Guys and Dolls," but better known today as Alan Alda's daddy, says his younger son, Anthony, will soon out-gitter big brother Alan. Anthony and his pa are going on the road with the Jack Lemmon play, "Tribute." Elinor John, who so far has blown the best dressed list just bought a closet full of wedge sneakers — with sequins, yet.

Comedian Orson Bean, on the dais at a benefit that also boasted New York's Cardinal Terence Cooke, hissed to the toastmaster, "Is His Eminence saying I have to know fast so I can quick clean up my act?" Kenny Rogers is looking to kick the singing habit. His new addiction is acting. Victoria Principal of "Dallas" had originally proposed marriage to her husband, Chris Skinner, and now she has popped the question of divorce. Bob Hope's

A half-hour television show based on the Star magazine kicks off come September. Called, "The TV Star," the pilot episode features interviews with Bart Reynolds, Tammy Wynette, Susan Richardson, Woody Allen. "One pile of garbage has been on my street so long it's been declared a landmark." Mrs. John Lindsay, Mary suggested lunch with Mrs. Fiorella LaGuardia. Marie I thought it was a lovely idea. The widow of our great "Little Flower" lives a somewhat reclusive life these days in her house in Riverdale, New York.

Joey Bishop hurt his leg and is hobbling about his former astronaut Scott Carpenter, the musos and two kids, sailed on the QE2 for two months. He'll lecture on board.

SATURDAY

Flo imagines she's back in the Old West and that Earl is the sheriff. Polly Holliday and Geoffrey Lewis star on "Flo," airing Saturday, Feb. 28 on CBS.

TV TATTLE

"Thanks, mean Joe"

TV viewers all over the country smile when mean Joe Greene turns soft and throws his towel to the adoring little boy on the soft drink commercial. The little boy and the big bad football player seem to have a winning chemistry together because there's now talk of a TV series starring them both.

"It's just in the talking stage," said the defensive tackle of the Pittsburgh Steelers. He doesn't expect anything concrete until at least the year after next.

And even then, says Greene, "My first commitment is to football."

Classy commercials

Another performer catapulted to fame by a commercial is Mariette Hartley, who is featured with James Garner in a series of Polaroid advertisements.

"My whole life has changed as a result of them," she says. This week she stars in "No Place to Hide," a thriller on CBS Wednesday, March 4. Miss Hartley is a classically trained actress who has performed roles from Shakespeare, Chekhov and Ibsen. But she has no disdain for her TV commercials.

To me, they are mini-movies," she says. "In their wit, intelligence and respect for the audience, in their overtones of character which go beyond that restricted format, I think there is nothing classier than those commercials."

"The American Scene"

The pilot of a new magazine-format show will premiere this coming fall on NBC. Called "The American Scene," the one-hour entertainment magazine show is "fast-paced" and "high-energy," according to the president of MCA-TV, which is producing it with NBC.

The show will air daily, and each day host Patrick Wayne son of John Wayne, will be joined by special contributors. Gymnast Cathy Rigby will be one, for example, and she will travel all over the country to cover stories of interest. Plus, each week of the show will have a different celebrity guest host. Cheryl Ladd, star of "Charlie's Angels," will co-host the pilot.

Timothy West as Sir Winston Churchill

A complex Churchill

He would often go behind a bomb-blasted wall and sob his heart out," says actor Timothy West of the famous person he is now playing, Winston Churchill. He'd give the V-sign to the people who had just lost their homes and shout, "Are we downhearted?" and then go off and cry.

West spent six months preparing for his role as the prime minister in the television drama "Churchill and the Generals," which will air March 5 on Channel 5. His performance shows Churchill in many lights: cruel and ruthless, brilliant and witty, childish and humorous, determined and confident.

"I suppose there are people still around who can't face the fact that there was anything wrong with him. But he could be devious and he would listen more to his own instincts than to anything else."

Now I see him as very complex and very human," says the actor. "I understand him better."

PBS shows television's first major retrospective of the life and 30-year career of Katharine Hepburn as part of its "Festival Nights" series beginning March 7. The retrospective begins with her first movie, "A Bill of Divorcement," and includes interviews with other stars, newsreel footage and excerpts from her performances, to air March 16.

RECEIVES NEW AMBULANCE — The Accident station of the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad recently took delivery on a new Ford van-type ambulance. The vehicle has a one-ton chassis, manufactured by E.V.P., Inc., of Riviera Beach Co., LaPlata. Total funding for the new unit was through in-county membership dues and fund drives, such as the baby beef sale currently in progress. The Northern squad houses two ambulances at the Accident station and two ambulances, a rescue truck and a "MASH" unit at the Grantsville station. Donations for the new vehicle are still being accepted, according to Don Ringer, captain of the squad, pictured right. At left is Steve Hamilton, lieutenant.

QUIET, TRANQUIL LIGHT created by the stained glass in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, seems to capture the mood of Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent. Christian throughout the world will begin their Lenten observance today.

and churches across Garrett County will be filled, as worshippers reflect on the meaning of the day. The late winter sunlight appropriately symbolizes the beginning of Lent, an Anglo-Saxon word meaning "Spring." Photo by Craig Phillips

Unoccupied House Severely Damaged By Fire Sunday

Arson has been ruled as the cause of a fire Sunday afternoon which caused extensive damage to a single-story house located along the Bethlehem Road, according to Robert Shiner, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties.

The wood frame structure, which is owned by James T. Paugh, Deer Park, has been unoccupied for about two months, Shiner said.

Responding to the 2:43 p.m. alarm were firefighters from Deer Park and Oakland. Upon their arrival they found one end of the house totally involved in flames. The blaze was brought under control in about ten minutes and five personnel remained on the scene until approximately 4:30 p.m.

Garrett Central Alarm also sent the equipment truck from Southern Rescue and the county air cascade vehicle to the scene. There were no injuries reported.

Shiner said his investigation of the incident is continuing. Oakland firefighters were summoned earlier that same day to extinguish a fire at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Field, Memorial Drive. The call was received at 1:50 p.m. and firemen remained on the scene for about 40 minutes. There was only minor damage.

ARC Termination Would Cut 40 Western Maryland Projects

Termination of the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) as proposed by Washington, D.C., passed a resolution urging President Reagan not to abolish ARC or, at least, to provide for an orderly dismantling rather than abruptly ending the organization.

Tim Dugan, county planning director, stated he, Diana Wawinski, county housing coordinator, and Duane Urey, Community Action Director, have scheduled a meeting with U.S. Representative Beverly Byron Thursday to discuss the future of ARC.

Dugan pointed out that termination of ARC seems infeasible for erecting the signs in compliance with the State Traffic Code, and they will later be reimbursed for the cost.

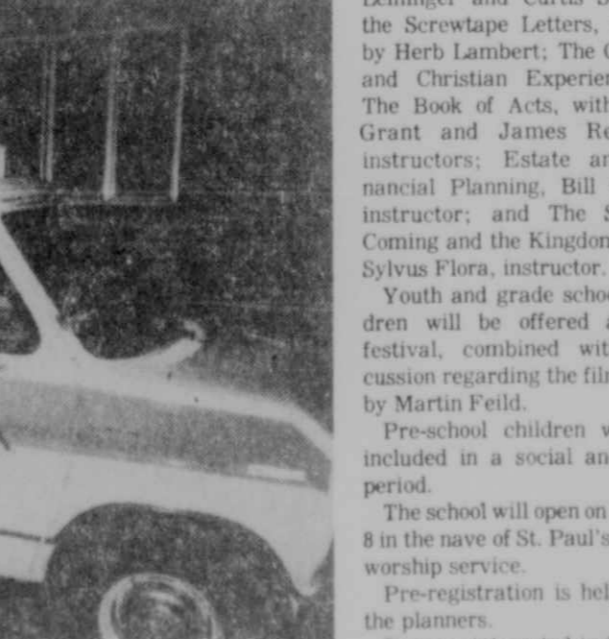

The SIA representative announced the amount of funds allocated for each town as follows: Friendsville, $1,654.00; Mt. Lake Park, $1,309.50; Deer Park, $1,423.00; Grantsville, $2,000.00; Loch Lynn, $2,108.50; and Oakland, $7,661.94.

Inactive Voters Removed From County Books

The names of 270 registered voters who have not voted at a primary, general or special election within the five calendar years 1975 to 1980 have been removed from the registration books by the Board of Supervisors of Elections for Garrett County, in accordance with State Registration and Election Laws.

Notices were mailed to these persons at their last known address on February 20. There have been 60 returned, as those persons have moved and left no forwarding address, or moved over one year ago and forwarding has expired.

A breakdown of the figures shows that 92 Democrats, 153 Republicans and 25 who declined to affiliate with a political party were removed.

According to the Board of Supervisors of Elections, a list of the Democrats removed was sent to the Democrat State Central Committee and to the president of the Garrett County Democrat Club. A list of Republicans removed was sent to the Republican State Central Committee, and to the presidents of the National Federation of Republican Women of Northern and Southern Garrett County.

These political groups will attempt to contact the voters who were removed and encourage them to re-register. A voter whose registration has been cancelled is not eligible to vote except by registering again.

Persons whose names were removed and who wish to vote in forthcoming elections may register at the office of the Board of Supervisors of Elections, located in the Garrett County Courthouse, or they may request an application and register by mail.

The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The official registration for Garrett County will be announced at a later date. As of October 1980, there were 4,008 registered Democrats, 6,655 registered Republicans, five American, one Libertarian and 329 who declined to affiliate with a political party, amounting to a total of 11,208 voters.

House Passes County Liquor Board Bill

The House of Delegates last week passed a bill sponsored by Delegate DeCorney Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) that would allow the Garrett County Liquor Control Board to levy a fine against a liquor establishment which violates the law.

In the past, the Board has had power to suspend an establishment's license. Bolden noted that in some instances, suspension of a license is too stiff a penalty.

The bill would allow the Board to impose a fine of up to $100.

Another of Bolden's bills has passed second reading in the House. It would increase the penalties for late payment of Garrett County property taxes.

Delegates To Amend Proposed Bill To Allow Tonnage Tax On Coal

Delegate DeCorney Bolden and Delegate William Byrnes have announced that due to "overwhelming" testimony Thursday in opposition to a percentage tax on coal, they will amend their bill to allow a tonnage tax.

The amended bill would enable the Garrett and Allegany county commissioners to place a 50-cent tax on each ton of strip-mine coal and would abolish the personal property tax on tracked and wheeled property used in surface mining.

Their original bill which would have allowed the two counties' commissioners to impose a percentage tax on the gross sales of coal had its hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee Thursday.

Testifying against the bill were coal operators representing Dela Mining, Inc., Tower Resources, Inc., Moran Coal Co., and Brashers Coal Mines as well as Allegany County Commissioner Arthur T. Bond and representatives of Potomac Electric and Power Company, the Chesapeake System and the State Comptroller's Office, Bolden said.

Testifying for the bill came from former Allegany County Commissioner Linda Golden, who now represents the Coalition on Surface Mining, and Garrett County Commissioner Ernie Gregg.

The coal operators held the Committee members they would accept a tonnage tax, which has also had the support of the Garrett County Commissioners. In response to questioning from Committee members, the industry representatives expressed their desire to "pay their fair share" in helping to resolve the roads budget deficits in the coal-producing counties.

Senator Edward Mason, a persistent proponent of the percentage tax on coal, also changed his position after the hearing. On Friday he agreed to support an overhaul of proposed percentage coal tax bill because of the overwhelming preference for a tonnage tax on coal.

Other provisions of the amended bill would allow the two counties to collect the tonnage tax and provide for the General Assembly to review the tax revenues during the 1984 Session of the General Assembly and every four years thereafter.

A five-cent per year increase in the tax over the next three years was also built into the amended bill.

The commissioners for the two counties have been asked to take a position on the proposed amendment. The commissioners have not yet taken a stand because they are analyzing the effects the elimination of the personal property tax might have on the county's revenue.

Another concern of the commissioners is that small operators would benefit less from the abolition of the personal property tax because they do not own as much mining equipment as large ones.

School Superintendent To Unveil FY'82 Budget Request Thursday

Dr. Jerome J. Ryscavage, Garrett County Superintendent of Public Schools, will unveil his FY1982 budget request at a Board of Education public hearing Thursday, March 5, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Garrett Community College auditorium.

The Board, stated Ryscavage, "will be interested in hearing any comments concerning the superintendent's request at this time" because action on the budget will probably be taken during the Board's March 12 meeting.

Ryscavage said his overall budget request, which includes local, state, and federal funds, amounts to $12,317,590, an 8.4 percent increase over the current school year budget.

Because the inflation rate for 1980 was recently reported as 12.4 percent, Ryscavage believes his request to be reasonable especially since the school system expects to serve about the same number of students next year as this year.

Ryscavage noted the school programs funded with federal dollars would decrease approximately 8.4 percent in the proposed FY1982 budget, whereas the programs funded with a combination of state and local dollars would increase approximately 11.7 percent.

Of the 11.7 percent increase in state and local funds, Ryscavage noted that although state funds for current expenses of public school education will be increased approximately $278,000, the Governor has chosen not to include two programs, targeted aid and social security recycling, in his 1982 budget, which are currently providing approximately $170,000 to Garrett County.

"This kind of loss of funding, obviously, will be difficult to make up by the local government," Ryscavage said.

A complete written explanation of the superintendent's request will be available at the hearing, said Ryscavage. He encouraged the public to attend the hearing.

A TOMB WITH A VIEW is the name of the three-act comedy thriller being presented by the Southern High School's senior class. The play will be presented on Friday and Saturday, March 6 and 7, in the Southern High school auditorium. The play was written by Norman Robbins, and is being directed by Mrs. James H. Beecham. Assisting is Barry Shaffer, a faculty member.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by Carolyn & Butch Helbig

Who say "A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

A NEW KIND OF WALL TO WALL CARPETING

We all know the importance of carpeting on the floor but did you know that carpeting the walls is becoming a popular trend with many of today's homeowners? Why carpet the walls? Actually, there are a number of good reasons. For one thing, carpeting on the walls provides excellent acoustics in a music room or family room where the stereo is played. Carpeting on the walls also gives interesting texture effects and can provide broad expanses of color. From a practical standpoint, it's easy to keep clean. Can you imagine yourself simply vacuuming your walls instead of scrubbing and painting?

Carpeting the walls isn't really a new concept.

Ancient peoples used tapestries both on the floor and walls. If carpeting the four walls sounds like a bit much to you, why not consider carpeting the wall behind the sofa in the family room, or the wall behind the headboard of your bedroom? If you're still skeptical, why not hang one of those exciting contemporary area rugs on your wall instead of a painting?

The carpeting experts at Roderick's are here to serve you. Stop in and discuss your carpeting questions with them today. If you are confused about carpeting, read our column next week—it will help clear these thoughts.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

Pope Details New Fee System At County Health Department

Due to recent cutbacks in state revenues to the Garrett County Health Department, Dr. William Pope, county health officer, has announced revisions to fees charged for certain department services.

The fee system for Personal Health Services provided by the Garrett County Health Department will be adjusted effective March 1, Pope said.

For all services for which a charge is to be made, a sliding fee scale will be applied which determines the fee for each individual receiving that service, Pope said. X-rays and special laboratory tests not provided by the state health laboratory will now be the responsibility of the client.

Those services which will continue to be offered without charge include: educational services such as pregnancy, infant care and childbirth education classes; pregnancy counseling and testing services; WIC Program education, enrollment and coupon distribution; Geriatric Evaluation Services; screening, diagnosis and treatment services for tuberculosis and venereal diseases; colposcopy clinic (for early identification of female cancer); and general information and referral services. The first diagnostic visit at a Crippled Children's Clinic will be at no charge for those under age 21.

All other services will have a fee established according to the ability-to-pay of the family receiving the service, Pope noted.

Services provided by nurses will be charged from $0 to $10; those services provided by physicians will be charged from $0 to $20, except for maternity care which is discussed below.

The effect of the sliding fee scale for a family of three would be as follows:

Gross Family Income (Annual) Nurse-Conducted Clinics: Under $5,500, no charge; $5,500-$8,999, $5.00; $12,000 and above, $10.00; Physician-Conducted Clinics: Under $5,500, no charge; $5,500-$8,999, $10.00; $12,000 and above, $20.00.

Clinics included in this fee system include the following:

Nurse-conducted clinics—Child Health, Adult Health and Physician-conducted clinics—Vision, Orthopedic, Plastic Surgery, Seizure, Ear, Nose & Throat, Speech Pathology Services and Audiology Clinic will be charged at the "Physician-Conducted Clinic" rate.

Family Planning Clinics and Home Health Services will continue on their present fee systems.

For persons having a current Maryland medical assistance card, billing will be made to the state, Pope said. For Maternity Services, billing will be made to private insurance companies when clients have such coverage. All other persons will be asked to pay the Health Department directly.

Pope stated Maternity Services will be charged in a package containing two components: prenatal care and supervision of labor and delivery. The prenatal care portion will cover all prenatal and postpartum visits on a sliding scale going from no charge to $160.

The labor and delivery portion will be on a sliding fee scale from $120 to $240.

The complete maternity services fee will, therefore, range from $120 to $400, depending on family income and family size.

The charge for a couple having their first child and an income of less than $5,500 would be $120, said Pope, while a couple having their first child and having an income of $5,500 to $8,999 would be charged $260. The same couple, if they had an income of $12,000 or more would be charged $400.

"Adjustment of the fee system was made necessary by budgetary cutbacks at both the federal, state and local levels," Pope explained. He added, "an attempt has been made to maintain those services most essential to assist persons to care for themselves, and those services most effective in the prevention and early detection of disease. The increased rates apply mainly to those in upper income levels for whom alternatives in the private health sector are also available."

Personal Days . . .

The Garrett County Board of Education is presently considering the question of allowing students one or more personal days, days which the student may take off from school, for whatever purpose, and not be charged with an unexcused absence. Many of the board members and administrative personnel are responding negatively to this proposal, feeling that they simply cannot support any measure which involves a student's not attending school.

We believe that allowing students two personal days a year, with parental consent, is a good idea. Many educators place such a tremendous emphasis on classroom education, they sometimes lose sight of the fact that everything which is important for a child's development and education cannot be found in the classroom. A day for deer hunting, a day for Christmas shopping, a day for snow skiing, or just a day at home for no particular reason . . . all of these can be valuable experiences in a child's life, by strengthening interpersonal relationships with other members of the family and by providing some therapeutic relief from the occasionally overbearing pressure of school in general.

A student taking a personal day would, of course, be required to make up all missed work.

The tremendous number of absences during deer hunting season is what sparked discussion on this matter. If a student wants to go deer hunting, and his parents do not discourage him, he will go deer hunting, whether or not it is an excused absence from school. As it is now, the system almost encourages dishonesty by the student, and worse yet, by the parent, who writes his son or daughter a fraudulent illness excuse. How's that for a parental example?

Some will say that this is unnecessary since students are out of school all summer. However, the above examples are activities that cannot be done during the summer months.

In some cases, granting two personal days might stimulate better attendance, especially those who delight in skipping school just for the "thrill" of getting away with it.

Adults often feel that young people are not responsible, but that is sometimes because they do not give them the chance to handle responsibility. When given the chance, the positive results can be amazing.

Parking Meter Blues

by Carol Kapel

Webster's Dictionary of the English Language describes a parking meter as an instrument used to measure time, becoming activated by the introduction of a coin.

Recent experience with a series of local parking meters designed to render two hours for two dimes tends to lead thought in quite another direction.

A sufficient quantity of the mechanical monsters offer a choice of aggravations, ranging from flat refusal to accept a coin, to greedily gulping your last dime and defiantly registering a grand total of 12 minutes.

The aggressive consumer takes matters into his own hands (no pun intended) as he wildly flails a fist into the side of the money-hungry monster. With any kind of luck, an additional five minutes springs to life. Never mind what passers-by think of such shenanigans.

Now comes the epitome of insult. After physically coercing this cold, grey, feelingless pavement pirate, after pounding enough dimes into its unyielding slot to sequester your vehicle in a multi-level parking garage in New York City, you return to find—you guessed it!—a red violation flag and a parking ticket!

The nerve of that despicable machine! Which way to City Hall?

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,
Warning to people who drive in Garrett County.

If you see a Garrett County Road truck coming, please pull over and stop, because driver could be asleep. It is no wonder we have no roads; we have too many sleepers. We hope we won't have to build cabins along the roads for them to sleep in because our taxes are too high now.

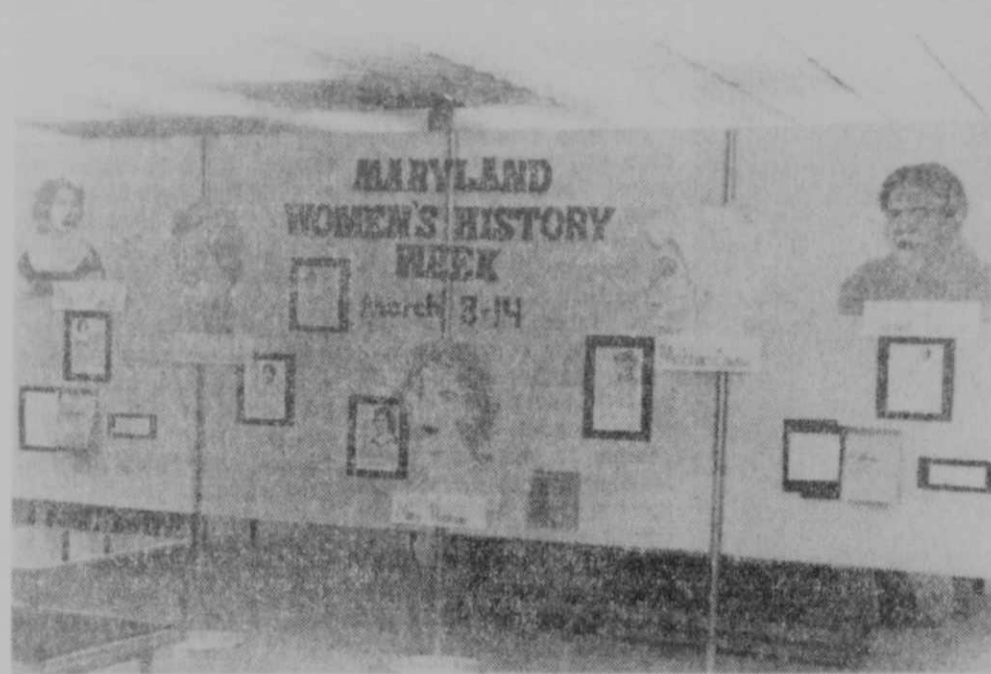

A county tax payer
P.S. The roads workers put signs up "Men Working". They should read "Don't Waken the Dead."

Dear taxpayer,
Let us not forget that there are also many hardworking, dedicated roads department employees.

Second Impression Same Shoe Fits

by Harry Fox

A recent issue of a magazine for journalists reported that a TV station in Buffalo, NY, has added something to its nightly news coverage. The story explained that newspapers have been in the business of criticizing everything from movies to record albums, to books for as long as anyone can remember. Why not, these enterprising news people reasoned, have a newspaper review on the TV news? Newspapers often review the performance and content of TV programming. Why not ask a knowledgeable journalist to comment on the content and quality of the local print media?

A fresh breeze is stirring in the musty corridors of the news publishing industry. Signs of a fresh awareness of public responsibility and accountability are everywhere. Most significantly, the traditional rivalry between print and broadcast media is being replaced by a more mature readiness to cooperate.

The recent controversy about use of cameras and recorders in court reporting raised a sensitive issue in the public eye: once again the debate about the "newsworthiness" of radio and TV was heard. What is significant is that the old clichés, that broadcast media sensationalize in contrast to the "neutral" stance of the printed word, came from legislators, not from the publishing industry.

Responsible journalism is a matter of professional dedication and careful regard for the power of the press. It is not the private property of any one medium—print or broadcasting. The same protection and rights enjoyed by the newspaper industry should, in fairness, be extended to all journalists. An excellent example of this is the shield law which protects a reporter's confidential sources. Many of these laws are worded so that broadcast reporters are excluded. The first amendment secures for Americans a free press. It does not define the press or select any one medium as a preferred institution.

No one in this business dares forget that the press is free in order that the public can be served. The shoe may not fit perfectly, but it has worn well for the past two centuries. The same freedoms, and the same responsibilities are shared by all news persons, as part of a free society.

Wynlyn's Appeals Denial Of Sewage System Permit

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners sat at the Board of Health Tuesday to hear an appeal of a Health Department decision not to grant permission for a sewage disposal system for planned additions to Wynlyn's Edge.

Wynlyn's owner Evelyn Weissgerber told the Board she took exception to the department's estimation that 5000 gallons of sewage would be generated per day due to the building's increased capacity for patrons.

Representing the Health Department were John Cook and Edgar Harman who stated the department's real opposition was to present plans to subdivide the property surrounding Wynlyn's and to convey two acres of the land.

They explained if Wynlyn's retained the two acres as part of the eight-acre plot, the establishment would have enough drainage area and would meet department regulations.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg stated the Board would study testimony presented and render a decision in two weeks.

In regular business, the commissioners approved the appointment of Delos Carpenter, McHenry, to the Garrett County Development Corporation.

At the invitation of the commissioners, representatives from four insurance companies presented proposals for an employee deferred compensation insurance plan.

The commissioners had been presented a similar proposal from Washington National Insurance Company two weeks ago.

Oakland Police Handle Auto Larceny Cases

The Oakland Police Department has been working on two auto larceny cases this week.

Garrett National Bank in Oakland reported the theft of a 1980 Chevrolet 4-wheel drive truck noticed missing on Monday, but reportedly taken on Wednesday of last week. The truck had been repossessed from Davie Patrick Shaffer, 23, from Kitzmiller.

The vehicle and Shaffer were apprehended yesterday morning by the Thomas County Sheriff's Department in Kansas. Shaffer is being held there, charged with auto larceny. He will be transported back to Garrett County at a later date for trial.

The truck is valued at approximately $6900.

In a separate case, Barbara Holtschneider, Oakland, had reported her 1972 Mercury Capri stolen from Sixth and Alder Streets on Saturday about 2 p. m. The vehicle was discovered later that day when it was returned to that location with four subjects inside the vehicle.

Oakland police officers responded to the scene, assisted by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department. The Sheriff's Department arrested one individual for possession of drug paraphernalia.

Oakland police arrested David Hardesty, 31, Deer Park, who was operating the vehicle. According to Chief Hobart Shillingburg, Hardesty was charged with unauthorized use of a vehicle. Driving while a license is suspended, operating with tags issued to another, and operating an unregistered vehicle.

Hardesty was released Monday when he posted $250 bond.

"But I thought Medicare covered everything?"

If you're covered by Medicare and think it pays all your health care expenses, you could be in for a surprise. In most instances Medicare only provides partial payment. In some cases it provides no payment at all.

This is why Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Maryland have developed Preferred Medicare Supplemental. It's a new program that fills in the gaps in your Medicare protection to help pay your health care expenses ranging from doctors' office visits to hospital care. It even helps pay for prescription medicines.

For example, Preferred Medicare Supplemental covers the first

$204 of your hospital bill, an expense not covered by Medicare. Preferred Medicare Supplemental covers the $60 deductible and the 20% of expenses not covered by Medicare for physicians' office visits, diagnostic X-rays, laboratory tests and other services.

What's more, Preferred Medicare Supplemental even pays for your prescription medicines from participating pharmacies, after a deductible of $3 per prescription.

Find out more about Preferred Medicare Supplemental by calling or writing Blue Cross and Blue Shield today.

Older Citizens Serving The Elderly

OLDER WORKER WEEK PROCLAIMED — The Maryland Department of Labor has declared March 8-14 as Older American Week to recognize the valuable contributions and accomplishments of older workers. Pictured above, at the proclamation signing are Commissioners Ernest Gregg, Truman Paugh, and Les Hunter. Standing behind the commissioners are Bernadine Friend, left, and Vivian Tasker, representing the Commission on Aging.

by Carol Kapel

As the door swings open, the aroma of food and strong, steaming coffee drifts to meet the incoming crowd. Smiles, greetings, and hurried movements accented by the chilled wind signal the start of a new day.

Members of the Garrett County Commission on Aging are about to begin another week, a week in the lives of nearly a thousand Garrett County senior citizens.

The members are anticipating their participation in Older Americans Work Week, proclaimed March 8-14, a period designated to honor those persons over 50 years of age who share their time and talents to make life a bit more enjoyable for those aged citizens who desire to remain as independent as possible, preferably in their own homes, through a network of services provided by the commission.

The workers operate under different divisions of the program, and discussion with several employees and volunteers offered valuable insight into the group activity.

Anna Mann, an Oakland resident, works with the transportation portion, calling her job "fulfilling" and "pure enjoyment." She assists in arranging transportation for shopping trips, doctor's appointments, hospital visits, and trips to the various hot-meal centers located throughout the county.

Beryl Foy, Friendsville, assists the elderly because she has a "genuine love for older people," and "really enjoys getting involved." She, along with many of the other workers are accustomed to accepting calls in the middle of the night from an elderly friend who's come to rely on them for more than the services offered by the commission.

Carrying the groceries into the house, physically assisting the elderly shopper from the car to the door, washing the dishes, and running the sweeper are not unusual tasks for the home health care aides, as well as all those who make visits to the homes.

Delivering meals, assisting in personal hygiene, and keeping their clients informed of the latest financial assistance and aid programs are among the additional ways the workers serve the senior citizen community.

Lena Broadwater, a Grantsville resident, spoke of the fierce pride her elderly clients maintain, and timidly smiled at the mention of the hours she spends explaining away the fears shared by many of the senior citizens. According to Mrs. Broadwater, "They are so afraid of losing portions of their income if they accept the meals or services offered by the commission. They often feel there's a catch to everything." Mrs. Broadwater, and other workers, such as Evelyn Bowman and Reginald Rodeheaver spend many hours reassuring the elderly, making life more pleasurable where they can.

The senior citizen hot meal centers and delivery services are manned, for the most part, by workers over the age of 50, and are aided by Mary Kay Kovach, a volunteer dietitian, who assists in planning well-balanced, nourishing meals which are served during midday in twelve centers around the county. There is no charge for the meal, although donations are greatly appreciated, as the program continually needs additional funding.

accomplished. The older workers are also in charge of arts, crafts, and games following the meals in the centers where the senior citizens desire additional fellowship time together.

The county restaurants which offer meeting and dining room space received much credit from the older workers team, who praised the cooperation. Without their help, several of the sites would possibly be eliminated from the program.

Freda Teets, an older worker from the Swanton area summed up the feeling of those members of the Commission on Aging with this, "It's time to return the favor. Ours is a good cause, and one that's appreciated by the elderly, who often don't have anyone to take care of them or to be their friend. The meals are appreciated, the crafts and activities are fun and interesting, but most of all, the fellowship is what the senior citizen wants. We're all here to give them what they want and deserve."

The Garrett County Older Workers will be honored at a special recognition event scheduled to be held during Older American Workers Week.

Huskies Eliminated From Class C Tourney; Rams To Face Bruce Tomorrow Night

The Northern High Huskies were eliminated last evening from the Region 1 Class C Basketball Tournament by being defeated by the Flintstone Aggies, 79-63, on the Allegany High School floor.

The score was tied five-all in the first period, but the Aggies pulled away and never lost the lead, despite several Northern rallies. The first quarter ended with the Huskies by five, 18-13.

The Aggies' lead was expanded to 24-13 early in the second period, but Coach Harv Speicher's team battled back with three buckets and a free throw by Dick Bender and Mike Robinson's goal to narrow the Aggie lead to 26-22 with 3:54 remaining in the half.

Northern pulled to within three, 33-30, with just seconds remaining in the second period, but Flintstone's Robert Ruby hit one from nearly half court at the buzzer to give the Aggies a 35-30 advantage at intermission.

Again Northern rallied in the third period as a bucket by Bender at the midway point brought the Huskies within two, 43-41. However, these were the final points scored by the Huskies in that period and Flintstone went on to take a 51-41 margin into the final stanza. The Aggies were never really threatened during the final eight minutes.

Dick Bender led Northern's offensive attack, netting 15 goals and a free throw, for a total of 31 points. Weldon Yoder was the other Husky in double figures, finishing with 12 points.

Brad Heavner paced four Aggies in double figures, also hitting 31 points on 12 buckets and six of nine from the line. Ruby hit 14 points, while Neal Cessna and Greg Rinker split 24.

The Huskies were outgunned from the floor by a 31-28 margin, and converted nine of 24 free throws, compared to Flintstone's 17-for-26 effort. The loss was Northern's 11th this season, against 12 wins.

Flintstone will now move on to the semi-finals tomorrow evening when they will meet the favored Valley Black Knights, who drew a bye in the first round.

In the other opener last night, Bruce had little trouble whipping Mt. Savage, 70-55, and will meet Southern in the other semi-final game tomorrow evening. The Rams, seeded number two, also drew a bye in the opening round.

Southern Coach Tom Bosley stated yesterday that his team is "really enthusiastic and can't wait to play" tomorrow evening.

"The team has been so enthusiastic," he said, "I think it hurt our performance in the last five or six regular season games."

Bosley said that he believes his team played the most difficult schedule of all the Class C Region I schools and that this will be to the Rams' advantage. Southern finished the regular season with 17-5 mark.

Bosley said he expects a "tough contest" with the Bruce Bulldogs tomorrow evening. "Their loss to Northern took the wind out of their sails for a week or so, but they rebounded with an impressive 18-point win over Beall last week." He says his boys are "especially anxious" to meet Bruce to attempt to avenge a loss to the Bulldogs in their last encounter. Southern whipped Bruce early in the season.

Southern's Brian Seiders, who suffered a knee injury a few weeks ago, is listed as "questionable" for tomorrow evening's game, according to Bosley. However, he feels that the remainder of the team is in good condition "physically and mentally."

The winners of the Southern-Bruce game and Valley-Flintstone contest will meet in the finals on Saturday evening, also at Allegany High. The champions will then travel to College Park to compete for the state title.

Rams Thrash East Preston For 17th Win

After a reasonably close first half, the Southern Rams poured it on late in the game to pick up their 17th win of the campaign, 72-54 thrashing of East Preston last Wednesday evening on the Rams' floor. The game rounded out Southern's regular season play.

The contest took longer than average to complete, as both teams committed an unusually large number of fouls. A total of 63 free throws were attempted during the evening, 37 by the Rams and 26 by the visitors. Four of the East Preston players were forced to leave the game on fouls.

Southern was on top 16-10 by the end of the first quarter, but East Preston narrowed the lead to four, 31-27, by intermission.

PLACING THIRD in an area youth basketball tournament last week was a team composed of local elementary and middle school students. Pictured above are the members of that team with their trophy from the first annual Lonaconing Invitational Tournament. Left to right, front row, are J. R. Bosley, Max Hill and Sean Herschman. In the second row, same order, are Scott Lohr, Alex Flanagan and Jeff King. In the third row, same order, are Eric Rice, Bruce Bosley and Dale Bittinger. Max Hill and Bruce Bosley were named to the all-tourney team. See story.

The Rams' offensive unit caught fire in the third stanza and expanded their lead to 50-41 as the final eight minutes began. The home team exploded for 22 points, compared to only seven by East Preston, to secure the victory.

Leading the Rams' scoring was Gary Heginbotham, who netted five goals and seven of ten at the foul line for 17 points. He was followed by Dave Marsh, who finished with 15 and Jeff Rysavage, who contributed 14.

Placavage's points put him in third place in Southern's all-time scoring list behind Steve and Kevin Liller.

Danny Rogers' 17 points was high for East Preston, Ryan Shaffer chipped in 14.

Southern outgunned the West Virginians from the floor, 25-21, and connected on 22 of 37 free throws, while East Preston hit 12 of 26 tosses.

In the preliminary contest, Southern jayvees earned their 14th win of the season against four losses, by stopping their East Preston counterparts, 67-34.

Southern will enter post-season play in a Region 1, Class C contest tomorrow evening at Allegany High School. See separate story.

Local Wrestler Earns Berth In State Tourney

One Garrett County high school wrestler, Jim Lyons, of Southern High School, has advanced to the Maryland State Class B-C Tournament, scheduled for Friday at the Howard County High School at Ellicott City.

Lyons earned a berth for the state title in the 170-pound state competition.

Three Northern High wrestlers were still in the running following the first round of the Region 1 Tourney. They were George Belch, in the 126-pound class; Don Gillum, in the 138-pound class; and Dwayne Stein, in the 186-pound class. However, Belch finished in fourth place and Gillum and Stein finished third place.

Winning the Region 1 tourney was Fort Hill, accumulating 143 points, while Beall High finished in second place with 115 points.

Trout Stocking Program Slated

"Maryland's trout stocking program is designed to hopefully please all of the trout fishermen some of the time and some of trout fishermen all of the time."

"And that," said Dave Woronecki, "is about as close to perfection as we can hope to get."

Woronecki, who heads the Maryland trout program, made the above remarks during an interview concerning Maryland's trout stocking policies.

"This spring," continued Woronecki, "we plan to stock trout in 42 selected streams plus 28 lakes and ponds."

Woronecki also explained that the lakes and ponds stocked with trout are stocked to provide trout catching (and eating) opportunities to those anglers who, for whatever reasons, do not or cannot fish the 42 designated streams.

"By stocking these selected lakes and ponds, we are providing a maximum of recreational opportunity consistent with available waters suitable for trout," added Woronecki.

The lakes and ponds to be stocked with trout this spring in Garrett County include Savage Reservoir, New Germany Lake, Piney Reservoir, and Broad Ford Lake.

A team of fifth and sixth grade students from Dennett Road Elementary, Broad Ford Elementary and Southern Middle Schools participated in the first annual Lonaconing Invitational Basketball Tournament, held last week at the Georges Creek Elementary School.

In the opening game on Monday, February 23, the local team defeated St. Patrick's of Cumberland, 38-31. Max Hill led Oakland's scoring with 23 points, while Bruce Bosley finished with 13 and Dale Bittinger chipped in two.

In the second contest, played Wednesday, Oakland was edged by St. Michaels of Frostburg, 32-26. Bosley led the scoring with 14 points, while Hill netted 12.

Oakland came back on Thursday to stop St. Ambrose and capture third place. In that contest Hill again led the scoring with 23 points. Bosley was right behind with 21 and Jeff King, Sean Hershman and Eric Rice each hit two points.

The team was awarded a third place trophy and placed two players, Hill and Bosley, on the six-man, all-tourney team.

Huskies Lose Regular Season Finale, 69-64

The Northern High Huskies ended their regular season on a disappointing note Friday evening in Terra Alta by being upset by East Preston, 69-64. The Huskies had defeated the West Virginians earlier in the season, 64-49.

East Preston was on top 18-14 at the end of the first quarter, however the Huskies rallied in the second stanza to end the half in front, 33-31. The third quarter was about even, with East Preston once again taking the advantage, 45-43, heading into the final chapter.

With about three minutes remaining, East Preston had stretched the lead to ten points. Northern was forced to foul, but the winners connected on enough of the free throws to hang on for the win.

Dan Rogers led the winners with 24 points, while Ryan Shaffer netted 19. Pacing the Huskies' scoring was Dick Bender, who hit seven buckets and ten of 12 free throws for 24 points. George Daily contributed two points.

The team was awarded a third place trophy and placed two players, Hill and Bosley, on the six-man, all-tourney team. Members of the local team were: Jeff King, J. R. Bosley and Sean Hershman, fifth graders; and Alex Flanagan, Scott Lohr, Brian Dixon, Eric Rice, Dale Bittinger, Bruce Bosley and Max Hill, sixth graders.

The eight teams participating in the tournament were from Cumberland, Westernport, Frostburg, Lonaconing and Oakland.

The Huskies were outshot from the field by a 30-22 margin, although Northern converted 20 of 30 foul shots, compared to a nine-for-21 effort by East Preston.

DISCUSSION OF THE TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS of motherhood brings smiles to the lips of these women who are participating in a La Leche League class. They will eventually begin discussion of the evening topic "Nutrition and Weaning," but for now, sharing each other's worst experiences in the past week helps to break the ice.

Good Mothering, Good Nutrition Are Goals Of La Leche League

By Beverly J. Sincell

If you are an expectant mother planning to breastfeed your baby or are presently breastfeeding your child, or have successfully breastfed your child and want to share your experience, the La Leche League may be for you.

The League hopes so, because it exists to provide information and encouragement to mothers who want to nurse their babies through informal discussions with other mothers.

The story of the League began at a picnic 25 years ago, in 1956, when two nursing mothers decided to meet with expectant mothers to share the knowledge they gained through their breastfeeding experiences. The idea caught on and spread to the point that this year, its Silver Jubilee Year, La Leche League International has organizations in 48 countries and has over 12,000 group leaders.

The League's growth has not been limited to numbers, its program has also expanded. In those first meetings of the League, the founders realized something more than an emphasis on breastfeeding was needed. The program now focuses on "good mothering through breastfeeding" which aims at helping mothers develop good parent-child relationships and to strengthen their families.

Ellenor Hamilton, local La Leche leader, and a mother of three, is quick to point out that even though the League advocates breastfeeding, it does not criticize bottle-feeding mothers at all. The League stresses its respect for the beliefs of others, even though it may disagree with them. "We are not saying a mother is lacking because she is not nursing," Ellenor stated.

"The key to happy breastfeeding is desire," said Ellenor. "No one should do it if they don't want to."

Ellenor says League members are happy if a mother wants to try breastfeeding and is ready with ample information and support.

And if a mother finds breastfeeding is not for her? "We never want a woman to feel guilty with her decision to wean her baby," said Ellenor.

Although the League does not try to force its convictions on anyone or make those who don't share its beliefs feel inferior, it does believe breastfeeding is "best for baby."

Ellenor explained this opinion is based on several reasons.

Physically, the baby can more easily digest mother's milk than commercial formulas. He also more completely absorbs the vitamins and minerals in mother's milk.

The breastfed baby is less likely to develop allergies, to become anemic, and to suffer from intestinal and skin disorders and illnesses.

For the mother, breastfeeding helps her to recover more quickly from pregnancy, helps prevent anemia, is somewhat effective as a birth control method, and releases a hormone which has a calming effect, making the mother less likely to be nervous.

Ellenor noted that emotionally, breastfeeding demands a physical closeness between mother and child which helps the mother to understand the baby and therefore, helps her to meet his needs.

Breastfeeding is more economical than bottle-feeding. Ellenor said one League member figured that the monetary difference between breastfeeding and bottle-feeding equalled the cost of a major appliance.

And, it is more convenient. A nursing mother's 2 a.m. feeding is slightly different from a bottle-feeding mother's. She will not have to stumble to the kitchen to warm a bottle with a screaming infant in her arms.

But, Ellenor says, "even though breastfeeding is marvellously convenient and marvellously gratifying, it doesn't solve all the problems of motherhood." Nor does La Leche League.

What La Leche League does is to offer a series of classes concerning breastfeeding and the parent-child relationship and offers a vast amount of information on child care.

Vernon Leighton Achieves Rank Of Eagle Scout

Vernon H. Leighton, son of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Leighton, Oakland, was recently approved for advancement to the highest rank in Scouting — that of Eagle, it was announced by George R. Scarlett, Potomac Council & Advancement Chairman.

An investiture ceremony will be held on Saturday, March 7, at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, following a covered dish dinner at 6 p. m. to commemorate Leighton's advancement. The ceremony will be conducted by Dr. James I. Fecorer, District Advancement Chairman.

Leighton is a member of Boy Scout Troop 31, sponsored by BPOE No. 2481, where Tom Butcher is Scoutmaster. In addition to the 21 merit badges required for Eagle and the completion of conservation and service projects, the recipient of the Eagle Award must also have an outstanding record in school, church, and community activities while engaged in Scouting, said Scarlett.

Leighton was the only scout in Potomac Council selected for this honor. The Eagle Award will be presented to him at a Court of Honor to be held in the near future.

The Potomac Council serves youth in Allegany and Garrett Counties, and in Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy, and Grant Counties in West Virginia.

Sheriff's Office Handles Burglary, Vandalism Cases

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating several burglaries and destructions of property which were reported to the department last week.

Roger Ray Hinebaugh, Loch Lynn, reported that someone entered his 1979 Jeep Renegade sometime Sunday night, while it was parked in the lot of Walt's 135 Amoco in Oakland. Taken from the vehicle were an AM/FM CB radio, a shifter and blinker knob, and a 12-volt battery taken from under the hood.

The total loss value is estimated at $150.

In a separate case, James Reidler, Frostburg, reported that someone broke into his summer home on Green Glade Road sometime during the month of February. Taken from the dwelling were an electric drill, a torch in a gray metal box, and a set of socket wrenches, all valued at approximately $97.

The head custodian at Southern High School reported a destruction of property which occurred there last Saturday night, when two windows were broken out on the south end of the library. Unknown subjects used two large rocks weighing five to ten pounds each to do the damage, also damaging the window blinds. Loss value of the windows is estimated at $120.

In a separate case, Brad Frantz, Garrett County Civil Defense Director, Oakland, reported that someone stole an antenna used for local government radio from his car while it was parked in the Southern High School parking lot on Wednesday night. Frantz was attending a basketball game when the antenna was stolen. It was valued at about $50.

Royce Allen Mountain, Mt. Lake Park, reported that someone bent the wiper arms of his vehicle while it was parked in front of his residence Saturday night. Loss value is estimated at $10.

In other business, the department arrested two persons last Saturday.

Michael McCrobie, 22, Oakland, was arrested and charged with possession of drug paraphernalia. He was released the same day when he posted 10 percent of $250 bond.

Mark Anthony Ingles, 23, of Massachusetts, was arrested and charged with battery. He was released the same day on $300 unsecured bond.

Reagan's Proposed Cuts Would End National Public Radio News

BALTIMORE (UPI) — President Reagan's proposed budget cuts would force National Public Radio to drop its increasingly popular news and cultural offerings, NPR's director of performance programming said Thursday.

"If that proposal goes through, you would knock out national programming from NPR," said John Boss. "What we would become is just a distribution center for programs developed elsewhere."

Lawyer Accused Of Theft Of Funds From Foreclosures

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — The Maryland attorney general's office said Tuesday it has accused a former lawyer of misappropriating more than $104,000 from mortgage foreclosures that should have been returned to the state.

Phillip D. Quint of Pikesville was charged in Baltimore County Circuit Court with 29 counts of misappropriating funds while acting as a trustee, said Gary Jordan, chief of the attorney general's investigation unit.

The program offers mortgages to low- and middle-income families to buy homes. The state is the mortgagee and Quint was responsible for foreclosures against homebuyers who defaulted, Jordan said. The charges maintain Quint kept sums ranging from $200 to $30,000 for his personal use on 29 occasions beginning in 1977 and ending in August 1980, when he was fired.

A spokeswoman for the department would not disclose why Quint was fired.

The state police and the attorney general's office began investigating Quint last summer, Jordan said.

Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison. There is no fine because the charges are misdemeanors. Quint was a practicing attorney when he was hired by the state in 1976. He continued in his position with the department after his disbarment in 1978 on charges he misappropriated money from clients in insurance settlements, Jordan said.

Prison Guards Must End Sickout, Official Says, Before Talks Start

BALTIMORE (UPI) — State corrections officials Tuesday demanded that Maryland Penitentiary guards end their 3-day-old sickout and return to work if they wish to talk over grievances on pay and working conditions.

"We will not negotiate under duress," said William Clark, a spokesman for the state Division of Corrections. "The protesting guards should realize talkies for each guard and the setting up of a task force to review work-related problems.

Prison officials said 11 of 56 guards called in sick for the Tuesday day shift, but a protesting guard, who refused to be named, put the absentee figure at 19.

Guards said they met Tuesday with corrections officials, but Clark and other state officials said no meeting took place.

The sickout began on the Friday evening shift, when 25 of 41 guards called in sick, with spokesman for the guards demanding more pay, a larger guard complement, walkie-

Delegates Debate Memorial Day As State Senate Adopts U. S. Observance

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The House of Delegates, in a debate that involved states' rights, the Baltimore County PTA and the fall of Vicksburg in 1863, killed legislation Tuesday that would have changed Maryland's observance of Memorial Day.

The bill, which fell only two votes shy of the 71 votes required by the constitution for passage, would have set Memorial Day observance in Maryland on May 30 unless Congress dictates otherwise.

Congress has already designated the final Monday in May as Memorial Day. This year it will fall on May 25.

On Monday night, the Senate voted 24-21 to make the state's observance of both Memorial Day and Columbus Day (now Oct. 12, but the second Monday in October under federal law) conform with the federal practice. That bill is now headed for the House.

House members who wanted the bill passed said consistency between the federal and state governments in the observance of the holiday was more important than the precise day on which America's war dead are honored.

But Delegate Charles Blumenthal, D-Prince George's, a champion of veterans' legislation, and others opposed changing Memorial Day from its traditional May 30 observance.

Delegate Joseph Owens, D-Montgomery, raised the states' rights issue, asking, "Is the U.S. Congress going to decide when holidays are or the states?"

Owens insisted the only reason Congress changed the holiday to a Monday was to appease the tourist industry by making Memorial Day a three-day weekend.

"They didn't do it for any great idea of having a day to celebrate (the nation's war dead), but just to have a long weekend," he said.

Delegate Michael Collins, D-Baltimore County, raised the Vicksburg issue when he began the first of several impromptu history lessons, saying Memorial Day began after the Civil War when a group of Mississippi ladies decorated with flowers the graves of both Union and Confederate dead.

Western Maryland Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, R-Garrett, fueled the debate by recalling that Vicksburg, Miss., fell to the North on May 30 — "a day of infamy," he said.

But Delegate Judith Toth, D-Montgomery, corrected Bolden, saying Vicksburg actually fell in July.

With that historical reference still in doubt, Delegate Paula Hollinger, D-Baltimore County, rose to say her days on the Baltimore County PTA demonstrated the need to have state observance of Memorial Day on the same day as the federal government.

She said otherwise, parents often have to work when children are out of school, or children are in school when the parents have the day off.

After the measure was defeated, 69-65, and votes on other bills had been taken, results of that meeting, however, and demanded another session.

Clark Tuesday labeled many of the guards' demands "not significant." For example, he said prisoner transport vans, which the guards charged were in poor condition, are in fact well maintained.

Clark also said there are enough walkie-talkies for each guard.

Prison officials said the sickout has not jeopardized security, while guards contend it has. Throughout the job action, Collins has had supervisors work in the place of guards and had available guards work overtime.

Staffing at each Maryland prison, and salary levels of all state employees continue under review, said Gene Oishi, a spokesman for Gov. Harry Hughes. But he said the sickout has not prompted any special review.

"No one is special," Oishi said.

The Maryland Penitentiary houses 748 prisoners and is the state's only maximum-security facility. There are 330 prison guards.

Guard and union officials said they are currently paid an average of $15,000 annually.

Each series of classes, one meeting per month, each with its own title: Advantages of Breastfeeding, The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties, The Family and The Breastfeeding Baby, and Nutrition and Weaning.

The next series begins Tuesday, March 10 at the home of Lydia Graber, Underwood Road.

Ellinor emphasized that even though the titles remain the same, series after series, no two classes are identical because they are informal and discussion centers around the specific interests of those attending.

The League does not require those who attend the classes to agree with its philosophies. Instead, it recognizes the individuality of each family and stresses the right of parents to choose the methods of child raising that work best for them.

The League does request that fathers not attend the meetings. This is to prevent new mothers from embarrassment if they must breastfeed during meetings, Ellinor explained.

each series of classes, one meeting per month, each with its own title: Advantages of Breastfeeding, The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties, The Family and The Breastfeeding Baby, and Nutrition and Weaning.

The next series begins Tuesday, March 10 at the home of Lydia Graber, Underwood Road.

Ellinor emphasized that even though the titles remain the same, series after series, no two classes are identical because they are informal and discussion centers around the specific interests of those attending.

The League does not require those who attend the classes to agree with its philosophies. Instead, it recognizes the individuality of each family and stresses the right of parents to choose the methods of child raising that work best for them.

The League does request that fathers not attend the meetings. This is to prevent new mothers from embarrassment if they must breastfeed during meetings, Ellinor explained.

But fathers are not totally shut out from involvement in child care by the League. In its stated beliefs, the League says "The father's role in the breastfeeding relationship is one of provider, protector, helpmate, and companion to the mother; by thus supporting her, he enables her to mother the baby more completely."

And, Ellinor adds, "The only thing the father can't do is nurse the baby."

The meetings are open to interested women, Ellinor stated. She stressed that a mother who does not attend the meetings but still has questions about breastfeeding should feel free to call her at 826-8543.

This willingness to help nursing mothers and share her own gratifying experiences is why Ellinor became a leader; it is why most women become La Leche leaders. It is why La Leche was founded.

The League has made its mark. A study conducted in 1979 showed that more babies were breastfed than bottle-fed, quite a change from the years when the League began.

Ellinor attributes this reversal in infant feeding methods partly to the La Leche League and partly to the general movement to return to the more natural way of doing things.

The League, of course, does not mind sharing the glory for the increase in breastfed babies with the "back-to-nature" movement. What, they ask, could be more natural than a mother feeding her baby the only food specifically created for human beings?

Sound travels fifteen times more swiftly through steel than through air.

"Watch for our weekly specials"

The winter of '79 chalked up new records for sub-zero temperatures and unbelievable snow storms. Just ask anyone who lived through it all in Chicago.

Old man winter also left many a frayed temper in its pathway. Snow-heavy roofs caved in, buses and trains were hours late and people's nerves were stretched tight.

Winter's chill is only a memory now, though many of us are a bit tougher for the experience. Life has its ways of testing us and making us develop muscles we never knew we had.

Yet the sun always comes out. And the clouds of modern day living eventually turn into clear blue skies.

Our Lord has overcome the world and the trouble in it. And we have His promise to be with us always — through all the passing seasons.

Draw fresh strength from that promise this week. Worship in the church or synagogue of your choice.

IS GOD FAIR?

March 8, 1981

Background Scripture: Matthew 20.
Devotional Reading: Leviticus 20:22-26.

How would you feel if your employer were to pay you the same amount as he paid a fellow employee doing the same task but for considerably fewer hours? I'm sure you'd be outraged at the employer's unfairness. I would.

That's what makes Jesus' parable of the workers in the vineyard (Matthew 20:1-16) so difficult for us. The householder in this parable seems utterly unjust — not to mention unwise — in the way he treats his workers. He hires workers at 8 a.m., 11 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m. Yet he pays them all the same wage! It is not hard to understand their angry response: "These last worked only one hour, and you have made them equal to us who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat!"

I Choose To Give But the reply of the householder puts the whole matter in a different light: "Friend, I am doing you no wrong; did you not agree with me for a denarius? Take what belongs to you, and go!" (20:13). The crux of the matter is, not that the longer-term workers were denied what they were promised, but that they begrudged the employer paying the short-term workers the same wage. "I choose to give to this lot as I gave to you. Am I not allowed to do what I choose with what belongs to me? Or do you begrudge my generosity?" (20:15).

Yes, they did begrudge his generosity. Their unspoken charge of "unfairness" stemmed, not from any failure for him to keep his agreement with them, but in that they resented someone else getting what they did and for considerably fewer hours. Yes, they begrudged the householder's generosity and so would most of us — as secretly we may sometimes begrudge the grace of God freely given to those whom we would judge as being unworthy of the same salvation promised us.

Actually, Jesus is not talking about a householder in this parable, but God. He is not advocating that employers conduct their affairs as the householder in the parable, for the employer and the God of the same level, not stand on the same level. What the workers in the parable receive is not really a wage, but something more — something that goes considerably beyond what they deserve. What God "pays" them, therefore, is not a wage, but grace. All of the workers would be due considerably less than they were paid if they received only what they were worth.

Beyond Fairness It is not a matter, then, of God or the householder being "fair," but of being gracious to all workers/children. None of us deserves the grace of God. Therefore, none of us has the right to begrudge that same grace being given to others. We are not able to judge as to whom should God bless and whom he should condemn.

Nothing is more self-condemning than for the person who is the beneficiary of God's grace to begrudge that same grace to someone else. God is not "fair" (not by our standards, anyway); God is love.

Light Pollution

This is light that illuminates the sky instead of the areas it is supposed to brighten. It hinders astronomical observations and wastes energy. Many people have not been able to enjoy the night sky. They are not aware of its beauty because they have not seen it through the haze of light pollution. Light pollution may be reduced with fewer lights, and fewer hours of lighting.

QUESTION:

"I turn my thermostat down, but our gas bill still goes up. How come?"

ANSWER:

"Most of the increase comes right from the well—the higher prices Columbia has to pay."

Most of Columbia's natural gas supplies do not begin as ours, but must be purchased. And since passage of the 1978 Natural Gas Policy Act, which allows gradual lifting of wellhead price controls to encourage gas exploration, the price Columbia pays for gas has been steadily increasing.

Added to that are the rising costs of maintaining and improving pipelines, storage facilities and services.

So rates have been going up. However, at Columbia we're doing all we can to hold down costs. We're investing in more efficient equipment and streamlining operations. Bi-monthly estimated bills are one savings you're probably familiar with.

In short, we're cutting where we can to keep your gas bill increases to a minimum.

And though your gas bill may be higher than you or we would like to see it, natural gas still costs you less than other energy forms.

For ideas on ways to make natural gas work even more efficiently for you, ask for our free pamphlet, "The Everyday Energy Saver's Guide".

COLUMBIA GAS

Still your best energy value.
And we want to keep it that way.

Mathias Planning To Sharply Reduce Printing Costs

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) last week became the new chairman of the Congressional Joint Committee on Printing and immediately took aim at reducing the costs of government-wide printing operations.

Mathias said in recent hearings on reductions in Senate committee budgets he conducted as chairman of the Committee on Rules and Administration, he told chairmen and ranking minority members that he planned to sharply reduce printing costs.

"We simply will not permit the continued unnecessary printing of documents which are not wanted or needed by government officials, scholars or the public," Mathias said. He added that printing costs in recent years have pushed the total Congressional operating budget over the billion dollar mark, but said he intends to "do all that I can to see that printing costs are kept within reasonable and necessary limits."

Noting that the Government Printing Office (GPO) is one of the largest service organizations of the U. S. Government, Mathias told GPO employees and managers he wants to make the office "the best service organization and a model of an efficient, effective governmental organization that is the envy of all other government offices for the productivity and resourcefulness it demonstrates daily."

He directed the Joint Committee staff to actively pursue "every avenue to reduce the printing costs of the Federal Government."

"We will print only what is needed and we will print as cost effectively as possible," Mathias said. As an example, Mathias recommended that the Department of Health and Human Services transfer publication of the 12-page weekly Morbidity and Mortality Report of the Center for Disease Control to a commercial printer, a move that he said will save taxpayers over $95,000 a year.

New Year's news

Though we're not even half-way into 1981, preparations are already being made for the next Tournament of Roses Parade, scheduled for New Year's Day 1982.

"Friends and Neighbors" is the theme set for the 93rd annual Pasadena, Calif. parade, which will be telecast live on NBC. The theme traditionally has been selected from the several thousand postcard entries sent in by the public. But that selection method was eliminated this year so the float builders would have more time to prepare their festive displays.

The housing crunch

Eve Plumb first played Jan Brady in "The Brady Bunch" when she was 10 years old. Now, at 22, she stars as Jan Brady again, this time in NBC's "The Brady Brides."

In the new comedy series, she and her TV sister Marcia Brady (Maureen McCormick) get married, and they and their husbands all move into one big, rambling house together. It's their way of beating the high cost of housing that faces young — and older — couples all over the country today.

"We might provide a solution to the housing problems that confront young people," says Eve. "It's getting so expensive to buy a home, I think people will have to start doubling up.

In real life, she and her husband, Rick, have purchased a turn-of-the-century house in one of Los Angeles' beach communities. Says Eve, "Maybe fixing up old houses is another answer."

TV for teens

The award-winning CBS series "30 Minutes" is now available to educators through a licensing arrangement that permits off-air videotaping of the show.

"30 Minutes" is the highly acclaimed Saturday afternoon news magazine for teenagers. The broadcasts have covered such previously taboo subjects as sex education, teen smoking, handicapped teens, battered children, plus lighter ones, such as teens in dance, theater and sports.

Schools that become members of the recently created Television Licensing Center will be permitted to videotape the broadcasts and use that material in their classrooms for one to five years.

Cast of WW II drama

Alli MacGraw has joined the cast of "The Winds of War," ABC's 16-hour novel for television, which went into production last December aboard the Queen Mary off Long Beach, Calif. The cast is now filming in Yugoslavia.

Herman Wouk wrote the original novel, which tells an epic tale of tension, courage, love and intrigue in the days leading up to World War II. The story focuses on the life of Naval officer Victor "Pug" Henry and his family, from the ominous rumblings of Hitler's Germany in 1939 through the bombing of Pearl Harbor less than three years later.

Alli MacGraw will play the key role of Natalie Jastrow, the independent young woman whose devotion to her scholarly uncle and passionate affairs with two suitors, keep her in the center of the approaching storm over Europe.

Film star Robert Mitchum will make his television debut as Naval officer Henry. Polly Bergen will star as his wife, Lee Strasberg will play Aaron Jastrow, Natalie's uncle.

"you do what?" to knowledgeably comparing the routines of Charlie Ticker and Robin Cousins. In other words, people now understand what is happening on the ice. Years ago, the public had no idea what it was seeing."

Now celebrating its 20th anniversary year, ABC's "Wide World of Sports" has presented more than 100 different kinds of sporting events. Figure skating has always been one of the most popular features of the series.

Buttton, who began handling the expert commentary for ABC Sports in 1962, the year after the series' debut, points out how much the public has learned from "Wide World's" coverage of the sport.

"Over the years, 'Wide World' has attempted to educate the public by making a concentrated effort to deal in the specifics of the sport. If you don't understand the technique, you don't get the full benefit of the performance. Specifics give you a better appreciation."

Buttton cites an example of how this philosophy has made figure skating more familiar to the viewing public.

"In baseball, for instance, if an umpire calls a perfect pitch a ball, every guy watching on television will argue the call. Now the same thing is happening in skating. If I say a certain performer just did a particularly fine layback, it used to be that no one would refute my judgment. Now people say, 'That just isn't so and it certainly wasn't a good show, but someone who leaves the sport better and different because they were in it.'"

While most Americans have just begun appreciating the artistry and skill of figure skating, Buttton is an old hand at it. But his enthusiasm for the sport has never been higher.

"I'm always thrilled by superb performances whenever and wherever they take place," he says. "To me, a great skater is a man or woman who has not only won championships, or a star who puts on a good show, but someone who leaves the sport better and different because they were in it."

Dick Buttton: 'Figure skating has arrived'

In the late '40s and early '50s, when Dick Buttton was establishing himself as the world's greatest figure skater, many people didn't know exactly what figure skating was, much less understand its finer points.

Today things are quite different, and perhaps no one is in a better position than Buttton to expound on that transformation. He has viewed the sport as a world-class performer and as an expert commentator on both "ABC's Wide World of Sports" and on ABC's coverage of the Winter Olympic Games.

"When I was Olympic champion in 1948 and 1952, if you told people you were a figure skater they would say, 'What kind of skater?'" says Buttton, who also won consecutive world titles from 1948 through 1952.

Gavin MacLeod goes back to Radio City

By RUTH THOMPSON

In show business, where there are more talented and well-trained actors than there are opportunities, just getting a role can be cause for celebration. But if that one break doesn't lead to something bigger, what then?

Unless there's an understanding family sending checks — as Frank Langella ("Dracula") told an interviewer he had before he gained his toehold — it's odd jobs and hoping, hoping.

Is it worth it? For some, yes. And there's no happier case history than that of Gavin MacLeod, who, as the captain of ABC's "Love Boat," has a major hit on his hands, and loves it. He even goes on periodic diets so the writers will consider him trim enough to rate romantic encounters now and then.

Gavin is one of those who knew from the time he was five — when he related to an applauding audience at a pageant — that acting was for him. He stuck with his dream all through plays in college and was always told by teachers and directors that he was good.

But "good" wasn't much help in New York when he got the "Don't call us, we'll call you" fast shuffle from agents and casting directors. He admits there were times when depression threatened not only his self-esteem but his physical health as well.

The place that epitomized show business to him was — and still is — Radio City Music Hall. As a newcomer to the big town he took what he could get there: a job running an elevator. However, he soon discovered a hidden caste system there. When he dated (and later married, though it didn't last) one of the Rockettes, the reaction was: "Who does he think he is, dating one of the dancers?"

But as he told us three years ago, even walking past the music hall is still a thrill.

And he goes back to the big stage March 15 for the Iris Award ceremonies, which will honor three Lucies — Lucille Ball, her daughter Lucie Arnaz, and Lucie Salhany, president of the National Association of Programs.

Gavin quit piloting that elevator once Broadway beckoned. After that he went to Hollywood, expecting luck but striking some dry spells. Finally, the Mary Tyler Moore group looked him in as Murray, which made his talents so visible, he soon had his ticket to the "Love Boat."

The old "Mary Tyler Moore Show" also established Ed Asner as a household word. Asner, a man who throughout his career did "character" work, always got enough jobs to support his family. He probably didn't expect the superstardom that's come to him since MTM spun his color-character from the old series into "Lou Grant," a consistently high-rater for CBS.

The luck of television has also glided the fortunes of another lifelong character actor: William Conrad, who seemingly never had unemployment problems to gripe about. He's been in demand since he was the voice of Matt Dillon on radio. Still, those swarming fans must have been a surprise when he became the surly private eye, "Cannon." So far, he hasn't even had to diet...

THURSDAY

Tom Selleck stars as Tom Magnum, who left a promising career in the Navy to become a private investigator on "Magnum, P.I.," airing Thursday, March 5 on CBS.

The diverse careers of two park rangers

Julie Bolding works in one of America's most majestic settings, one that's rich with craggy peaks and rocky grandeur.

Deryl Stone spends his days within sight of Manhattan's skyscrapers, in a sprawling urban park.

Their locales are vastly different but both Bolding and Stone are rangers in the National Parks Service system. Often, it is they who serve as the public's first contact with the parks — and it is they who must also contend with the unprecedented problems faced by the Park Service today.

A hiker is alone in Alaska's Gates of the Arctic National Monument.

Bolding and Stone are featured in "National Parks: Playground or Paradise," the National Geographic special airing Wednesday, March 11 on PBS.

The U.S. park system is a sprawling domain of more than 300 sites. The magnificent scenic parks are its "crown jewels," but the system also includes such famous attractions as the White House, Alcatraz Island, Wolf Trap Farm Park for the Performing Arts, and increasingly, small wilderness preserves in the shadow of the nation's cities. It is a system that requires rangers with diverse interests and abilities.

Julie Bolding, a 26-year-old pre-medical student at Montana State University-Bozeman, has already served a summer season in Yellowstone National Park. She now works in Wyoming's breathtaking Grand Teton National Park, among the soaring, jagged peaks of the Tetons and the beautiful campgrounds and climbing trails that surround them.

In the course of a normal day Ms. Bolding might handle such varied problems as drunken drivers, wounded animals, lost children, fires or vandalism. She wears a gun while on patrol.

"I don't ever expect to need it," she says. "The problem is that the federal government is responsible for everything that happens in the parks, so we need to be prepared for everything."

"When I was stationed in Yellowstone, I saw a lot of domestic problems. And some very frightening ones — some that I couldn't get to in time to keep the wife from being hit or to keep the child from being knocked across the trailer. Then I'm glad I have the weapon."

Deryl Stone's background and skills couldn't be more different. A former combat corpsman in Vietnam, he was a bartender, deputy sheriff and construction entrepreneur until he joined the Park Service 11 years ago and found what he was looking for.

"It has everything that I want," Stone says. "It offers me the wide variety of work that I'm interested in — resources and wildlife management, visitor services, search and rescue, fire fighting and law enforcement — all rolled into one job."

Until his recent transfer, Stone was a supervising ranger in the Gateway National Recreation Area, an unusual bastion of nature under the pathway of jets from Kennedy International Airport in New York. Gateway offers fishing, a bird sanctuary, and that rarest of urban opportunities, a place for solitude. Its environmental programs and school-sponsored overnight excursions have helped city youths learn about a different way of life.

For his part, Stone had one of the most intimate experiences possible when, on another assignment in a remote park, he delivered his own son.

"We were 14 miles from the nearest road," he recalls. "If there had been time, we'd have gone to the hospital by helicopter. I had delivered three babies in Vietnam, so it was nothing new to me. It was like anything else. When it comes up, you do it."

An unusual attitude perhaps, but as Stone points out, preserving our national treasures is an unusual occupation.

"It's not a job," he says. "It's a way of life."

FRIDAY

Stephanie Zambalant stars as a girl who refuses to give in to the problems caused by a crippling accident in "Long Journey Back," to air on ABC, Friday, March 6.

JACQUELINE BISSET STARS with Robert Shaw (upper left) and Nick Nolte in "The Deep," a chilling presentation on "The ABC Sunday Night Movie." The three of them are pitted against a drug-dealing Haitian in a race for a sunken fortune, to air March 8.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

MYSTERIOUS MYSTERY

I would like to know the name of a detective show which was on NBC sometime between 1975 and 1978. All I remember is that the short father had his tall son solve the mysteries for him. At the end of each show, the son asked the viewers if they knew who the killer was. Will the show ever appear again? It was my favorite. — Swaine Thompson, Chicago.

The show was "Ellery Queen" and it was on NBC for not too long a run, beginning September 11, 1975. The late Jim Hutton played the tall Ellery and David Wayne was his short father, Inspector Richard Queen of the New York Police Department. I agree with you. I liked it because it was an old-fashioned mystery which gave the viewers a chance to match wits with Ellery. If an Ellery Queen series is ever made again, and it's possible because there have been other Queen series on both radio and television, it will be different from the one you recall.

Frank Sinatra

Was Diana Canova's first TV role on "Corinne" or had she appeared on TV before? — Bruce Howard, Hewlett, N.Y.

She did appear before, for a very short time, as a regular on the summer variety series, "Dinah and Her New Best Friends." The show, with Dinah Shore as host, ran for two months in the summer of 1976. Diana participated in comedy and talent sketches.

This year we expect 1,200,000 smart American consumers to join the Club and buy the many hundreds of eye-catching selections lavishly illustrated in both club catalogs. Like you, they shy away from junk jewelry and cheap merchandise of any kind... they too know that the quality of items we purchase says a lot about ourselves. But they'll buy them always at less than half of retail... conveniently shopping from their homes and, thereby saving time, gas and money!

HERE'S ALL IT TAKES TO JOIN:

Simply mail the attached coupon with $1 for your lifetime membership fee. Anyone can join and there will never be any additional dues or fees to pay, ever! Judge Jones Hears Variety of Charges

Judge Lewis R. Jones heard a variety of cases, ranging from theft to disorderly conduct during the February 23 session of Garrett County District Court.

An Elizabeth, Pa. man, Charles George Morosko, 31, was found guilty of battery charges brought against him by Louis DeAugustine, Oakland.

According to reports, the two were involved in a verbal and physical altercation in the Youghiogheny Mountain Resort Club House last August which involved several members of each family.

Morosko was sentenced to a six-month jail term which was suspended. He was placed on 24-months supervised probation.

The defendant was found not guilty on charges of assault.

A trio of men from Swanton was found guilty on charges of theft lodged against them by Cpl. Charles Hinnant, Maryland State Police.

According to reports, Michael Robert Reams, 20; Steven Harold Kitzmiller, 20; and Harland Eugene Kitzmiller, Jr., 22, were found guilty of charges of stealing several pairs of skis and poles from the Wisp Ski Area in January.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for all three men. Dorsey Cline Valentine, Oakland, was found guilty on a charge of battery brought against him by Lena Belle Nicholson, also of Oakland.

According to the complainant, a sister of the defendant, a domestic dispute prompted the arrest.

Serena Sisler, also of Oakland, was found not guilty on charges of assault and battery brought against her by Valentine stemming from the same domestic argument.

Valentine was fined $25 plus court costs.

Two Deer Park men and another from Swanton were found guilty of theft stemming from charges brought against them by Sheriff's Deputy Martin Van Evans.

According to court records, Robert Allen Sharpless, 20, and Terry Wayne Sharpless, 20, both of Deer Park; and Albert C. Paugh, Swanton, were charged with cutting a hose leading to the fuel tank of a truck belonging to the town of Deer Park. The trio then drained 15 gallons of gasoline, valued at $34.14 from the vehicle.

Judge Jones found the men guilty, and ordered probation before judgement. Each was ordered to make restitution to the town of Deer Park in the amount of $13.38.

Charges of malicious destruction of property were declared nolle prosequi against the trio.

In a separate case, David William Cosner, 20, Oakland, was found guilty of disorderly conduct stemming from a scuffle with Maryland State Police officer Gary Resh.

According to the report, Trooper Resh arrived on the scene of an auto accident involving Cosner. The officer found Cosner in an intoxicated condition, acting in a disorderly fashion. When the defendant became unruly, the scuffle ensued, and the arrest was made.

Cosner was sentenced to 30 days in jail, which was suspended, charged with court costs, and placed on 12-months unsupervised probation. He was also ordered to replace a watchband worn by Trooper Resh that was destroyed in the melee.

A Grantsville man, Kenneth Yommer, 45, was found guilty on charges of battery against a minor and the complainant, Gladys Yommer, also of Grantsville.

According to the report, a domestic dispute involving the Yommers and a 16-year-old minor was a result of the use of alcohol and abusive force by Kenneth Yommer.

Judge Jones ordered probation before judgement as well as an order to refrain from the use of alcohol and assaultive conduct toward Mrs. Yommer and the minor.

Joseph Ralph Pyles, 40, Oakland, was found guilty on two charges of theft brought against him by Sheriff's Deputy Frank Finch.

According to the report, Pyles was hitch-hiking along U.S. Rt. 219 N. when he was picked up by a passing motorist, Robert C. Custer. After Pyles left the automobile, the driver reported a camera and a quantity of shotgun shells missing.

Judge Jones charged Pyles guilty of the charges and sentenced him to three months in the county jail, which was suspended. The defendant was placed on 18-months unsupervised probation and ordered to refrain from the use of alcohol.

A Westernport man, Charles

Robert Patton, 19, was found guilty on charges of trespassing and breaking and entering stemming from an incident at the Alpine Village Motel, Rt. 219, Deep Creek.

According to the report, Patton entered a room occupied by a vacationing family last August and made himself at home on the bed while the family was out.

Judge Jones ordered probation before judgement in the

College Level Program Presented at Frostburg

A total of 87 high school students from the tri-state area were welcomed to the college level enrichment program at Frostburg State College on Saturday, February 14, by Dr. Nelson P. Guild, president of Frostburg State. The program is sponsored by the FSC Foundation and is supported financially by the Kiwanis of Western Allegany and area Lions Clubs.

Students representing 15 area high schools participated, including one Northern High School representative.

Ron Fautz, executive director of the FSC Foundation, said this year's large enrollment is directly attributed to the interest and support of the principals and guidance counselors in the schools.

Students are enrolled in mathematics, astronomy, economics, English or history courses, which are taught by FSC faculty.

Surface Mining Training Offered

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College will offer a Surface Mining Training — Health & Safety course at the Grantsville Elementary School. Jean Tressler, Continuing Education Secretary.

Sessions will be held Monday through Wednesday and Friday, 6-10 p. m., beginning March 9, and ending March 24. The final test will be given on April 8 at 6 p. m.

Registration is now being taken for this course on a first-come, first-serve basis. The fee is $15 and an out-of-county and out-of-state differential fee will be charged. For additional information, interested persons are asked to contact the Offices of Continuing Education at Garrett Community College.

Garrett Branch Of AAUW Will Meet Tuesday

Homes For The Handicapped Realized In Garrett County

by Kathy Bailey

Garrett Crossroads, Inc., a local non-profit organization, has announced the completion of Garrett County's first group home for mentally retarded adults, and the recent purchase of an existing home to be used for apartment living for high-functional mentally handicapped women. The group home is located on Broad Ford Road, Mt. Lake Park, and the apartment building is located on Pennington Street in Oakland.

The Garrett Crossroads Board of Directors is planning a public open house and ribbon cutting ceremony on Sunday, March 15, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the group home. This facility is co-educational, and will accommodate eight handicapped adults, six from Garrett County and two from other parts of Maryland. Four of the residents from Garrett County have been living in the community, and two have lived in institutions. Timothy M. Breedlove, director of Garrett Crossroads, Inc., stated that the residents should begin moving into the home sometime this week.

The purpose of the home is to provide residential habilitation in a transitional living arrangement designed to train and teach the residents to be more functionally independent. The residents will learn home living and self-help skills, and each will follow an Individualized Education Plan. They will also learn community living skills, such as how to use resources in town, including public transportation, the public library and health care resources. The program is geared toward moving institutionalized people into the community, and stopping local people from having to go back into an institution, said one board member.

The residents are expected to live in the group home an average of two years before moving to a more advanced living situation with less supervision. Garrett Crossroads will set up residency in lease form to give the residents practical experience in paying rent, through Medicaid and special supplementary incomes.

The home will be staffed by four people. John Smith, 23, of Pennsylvania, will serve as full-time community living supervisor. He will reside in special quarters in the home. Smith holds a bachelor of science degree in education from Clarion State College, and has a strong background in art, music and drama. He has worked with handicapped Boy Scouts and he worked with the handicapped through a college service fraternity.

Smith's full-time assistant will be Charles Armacost, 23, from Greenville, N.C. Armacost holds a bachelor of arts degree in psychology from East Carolina University. He has worked for the Potomac Comprehensive Diagnostic and Guidance Center in Romney, W. Va., and with Special Olympics.

Lyz (Grant) Flanigan, 20, of Fort Belvoir, a native of Garrett County, will serve as full-time counselor at the home. While attending high school Ms.

Flanigan tutored in special education and remedial classes.

The home's part-time counselor will be Kathy Ward, 22, of Beltsville. Ms. Ward is a student at Garrett Community College. She will receive an associate of arts degree in psychology when she graduates this summer.

Members of the Garrett Crossroads Board of Directors, which came into existence in January of 1977, were instrumental in the design of the group home, along with members of Friends Aware in Cumberland. The directors also submitted a list of 30 local builders to the state, and a contract was awarded to Dick Devlin of Garrettland Construction, one of three county bidders. Dave Kootz, of the Appalachian Adult Activities Center, was in charge of the site selection, and Charlotte Griffith, of Vocational Rehabilitation Services, now president of the Garrett Crossroads Board, was in charge of an area needs assessment, revealing an immediate need for at least five homes and placement for 50 individuals.

The group home has five bedrooms, four for the eight residents, and one to be used for community respite care. Breedlove explained that a person could stay in the respite care room up to 30 days, paying a sliding scale charge. It also has a conference room, a recreation area and living room, a dining room with a table to seat 12 people, two full baths, a kitchen and a laundry room.

The home is equipped with many practical and safety devices, including a smoke detector and fire alarm box in every room. There is a back-up generator system for emergency lighting, and two furnaces, one primary wood/coal burner and a propane gas furnace for use when needed.

KEEPING FAMILY AND HOUSEHOLD RECORDS
Have you ever asked yourself what records you should keep or throw away and which records you should have safely stored? These questions can lead to frustration and a lot of extra paper if you don't have the answer.

For this reason, I will run a two-part article on storing household records. This week's article will help you determine what records need to be safely stored away.

Every family has some important records which need to be kept in a safe place. For a small yearly or monthly charge, a safe deposit box can be rented at your bank or savings and loan. Once you have obtained the safe deposit box, you will have to determine what papers are important enough to store there.

It is suggested that the following records be stored there:

- *Birth Certificates.
- *Death Certificates.
- *Marriage Certificates.
- *Divorce or other legal papers regarding dissolution of marriage.
- *Adoption papers.
- *A carbon copy of one's will.
- *Citizenship records.
- *Service records.
- *Any other document that is either government or court recorded.
- *Important investment papers.
- *Government bonds.
- *Papers that serve as proof of ownership, such as deeds for real estate, other mortgage papers, contracts, automobile titles, leases, notes, and such special papers as patents and copyrights.

A general guideline to follow as to what should be put in your safe deposit box is: Put it in if you can't replace it or if it would be costly or troublesome to replace.

Next week maintaining a home filing system will be discussed.

FOOD NOTES

The following recipe was submitted by Mrs. Sue Glaze. These rolls won her a blue ribbon at the 1980 Garrett County Fair.

DINNER ROLLS

2½ cups warm water
3 pkg. dry yeast
¾ cup oil
¾ cup white sugar
½ tsp. salt
7½-8 cups flour
Dissolve yeast in water. Add rest of ingredients and mix, adding enough flour for a soft dough. Knead 5 minutes. Let rise until double (about 45 minutes). Punch down and let rise again. Shape into rolls. Let rise until double in bulk. Bake at 400°F for 10 minutes.

(This is an excellent basic sweet dough for sweet rolls, buns, dinner rolls, cinnamon rolls, etc.)

The Maryland Cooperative Extension Service offers its programs to persons regardless of race, color, national origin, sex or handicap and is an equal opportunity employer.

Auxiliary Meets

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bayard Church of God held its monthly meeting on February 24 at 1 p. m. in the church fellowship hall.

Ruth Rhodes, president, opened the meeting with prayer, and Teresha Cosner led the devotions. Her scripture reading was from Romans 12-3, and the topic was "humility." Refreshments were served.

Present were Ruth Rhodes, Teresha Cosner, Sandy Martin, Violet Brown, Ellen Anthony, Thelma Cerne, Nola Morris, Shirley Simmons, and Joyce Brown.

Any women in the Bayard, W. Va. area are welcome to come to fellowship with the auxiliary on the last Tuesday of each month.

Deep Creek Church To Sponsor Gospel Sing On March 8

A Gospel Sing will be held Sunday, March 8 at the Deep Creek Baptist Church, eight miles north of Oakland on U. S. 219, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Featured will be Philip and Carolyn Sherman, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va.; the Getty Keefer Family, Friendsville, and talent from the church.

Pastor David C. Long invites the public to attend.

Buckwheat Cake Dinner Scheduled

On Saturday, March 7, the United Community Services of Crellin will sponsor a Buckwheat Cake and Sausage Dinner at the Crellin Community Center.

The dinner will be held between the hours of 4 p. m. and 8 p. m. The Crellin Community Center is located on Crellin Road, 4 miles west of Oakland off Route 39.

The proceeds from this dinner will be used to help develop a small tract of land on Garrett State Forest which is being used by Crellin School for its Outdoor Education Program. Most of the money generated will be used to engrave a monument for the tract's visitor parking area. The monument will commemorate the donation of the area by John and Robert Garrett to the State of Maryland in 1906 and will also mark the area as the birthplace of forestry in Maryland 75 years ago.

Legal Aid Bureau Schedule is Noted

The Western Maryland Office of the Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., will maintain an outreach schedule for persons in Garrett, Southern Allegany, and Western Washington Counties in March, attorney Anne Wilson recently announced.

Staff members of Legal Aid will be available to discuss legal problems with persons at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College on March 13 from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m., and at the Health Center in Grantsville on March 27 from 10 a. m. until 12 noon.

Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., is a federally-funded organization of lawyers and other professionals which provides legal assistance in civil matters to qualified persons. The Western Maryland office was opened in December of 1978 to cover the needs of low-income people in the three western counties of the state. Services are available free of charge to anyone whose income and property holdings are below certain federally-mandated levels.

The central office for the Legal Aid Bureau of Western Maryland is located at 110 Greene Street, Cumberland. The telephone number is 777-7474. Calls may be made from the Oakland area by dialing 334-8832.

Whenever possible, persons needing assistance should call to schedule an appointment for one of the outreach locations or for an appointment at the central office in Cumberland, according to the bureau representative.

AARP Meeting Set For March 11

The American Association of Retired Persons will hold their next meeting on March 11 at 1:30 p. m. at the Oakland Fire Hall.

Members are urged to attend to plan a trip to Wildwood N. J., scheduled from June 22 to 26.

Refreshments will be served.

Housing Office to identify a site, and residents there who are not working will be eligible for rental assistance. Residents at the house will be women with a mild mental handicap, who require less than 30 hours of supervision each week. This is the most advanced level of apartment living for the handicapped, providing a real opportunity for the residents to advance themselves, said Kooztz, and a greater degree of independence will be encouraged. The residents, some of whom will be working, are required to be out of the home at least eight hours each day, Monday through Friday.

At this time the house is 90 percent furnished, and both the building and the furnishings belong to the state. All of the rooms were furnished and decorated except the bedrooms, as the residents will be allowed to decorate their own rooms.

Beverly Socorski, 22, of Morgantown, W. Va., has been selected as the live-in counselor at that facility. Ms. Socorski holds a bachelor of social work degree from West Virginia University. She has worked with the mentally handicapped through home visitation.

The residents for the apartment setting have not yet been chosen, and two part-time aids will also be selected to assist Ms. Socorski.

Many years of hard work and dedication are coming to an end for the members of Garrett Crossroads, Inc., who will soon see their efforts unfold into a realized dream. These are the first of several group homes which the organization hopes to initiate, to fill the needs of the area's handicapped citizens. These homes will serve 11 people initially, to start them on their way to greater independence in caring for their own needs.

SPACIOUS, BRIGHT AND SPARKING NEW, the Garrett Crossroads group home, located in Mt. Lake Park, awaits the arrival of its first residents, eight mentally retarded adults, who will learn home living and self-help skills while living in the home. Pictured above is one of the bedrooms in the home, with wall-to-wall carpeting and new furniture. The program is designed to bring the handicapped into the community and away from institutions. At the group home they will learn to be more functionally independent and to use community resources. The residents are expected to begin moving into the home sometime this week. A public open house and ribbon cutting ceremony will be held Sunday, March 15, from 2 to 4 p.m.

"A REAL OPPORTUNITY FOR ADVANCEMENT," according to Dave Kooztz, director of the Appalachian Adult Activities Center, presents itself to three mentally handicapped women who will reside in this building recently purchased by the state. The home, located on Pennington Street in Oakland, will house women with a mild handicap requiring minimal supervision, to help them become more independent and self-reliant. This is the most advanced level of apartment living for the handicapped. The home is being supervised temporarily by the AAAC, and will be turned over to Garrett Crossroads, Inc., in July of this year.

Pres. Reagan Sends Letter Of Thanks To Loch Lynn Pupils

Teacher Karen Baker's first grade class at Loch Lynn Elementary School received a message from U.S. President Ronald Reagan last week — it was a thank you note for birthday cards they sent to the President for his 70th birthday on February 7.

Each student constructed his own card and created his own birthday message to the President.

In his letter of thanks, the President told the students he appreciated the birthday cards and their unique expression of support for him and the United States.

"Your thoughtfulness in sending hand-crafted messages makes me proud to know of your talents and your love of our country," he said in his letter.

Poison Prevention Week is Scheduled

Poison Prevention Week begins March 15, and the Maryland Poison Center at the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy has launched a community service campaign to combat accidental poisonings.

Last year, the Maryland Poison Center answered over 42,500 calls; close to 30,000 of them were actual exposures to poison. The majority of these accidental poisonings, according to a news release from the University of Maryland, occurred in the home to children under five years of age.

The Maryland poison center recommends properly storing medicines, household products, and known poisons to prevent accidents. Instructions are given to never switch containers of medicine, or to combine drugs in one bottle. Old or out-dated prescriptions and empty containers should be disposed of properly.

Report Concludes No New Highways Needed In County By Year 2000

No new major highways will be needed in Garrett County by the year 2000 even though population could increase by 12,000 and new jobs by 7,769, concludes the final report on Economic Development and Transportation Improvements for Garrett County.

The report, which was recently released, says the projected growth in the county can be accommodated by existing highways, but that "extensive improvements to the existing highway system will be needed both to serve new development and to upgrade hazardous and sub-standard sections."

Hammer, Siler, George Associates and Barton-Aschman Associates, Inc., both Washington, D.C.-based firms, prepared the report for the Maryland Department of Transportation and the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development. It was sponsored by the Federal Highway Administration of the U. S. Department of Transportation.

Oakland/Mountain Lake

Park and Deep Creek Lake were two areas cited by the consultants where the need for highway improvement will be greatest.

The consultants say U.S. 219 and Md. 135 will become over-loaded in the Oakland/Mountain Lake Park area and recommend construction of a U.S. 219 Bypass and widening of Md. 135 to four lanes.

U.S. 219 in the Deep Creek Lake area will also experience congestion during the peak summer recreational periods, say the consultants. It recommends improvements to Md. 495 and New Germany Road to divert some of the U.S. 219 traffic.

The consultants also recommend replacement of several bridges in the county and upgrading substandard routes and eliminating hazardous conditions.

The report is composed of economic development and transportation analyses and is organized in four sections.

Section I identifies economic development opportunities from 1978 to 2000 based on three different projections or "scenarios".

In Section II, the transportation implications of economic growth are analyzed. These implications are transformed into specific project recommendations in Section III.

A plan and priority listing of recommended projects are outlined in Section IV.

Also included in the report are three appendices. The first contains comments on the study made during two public meetings. The second annotates the 10 interim and task reports comprising the research methodologies, findings, and recommendations of the study. The third identifies the major references used by the consultants.

A copy of the report is available to the public at the Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland.

A.S.C.S. Discloses Small Grain Crop Loan Availability

Maryland farmers may obtain loans on their 1980 wheat, oats, and barley until March 31, according to Stuart C. Peterson, Acting Chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Corn, sorghum, and soybean loans are available until May 31.

"Many farmers use our commodity loan program to obtain interim operating capital while they bargain or hold their grain for future delivery," Peterson said. As of January 31, 1981, local farmers had obtained federal price support loans totaling $9,358,622 on 3,536,105 bushels of their 1980 grain crops, Peterson said.

The loan rates per bushel are: wheat $2.98; oats $1.29; barley $1.81; corn $2.44; sorghum $3.86; and soybeans $5.00. Ordinary loans have a nine-month maturity date at 11 1/2 percent interest.

Peterson said wheat and barley may go immediately into reserve. "This program offers farmers three-year loans and storage payments in advance for isolating grain from the market until prices rise." It is designed to provide a reasonable degree of stability in prices and supplies in times of exceptionally strong or weak demand and during times of unusually good or poor harvests. Currently, the reserve contains over 2 million bushels of Maryland grain, Peterson added.

"Ferd, what was that wild screeching in the hen house?"

The agency has offered commodity loans to farmers for 48 years. In most cases producers satisfy their loan obligations by repaying the money before the loan matures or by forfeiting the crop to the Commodity Credit Corporation if prices at loan maturity are below the loan rate.

For additional details on commodity loans, interested persons are asked to contact the local ASCA office at 334-8141.

The negotiation proceedings will not be disclosed to the public until final agreements have been reached, the spokesman said.

Participating in the negotiations will be Harold Fox, business representative for AFSCME; members of the executive board for Local 1834 of AFSCME; Herb McCredie, county roads administrator; Jack Turney, county attorney; and Paul Shockey, county personnel director.

The previous contract, which became effective July 1, 1979, expires June 30, 1981.

Oakland Releases Election Results

More than 200 voters turned out for the Oakland Municipal Election held Monday, March 9, to elect three council members and the town treasurer.

Those elected as council members were Von W. Johnson with 256 votes, Frank H. Eberly with 179 votes, and James R. Stanton with 148 votes.

Johnson, Stanton and J. H. Jackson were running for reelection this time. Jackson received 110 votes and the fifth candidate, Gordon K. Douglas, received 69 votes.

Berndine F. Stanton was re-elected to the office of treasurer with 203 votes.

The three council members will serve two-year terms, and the treasurer will serve a term of one year.

Young Local Skier Qualifies For National Junior Olympic Finals

It appears Garrett County is well on the way to having its first U. S. winter Olympian.

Jon Umbel, 14-year-old son of Ruth Umbel, Deep Creek Lake, and Hugh Umbel, College Park, has earned his way into the National Junior Olympic Skiing finals slated this month in Squaw Valley, California. Umbel qualified for the finals after faring well in the Junior Olympic tryouts at Whiteface Mountain the latter part of February.

Umbel's skiing career began at the tender age of three at the Wap Ski Area, McHenry. He began racing before he was 10 in local events, as well as at Seven Springs ski area in the Pennsylvania Alpine Racing Circuit. After capturing an abundance of ribbons, trophies and medals, Jon's parents decided to enroll him in Stratton Mountain School in Vermont.

Umbel spent just the winter term at the academy last season, as the youngest student ever to be enrolled there, and made the Vermont All-Star team for Junior III and IV.

After a transfer back to the Southern Middle School and then to Southern High School last fall, Herman Goltzner, Jon's coach, contacted the U. S. Olympic team and encouraged them to enroll Jon at the academy full-time, which they did. Jon traveled to Austria last fall to train among the world's top racers. The students raced on courses parallel to those used by the United States and Austrian ski teams.

A typical day at the academy is long and rigorous. The students are up by 6 a.m. and are on the hill skiing from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. They break for lunch and then attend classes from 1 p.m. to 5:45 p.m. The evenings are spent studying and the

INVASION OF THE DINOSAURS? — Not exactly, but this massive monster served as an excuse for a six-hour romp in the snow for five Friendsville youths last Thursday. This snow-sculptured beast was given life by Jeff Frost, Jamie and Rodney Friend, Talon King, and Wilbur (Skizle) Sines during the unexpected snow day called for Garrett County Schools. The harmless reptile measures approximately 20 feet long, and seven feet high. He doesn't get around much, eats very little, and is expected to last only through the next bright, sunny, frost-free day. He stands on the lawn of Jeff's grandfather, near the Naah Frazee Road, but not for long.

Eight Juveniles To Be Charged With Vandalism

Maryland State Police report a rash of vandalism in the Green Glade area of Deep Creek Lake during the morning hours of Sunday, March 8.

Eight juveniles from Baltimore County, implicated in the breaking and entering and theft of seven summer homes in the Lake area are currently in the custody of their parents pending a Garrett County hearing. All eight youths will be charged with breaking and entering and theft of six summer homes. Additional charges of destruction of property will also be lodged against the juveniles.

According to Maryland State Police, several persons allegedly left the scene of a party being held in a cabin near the crime site last Saturday night.

The damage included broken windows, doors, mirrors, TV screens, overturned furniture, and ransacked drawers. A chandelier was torn from the ceiling of one residence, a bottle of syrup was found around the walls, floors, and furniture in one home, and a quantity of flour was strewn about the rooms of another.

Drinking glasses were lined up as targets for a pellet gun handler in one home, and a quantity of cash and a radio was stolen from yet another home.

A total damage estimate has not yet been established.

Cpl. Charles Hunsant and Tfc. Chester Miller are handling the investigation.

Burglary Motive Appears To Be 'Bright' Idea

Several unknown culprits seemed to have had for rather unusual loot during the breaking and entering last week of a summer cottage on the Green Glade Road.

According to Maryland State Police, several persons entered the vacation home of George Franklin Way, Juniata, Pa. During the escapade, the thieves apparently traveled throughout the home, removing each and every light bulb in the entire building.

In addition, a small quantity of coins was reported missing from a cigar box. The investigation is continuing.

Nothing else was reported missing. The investigation is continuing.

Superintendent's Proposed Budget Would Require More County Funds

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Garrett County Superintendent of Schools, revealed that his proposed FY1982 budget, presented to the public Thursday, would require a larger share of county funds than in previous years.

With the uncertainty of funding from the federal and state governments, although all indications are that aid is drying up at those levels, Ryscavage said he would ask the county to bear a larger share of the Board's $12,217,200 budget to help the school system maintain its services to county youth.

The amount to be asked from the county will be $6,106,046, an approximate $600,000 increase over last fiscal year.

Even that increase would not bring Garrett County up to the level of most counties in Maryland, which contribute almost 50 percent of money going into their school systems' budgets, Ryscavage said. In FY1981, Garrett County funds made up 36.6 percent of the school system's funding sources.

Ryscavage estimated the school system would receive about $5,400,512 from the state, a $144,000 increase over the past year. He added that in previous years, increases in state funds were close to $1 million.

The combined increase in funds from the county, state and other sources (not including federal sources) would represent an 11.7 percent increase, said Ryscavage.

Eighty percent of that increase would go to fund the negotiated salary increase of six percent for all Board employees plus fringe benefits, the increased costs of utilities, and increased tuition costs of Garrett County youth attending Allegany County schools.

The remaining 20 percent would be used to cover inflationary costs of services, supplies, materials, and equipment.

Two additions to the budget this year are funds to add a speech therapist to the Special Education staff and to pay tuition costs for a special education class for all teachers as mandated by law.

Ryscavage pointed out that he and his two assistant superintendents cut a total of $38,000 from the original request and denied requests for 17 additional personnel, including teachers, custodians and clerks.

He added that money obtained by not filling some teaching position vacancies would be used to provide a guidance counselor at Northern Middle

Legislators Back Coal Tax Bill

The Western Maryland delegation to the General Assembly voted to stick with its coal tax bill last week, despite pleas from commissioners in Allegany and Garrett counties to lower the proposed tax.

The delegation amended its legislation to increase the tax from 50 cents per ton to 60 cents and to exempt the first 15,000 tons of coal mined by a firm from the tax.

The lawmakers believe the increase to 60 cents—plus a nickel per ton increases over the following three years—will offset about $225,000 lost because of the exemption.

All the legislators agreed the exemption may help the small coal operators.

Letters from Allegany County commissioners Arthur T. Bond and William M. Kenny and from Garrett County commissioner Truman Paugh suggested that a 40-cent-per-ton tax instead of the original 50 cents tax be imposed.

The bill would also eliminate the personal property tax on surface mine coal companies. Of the 60 cents, 30 would be used for the counties' general revenue fund to offset money which will be lost by the elimination of the personal property tax. The other 30 would be used for road repair.

The bill, sponsored by Del. DeCoursey Bolden and Del. William Byrnes, originally authorized the county commissioners to impose a percentage tax, but was changed to a flat tonnage tax after overwhelming testimony against the percentage tax at a House Ways and Means Committee hearing.

To date, Garrett County Commissioner Ernest Gregg is the only commissioner who has publicly supported the bill. In a letter to the delegation, Gregg stated the proposed bill was "acceptable and workable" for the counties and that it "adequately addressed" earlier concerns raised by the county commissioners and the Western Maryland Coal Association.

The Western Maryland Coal Association has opposed the proposed tax. Its members would rather see a tax set at 34 cents a ton with three annual increases of two cents per ton for the next three years.

At the state level, Ryscavage does not expect to receive funds in two categories—targeted aid and social security recycling—which contributed $173,709 to the budget last year. A bill in the General Assembly would eliminate $25,000 in funding for the driver education program which could force the county Board of Education to

County Commissioners To Amend FY 1981 Revenue Sharing Budget

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners told the county Superintendent of Schools Tuesday it hopes to determine amendments to the FY1981 revenue sharing budget by next week to compensate for a $180,000 shortfall in anticipated revenues.

Superintendent Dr. Jerome Ryscavage and James Lupis, Jr., assistant superintendent of administrative services, met with the Board to discuss the $180,000 revenue sharing allocation to the Board of Education.

Of the total allocation, the School Board has expended another $28,000, Ryscavage noted. Ryscavage and Lupis outlined for the commissioners how the balance of the School Board's allocation would be spent. They stated the majority of the remaining $152,000 would be used for architectural fees for the Accident Elementary School.

Another $6,000 would be used to improve site facilities at the Southern High School football field and up to $8000 would be used to repay the State for work done at Grantsville Elementary School.

The Board asked the departments which were to receive revenue sharing funds to provide it with the amounts of their allocations that have not yet been expended nor obligated. They will determine amendments to the revenue sharing budget.

In other action, the commissioners accepted an employee deferred compensation plan offered by the National Association of Counties.

The commissioners chose the plan over four other companies because they believed it would cost employees less and would provide more service for the cost. They pointed out the NACO program was a nationwide program, specially tailored to the specific needs of local governments.

The plan would provide a tax shelter for employees to invest some of their salary into a retirement plan by taking money from their paycheck and placing it into the plan before taxes are taken. Law provides for employees to take advantage of the plan only when

Board Approves First Phase Of Gorman Project

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners took action yesterday to give approval for the building of Schedule I of the Gorman Water Project, and a construction contract is expected to be awarded within the next two weeks, according to Project Manager Tom Jones.

The Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. has submitted funds already committed to that project to go ahead with the first phase of the project, to serve residents from the Gorman, W. Va. line, including the town of Gorman, up Route 50 to the Wilson-Corinna Road. The estimated total cost of Schedule I is $47,225, of which $38,225 is construction costs.

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners is holding options open toward possible construction of the other two phases of the project, said Jones, pending the availability of funds from the Appalachian Regional Commission and Farmers Home Administration. He added that, if federal funding is obtained for the additional phases, which would extend the project to Tazewell, the board has not definitely indicated whether it will approve construction of those phases.

A petition signed by approximately 70 people was submitted to the commissioners on Wednesday of last week, stating opposition to the project on the basis that the users can not stand the costs of the proposed improvements, stating it is not necessary or proper, and appealing the February 17 decision of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission to construct all three phases of the project.

The commissioners acknowledged and reviewed the petition. When the motion was made yesterday to proceed with Schedule I, Commissioner H. Lester Hunter remarked that there appears to be a need for water within that area.

Merit Board Charged In Sex Discrimination Case

by Kathy Bailey

"I think I deserve the job just as much as anyone else," claims Mary Lyons, a Kitzmiller woman who has applied for the position of laborer with the Garrett County Roads Department since 1976. She said, "In 1977 I felt that I was getting the run-around" from those in a position to hire her, and she filed a discrimination complaint with the Maryland Commission on Human Relations.

The complaint was originally filed against the Roads Department, with a second complaint filed in 1978 alleging further discrimination and failure to hire. In 1979, it was determined that the complaint should be against the Garrett County Merit System Board, as that appointed group screens applications and refers a handful of prospective employees to the Roads Department for further consideration.

A Hearing Examiner of the Commission on Human Relations recently released an opinion in the case. Resulting from investigation and testimony heard at a public hearing on November 10, 1980, it has been determined by the commission that the Garrett County Merit Board engaged in unlawful employment discrimination by failing to include Mrs. Lyons' name in any listings forwarded to the Roads Department, solely because of her sex.

Jack Turney, attorney for the Mary Lyons

Merit Board, stated that the board intends to appeal the opinion issued. The appeal must be taken before the Appeals Council of the Human Relations Commission before March 27.

Turney said the board "doesn't feel it was an act of discrimination, because she was not qualified" for the job. He said the board claims that Mrs. Lyons "did not indicate that she had a GED (equivalency high school education) on her application."

Lyons, who is represented by attorney Susan J. Crawford, testified that she did indicate her high school equivalency education on the application. All applications which are not forwarded are apparently destroyed by the Merit Board.

A mother of three children, ranging in age from 16 to 22, Mrs. Lyons said she has "always enjoyed working outdoors." She testified at the hearing as to her qualifications to perform the duties of a general laborer. Lyons said she has had experience in cutting down trees and cutting wood into posts with a chain saw, loading six to eight-foot wooden posts on the back of a pickup truck, digging ditches with a pick and shovel, constructing a garage, including the mixing of mortar and the laying of concrete blocks, operating a front end loader, and other general heavy duty type of maintenance work around her home. She said she had lived with her grandmother for a long period of time and that "you learn to do those things if you have to do them. I know I can do the job."

It was found by the Human Relations Commission that during the period November, 1977 to December, 1978, the Garrett County Roads Department hired 24 laborers, all of whom were male. The advertisements which the Merit System Board used for vacant positions at laborers required attainment of a high school education or its equivalent, possession of a valid Maryland drivers license and the ability to perform general labor.

The job of laborer in the Garrett County Roads Department is an entry level position. Robert Stemple, chairman of the Merit Board since its creation in 1974, stated at the November hearing that the board has never certified a female as eligible for employment as a laborer with the Roads Department. He added that Lyons was found not eligible in relation to work experience. Mrs. Lyons had been employed for five years with the Garrett County Community Action Agency.

Turney stated that the three main reasons for the board's appeal of the Human Relations Commission opinion are: objection to the charge of discrimination, the ordering of back pay for Lyons for a presently undetermined period of time, and that the Garrett County Roads Department was dismissed at an earlier time and is now ordered to pay restitution (the Merit Board has no authority to make payment).

In addition to the charge of unlawful sex discrimination handed down by the Human Relations Commission, the commission found that Lyons was qualified for the position of laborer, and that the Merit Board's position was unsupported by record evidence.

The commission ordered that the Merit Board award Lyons the next available position comparable in salary and status to the job she sought and that it reimburse her an amount to be established at an up-coming hearing.

The commission further ordered that, in the event that no job is available with the Roads Department, Lyons be awarded monetary damages for two years salary. Lyons must make every reasonable effort to secure employment during this time, according to the commission, and if the employment found pays less than the salary of laborer, she must be paid the difference by the county.

Certain protective employment measures were included in the order, for the time when Lyons is employed by the Roads Department. In addition, the commission will monitor and review compliance with the order.

Lyons said she does not anticipate any problems working with the male laborers at the Roads Department in the event that she is hired. She said that she knows many of them, as her husband Clarence worked as a Roads Department laborer for six years until he became disabled approximately two years ago. She said she is simply willing to do the work assigned to her, and added that, if a woman can work as laborer with the state Roads Department (there is a female state laborer in Garrett County) then why not at the county level?

Drivers Or Killers? . . .

The number of innocent people killed by drunk drivers is continually rising. It appears that the state of Maryland, which is among the most lenient of states when dealing with the drunk driver, may be waking up and attempting to address the problem more forcefully. There are presently over 80 bills now being considered by the state legislature which deal with alcohol and driving.

One has to wonder why the drunk driver is given so many breaks in Maryland. It seems obvious that those making the laws have never served on a rescue squad and seen first hand the tragedies which result because some drunken fool climbed behind the wheel of an automobile. The majority of auto accidents are the result of drunk drivers and excessive speed.

Among the most frustrated individuals when it comes to fighting the problem are the law enforcement officers. They continually drag these people into court, some of them four and five-time offenders, and then they watch them stagger back out of court with little or no punishment. The police are beginning to say why bother. It is no wonder they are frustrated, for not only does it make their job appear futile, but they too are right there on the depressing, bloody scene of these accidents almost every day. "Frustrated" perhaps is not a strong enough word. "Outraged" might be more appropriate. "Accidents" may also not be a strong enough word. "Murders" might be more suitable.

The laws are not nearly strict enough, but the district courts also seem to be contributing to the problem, including Garrett County District Court. Just yesterday in the local court, a person was convicted of impaired driving and given a $100 fine and ordered to attend drunk driving rehabilitation classes. This was the third time this individual had been convicted of this charge and, in all three cases, he had been responsible for an accident. Why, we ask, was this driver's license not suspended? His blood alcohol content level was .14, just one one-hundredth below being legally intoxicated, which is why he could only be charged with impaired driving.

In our opinion, impaired and intoxicated drivers should automatically have their licenses suspended for a minimum of six months, regardless of the circumstances. Let's hope most of these 80 bills are passed.

Beyond The Limit . . .

by Carol Kapel

Childhood pranks are nothing new and won't disappear until children do. There is, however, a point when pranks become offensive, and property damage becomes a senseless expense, as well as cruel personal loss.

A group of juveniles from another county was recently accused of wanton vandalism involving the summer homes of six Garrett County vacationer families. The fact that those accused were not from Garrett County is irrelevant. Juvenile crime is prevalent here at home, too.

The relevant question is motive. What drives a person to willfully destroy that which belongs to someone else? What twisted pleasure is derived from pouring syrup on floors, walls, and furniture? What warped sense of power comes from smashing a television screen, ripping a chandelier from the ceiling, or using glassware as pellet-gun targets?

Who's to blame? That's a difficult question. Parental ideals? Society permissiveness? Obviously, lack of discipline is a major factor. Hopefully, the price to be paid for that recent trail of destruction will be high enough to deter another walk in our woods.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I, for one of many Garrett County residents, am writing to you in response to a letter by "a county taxpayer" in last week's edition of The Republican about the state or county workers sleeping in the truck.

We should be thankful we live where they work.

Sincerely,
Adeline Ruckert

Dear Editor,

I am not a state or county worker, but I am writing in response to a letter by "a county taxpayer" in last week's edition of The Republican about the state or county workers sleeping in the truck.

Did the "county taxpayer" stop and ask if they were all right? They could have been dead from carbon monoxide, but you probably wouldn't stop if you saw an accident and someone laying on the road bleeding to death.

Did you ever think that these county and state workers put in long hours trying to keep snow roads open so that you could get out and be a busy body as you are? If I was a county or state worker I sure would take my time or wait to the last to keep your road open.

I've seen these men at work and sometimes it isn't easy. You talk about our roads, you should move to Pennsylvania. Our roads are in pretty good shape compared to Pennsylvania roads.

I'll bet if you saw a crime being committed you would turn your head, because you wouldn't want to get involved in it, but gossip out of this world about anything and everything. And I'm not ashamed to sign my name to my letter.

Garrett County Unemployment Rate Jumps 4.3%; State Rate Up 1.2%

Maryland experienced a significant rise in unemployment in January, as the unemployment rate increased by 1.2 percentage points, climbing from 6.2 percent in December to 7.4 percent in January, according to the monthly statistics released by the Maryland Department of Human Resources.

Garrett County's jobless rate jumped a staggering 4.3 percentage points, from 14.0 in December to 18.3 percent in January. Out of a labor force of 11,868 in the county, 9,696 were employed in January.

The state has not exhibited such a sharp rise in unemployment between December and January since 1975. The January 1981 rate is the highest rate since 7.7 percent in February, 1977, the last time the rate surpassed 7 percent.

The number of unemployed in the state in January — 156,896 persons — is the highest ever recorded. In 1980, unemployment averaged 137,000 persons.

As unemployment increased, employment fell by an estimated 34,501 persons, causing a net decrease in the civilian labor force of an estimated 30,076 persons. The largest drop in employment occurred in the trade industry, as holiday buying ended. Seasonal layoffs also occurred in construction, trucking, real estate, hotels/lodging places, amusement/recreation services, and agricultural services. Post-secondary schools noted temporary layoffs during semester break. Weakened business conditions caused layoffs in manufacturing and business services.

Every county in Maryland showed a higher unemployment rate and lower employment levels in January than in December. Claims for unemployment insurance soared, with layoffs scattered throughout the state's industries, rather than being concentrated in a few large firms.

Unemployment also increased in the Baltimore Metropolitan Area, as the rate jumped from 7.1 percent to 8.2 percent. The largest increase in the metropolitan area was in Carroll County, where the rate increased 3 percentage points.

Unemployment in the Maryland suburbs of Washington, D.C., advanced from 3.6 percent to 4.1 percent. The largest increase was a 1.9 percent rise in Charles County.

In Western Maryland, the overall unemployment rate rose from 9.3 percent in December to 12.0 percent in January. Employment with several of the area's major manufacturing firms has steadily decreased.

Southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore registered the state's highest unemployment rates. The largest increase in the state was in Somerset County, which jumped 8.5 percentage points to 27.6 percent in January. Employment in Somerset County is concentrated in the strongly seasonal industries of agriculture and seafood.

Somerset County's unemployment rate was the state's highest, followed by 21.9 percent in Worcester County. Montgomery County's rate was the lowest, at 3.3 percent.

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to sincerely thank the Oakland Police Department and Officer Ron Beghley for his expedient assistance in the apprehension of a shoplifter in my store.

It is very sad that some people do not seem to realize, or even care, that the theft of one small item is the business persons profit on many other items. As if this were not enough, shoplifting is a very serious crime.

Again, thanks to the Oakland City Police Department for their great work.

Sincerely,
Cindy Sharpless

Dear Editor,

Maybe it's about time that the county employees who are doing their jobs stop being hassled every time they turn around.

It is amazing how county residents forget about the workers who pull them out of ditches during a snow storm, when they probably should not have been out on the roads to begin with; or the worker who is patching potholes and a car comes along at 50 mph and splashes him or leaves him spitting dirt when "Men Working" signs were posted; or the worker who is working over 550° hot mix and is nearly run down because someone disobeyed signs and flags.

County workers should not be treated like second class citizens. We pay taxes too.

All we ask is that we be given a little respect instead of always being criticized.

County Roads Employee
Charles Harvey

Dear Editor,

Just thought I would take time out to express my personal feelings about the past two week's letters to the editor.

It sure is a shame we have such a large group of bird-watchers in Garrett County. It is no wonder Garrett County has the highest unemployment rate in the State of Maryland. Most are too busy watching the County roads workers and reporting in to the Personnel Director. To my knowledge, the Personnel Director has no business what-so-ever giving a direct order to a employee of the Roads Dept.

Why is the Personnel Director out convicting the employees of a sleeping crime when we have an engineer who gets paid to do the job?

You never hear anything bad about the State Roads Dept. Because they do not listen to the public like the County Roads Dept. does.

The public appreciates the hard work and long hours of the county workers in the winter time. But in the summer, they are just someone riding up the road in a yellow truck, wasting the taxpayers money. Stop and think. How would you get out of your county road in the winter time without the work of the roads dept?

Maybe someday, the residents of Garrett County will open their eyes, quit cutting us down, and appreciate the Garrett County roads workers.

Yours truly,
A County Road Worker

Dear Editor,

I am getting a little disgusted every week reading the paper and seeing negative letters to the editor concerning our county road workers.

Come on Garrett Countyans—our county workers do us a pretty good job. Go to any other county in Maryland or West Virginia and then you will appreciate our road workers. They put in long hard hours. With the recent snow, I wonder how many people will be complaining after being plowed out of their county road?

We tend to forget the good things people do, most of our workers are average men making a living for their families.

Let the tax payer of last week go out and cut brush in cold, icy weather all day and get paid what our workers do. Then see how he can raise a family and pay our high taxes. The road workers have nothing to do with our high tax rate. Complain to the County Commissioners.

I am sure our road workers get discouraged after reading the paper each week. I'd like to read about some good things that have happened, like one worker plowing a road so a lady could get to the hospital to have her baby.

Let's hear from some readers!

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Tasker
Garrett County Taxpayer
P.S.

What is Mr. Paul Shockey's official job? With our county in bad financial need, why hire him? No offence to Mr. Shockey personally, I don't know the man.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Tasker:

Paul Shockey is the county personnel director hired last year by the commissioners to handle personnel matters and any special duties assigned by them. The commissioners stated that one of the main reasons they created this position was that, in the long run, a personnel director would save the county money by streamlining government and by discovering ways to make it more efficient. The commissioners also said their responsibilities have increased to the point that they needed staff to help them run county affairs. Some of Shockey's special assignments have been working with the county dog warden on the dog problem and acting as liaison for the commissioners in contract negotiations with the roads workers' union, the Association of Federal, State, County and Municipal Employees.

Deer Park Spring Water Once Again The Real Thing

by Beverly J. Sincell

Some plastic water bottles bearing the name Deer Park Spring Water actually contain Deer Park spring water once again, but that doesn't mean it is being bottled there.

Deer Park residents who have observed trucks loading up with water at Bolling Springs may be wondering whether the Deer Park Spring Water Bottling Company is reopening.

Not at the present time, says Marie-Claude Stockl, spokesperson for Nestle Inc., which owns the water rights and the former bottling plant site.

The company is using water from the springs to be bottled and sold to its New York and New Jersey markets, where demand for bottled water has soared in the past year. In New York alone, 1981 sales of Deer Park Spring Water during the first week of February increased 200 percent over the same period last year, stated Ms. Stockl.

Stockl said the company did not know the reason for the increased demand, but because of it, more water was needed. The company is looking to the Washington, D.C. area to expand its market which would also require more water.

Stockl noted that although a reopening of the Deer Park Water Bottling Company has not been ruled out by Nestle, there are presently no definite plans to reopen it.

Although the company closed the plant in 1976, it continued using the brand name, Deer Park Spring Water, but a different water source.

Second Impression

A Day's (?) Work

by Harry Fox

There was a show at 6:30 a.m., on one of the Baltimore TV stations about twenty years ago called "The Early Riser." Time is merciful, and hopefully no one remembers much about its content. At that early hour, its audience must have consisted primarily of men getting up for work, their wives who were already at work, and a few crazy kids like me. (I was really interested in Captain Kangaroo, which came on afterwards.) In those halcyon days, when Charles Kuralt was just a gleam in some producer's eye, no one had really discovered the early morning market.

No more. Now I can run the whole gamut of physical, intellectual, social, and emotional self-improvement before I leave for the office. For the spiritually impoverished, there's a whole grab-bag of morning ministries available. If one seeks education, try "Sunrise Semester" and earn college credit to boot! Several robust individuals will help you stretch those muscles, tone up, and take off the flab while disco music invades the living room.

We owe it all to video tape. No one in his right mind would get up and teach a course on Egyptian architecture at 6 o'clock in the morning. Did you ever wonder if the lecturers on "Sunrise Semester" own only one set of clothes? Of course not. They come to the studio and tape a month's worth of lectures at one time. Before I caught on, I was puzzled by one instructor whose cold lasted for two months. But, video tape isn't foolproof. One broadcaster ran the wrong taped TV mass, and had Easter for two Sundays in a row.

More of us are getting into early morning routines these days. In some metropolitan areas 24-hour supermarkets, drugstores, and service stations abound. One newspaper in southern Maryland actually delivers early editions to these all-night businesses at three in the morning, and has recorded a noticeable increase in sales. More businesses are promoting flex-time, where employees choose their own hours.

The graveyard shift isn't what it used to be. Don't look now, but you may find your spouse next to you when you wake up in the morning. For those of you who covet a long night's sleep and a lazy breakfast, I have one word of comfort. I have an old hymnal at home with a litany for those who work at night, but it's in the same petition with a prayer for insane persons. Perhaps we should take warning.

Dedication Date For Bloomington Dam Scheduled

Sunday, September 20, has been established as a tentative date for the dedication of the massive Bloomington Dam project, which is located in Garrett and Mineral counties.

The committee set up to arrange for the dedication arrived at the date at a meeting Monday and a second meeting has been planned to discuss the details of the event. The committee hopes to have President Reagan in attendance at the ceremonies.

The dedication committee includes representatives from Garrett and Allegany counties in Maryland and from Mineral County in West Virginia.

The members from Garrett County are County Commissioner Chairman Ernest Gregg, Jr.; Mark Durst of the Mountain Top Chamber of Commerce; Col. J. Haig Jackson (Ret.), president of the county's Development Corporation; and Tom Jones, county development director.

Allegany County members are County Commissioner William M. Kenny; Robert C. Petersen of the Greater Cumberland Chamber of Commerce; Harris LeFev of Westvaco Corp.; and Mrs. Josephine Beynon, county tourism director.

Mineral County representatives include Harold Ridder and Walter Terdick of the Keyser News Tribune; Nelson Hagerty and Thomas Williams of the National Bank of Keyser; and Edward Jordan of the Masteller Coal Company.

The committee's next meeting will be held in early April. At the time of the dedication, the gates of the dam will be in operation, but according to a spokesman for the Corps of Army Engineers, there will be no water impounded at that time.

Dr. Jarrod Zellman will speak on new methods of testing blood sugar levels at the next meeting of the Garrett County Diabetes Association, Monday, March 16 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland. Anyone interested in learning more about diabetes is invited to attend.

An Advanced First Aid in Emergency Care I class will be held in the Accident-Grantsville area beginning April 7. Interested persons should contact Janet Wilburn at 895-5656 or Loretta Rush at 826-8145.

The Garrett Choral Society Spring Rehearsal will begin Sunday, March 15 at 6:30-9 p.m. in the Southern Middle School cafeteria. Director Nancy Learey invites members and newcomers to attend.

The Junior Woman's Civic Club of Oakland will sponsor the production of three short plays by Rudyard Kipling on Saturday, March 21, at 1 p.m. at Dennett Road School. The productions will be presented by the Frostburg State College drama department.

The Maryland Court of Special Appeals has confirmed the March 4, 1980 conviction of Thomas Wayne Griggs, 22, of Akron, Ohio, for the charges of first degree rape, assault and battery, and unnatural and perverted sexual practice of a 69-year-old Grantsville woman.

A Garrett County Petit Jury delivered the guilty verdict March 4, 1980 in the Garrett County Circuit Court after a two-day trial and two hours of deliberation.

The defendant had entered a plea of not guilty for reason of insanity.

Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer, May 20, 1980, sentenced Griggs to life for the first degree rape charge, and to 20 years for the assault and battery charge to be served concurrently with a five-year sentence for the unnatural and perverted sexual practice charge.

The dam will control a drainage area of 283 square miles, approximately 20 percent of the North Branch Basin.

The dam will store 94,700 acre feet of water which will be used for water supply for downstream cities such as Washington dependent on the Potomac for its source of municipal water, will be used for increasing the flow of the river during dry periods and also will be for recreation.

A recreation area is being constructed on the Mineral County side which will include a marina, parking area and picnic facilities.

The dam, itself, will be 296 feet high when completed. Only a small amount of fill is needed before it will be finished this construction season. The width of the dam at the top will be 25 feet and at the base, 1,640 feet.

Its construction will take 9,875,000 cubic yards of earth and rock.

The reservoir when filled will cover 952 acres and during flood times will cover 1,184 acres.

To Appear Before Judge F.A. Thayer

A McHenry man, Alvin Paul Shreve, 50, is scheduled to appear today before Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer on charges of assault with intent to murder, assault with intent to maim, and assault and battery, stemming from a stabbing incident involving his wife, Cora A. Shreve, 36.

According to the report, a domestic argument between the couple occurred in the bedroom of the Shreve home last October. Shreve allegedly drew a pocket knife and held it to his wife's throat while threatening to take her life. The victim was allegedly stabbed four times in the upper arm, after which she and the couple's children ran from the home, hiding in a wooded area until they saw Shreve leaving in the family vehicle.

Court Upholds Griggs' Conviction

After the sentencing. Prior to the March trial, Griggs had received two hearings. One on February 19 was to hear a motion to dismiss the case which was denied.

The second on February 29, was to hear a motion to suppress evidence. In that hearing, the Judge ruled that items acquired as a result of Griggs' arrest in Pennsylvania would not be allowed as evidence. The judge also ruled that a statement made by the defendant would be inadmissible as evidence.

Griggs had been apprehended by Pennsylvania State Police July 26, 1979 near Somerset, Pa., 13 hours after the rape of the 69-year-old Grantsville woman occurred.

Prosecuting attorney in the case was Daun Weiers, assistant state's attorney, and defense attorneys were D. Robert Enten and David N. Shaffer, both of Oakland.

GIRL SCOUTS THROUGH THE YEARS — Loch Lynn Junior Girl Scout Troop 5537 erected an historical exhibit in a window at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland, in recognition of Girl Scout Week, March 8 through 13. This is one of several displays by Girl Scouts in the Oakland area. Other troops participating are Junior Troop 5522, Brownie Troop 5116, Cadette Troop 5020, and Junior Troop 5553.

The book was praised by the National Genealogical Society Quarterly as a "well designed book — which should be obtained by every library concerned with Maryland Colonial families."

Sister Geiger has participated in television and radio programs dealing with philosophy and religion and has served on advisory boards of several committees, including the Maryland Churches United Ecumenical Committee. She has also served as Archbishop of Maryland's Bicentennial Program.

The next meeting will be April 1 with devotional leader to be Mrs. Ardis Teets.

"Fighting Inflation" was the study for the day and it was led by Linda Lewis. She used a quiz, a variety of hand-out information sheets, and a small group worksheet to present the lesson with each member adding an inflation-fighting idea as the results of the worksheets were presented. This covered all areas of the house and garage and included many ideas on how to save energy, clothing and housing costs, and how to get more nutrition for the dollar spent.

Co-hostesses Avenell Parsons and Mary Rembold displayed special features, a turnip growing in water and hand-made note cards, and served St. Patrick Day refreshments. The Aurora Sixth Grade plans an auction at Fike's Store in Egdon on March 21 beginning at 10:00 a.m. This activity is needed to supplement their current light bulb sales in order to make the annual trip to Charleston. Donations of any items for the auction may be left at the store or, if persons need them picked up, they may contact either the class sponsor, Mike Fike, at 735-3235 in the evening, or parent Retha Griffith at 735-3512.

The Aurora Eighth Grade is also involved in a fund-raising campaign, hoping to finance a trip to Washington, D. C. They are now selling tickets for a black-and-white TV to be given away and will later have a car wash and dance for this purpose.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Roth will observe their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house at the Aurora Fire Hall this Sunday, March 15, beginning at 2 p.m. All friends and relatives are invited.

Summer Cottages In Green Glade Area Burglarized

The caretaker of several summer homes in the Green Glade Club area of Deep Creek Lake last week reported five breakings and entries to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department. All of the summer dwellings were forcibly entered sometime between Thursday and Sunday of last week. Two sets of tracks in the snow led from one cottage to another.

The dwellings entered are owned by Richard Bruce Dellinger, Sr., Bloomington; Glenn H. Boyd, Westernport; William McIntyre, Westernport; Charles E. Howell, Cumberland, and Katherine Fredlock, Piedmont, W. Va.

Taken from the Dellinger cottage were three fishing poles, fishing tackle and an AM/FM portable radio, amounting to a total loss value of approximately $100. Five fishing rods and reels, all valued at approximately $165, and fishing tackle valued at approximately $30 were noticed missing from the Howell cottage, in addition to an unknown amount of tools.

The burglars had built a fire in the fireplaces of the Howell cottage and the Fredlock cottage. At press time it had not been determined what was missing from the Boyd, McIntyre and Fredlock cottages.

The Sheriff's Department received complaints of three breakings and entries at Deep Creek Lake during the month of January, one of which occurred in the Green Glade area, and two during February, with one in the Green Glade area. The incidents are still under investigation.

WINTERFEST VIII, held this past weekend at the Wisp Ski Area, was termed a success by the sponsors of the event, the Deep Creek Lake Lions Club, the Miller Brewing Company, the Village Inn, and the Wisp, as big crowds turned out for all three days of activities. Among the events were woodmen contests, as displayed by this male-female crosscut sawing team above; giant slalom ski racing, as pictured above right; the snowmobile hill climb up The Face, pictured below left; and a concert by country western star, Bobby Bare, pictured below right.

Rams' Dreams For State Title Dashed By Bulldogs

The hopes for a Class C state title were short lived for the Southern High Rams, as they were defeated in the second round of the Region I tournament by the Bruce Bulldogs Friday evening, 46-40, on the Allegheny High floor.

The Rams simply could not find the hoop, especially in the first half, when they hit a total of only three buckets. Although they found the mark in the second half and ended up outshooting the Bulldogs from the floor, 14-13, Bruce capitalized on 20 of 29 free throw attempts while Southern hit 12 of 18.

Gary Heginbotham got the Rams off to a good start by scoring the first four points of the contest on two free throws and a bucket. Bruce's Dave Morris broke the ice for his team by hitting a fielder and Heginbotham responded with another free toss, giving the Rams their biggest lead of the game, 5-2, with 4:45 remaining in the quarter.

Bruce scored the next six points however, and took the lead which they would never relinquish. The first quarter ended at 19-9.

The second quarter of scoring was composed primarily of foul shots, as the Rams closed the gap to 21-18 at intermission.

Jeff Ryscavage, who was held without a basket in the first half, closed the gap to one, 21-20, with a bucket in the opening moments of the third stanza. Another spurt by the Bulldogs put Bruce on top 29-24 with just under four minutes left in that period. A Heginbotham basket ended the third chapter scoring at 29-26.

For the first five minutes of the final stanza, the Rams were to once again go cold and scoreless as the Bulldogs built up a 36-26 lead on the hot shooting of Morris, who finished with 24 points. Ram Coach Tom Bosley put Todd Lewis into the game, who began to hit from the outside and bring a ray of hope to the Rams' chances.

With just over two minutes to play, Bruce was up 42-30 and the win seemed to be in the bag. But Southern's Dave Harsh, Ron Bosley and Lewis connected for three quick baskets and the score was suddenly 44-40 with 36 seconds remaining. Morris iced the win for the Bulldogs, however, with two final free throws. Besides their cold shooting, the Rams committed 28 turnovers, while Bruce was guilty of 20.

Ryscavage was the only Ram to reach double figures, finishing with ten points.

Bruce was eliminated from the tournament Saturday evening by Valley in the championship round. Valley will travel to College Park this weekend for the state semifinals in Class C.

Letter from the Owners

Dear Friends:

Susan and I would like to take this opportunity to extend our appreciation for the warm welcome that we received with the opening of our store location back in the Oakland area. As most of you have known, I am a native resident of Garrett County, born in Oakland and raised in the Swallow Falls area.

In the past four years I have worked endless hours developing My "O" Tire Service in the Frostburg area. It is with great pleasure that I can say that we have developed well and are now able to provide a dedicated full service tire store complete with retreading both passenger and heavy truck at our facility in Oakland. We have further plans to establish a full line of auto services such as front end alignment, shocks and brake work and electronic tune up with qualified factory trained mechanics. These things we hope to have available for you by early summer.

During the month of March we are extending an opportunity to all to apply for an interest-free six-month budget account. These accounts, once established, will have the opportunity to purchase tires or any other products as well as services with the ability to charge against their budget account and be billed on equal installments.

Again, we sincerely thank you and invite you in to visit with us.

Sincerely Yours,
Russell & Susan Sines

Maryland News In Brief

Appointed

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The City Council elected Alderman Gustav Akerland, 60, to serve the 90 days left in the term of former Mayor John Apostol, who resigned last week to take a Florida banking job.

The new mayor, a retired Air Force colonel, said Monday he will concentrate on preparing a budget during the three months and did not expect to change any city policy.

Bond Sale Authorized

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The city council has approved a bill authorizing the sale of $2.5 million in industrial revenue bonds to pay for a shopping and office complex in south Baltimore.

Under the proposal, an abandoned car dealership will be converted into stores and office space. The developers plan to begin work this summer and finish the project in about nine months.

Closed-Door Debate

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The chairman of the City Council judiciary committee defended a plan to hold a closed hearing next week to debate rent control and other housing legislation, saying a closed meeting will accomplish more. Committee chairman Frank X. Gallagher announced the meeting Monday. It drew criticism from proponents of a strong rent control bill, who said they are concerned council members will pass a compromise measure and avoid a public council vote on the stricter legislation.

Rent control supporters have been arrested for disrupting public hearings on the bill, and some council members said the closed meeting will give them an opportunity to debate without interruption.

"I don't think the Council should hide behind closed doors, but with this controversial issue, and the way the hearings have gone, I think we do need some time to deliberate without disturbance," said Councilman Norman V.A. Reeves.

Warehouse Fire Was Arson

OWINGS MILLS, Md. (UPI) — A spectacular fire that leveled a seven-story warehouse was the work of an arsonist, Baltimore County fire investigators said Tuesday.

The building was part of an old distillery and had been scheduled to be torn down. The flames from the Monday evening fire could be seen 10 miles away. There were no injuries.

Investigators said they have no suspects yet.

Firefighters did not try to enter the building after the blaze broke out and concentrated on keeping the fire from spreading.

School Not Liable

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The Court of Special Appeals has rejected the claim of a mother who said the Kent County High school system should pay for injuries her son received in a car accident on the way home from school.

The court ruled Monday that the school board was not responsible for injuries Geraldine Collins' son suffered if he decided not to ride a school bus home.

The state's second highest court said schools must provide transportation but do not have to ensure students ride buses. If a student wants to ride home in a friend's car, that's his concern, the court said.

Driver Sentenced

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — An Anne Arundel County Circuit judge sentenced a 37-year-old man convicted of driving the wrong way along a highway and causing two auto deaths to 18 months in prison.

Jerome E. Collins, of Annapolis, was convicted Feb. 4 of two counts of automobile manslaughter and homicide by motor vehicle in a May 11, 1980 crash.

Testimony showed Collins drove the wrong way for 2 1/4 miles along northbound Ritchie Highway, near Severna Park, before crashing into a car carrying Theresa Miller, 31, and her husband, Jeffrey, also 31. Mrs. Miller died the day of the crash while her husband died 11 days later.

Collins, who was found to be legally drunk, was unharmed. In issuing the sentence, Judge Eugene M. Lerner said "people have got to know they cannot drive and drink."

Chemical Plant

DUNDALK, Md. (UPI) — Baltimore County officials, prompted by complaints from Dundalk residents, said they will work to close a chemical processing operation at the Norris Farm landfill.

About 2,000 Dundalk residents packed a health department hearing Monday demanding an end to the operation.

County Executive Donald Hutchinson told the crowd he will seek a court order to shut down the chemical processing, and councilman John O'Rourke said he will physically block the entrance to the facility if necessary.

Landfill officials said closing the processing operation will force industrial customers to find other places to dump waste chemicals.

Appeals Court Rules

Prosecutor 'Regeged' On Plea Bargain

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The state's second highest court ruled Baltimore city prosecutors violated a plea bargain agreement with a man who was acquitted on a second charge after the initial arrangement was made.

In 1979, prosecutors agreed not to prosecute Robert L. Thompson on drug charges if he would become an informant, the appeals court said Monday.

Later, Thompson was charged with a second, unrelated drug offense and acquitted. Prosecutors then reopened the first case, but Supreme Bench Judge Joseph Pines dismissed the charge, saying the original arrangement amounted to a plea bargain and, therefore, the charge could not be reinstated.

Prosecutors told the appeals court that there was no plea agreement because Thompson had not pleaded guilty to anything.

But the Court of Special Appeals said it was "unmistakable that a 'plea bargain' was struck."

"We think that once the state has made a bargain, it is bound to adhere to the agreement so long as the accused performs his part, and we eschew the state's attempt by semantics to renege on its covenant," the appeals court said.

The court also said Baltimore cannot use the doctrine of the immunity of government from burdensome lawsuits to stop efforts by Comptroller Louis Goldstein to collect $6,542.57 in unpaid retail sales taxes owed by city school teacher Shirley B. Allen.

The state tried to garnish Ms. Allen's wages, but the city said the state could not do that under the immunity doctrine.

The four of clubs is considered an unlucky card.

endorsed by the employer. The Board sat as the county roads board for a public hearing on the county's intention to abandon a portion of county road right-of-way known as Red Oak-Guegy Church Road.

Sixteen citizens with property near the road, including two representatives for the Mettiki Coal Company, attended the hearing and raised the question of whether they would have right of access on the road if it were conveyed to a private party.

The commissioners stated they would hold the record open for additional comments from the public before making their final decision in two weeks.

The commissioners endorsed a recommendations by representatives of the Garrett County Department of Social Services and the State's Attorney Office to change the administrative procedure for collection of child support payments.

The change would involve switching the responsibility of collection of the payments from the State's Attorney Office to the Department of Social Services.

The representatives noted the change would allow the State's Attorney Office more time to devote to case preparation. The change is also endorsed by the State.

The switch will become effective July 1, 1981.

Representatives for Social Services were Perry Shaffer and Everett Weimer and for the State's Attorney Office was Eileen Elliott.

The commissioners approved a grant agreement of $7,421 for a public transportation technical study grant to assist in the funding of preparation of the annual review and update of the county transit development plan.

Anna McAllie, senior planner with the county planning office, applied for the grant, with the commissioners endorsement, in October 1980.

either abandon the program or impose a fee.

State funding is also uncertain for the community recreation program and school transportation. Ryscavage said money for the recreation program could be cut totally.

A bill to change the formula used to determine state funding of school transportation is before the General Assembly, Ryscavage stated. He said if the bill is passed, it would not change the estimated allocation this year, but could mean that more county money would have to be used for transportation in the future.

On the federal level, Ryscavage explained that several cuts and changes in money distribution recommended by the Reagan administration could mean a reduction in Vocational and Special Education programs or an increase in county funding for those programs.

Albert Ringer, assistant superintendent of curriculum and instruction, who explained the instructional portion of the budget stated, "If county dollars shrink, services must shrink."

Ryscavage noted one problem the Board of Education may face is compliance with federal education laws without federal aid.

The Board of Education will vote Thursday on whether to adopt his proposed budget, said Ryscavage.

The budget has received support from the Garrett County Teachers' Association.

special guests invited were Pat Fischetti, chairman of the Deep Creek District Committee, Potomac Council, B.S.A., Merritt Feather, Mary and Chester Mosser, Fr. Martin Feild, District Commissioner, and John Smith, advisor to the Ahtuhquog Lodge, Order of the Arrow. In addition to his parents, Vernon had as a special guest his grandmother, Mrs. Leona Leighton, and his aunt, Miss Edith Brock.

The dinner and ceremony was planned by Tom Butcher, Scoutmaster of Troop 31, and by Eugene Flinn, chairman of the troop committee. The invocation and benediction was given by Fr. John Grant, a former member of Troop 31, and Rev. Curtis Seville, pastor of St. Paul's.

Vernon has been a member of Troop 31 for seven years and a member of the Order of the Arrow, a Boy Scout honorary lodge, for two years. He represents Garrett County as a student page to the Maryland General Assembly of 1981. In addition, he is a member of the National Honor Society, the U.M. Youth Fellowship, and St. Paul's U.M. senior choir. He will appear in Who's Who Among American High School

Hughes' Budget Goes To House

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Appropriations Committee Chairman John Hargreaves challenged his House colleagues Tuesday to harken to the "clear and unequivocal demand of the people" to cut state government spending.

"As I see it, now is the time for us to stand up and be counted," said Hargreaves, D-Caroline, as he introduced the amended state budget to the full House.

"Do we believe in curbing the size and the cost of government, or don't we?" he asked. "Do we think we can go on spending more than we earn, or don't we?"

Hargreaves brought to the House floor Gov. Harry Hughes' $5.6 billion budget for the year that begins July 1, and with it more than 400 committee amendments that call for cuts totaling $58 million.

Referring to the "ever-growing popular clamor for a reduction in the size and cost of government — government at all levels," Hargreaves said, "We think it would be unwise and irresponsible to ignore this unmistakable demand by the people."

Actual voting on the budget in the House will not begin until Thursday morning, but Hargreaves cautioned that the state faces the possibility of "drastic" additional cuts in federal aid — aid that in the past has amounted to nearly a quarter of all money spent by state.

"If only half of the Reagan cuts are passed by Congress, Maryland will lose $85 million in 1982 — much more than the cuts in this budget, many, many times more than the ($33 million in state) general fund reductions," he said.

"Too Many Heathens"

Students' Choice Of Schools Studied

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (UPI) — The size of a college or university is often the determining factor for high school students choosing where to further their education, a West Virginia University survey shows.

WVU — mailed out questionnaires to 800 West Virginia high school students who decided to attend college elsewhere. The survey provided a valuable insight for officials at WVU, the state's largest university with over 20,000 students.

"That lesson is that we should begin to emphasize the smallness of the individual schools and departments and start to get away from the emphasis of the university as a large institution," said Dr. John Brisbane, dean of Admissions and Records.

Among the 299 students who responded to the survey, there were "a significant number" who didn't apply to WVU because they were interested in a small college, Brisbane said.

"One student I talked to said she didn't come to WVU because she thought it was too big," he said. "When I learned what her major field of study was, I explained that the school (at WVU) is actually smaller than the enrollment at Parkersburg High School. It was like turning on another light bulb."

Students who responded to the survey gave a variety of reasons for not picking West Virginia University, Brisbane said, including:

— "I am more interested in industrial areas."

— "I wanted to room with my girlfriend at Marshall University."

— "The University of Virginia has a better atmosphere."

"Is the House capable of responding effectively to the clear and unequivocal demand of the people that a control or limit be set upon the amount of money they are asked to provide for the support of their government?" Hargreaves asked.

The gruff-voiced, 67-year-old Eastern Shore delegate has already told the 23 members of his committee he expects them to support the proposed cuts on the House floor, and Majority Leader Donald Robertson, D-Montgomery, said the House leadership will follow suit.

Many of the reductions have been opposed by the Hughes' administration and by the departments, agencies or special interest groups they affect. The cuts far exceed those under consideration in the Senate.

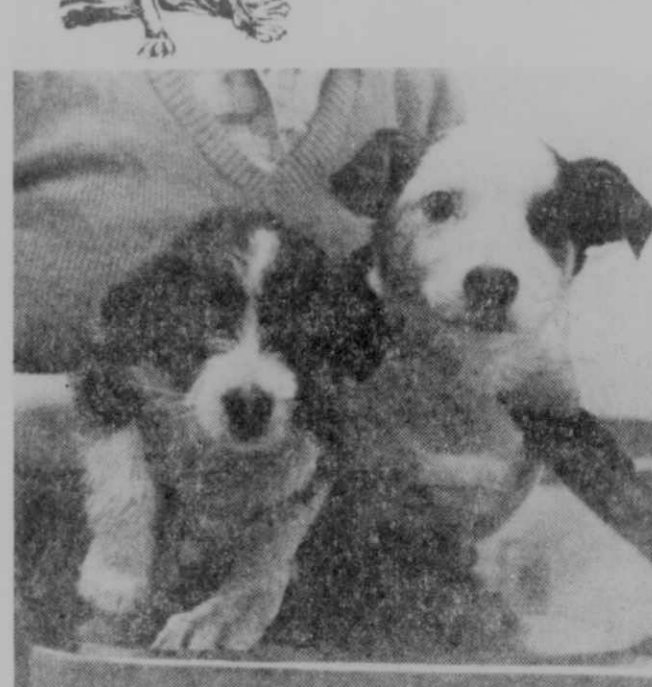

"It is true that we had before us to begin with a spare, tightly-wrapped budget," said Hargreaves. "But there were soft spots, and we found them. What's more, we cut them out."

The chairman said House members should not lose perspective on the budget, noting that the combined reductions amount to less than 1 percent of the total spending plan.

"We are not reducing total government expenditures; we are proposing a modest reduction in the growth of government spending. And, it is high time," he said.

Adorable Adoptables

from the Garrett County Animal Shelter

DOUBLE TROUBLE? — Or possibly double pleasure. These two mixed-breed puppies are available for adoption right now at the Garrett County Animal Shelter, Oakland-Sang Run Road. The male mixed terrier is approximately 10 weeks old, and the female mixed beagle is refusing to reveal her age. Perhaps you could call the shelter at 234-3553 and ask to speak to her. Last week's pup was given a new home by Nancy Plessinger.

Corrections Commissioner Backs Prison Safety Procedures

JESSUP, Md. (UPI) — State Corrections Commissioner Edwin Goodlander Tuesday defended safety measures at the Maryland House of Correction from criticism by a spokesman for the guards' union who said reassurances about security at the facility are a "snow job."

After an escape in August, 1979, in which 30 prisoners got away through a broken window grill in a dormitory, officials promised to tighten security at the medium security prison.

But Ed Davis, president of Local 1678 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said "that grill gate, which was a key ingredient in H Dormitory where the 30 inmates went out the window, it's still broken."

Goodlander said the grill was not a major factor in the breakout, although he said it did allow more inmates to escape.

Some repairs were done after the escape, but there was a major problem with repairing the roof, the commissioner said.

"Since that section of the building is being considered for demolition, we did not do the extensive work that probably would have been necessary to fully repair it," Goodlander said.

Davis criticized the state's reassurances as meaningless. "My gut level response is that this administration has done nothing but give you guys a snow job and you bought it hook, line and sinker, unfortunately," Davis said.

Goodlander disagreed. "Matter of fact, there was an increase of between 62 and 65 officers. All of those positions were filled and all of those officers are working at the House of Correction. I'm quite confident we've reached the necessary staff level and things are under control," he said.

But Davis said only one guard now patrols H Dormitory, where the breakout occurred, and there are more inmates housed there than a year and a half ago.

"We complained about the 106 inmates in that dormitory (in 1979). Right now, today, you got 119 in that dormitory and you still have only one officer back there," Davis said.

Goodlander admitted there are more inmates, but said a plan developed by an expert from the federal Bureau of Prisons has helped beef up the staff elsewhere.

But the added manpower exists only on paper, and staff has not significantly increased, Davis said.

New Union Will Seek Female Clerical Workers

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Organizers of a union for female clerical workers said Tuesday they hope to expand their membership among what they estimated to be 700,000 non-union workers in the metropolitan area.

District 925 of the Service Employees International Union and Working Women was formed two years ago. An affiliate group, Baltimore Working Women, has about 300 members and has worked to increase membership in both that union and others.

One of Baltimore Working Women's first effort at organizing failed last December, when workers at Provident Savings Bank voted not to join the United Food and Commercial Workers Union.

But Mary Ellen Koniston, director of Baltimore Working Women, said a pressing need for unions exists among metropolitan-area women.

"Here in the Baltimore area, we have lower wages than Philadelphia, Boston or New York, and our living expenses are continually increasing while the salaries stay the same," she said.

A WESTERN DESERT SCENE is among several paintings by Renalda Frazee, Friendsville, which are on display at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland this month. A mother of five, Ms. Frazee is currently employed as a bookkeeper/secretary at Yough Motors in Friendsville. She gets most of her ideas for paintings from pictures or combinations of scenes. This painting originated when Ms. Frazee said she wanted to do a landscape scene different from scenes in Garrett County. It can truly be appreciated in person, as it displays a beautiful array of colors.

A WATERFALL IN WEST VIRGINIA was captured in colorful oils by Renalda Frazee, Friendsville, a painter of landscapes, still lifes and people. Her paintings, which are on display at the Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland, during the month of March, are characterized by fine detail, beautifully blended colors and depth. Ms. Frazee said she feels that a "painting is like a part of you." She said she never stops learning or noticing new colors in a sky that people take for granted is "just blue." A native of Garrett County, Ms. Frazee said she often took her children on field trips and taught them also to appreciate nature and detail in the sights around them.

"IT'S SOMETHING TO TAKE A WHITE CANVAS and make it come alive," said Renalda Frazee, painter of this peaceful cottage scene. A cottage such as this is something she has always wanted, she said, and Ms. Frazee seems to be able to make her dreams realities through her art. In addition to painting she is a writer and a poet. After her children were grown she returned to school, graduated in 1977 and became a teacher. Ms. Frazee said her next project is to paint a mural on a wall in her house. The local artist did not take formal art lessons, but started painting for her own enjoyment several years ago. She said she often blends ideas together to come up with an original and often very meaningful painting.

Sarbanes Opposes ARC Termination

Senator Paul S. Sarbanes has joined in opposing the "abrupt termination" of 706 Appalachian Regional Commission programs directly serving four million individuals and urged support for a proposal adopted by the Governors of Appalachian states which would continue the program through fiscal year 1982 at a reduced level. "These programs have been very important to the economic development of Western Maryland's three counties, Washington, Allegany and Garrett, and their abrupt termination would have a serious effect on many counties."

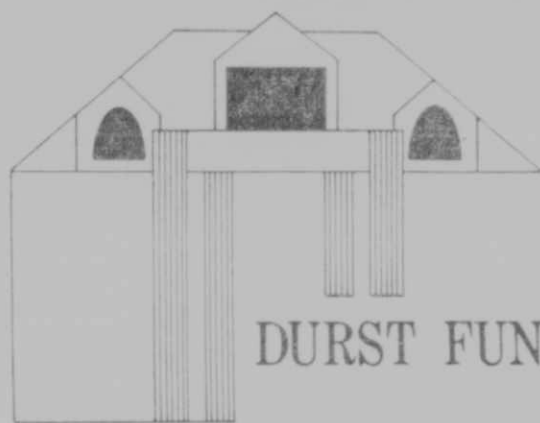

for the activities it now supports," he said. He also urged that "opportunities be found to make use of the inter-governmental experience of the past 15 years" and adapt it to current approaches.

The ARC was created 16 years ago to address "acute social and economic problems" in a 13-state region, including portions of Maryland. It has been proposed that the Congress rescind the non-highway funds for the ARC for the current fiscal year, transfer the highway program to the Department of Transportation, and end all of the Commission's work.

Noting that he and his colleagues in the Senate who support the Governors' proposal are working "to develop spending levels to lower government expenditures while maintaining the integrity of valuable and productive programs," Sarbanes added that he was concerned that a proposal has been made "to terminate a program that is consistent with the objectives of the new Administration not only to stimulate economic activity, but to return much of the decision making process to state and local governments."

noted. "I support a more deliberate review of ARC activities and achievements and how to best address the urgent needs of Appalachian region, including Western Maryland, in the future."

Legal Problems Workshop To Be Held March 18

The Homemakers in Transition Workshops continue this week at Garrett Community College, Oakland Center, sponsored by the Homemaker Career Opportunities Program.

According to Barbara Frey, director of the program, women in transition are often confronted with legal problems associated with separation, divorce, or widowhood, and do not always know how to handle these situations.

A free workshop entitled "Women's Legal Problems" will be conducted on March 18 by Ms. Sandy Boteler of the Legal Aid Bureau from Cumberland, who will address these subjects and other problems which may confront women.

The workshop will be held in room 306 of Garrett Community College, Oakland Center from 10 a. m. till noon on March 18. The public is invited to attend and ask questions regarding legal problems of women. For more information persons may contact Barbara Frey at 334-9184.

I shall not want

Sheep and shepherds are mentioned more than two hundred times in the Bible. Economically, that reflects the importance of sheep raising as a means of livelihood in Bible times. Religiously, it suggests that men saw in the pastoral scene vivid implications of religious experience.

Probably the best known passage in the Old Testament is the Twenty-third Psalm. Among the most beloved parables of Jesus in the New Testament are the Good Shepherd and the Lost Sheep. In these and many other verses of scripture the shepherd and his sheep are seen as symbols of God and man. Particularly they emphasize God's faithfulness to us and our dependence on God.

Sheep raising is not the heart of our economy today. But discovering our spiritual needs and realizing God's readiness to fulfill them — that is the religious quest to which the Bible continues to call men.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

A HIGHER AUTHORITY

March 15, 1981

Background Scripture: Matthew 21:45 through 22:46. Devotional Reading: Psalm 119:159-176.

A former powerful state legislator in the Senate of Pennsylvania used to boast that he never allowed his religion to interfere with his politics. Many of his constituents often wished that he had, for his politics usually seemed quite lacking in religious values.

This old question of "mixing religion and politics" — powerfully affecting the Presidential candidacies of Al Smith and John Kennedy, as well as the more recent contest between Jimmie Carter and Ronald Reagan — has been with civilization for a long, long time.

Caesar's Share. It lay at the heart of the dilemma with which the Pharisees tried to entrap Jesus in Matthew 22: "Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar or not?" There was nothing unique in their asking him this, for it was one of the burning issues which divided many of the Jews in that day.

Some, who most resented Roman rule, held that the payment of the tax was not compatible with Jewish religious law.

At the other end of the spectrum, the Sadducees, believed that they must comply with any law the Romans enforced. In the middle were the Pharisees who believed that a Jew's first loyalty was to God, but that the law was not an infringement of that loyalty.

Apparently, the Pharisees assumed that Jesus would, because of his previous conflict with governmental authority, deny the payment of such a tax. With this subversive answer anticipated, they knew they would trap him into making a statement that would cause him great trouble: "Teacher, we know that you...care for no man; for you do not regard the position of men" (22:16).

What Belongs To God? The answer that Jesus gave the Pharisees was probably rightly understood by them, for Matthew says: "When they heard it, they marveled..." Essentially, his position was the same as theirs, but the question, "But men people since that time have misinterpreted what Jesus said: 'Render therefore to Caesar the things that are God's, and to God the things that are God's.' From this statement which is hardly ambiguous, some interpreters have inferred that Jesus was proclaiming that some areas of life belong to the state and some to God. They have often gone further to indicate that, whereas the body belongs to the state, the spirit belongs to God.

What is wrong with this interpretation is that it fails to recognize that EVERYTHING belongs to God: body, mind, and spirit. There is no corner of life upon which he does not have the prior claim. What about the study of God? Conflicts with our loyalty to secular authority, it must always be God who is acknowledged as the higher authority.

So it is never a question of whether we should "mix politics and religion," but how.

Surface Mining Office Awards Controls Grant

The Interior Department's Office of Surface Mining has awarded Maryland $423,499 to enforce the State's regulations governing the surface effects of coal mining, Secretary James Watt said today.

The money goes to the Maryland Department of Natural Resources Energy Administration headed by Paul Massicot.

"The money helps pay for the increased workload on the Maryland Department of Natural Resources as the result of the State gaining primacy in the regulation and reclamation of the surface effects of coal mining," explained OSM Region I Director Patrick B. Boggs.

Maryland became the first State east of the Mississippi River to gain primacy when its program was approved in December shortly before West Virginia got the green light from the Secretary of Interior, Boggs said.

Stolen Merchandise Trial Is Moved To Garrett County

The trial of a Chewsville bail bondsman will be heard in Garrett County Circuit Court rather than in Washington County due to excessive publicity and notoriety surrounding the case.

Elwood Grimm will face more than 50 charges involving an excess of $18,000 worth of allegedly stolen goods. A search of Grimm's personal farmhouse and junkyard resulted in the discovery of the merchandise.

Grimm's attorney requested the change of venue on March 3. The schedule for the case will be announced at a later date.

Almanac

Today is Wednesday, March 11, the 70th day of 1981 with 295 to follow.

The Moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Pisces.

King Frederick IX of Denmark was born March 11, 1899.

On this date in history:

In 1868, more than 200 people died as a four-day snow storm crippled New York City.

In 1900, William Howard Taft became the first president of the United States to be buried in the National Cemetery in Arlington, Va.

In 1959, the Senate approved Hawaii as the 50th state of the Union.

In 1977, Hamas Khaalid, the leader of the 12 Hanafi terrorists who took 10 hostages in Washington, D.C., two days earlier, was freed without bail on kidnapping charges but the 11 others were arrested and jailed. The hostages were released.

A thought for the day: American author Christopher Morley said, "If you have to keep reminding yourself of a thing, perhaps it isn't so."

Assessment Answers & Tax Talk

by James Burley

This is only the second year of the triennial assessing method, and a question on many homeowners' minds is, How does the 15% Homestead Tax Credit tie in with the three-year assessment cycle and the phase-in provision. Is the credit given only the first year?

To understand how the tax credit applies to the assessment for each of the three years of the cycle, pay special attention to the items in Blocks No. 1 and No. 11, and on Lines No. 12 and No. 13. The focal block — the one on which all the arithmetic takes place — is Block No. 1.

Block No. 1 shows the current assessment for the first taxable year of the cycle. If the amount in Block No. 11 exceeds the amount in Block No. 1 by more than 15%, the homestead tax credit will apply to the tax on the excess.

The amount in Block No. 1 plus 15% is quickly found by multiplying the amount by 1.15. The taxable assessment will be this sum or the amount in Block No. 11, whichever is less.

Likewise, to determine the taxable assessment limit for the second year of the cycle, multiply the amount in Block No. 1, which has been increased by 15%, by 1.15 a second time. The taxable assessment will be this new sum or the figure on Line No. 12, whichever is less.

Similarly, for the third year, multiply the amount in Block No. 1, which has been increased by 15% twice, by 1.15 a third time. This final sum or the figure shown on Line No. 13, whichever is less, will be the taxable assessment for the third year.

Upon the completion of the first cycle next year, when the new system is in full force, reassessment increases should be considerably less than 15% annually.

The homestead tax credit does not truly limit the assessment, but it does partially control the property tax that is based on it. Also, it does not automatically limit the tax itself to no more than 15% increase because the property tax is further dependent upon whether the tax rate stays constant or increases.

The homestead tax credit is restricted to owner-occupied dwellings. An owner is entitled to only one credit on one property, which must be the owner's primary residence. It will automatically apply, assuming the qualifications are met, whenever the successive assessment is more than 15% greater than the previous one, and it applies not just once in the cycle but to each of the three years within the cycle.

In effect, we have increased the assessment in Block No. 1 by 15% yearly, simply to show at what point the tax credit would apply.

HUMIDITY AND COMFORT

During the hot summer months, humidity forces you to take refuge in the drier atmosphere of air conditioning. In the winter, you wonder why the air is so dry that your lips are parched and static electricity pops all over.

Why does the humidity quotient vary from summer to winter? Because relative humidity is a function of both moisture and temperature. The warmer the air, the more moisture it can hold.

If too much humidity is your problem you may be able to deal with it at the source by installing ducted fans that vent vapors outdoors from the kitchen, laundry and bath. In the summer, if you don't have air conditioning, you may want to invest in a mechanical dehumidifier.

The problem of too little moisture may occur during cold snaps. If you need more moisture, you have two main types of automatic humidifiers to choose from. One kind is built into the heating system and spreads moisture through the heating ducts. The other requires no ducts and functions much in the manner of a window air-conditioner.

The Mountaintop Home Builders Association, sponsor of the Mountaintop Home Show and Exhibit, is now in its fourth year. The Association is a chapter of The National Home Builders Association (NAHB), the nation's leading trade association serving the building industry.

The NAHB now has approximately 125,000 members across the country. It supports legislation beneficial to the housing industry on the state and national levels, publishes "BUILDER" magazine, and offers a wide range of technical services to its members. Each year it sponsors the nation's largest housing show which is held in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The leading housing research organization in the U.S., the NAHB Research Foundation, is an NAHB subsidiary. The foundation conducts research on new construction techniques, systems and materials. It developed a new framing system which both saves materials and is more energy-efficient than conventional construction. The NAHB testing label can be found on fiberglass batts and on many types of insulation.

On the local level, the Home Builders Association holds monthly dinner meetings to discuss local problems and hear educational programs related to housing.

The 1981 Home Show is the second to be sponsored by the organization. Its purpose is to exhibit for the general public products and services related to the house and garden.

Membership in the Association is open to area contractors, subcontractors and businesses related to the housing industry—suppliers, banks, realtors, insurance companies, utilities, building trades teachers, etc. Anyone interested in joining the Association should contact Ed Wilburn, president, at 829-8295.

Sarbanes Urges Continued Rail Service In Area

Senator Paul S. Sarbanes has urged AMTRAK to continue operating the Shenandoah and the Blue Ridge passenger trains providing service to communities in Western Maryland.

"Western Maryland has strongly supported rail transportation, as evidenced by a 93.5 percent increase in ridership on the Shenandoah over the past two fiscal years," Sarbanes said in a letter urging AMTRAK president Alan Boyd to continue the service through Cumberland and Oakland. "The termination of this service would have a major impact in Western Maryland, which has a great potential for further expanding the market in that tri-state region."

Senator Sarbanes also expressed concern that funding be made available for the Blue Ridge, "an important interstate passenger train originating in West Virginia and serving the states of Maryland and Virginia as well." He noted that Congress has authorized Federal funding for this service through the end of the current fiscal year. He urged AMTRAK to seek a supplemental appropriation "to fulfill that commitment."

Sarbanes added that the dramatic increase in ridership on the Shenandoah indicates that the market for rail passenger service in Western Maryland could be further developed and urged AMTRAK to "advertise this excellent service more widely."

Correction Noted

In last week's edition of The Republican in an article entitled "Homes For The Handicapped Realized In Garrett County," located on page 29, it was incorrectly reported that a house to be used for apartment living on Pennington Street in Oakland was purchased for this purpose.

It should have read that the home is being rented by Garrett Crossroads, Inc. through the use of state funds.

"But I thought Medicare covered everything?"

If you're covered by Medicare and think it pays all your health care expenses, you could be in for a surprise. In most instances Medicare only provides partial payment. In some cases it provides no payment at all. This is why Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Maryland have developed Preferred Medicare Supplemental. It's a new program that fills in the gaps in your Medicare protection to help pay your health care expenses ranging from doctors' office visits to hospital care. It even helps pay for prescription medicines.

For example, Preferred Medicare Supplemental covers the first

$201 of your hospital bill, an expense not covered by Medicare. Preferred Medicare Supplemental covers the 200 deductible and the 20% of expenses not covered by Medicare for physicians' office visits, diagnostic X-rays, laboratory tests and other services.

What's more, Preferred Medicare Supplemental even pays for your prescription medicines from participating pharmacies, after a deductible of $2 per prescription.

Find out more about Preferred Medicare Supplemental by calling or writing Blue Cross and Blue Shield today.

Correction Noted

The Garrett County Fair Board has announced that it was incorrectly reported in the February 18 edition of The Republican, in an article entitled, "Garrett County Fair Date Set," on the front page, that the Horsemen's Association is planning to erect an arena in the race track area this year.

It should have read that the Saddle Tramp 4-H Club and two local lumber companies are planning to erect the arena, in addition to planning a pilot horsemanship program for the handicapped.

Dennett Road Participates In RIF Program

Students at Dennett Road Elementary School participated in "Reading is Fundamental" (RIF) book distributions on January 9 and March 9. RIF is a national program founded in 1966 by Margaret McNamara, now deceased wife of World Bank President and former U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

The Dennett Road School RIF Program is funded by the federal government and by the Dennett Road School P.T.A. In January, 504 books were given to Dennett Road School students through RIF.

Some classes conducted special activities with their RIF books, including illustrations drawn for each of the books by the students. These drawings were hung in the hallway of the school.

Other classes had their books read to them and students used their dictionary skills to learn new vocabulary from their RIF books. Classes worked on book reports, "book boards" and mobiles.

"The Wizard of Oz" books from the RIF Program will be used to write an opera which will be presented by the Dennett Road School music students in May at Southern High School.

ENERGY TIP: Keep your water heater in good working order by draining a bucket of water from the faucet at its base at least once a month.

HOUSEHOLD RECORDS
Last week, a review of what records should be kept in your safe deposit box was discussed. To continue in this vein of thought, this week the home filing system will be reviewed. The following will serve as a guide.

*Tax records should be kept for up to six years because the IRS has three years to audit Federal income tax returns and six years to collect tax or start legal proceedings if 25 percent of your gross income was not reported. Weekly and monthly salary statements can be discarded after they have been checked against your W-2 Form. Cancelled checks that relate directly to an entry on your tax return and all bills that back-up these checks should be kept for three years. An official copy of your tax return can be obtained from the IRS center for six years after they have been filed.

*All household records should be reviewed at least once a year so items can be discarded that are no longer needed.

*A filing system should be set-up so you know where everything is and make sure someone else also knows and understands your system.

*You should have two files: an active file and a dead-storage file.

*The active file should hold: unpaid bills until paid, paid bill receipts, current bank statements, current cancelled checks, and income tax working papers. These items can all be moved to the dead-storage file after three years.

*Other items that should be kept in your active file are: employment records, credit card information, insurance policies, copies of wills, family health records, appliance manuals and warranties, education information, social security information, and an inventory of what is in your safe deposit box.

*Keep a record book of the whereabouts of your important papers. Besides this information, it should contain a list of all savings and checking accounts, name and branch of bank where safe deposit box is, all family members' social security numbers, insurance policy information and a household inventory.

*Prepare and maintain a net-worth statement where all of your assets and obligations are listed. This will help you see how you are doing financially each year.

I hope the preceding information will be a help to you when you begin to work on your home filing system.

FOOD NOTES

Salmon is a nutritious dish which is high in protein and contains important vitamins and minerals. If the entire contents of a can of salmon is used, maximum nutrition is obtained. Canned salmon can be used in a variety of tasty casseroles. Here is one I think you will enjoy:

SALMON MACARONI AND CHEESE

1½ cups elbow macaroni
1 can (7½ oz.) salmon milk

¾ cup minced onion
5 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash pepper
1½ cups shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
1 tomato, cut into wedges
½ cup bread crumbs

Cook macaroni according to package directions, drain. Drain and flake salmon, reserving liquid. Add milk to salmon liquid to make 2 cups. Saute onion in 4 tablespoons butter or margarine. Blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk and salmon liquid. Cook and stir until thickened. Add Cheddar cheese, stir until melted. Combine sauce with macaroni and salmon. Turn into buttered 2-quart casserole. Arrange tomato wedges around edge of casserole. Toss bread crumbs with 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine, sprinkle over casserole. Bake at 350°F. 40 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Rebecca W. Harvey Featured Speaker At Society Dinner

A former Garrett County resident will be the guest speaker at the American Cancer Society Crusade Kick-off Dinner to be held March 24, at the Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake.

Ms. Rebecca W. Harvey R.N., presently serving as Director of Hospice at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, will be the guest speaker at which time she will explain her position. "Hospice is not a place, but a concept of care, demonstrating the Christian attitude, love thy neighbor." It involves an interdisciplinary team approach of care to the patient and family as total persons. Hospice offers an atmosphere of caring, acceptance, love and genuine concern to persons dealing with the tragedy of a cancer diagnosis with a somewhat defined space of time in which to get their life in order. Emphasis is not on dying, but rather on living one day at a time to the fullest," says Ms. Harvey. "Hospice work is emotionally difficult, but by working with terminally ill patients and their families we begin to get our private lives together, set priorities, and live each day filled to the brim, exploring and attempting to reach our potential," explained Ms. Harvey. "We learn so very much from our patients that we can apply to our own lives in a satisfying, meaningful way" Ms. Harvey continued.

Ms. Harvey worked in Washington, D.C. between 1959 and 1963, at Doctors' Hospital as a Special Supply and Treatment Nurse and at George Washington University Hospital in the Anesthesiology Department.

A mother of three teenagers, Ms. Harvey is a graduate of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Cumberland. She is currently a member of the American Nurses' Association, the Maryland District Nurses' Association, and the National Hospice Association. In addition, she is a member of the Allegany County American Cancer Society Board, the Allegany County Home and Health Advisory Committee, and the Death and Dying Forum, as well as the Sacred Heart Hospital Hospice Advisory Committee.

Presently enrolled in the Mental Health Curriculum at Allegany Community College working toward an AA degree, Ms. Harvey plans to transfer to Frostburg State College to the Psychology-Sociology program there.

During the past three years Ms. Harvey has traveled from London, to San Francisco, California, attending training seminars, workshops, and Hospice Organization meetings, while visiting and learning from other hospices along the way.

The Crusade Kick-off Dinner is open to the public. Cocktail hour will be from 6 p. m. to 7 p. m. Dinner will be served at 7 p. m.

For information on ticket cost and to make reservations, interested persons should contact Clint Englander at 334-9455 or Bill Nemith at 334-8386.

4-H Club News

The 1981 4-H & FFA Broiler Show will be held on Saturday, June 6 at the Southern High School Vo-Ag Center from 9 a.m. until noon.

Sterling Processing and Southern States of Oakland, Accident and Grantsville will furnish the chicks free of charge again this year. Youth participating in the program must pay the freight from the hatchery and the expense of feeding out the peeps to market weight.

Because of the lead time involved in hatching chicks the Garrett County Extension Office must order the peeps by Monday, March 16. Youth may order any multiple of 25 (i.e. 25, 50, 75 or 100 birds), and should call the Extension Office at 334-2145 to place their orders.

An introductory broiler management workshop will be held on Tuesday, March 24, at the Southern High Vo-Ag Center from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Youth and their parents will learn more about how to prepare their broiler houses for the peeps, provide heat for the birds, keep feed and mortality records, growing the birds out for the dressed broiler show. Meetings in other areas of Garrett County will be held on request.

The chicks will be shipped from the Heatwold Hatchery in Harrisonburg, Virginia and should be delivered to the Extension Office sometime between Monday, April 6 and Thursday, April 9. More information on the delivery date will be available during the introductory meeting.

During the course of the eight week grow-out period a dressing demonstration will be held to help the youth understand how to prepare their birds for consumption as meat. A record book workshop will be presented to help the participants understand how to calculate a profit and loss statement for their broiler projects.

Four-H and Southern High FFA youth who participate in the broiler project will be required to exhibit a sample of three dressed birds and to complete a record book for the "Garrett Broiler Show" on Saturday, June 6.

The 1981 Broiler Program is co-sponsored by the Garrett County Extension Service, the Southern Garrett FFA Chapter, Southern States of Oakland, Accident and Grantsville, and Sterling Processors. The Extension Office invites any Garrett County youth who is willing to accept the responsibility of raising the chicks, filling out the record book and exhibiting in the Broiler Show to participate in the project as a special interest 4-H Broiler member.

For further information persons should contact their Vo-Ag instructor or call the Extension Office at 334-2145.

Broad Ford Will Launch Balloons

Students at Broad Ford Elementary School will participate in a balloon launch on Monday, March 23, at 1:30 p.m. At that time they will release 500 helium-filled balloons into the sky, as part of the nationwide Writing Pals Balloon Contest sponsored by Weekly Reader, a classroom newspaper.

A message attached to each balloon will explain the project and ask that the finder return it to Broad Ford School. Weekly Reader will present a $500 prize to the school which gets the message that has traveled the farthest distance. In addition, 100 runner-up prizes will be awarded.

Since the annual balloon launch began, Weekly Reader has furnished more than one million free balloons to schools participating in the Writing Pals program. The goal of the program is to motivate children to write to, and become familiar with, students in other parts of the country, according to a spokesperson at Broad Ford School. The contest provides students the opportunity to write letters, which is a Project Basic competency to be demonstrated by Maryland public school children.

Broad Ford pupils will follow weather reports and attempt to predict where the balloons will land. As response letters are received the children will trace the balloons' travel on maps. Students will answer all letters, and a school prize will be given to the child whose balloon travels farthest.

'Animal Olympics'

The Olympic games are tests of speed and strength for the world's men and women. But how do the skills of men and women compare to the prowess of animals? "Nova" finds out in "Animal Olympics," produced by WGBH Boston for PBS.

The wildlife winners are shown at peak performance. And their performances are remarkable: the cheetah can accelerate from zero to 45 mph in two seconds; the monarch butterfly can cross the Atlantic faster than the Queen Mary can; the wild horse can maintain 20 mph speeds for 20 miles; and the sperm whale descends to depths of over a mile and holds its breath for 82 minutes.

There is a crucial difference, however, between the feats of human Olympic winners and their animal counterparts: gold medalists compete for personal satisfaction and national prestige, but animals perform for survival.

Dressed to kill

One of the biggest challenges faced by the producers of NBC's "The Gangster Chronicles" was to find a way to accurately recreate American fashions from the early 1900s through the Depression years.

Costume designer Julie Weiss strove not to exaggerate or over-romanticize the styles of the periods. She searched for realistic looks that fit the personalities and intents of the people involved.

"Of course we checked a lot of books and pictorials," she says. "But a big advantage has been talking with designers who actually created the fashions of the period. The tailor who used to make shirts for Ben Siegel, for example, still has a thriving business in Hollywood."

Adds Weiss, "If there's one thing I always look for in a garment it's character. There's nothing like a piece of clothing that has a real feeling of humanity about it."

David Frost

David Frost to host

"This is Your Life," the popular Emmy-winning program on NBC from 1951-61, returns to NBC as a two-hour special tentatively titled, "This is Your Life: The 30th Anniversary."

David Frost and Ralph Edwards, the original host and creator, will co-host the special as well as produce it. The format of the show, which is in pre-production, will closely follow that of the original, people who figure prominently in the subject's life will be on hand to surprise him or her.

David Frost won two Emmy awards for his nationally syndicated "The David Frost Show" and has interviewed such historic subjects as Henry Kissinger, Prince Charles, Golda Meir, Idi Amin, Robert Kennedy and the Beatles.

Few watch in Argentina

Television in Argentina seems to be in a slump.

Even though 1980 saw the debut of color TV there, the percentage of people watching television in that year was the lowest ever — and was, for the first time, below 25 percent.

Over 10 years ago, more than 30 percent of people in Argentina watched television. In 1980 only 24.4 percent did. Analysts attribute the decline to dissatisfaction with unimpressive programming.

Kenny Rogers

deserved break, Rogers said, "Sure it's hard, sweaty work, but it's paying off. I can see it coming together, bit by bit."

Later, stunt coordinator Cass remarked, "I'm very impressed with Kenny. He's not one of those autograph-and-sunglasses types. He wades right in there and works at it. He's got real presence — I guess it's from all those years on stage. As far as movies are concerned, he took to it like a duck to water. He was spouting movie jargon by the end of the second day."

Kenny Rogers as the Gambler was the highest rated motion picture-for-television of the 1979-1980 season, and (excluding televised sports events and one feature film) the season's second highest rated broadcast. Other stars in the film are Christine Belford, Bruce Boxleitner, Harold Gould, Lance LeGault, Lee Purcell and Ronnie Scribner.

The western adventure is set in the Southwest during the 1800s. As a narrative springboard, the script uses the lyrics from Kenny Rogers' hit song of the same title. (In October 1979, "The Gambler" won the Song of the Year Award at the 13th annual Country Music Association Awards, and Rogers' album, "The Gambler" was named Album of the Year. Last year, during the 22nd annual Grammy Awards, Rogers' rendition of "The Gambler" won him the coveted award for Best Country Vocal Performance, Male.)

The story concerns Brady Hawkes (Rogers), a cool, steady-eyed professional gambler who plays by the rules and knows the power of a good bluff. Brady sets out by train from El Paso to Yuma, responding to a plea from a son (Scribner) he never knew he had. It is a dangerous move, because he knows that his son's cruel stepfather, Rufe Bennett (Gulager), harbors a hatred of him and will try to ambush him.

Along the way, Brady falls in with Billy Montana, an impetuous young gambler (Boxleitner), and Jennie Reed, a society lady with a shady past (Purcell). In separate encounters with the arrogant railroad owner (Gould) in his private car and with a gang of cutthroats in a wayside town, Brady defends Jennie and Billy before having to face his own private showdown with Bennett.

Singer-composer Kenny Rogers is one of the most popular entertainers in the world. His previous album, "Kenny," which topped the country charts at number one for seven months, has sold more than 3 million copies.

IN FOCUS

Singer Kenny Rogers is star of 'Gambler'

Kenny Rogers has sold well over $150 million worth of records. He's won upwards of 30 major awards. Now he can be seen barroom brawling.

Yes, but it's all for the sake of drama. Rogers stars in "Kenny Rogers as the Gambler," a motion picture-for-television that will be rebroadcast on "The CBS Wednesday Night Movie," March 18.

During the on-location filming in the famous movie town of Old Tucson, Ariz., the better part of a day and night was devoted to shooting a knock-down-drag-out fight in a bar between Rogers and the bad guy, costar Clu Gulager.

No stunt doubles were used in the fight sequences. After director Dick Lowry blocked the action — commenting to Rogers, "When you draw back for that first roundhouse punch, I want a maniacal look in your eye" — stunt coordinator Dave Cass took over, coaching Rogers and Gulager on the verisimilitude of movie brawls. Grabbing Gulager by the shirt, he instructed Rogers, "At this point you just release Clu and he throws himself back against the bar."

Over and over the actors went through the sequences as Lowry filmed from every angle (cameraman to Rogers: "Now when you hit Clu in the gut, Kenny, cheat a little to your left, OK?"). Finally, during a well-

Can stars marry — and still work together?

By Ruth Thompson

Living in the spotlight may have its rewards for many individuals, but it takes its toll. What happens when both partners are sharing the same limelight?

Beverly Sills once said she thought a strong factor in her happy marriage to business executive Peter Greenough was that they worked in different fields. The last thing he wanted to be was her manager; he left the opera and concert world to her. Indeed, he was mighty brief about it when his bubbly, red-headed spouse, on stage at Carnegie Hall, asked, "Though it's not his custom, will my handsome husband take a bow?" The occasion was the taping of the PBS 1981 Gala of Stars which she emceed. (Produced by New York's WNET 13 as a smashing finale to fund-raising week by PBS stations, it airs March 22.)

Ann-Margret's case is the opposite. She's said that if husband Roger Smith had not taken over the management of her career in its earlier stages, she wouldn't have found the measures of security and happiness that led to her success. He gave up his own promising acting career but says it was no sacrifice, because he didn't enjoy it that much.

He is reportedly ill now. Friends say Ann-Margret needs to lean less these days — and now she has a chance to prove to Roger that she is strong enough to be of some help to him.

One of the most successful mom-and-pop pairings in show business is that of Carol Burnett and Joe Hamilton, the producer who has always known best how to free her great talents and surround her with top supporting players. Another compatible couple, Joyce Becker and Allen Sugarman, have seen their dream of bringing Soap Opera Festivals to fans around the country burgeon from 11 events in 1977 to 97 last year. Even more are projected for this year, including six appearances at the Six Flags theme parks.

The original plan was for Allen to produce and Joyce — editor and columnist of daytime television magazines and a true soap opera maven — to do all the emceeing. But now and then two events get scheduled for the same date and handsome Allen steps into the spotlight. "I would rather have Joyce do them all, of course," he says. "But sometimes it's just not possible."

The Sugarman have two young children and, as often as they can, travel as a family.

And, lest we forget, in this television era, sports superstars enjoy — or endure, as the case may be — celebrity status, too. Those tennis-playing Lloyds are one example ... but they seem to be taking it well. Since their marriage two years ago, John Lloyd's luck on the courts took a downward, though by no means terminal, course. Chris Evert Lloyd, on the other hand, seems to have the angels, as well as her special tricks and great technique, going for her. As of this writing, she is the number one woman tennis player in the world and getting ready for that $200,000 Clairol Crown competition the first weekend in April.

There's a happy-marriage note, too. Chris is still rooting for her husband to get his luck going again for tennis. There's no competitiveness between them. John plans to go along with Chris to the "Crown," which takes place at the La Costa Spa (where in quieter weeks other folks spend a bundle for a supervised health regime). During Chris' one-year layoff, she tried television commentary. It's even tougher than what she does with a racquet, she says, and when she finally gives up her spotlight, she wants to be a wife and maybe mother? — at least for a few years.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

SONG FOR NOEL — Some years ago Arthur Godfrey sang a Christmas song which wasn't familiar to me. I would like to know where to reach him to find out what it was. Where can I write him? — E.M.W. Ewart, Mich.

Glad you didn't ask me what the song was, because there weren't a lot of clues there. Hope Godfrey remembers. Write him in care of his agent, William Morris, 1330 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10019. By the time the letter reaches him, and you get an answer, it may be Christmas again.

His name is Wayne Massey and you can write him in care of the show, which originates from New York, at ABC, 1330 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10019.

SEARCH — I saw an afternoon special on NBC not too long ago about an adopted girl who wanted to find her real parents. What was the name of the actress who played that role and was she on the "James at 15" series? — M.B. Perryopolis, Pa.

Good catch, Susan Myers, who played the lead, was indeed a regular on "James at 15," which became "James at 16" but never got the chance to become "James at 17." It was too bad, too. The show you saw was an NBC special GAME SHOW QUIZ — Richard Dawson is my favorite game show host. I know that he was on "Hogan's Heroes" many years ago, but what else has he done on TV? — Anne Rothenstein, New York, NY.

In addition to playing Peter Newkirk on the long-running "Hogan's Heroes," Richard Dawson was a panelist on the old "I've Got a Secret" game show in 1976. Before that, in 1973 he was a regular on "Rowan & Martin's Laugh-In."

A new Max Dekker comes to 'Texas'

By Nancy M. Reichardt

NEW YORK — There have been even more changes around the New York soap sets lately, and one of the latest was the departure of Chandler Harben from his role of Max Dekker on "Texas." Unhappy with the way Max was progressing, the powers that be decided a change was due, so Jay Hammer was brought in from California for the role. Although Hammer has appeared in many nighttime shows, this is his first soap role.

KYW-TV in Philadelphia had dropped "The Doctors" from its programming, but due to popular request, the show is now back. In fact, the studio even did a special interview with several members of "TD" cast just prior to the return of the show.

If statistics are right, and more men than women read Playboy magazine, then there must be a lot of men watching soap operas. Otherwise, why would Playboy (which has somewhere around eight million readers) be conducting interviews with the stars of soap operas? According to the trade papers, Playboy is in the process of doing a series on top box-office stars, TV series stars, etc., and soaps are included.

Julie Montgomery has decided to vacate her Samantha Vernon role for the second time. Replacing Julie this time will be Dorien Lopinto (Missy Dancy on "The Doctors"). Other soap additions include Benjamin Hendrickson as Chris Shaw on "Texas," Vana Tribbey as Alice Frame and Jennifer Runyon as Sally Frame on "Another World."

and Rick Springfield as Noah Drake on "General Hospital."

Disco singer and Broadway musical star Stephanie Mills was delighted when she received permission to visit her favorite soap actor on the set of "Ryan's Hope" a few weeks back. Stephanie spent the afternoon with Michael Corbett (Michael Pavei) and, like any other soap fan, asked her favorite actor to pose with her for a picture.

Michael Corbett plays Michael Pavei on "Ryan's Hope."

Michael Corbett plays Michael Pavei on "Ryan's Hope."

"Guiding Light" played host to some of its fans a few weeks ago too. Members of the San Antonio Spurs pro basketball team were granted their request to visit the set prior to their game at Madison Square Garden against the NY Knicks. A spokesman for the Spurs even revealed that the team's travel schedule is often rearranged so they can catch up on "GL."

Garrett Club Will Sponsor Holstein Tour

The Garrett Holstein Club will sponsor a car-caravan on Friday, March 27 to visit the farm of Bob Taylor and LeRoy Bittner, near Fredens, Pa., and the Leon Knepper operation near Somerset, Pa., according to tour director, Oren Bender.

The car tour will meet at the Extension Office at 8:30 a. m., Northern High School at 9 a. m. and the Grantsville Elementary School also at 9 a. m. The group will reach the Taylor-Bittner operation at 10 a. m., eat lunch in Somerset, then visit with the Kneppers after 1 p. m. Most dairymen should be home by 4:30 p. m.

The Bob Taylor-LeRoy Bittner partnership has a DHI rolling herd average of 19,133 lbs. of milk, testing 3.8 percent which produced 728 lbs. of milk fat from their 60 cows. Their latest BAA is 105.7 points with two Excellent cows. The Lyn-Li prefix has bred and developed two Gold Medal Dams. The show herd earned the Premier Breeder award at the 1980 Somerset District Holstein Show. Three cows have sons in AI studs, two have milked over 30,000 lbs. of milk, and one had produced several embryo transfer calves.

Leon Knepper and daughters merchandise milk and registered Holstein cattle under the Ed-Lon prefix. Their current DHI rolling herd average for 100 cows is over 30,000 lbs. of milk, testing 3.9 percent and yielding 750 lbs. of milk fat. Their 1980 Holstein classification resulted in a BAA of 103.5 points with three Excellent cows. The Ed-Lon farm recently produced its first Gold Medal Dam.

For more information on the 1981 Garrett Holstein Car Tour (or ride) persons should contact Tour Chairman Oren Bender, or speak with Robert Miller, Carl Bender, Wayne Collier, Gordon Bender, or call the Extension Office at 334-2145.

Grain Storage Space Increased

Maryland producers added 538,179 bushels of grain storage space on their farms through the 1980 Farm Facility Loan Program, according to Stuart C. Peterson, Acting Chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Program funds disbursed during calendar year 1980 amounted to $341,606.00. This compares with $216,384.00 disbursed in 1979 for a storage capacity of 138,862 bushels. The program authorizes ASCS to loan eligible producers up to $100,000 at 12.5 percent interest to help them buy, build, or remodel on-farm storage facilities and to obtain needed drying and handling equipment. A minimum down payment of 15 percent of the cost is required in cash by the farmer before the loan is disbursed.

To be eligible for a farm facility loan, a farmer must grow one or more crops of barley, corn, grain sorghum, oats, rye, soybeans, sunflower seed, wheat, and high-moisture forage.

Eligible storage structures include conventional bins, flat, multi-purpose structures, and silo-type facilities. The drying equipment includes continuous flow dryers, batch or in-storage drying systems as well as systems that dry by aerating or circulating the crop.

Farm Storage Facilities help the Nation's economy and help to stabilize food and feed supplies by making possible a more effective marketing of farm crops.

Producers who have suitable storage can exercise greater independence in their marketing operations and aid in strengthening market prices. They can also take full advantage of commodity loan programs and realize higher total income from their farm operations in years of excess production," Peterson explained. The ASCS official said farm facility loans are secured and borrowers are required to provide adequate security to protect the Commodity Credit Corporation's interest.

Nationally, ASCS disbursed over $310 million in farm facility loans during 1980. The funds represented over 236 million bushels of storage space.

Community Open House Draws Many To Group Home

An estimated 200 people came to the open house of the Garrett Crossroads group home, the first of its kind in Garrett County, on Sunday to show their support of the project and to tour the home.

The group home, located on Broad Ford Road, will house eight mentally handicapped residents and the staff will help the residents to care for themselves and become more independent in daily living. Four of the residents had moved into the home by Sunday and were there to greet the many visitors.

A buffet lunch was served from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., catered by the Country Oven Bakery, Appalachian Adult Activities Center. Dedication ceremonies began at 2 p.m., with the invocation given by the Rev. Richard Seaks. Special music was provided by Joseph DiSimone and Susan Flew, whose selections included "Bless This House" and "Climb Every Mountain," with those present singing along.

The guest speaker, Phillip Holmes, director of the Mental Retardation Development Disabilities Administration (MR-DDA), was introduced by Dorothy Leuba, president of the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped (GOH) which sponsored the open house event.

Holmes recognized the achievements of the interagency group which began planning for a group home about four years ago, and he expressed optimism that Garrett County could have more homes in the future. He spoke on the School Meal Prices To Rise

Prices for school meals will increase by ten cents beginning March 30, announced Richard Buckingham, Garrett County Cafeteria Manager.

The increase, which was approved by the county Board of Education, Thursday will affect lunches and breakfasts for both adults and students. Buckingham said, but will not affect the reduced price and free meal programs.

The new student breakfast price will be 40 cents while the adult breakfast price will be 80 cents.

Student lunch prices will be elementary, 35 cents; middle school, 60 cents; and high school, 70 cents. The adult lunch price will be $1.25.

Buckingham explained the price increase was due partly to anticipated cuts in the lunch program proposed by the Reagan administration and partly to help balance out the budget for this year's meal program.

The Reagan administration has proposed a $2 billion cut from the school meal program which Buckingham says will "seriously" affect the program which has operated on a $3.4 billion budget in previous years.

At the School Board meeting Thursday, Buckingham indicated another ten cent increase may be necessary if Reagan's proposal is totally approved.

Buckingham noted that the school meal program budget may go into deficit because meal preparation costs are greater than revenues from selling the meals. He said the cost of food bought from vendors has increased 13 percent.

Under Reagan's proposal, not only would funds be cut but qualification guidelines for the reduced price and free meal programs will become stricter.

County, State Offices To Close For Maryland Day

All county and state offices with the exception of the county treasurer's office, will be closed Wednesday, March 25 in observance of Maryland Day, stated Gary Mullich, building manager.

The Farmers' Home Administration and Agriculture Service Center offices at the courthouse in addition to the sheriff's office and emergency services, will remain open. Courthouse doors will be open at the Fourth Street entrance only, said Mullich.

County Grand Jury Members Submit Results Of Investigation

Was made of the fact that the ventilation fans have not yet been installed. The Grand Jury favorably supported the Adoptable Adoptable picture program conducted by the Kenneth Richmond, Garrett County Memorial Hospital Administrator, conducted a tour of the hospital building, and presented an update on the building project. According to Richmond, the construction is currently two weeks behind, but work is expected to be completed by April of 1982.

Richmond reported the construction costs are $30,000 below estimated budgets this far. It was noted that emergency room coverage is continuing on a 24-hour basis, with a doctor in the building while on call.

Testimony was heard from Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, School Superintendent, who conducted a tour of the Board of Education office, and explained safety and environmental regulations, as well as school enrollment, employees, and funding for the Board.

The county made garages were toured and recommendations were made concerning equipment changes to be made, and the installation of a communications base in the garages in Accident and Sang Run. Maintenance repairs, and the installation of a fence at the Accident facility were proposed by the Grand Jury.

It was recommended that the Resident State Trooper Plan be thoroughly investigated with consideration being given to current Sheriff's Department employee welfare.

Gary Mullich conducted a tour of the courthouse and county jail, explaining future plans for the renovation of the older section. The Grand Jury members toured the jail, the Sheriff's Department, and Central Alarm.

It was recommended that windows around the dispatchers' office and the exterior windows of the jail cells be coated with a visibility prevention substance.

In addition, it was recommended that the meal system in the county jail should be thoroughly investigated and the least expensive method adopted. Security devices should be repaired and maintained, and the number of security guards should be brought up to federal standards.

The H.P. Stores, Inc. welcomes its new neighbor and the jobs it will create in Garrett County, Feld said.

Bolden's Salary Bills Approved

Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) reported Tuesday four of his six bills to increase salaries of certain county officials for the 1982-83 term have passed the Maryland General Assembly.

The four that have passed include salary increases for the County Commissioners, sitting as the Board of Health, Tuesday evening. The bills were introduced on March 3, and the department's real opposition to granting the permit was to present plans to subdivide the property surrounding Wynlyn's and to convey two acres of the land.

Wynlyn's presently complies with Health Department regulations, the officials pointed out, but sale of the two acres would not meet drainage area requirements for the system.

In regular business, representatives from Garrett County Community College discussed the design and funding of a student service center to be added to the GCC Learning Center at McHenry. The addition would involve a 12,000 square foot facility.

Dr. Donald Ruhl, GCC president, and Gobie Jessup, Dean of Administrative Services, told the Board that all involved state agencies have approved the project.

They stated the funding for the facility would be based on a state/local formula of 60/40 respectively. The total estimated cost for the facility would be $50,000, the county share would be $30,000 to be paid over a three year period. For the current fiscal year, $7,000 in revenue sharing funds were allocated to the project.

The Board requested an estimate from Jacob Gresh, project/architect, on the county's funding share for each of the next two fiscal years.

The board made no commitments for funding but did sign a petition to the State to request that it set aside its funding share. Funding on the state level will be through the General Fund, Junior or Community College Construction Loan Act.

At the town's meeting Thursday night, the council adopted a subdivision ordinance and a zoning ordinance addressing mobile homes, following public hearings on both.

In other business, John Nelson was appointed as the town's Zoning Administrator, to replace Frank Jenkins who resigned due to ill health. It was announced that Pam Nelson had resigned from the town's Zoning Appeals Board, and Dan Emlinger was appointed to that board.

Board Approves FY '82 School Budget Request

The Garrett County Board of Education approved the superintendent's FY1982 budget request Thursday which calls for an 8.4 percent increase over the FY1981 budget.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county superintendent of schools, pointed out his budget request would require more money from the county government due to cutbacks on the federal and state levels.

The budget calls for $500,000 in additional county money which would insure that present school programs would remain intact.

Ryscavage noted that approximately 80 percent of the requested increase would be used for salaries and wages, fringe benefits, and increased cost of utilities and of student tuition.

The budget, if approved by the county commissioners, would total $12,317,500 (including anticipated federal and state funds).

Board members asserted that if the past is any indication of the future, chances of receiving the total local request would "not be great."

In other action, the Board determined that Friday, March 27 would be used for a snow make-up day rather than as a professional day for teachers, as originally scheduled.

The Social Studies Curriculum for grades kindergarten through eighth grade was approved by the Board. A Board staff member stated the new curriculum was the product of a year-long process.

Commissioners Deny Wynlyn's Edge Appeal

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners, sitting as the Board of Health, Tuesday evening unanimously voted to deny an appeal of a Health Department decision not to grant permission for a sewage disposal system for planned additions to Wynlyn's Edge, Deep Creek Lake.

Health Department officials, at the appeal hearing on March 3, stated the department's real opposition to granting the permit was to present plans to subdivide the property surrounding Wynlyn's and to convey two acres of the land.

Wynlyn's presently complies with Health Department regulations, the officials pointed out, but sale of the two acres would not meet drainage area requirements for the system.

In regular business, representatives from Garrett County Community College discussed the design and funding of a student service center to be added to the GCC Learning Center at McHenry. The addition would involve a 12,000 square foot facility.

For the current fiscal year, $7,000 in revenue sharing funds were allocated to the project.

The Board requested an estimate from Jacob Gresh, project/architect, on the county's funding share for each of the next two fiscal years.

The board made no commitments for funding but did sign a petition to the State to request that it set aside its funding share. Funding on the state level will be through the General Fund, Junior or Community College Construction Loan Act.

At the town's meeting Thursday night, the council adopted a subdivision ordinance and a zoning ordinance addressing mobile homes, following public hearings on both.

In other business, John Nelson was appointed as the town's Zoning Administrator, to replace Frank Jenkins who resigned due to ill health. It was announced that Pam Nelson had resigned from the town's Zoning Appeals Board, and Dan Emlinger was appointed to that board.

Water Bottling Plant To Open In Loch Lynn

A spring water bottling plant will begin operation at the former H.P. Stores, Inc. warehouse in Loch Lynn shortly after April 1, Fred Feld, H.P. vice president has announced.

Rutledge Birmingham, New York, signed a long-term lease with H.P. for 15,000 square feet of the facility for the new plant where water will be processed and bottled.

Building renovations are underway and should be completed by April 1, Feld stated. The new plant will use the Baltimore and Ohio and Chesapeake and Potomac Electric Power Company's rail services. Feld said Birmingham has also leased from the B&O its Bolling Spring Water Company, plans a complete move and expansion of Mount Laurel Spring Water from its current base in Temple, Pa., to Loch Lynn.

Mount Laurel is widely sold in the New York area. Immediate plans call for expanding distribution into the middle Atlantic states, Feld said.

The H.P. Stores, Inc. welcomes its new neighbor and the jobs it will create in Garrett County, Feld said.

Coal Tax Undergoes Change Mason Requests Exact Figures To Determine Fair Coal Tax

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners is expected to respond this week to a letter from Senator Edward Mason asking them for specific figures on county needs in order to determine an appropriate tonnage tax on coal.

Mason pointed to the disagreement among commissioners and delegates concerning what tonnage rule would provide the counties with needed revenues for repair of coal haul roads and to replace revenues lost as a result of abolishing the personal property tax on the surface mining industry.

With about 30 days left in the General Assembly, Mason requested a prompt answer to his request. "It is our intention to resolve this problem in the best interests of Western Maryland during the 1981 Session of the General Assembly," Mason said.

Meanwhile, the coal tax bill, proposed by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, has been stalled in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Bolden, who is optimistic his bill will pass, said he discussed the panel's delay on voting on the bill with one of its members who said the chairman was awaiting some amendments.

However, Bolden says he has already submitted his amendment to the bill.

The bill has changed in the past week from one imposing a 60 cent tax with a 15,000 ton exemption to one imposing a 50 cent tax without any exemption.

Bolden's most recent amendment strikes Allegany County and Coopersburg, Delegate William Byrnes (at his request) from the bill, making it a local bill.

But, previous reports have said Del. Casper B. Taylor, Jr., and Del. Thomas B. Cunniff, Jr., will offer amendments to put Allegany back into the bill and lower the tax to 25 cents per ton and two cents more each of the following three years.

Bolden's bill would allow for a five cent per ton increase for the following three years.

Taylor and Cunniff's amendments would have the support of the Garrett County Development Corporation, Garrett County Commissioners Truman Faugh and Lester Hunter and the Delta Mining Corporation.

Last week the Development Corporation came out against the 50 cent per ton tax, with the five cent increments, calling it "exorbitant." It supported a 34 cent per ton tax with a two cent per ton increase as a "fair taxing method."

Commissioners Hunter and Faugh support the 34 cent tax because they believe it is the one which has a better chance of passing through the General Assembly.

The Delta Mining Corp. has threatened to reduce its operations in the county if the 50 cent tax passes.

The 50 cent figure was derived from figures previously submitted by the commissioners of both Garrett and Allegany counties showing the amount needed for repair of coal haul roads and to replace revenues lost by abolition of the personal property tax.

Documented needs for Garrett County were about $400,000 for repair of coal haul roads and about $300,000 (FY'80) to make up for the personal property tax. The commissioners indicated those figures may change as they receive more current information from the county treasurer and roads department.

Garrett Commissioner Ernie Gregg, who has expressed support for a 50 cent rate, noted the counties total needs are over $800,000 which would not even be generated by the 50 cent tax.

Gregg said the 50 cent tax would bring in about $500,000 a year while the 34 cent tax plus the total two cent increments would bring in $758,771.

Court Modifies LCB Ruling On Fratz Red & White

The Garrett County Liquor Control Board, Board was overruled last week in Garrett County Circuit Court stemming from an appeal filed by W. H. Fratz, Inc., and a stay of action ordered by Judge Fred A. Thayer.

The appeal was filed by the owners and manager of Fratz Red & White. Accused, as the result of conviction of a Sunday Liquor Law violation last year, and the ensuing hearing before the county Liquor Control Board.

As a result of the hearing, the firm's Class A beer license was ordered suspended for six months by the LCB, beginning March 16, 1981.

After reviewing the case, and several other precedent cases, Judge Thayer granted a stay of action taken by the LCB and suspended the license for a period of 30 days, beginning March 16.

McHenry Man Given Six-Year Prison Term

Alvin Paul Shreve, 50, McHenry, found guilty of assault and battery against his wife in a stabbing incident last October, was sentenced Wednesday to six years in prison by Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer.

Shreve was accused by Maryland State Police of stabbing his wife, Cora A. Shreve, four times in the upper left arm and once in the right ring finger during a domestic altercation in the bedroom of the couple's home.

Charges of assault with intent to murder and assault with intent to maim were declared nolle prosequi by the state's attorney.

Shreve was committed to the Commissioner of Corrections following the sentencing.

We Hope She Wins . . .

Freedom of the press. We hear about it quite often. Most will agree that it is one freedom which is vital to maintaining many of the other liberties we enjoy in this nation.

The most current issue which has brought this topic to the forefront once again is the Carol Burnett-National Enquirer scandal, which is in the courts this week. Ms. Burnett has sued the weekly publication for $10 million dollars, stating that the Enquirer published a damaging, false story about her. The story said Ms. Burnett was seen in a lounge with Henry Kissinger and insinuated she was drunk. It also said she was rude, abusive and spilled a glass of wine on another person. After finding out that the story was indeed false, the Enquirer printed a retraction and apology. However, Ms. Burnett continued to pursue her law suit.

Obviously, freedom of the press is something which this newspaper believes is important and should be defended to the nth degree. However, in the above case, we hope Ms. Burnett wins.

To call the National Enquirer a newspaper would be using the above term loosely, to say the least. Scandal sheet would be more fitting. The first amendment, which includes freedom of the press, has been stretched beyond its limits in this particular case, in our opinion. That amendment offers the freedom for the press to print the truth, not lies, and not distortions of the truth. The Enquirer is obviously in the business of printing strictly to make money, and they are doing so at the personal expense of often-times innocent people. The owners know that many persons thrive on gossip (their five million per week circulation bears up this sad fact) and it seems to make little difference to them if their information is factual or not.

It's true, the people they pick on are usually celebrities, who have few financial woes. Carol Burnett admitted on the stand yesterday that the story probably would not harm her career. But, that's not the point. Such garbage in libelous, no matter who the victim is. Celebrities have feelings, too, and it may be that, although their careers are not noticeably damaged, some of the persons who at one time respected Ms. Burnett and other such victims, no longer do so, because they were sucked in by such a miserable rag, the owners of which have the gall to call themselves journalists.

Editor:
How soon we forget!! John Lennon never served a day in the armed forces, yet the world, because he was murdered, will dedicate anywhere from five minutes to a full day of silent prayer for him.

What about the soldiers who fought for our country, and were taken prisoners and those who were murdered, in Bogaville, Guad Canal, the Philippine Islands, Korea, Vietnam and the European Theatre?

The people of the world never gave these heroes over one minute of silent prayer at any one time.

In my opinion, these men were much more important than John Lennon.

Dear Editor:
Taxpayers — did you know that the county commissioners last week approved the construction of the unwanted Phase I of the Gorman Water Project by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission. Below are a few of the Sanitary Commissions outstanding financial obligations to the county: (a) From July 1, 1966 to June 30, 1979 the Sanitary Commission has wasted $458,671 of Garrett County taxes. According to state law the Sanitary Commission must be a self-supporting organization. You will be forced to pay for services you will not receive. If the Commissioners and the Sanitary Commission would drop the unneeded one and one-half miles of this project the cost would be reduced from $472,525 to approximately $50,000. We are talking of approximately 25 voluntary users in this first phase of the project. A map is available at the Sanitary Commission's office that will show if you are in the Sanitary District. The above mentioned ad valorem tax is a piggy-back tax added to your already ridiculously high county property taxes.

If you are opposed to this useless waste of your hard-earned money, please notify your government officials as soon as possible. Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, Senator Ed Mason, Representative Beverly Byron are all very much familiar with this project. Please don't delay, every letter counts.

Would you please call your commissioners and voice your opposition to this useless waste of county money. The commissioners' phone number is 334-3917.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Upole

Dear Editor:
By reading the letters to the editor a person can see we have all kinds of people with as many kinds of notions, some kind and some not. I want to thank the county roads crew which works the Dorsey Hotel Road for their thoughtfulness for stopping the plows when they meet someone with a horse and buggy. It takes a good lame horse to stand the looks and noise of a snowplow which is also scattering ashes. This could cause a horse to take off through a fence, or who knows what all can happen if the plow just barges on through like some do in other places.

I again would like for this crew to know that we appreciate their thoughtfulness in stopping for a shying horse. This is especially nice to do so when a woman happens to be driving. Thank you again.

Yours truly,
Elmer S. Yoder

Dear Editor:
Attention residents of the Gorman Sanitary District. Did you know that you may be taxed for another one of the Sanitary Commission's mistakes. The County Commissioners will not deny that an ad valorem tax may be waged on all residents in the district within the boundaries of, starting at Wilson, west to the top of Backbone Mountain to Rothrock Fire Tower, north top of Backbone Mountain four miles and then turning east, crossing Route 560 at Oak Grove Church continuing to the White Church Steyer Road, and then turning south to the Potomac River and following it up to Wilson.

This unfair tax will be waged upon all the people within this huge 20 square mile district. You will be forced to pay for services you will not receive. If the Commissioners and the Sanitary Commission would drop the unneeded one and one-half miles of this project the cost would be reduced from $472,525 to approximately $50,000. We are talking of approximately 25 voluntary users in this first phase of the project. A map is available at the Sanitary Commission's office that will show if you are in the Sanitary District. The above mentioned ad valorem tax is a piggy-back tax added to your already ridiculously high county property taxes.

If you are opposed to this useless waste of your hard-earned money, please notify your government officials as soon as possible. Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, Senator Ed Mason, Representative Beverly Byron are all very much familiar with this project. Please don't delay, every letter counts.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Rinker

Dear Sir:

I have been listening to the arguments from both sides about the proposed coal severance tax. I have come to the conclusion that Representative DeCorsey Bolden and Senator Ed Mason are trying to destroy the coal strip mining industry in Maryland.

There are hundreds of thousands of tons of deep mine coal, stone, sand, gravel, timber and lumber being hauled over our County Roads. Why is just strip mine coal being taxed?

Our Company has contributed to the economy of Garrett County for the last seven years and we will halt our mining operations the day this tax goes into effect. This is the time when the unemployment rate for January 1981 in Garrett County was 18.3%.

Sincerely,
Harry W. Whyel
President

Dear Editor:

In answer to the person, a county tax payer, in the March 4 Edition.

My father works for the County Road's Dept. as a supervisor. I know my father and many of the other employees work very hard to fix the roads and signs and these same men keep the roads clear and open as much as possible so you, the tax payer, can use that road.

I think the person who wrote the letter is quite an ignorant person. All County Roads employees do not sleep when they are supposed to be working. You write your thoughts, why not write your name. Didn't you have the nerve?

I don't live in Garrett County at this time. I'm stationed in Panama with the 348th Military Police Corps. But I receive the paper every week and when I saw that letter it made me sick to see a person from my home town wrote this and didn't have the nerve to sign his name. While residing in Deer Park, I can only thank the County Roads Dept. for what they have done for the county.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor:

The most important reality in the heated debate over teaching creationism in public schools is strangely ignored by the media. That reality is that creationism is scientific.

Take ABC Nightline broadcast (March 2) on the recent court case in California. To investigate the creationist side, reporters were sent to a church-run elementary school. When he tried to speak about scientific evidence against evolution, the principal made an embarrassingly inaccurate statement. In showing the way creation was taught in the private Christian school (Bibles in hand), it was falsely implied that creationists want creation taught the same way in public schools.

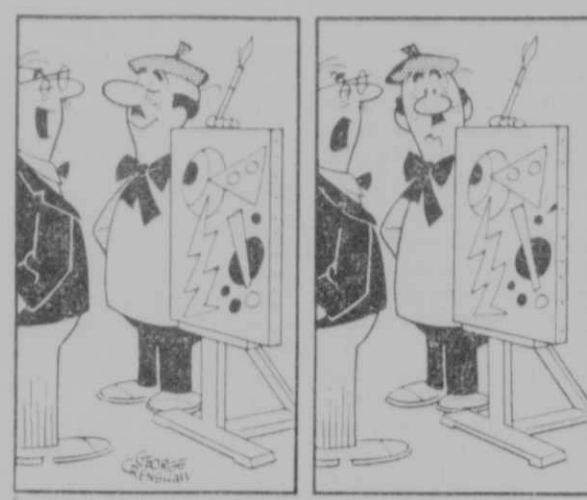

The live interview pitted Carl Sagan—popular, eloquent, highly credentialed scientist against James Robinson, Texas TV evangelist. These things underline the false notion that the full substance of the creationist position is just so much religious/emotional fervor. ("Your kid may have descended from monkeys, but my Bible says . . .")

While the networks interview ill-informed grades school principals, organizations like the Institute for Creation Research in San Diego work quietly on a grass roots level exposing the deficiencies of evolution without pounding pulpits. This spring ICR is sponsoring a lecture tour by Dr. A. E. Wilder Smith of Switzerland (PhD—Organic Chemistry, Chemistry, and Pharmacology; Visiting Harvard, MIT, and the Universities of Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, Kansas and Northwestern. Smith will lecture on creationism using only science. ICR also sends out American scientists as fully credentialed as Smith (or Carl Sagan) to debate the science department heads on these and other campuses. The scientific creationists are taken very seriously.

When the American Association for the Advancement of Science publicized a statement recently expressing regret over President Reagan's comments questioning evolution, Jerry Falwell proposed a televised debate between a creationist scientist and anyone the association chose. One wonders why the association refuses.

Before 1930, the dime was legal as payment only in transactions of $10 or less. In that year Congress made the dime legal tender for all transactions.

The First Step? . . .

by Carol Kapel

In a statement released last week, Cumberland Mayor Frank Nethken and members of the town council reportedly "decided" to impose restrictions on the release of news stories by council members and department heads.

The "explanation" cited the group's annoyance at "reading items in the newspaper before they are informed of a forthcoming release."

To many professional journalists, this type of action smacks of prior censorship, and could constitute a gross violation of the First Amendment.

Nethken allegedly further stated that "only releases of a controversial nature or those not in the best interest of the public" would be subject to restriction.

A question is immediately raised as to the right of any appointed or elected official to decide what is "best" for the citizen.

According to the article, "Any item which may prove controversial would have to receive the approval of the majority of council prior to release." Suppose the majority does not approve? Where does that leave the citizen? Uninformed? The victim of a councilman's or mayor's personal discretion?

There is no place for dinosaur thinking in the name of public interest. Citizens have the unconditional right to be informed, and the intelligence to make their own decisions. The media has the unconditional obligation to serve as a watchdog for the people, providing that information in an accurate and forthright manner. Mayor Nethken's lack of communication with members of his council sounds more like an internal problem than one under which to hide the public's right to be informed.

Damages Set In Modern Day Vandal Rampage

The weekend destruction spree allegedly perpetrated by several juveniles last weekend in the Green Glade area of Deep Creek Lake resulted in approximately $1500 in damages and theft loss, according to Maryland State Police.

The owners of the cabins, which include Eugene Leroy Sipe, Windber, Pa., George Macht, McKeesport, Pa., Elmer Cossna and Carl Dickert, both of Cumberland; Michael Litwin, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Charles Brant, Somerset, Pa., reported losses such as fishing equipment, electrical appliances, gasoline and containers, a water ski vest, and, oddly enough, one water ski.

In addition, other unusual items stolen included a mounted pheasant and a coconut shell designed as a human face. Damage was done to furniture, mirrors, windows, lamps, a jewelry box, and a target box. Dishes, ashtrays, a fireplace screen, a television screen, and several clocks were also damaged. Five dollars in change was also stolen.

Several suspects have been arrested, and are in the custody of their parents pending a hearing.

Paul Bunyan Antics Reported

Two white pines and a maple were destroyed.

The investigation is continuing.

Local Inventor Dies March 11

Inventor Glenn Talley Randol, Loch Lynn, died Wednesday evening, March 11, in the Cape Canaveral Hospital in Cocoa Beach, Fla., from complications resulting from pneumonia.

Mr. Randol was born April 1, 1898 in Jefferson City, Missouri, a son of the late Anson P. Randol and Martha Talley Randol.

He grew up in the deep south, attending school in Jefferson City and Jonesboro, Arkansas.

As a young man, he learned business by working in a general store and managing a bank.

While a teenager, his interest in mechanical devices led him to obtain his first patent on a pre-selective automatic transmission. This became the first step in a career of automotive inventions that produced over 160 patents and 390 copyrights.

In 1947, he married the former Elizabeth Leighton Stephenson of Loch Lynn.

At the time of his death, Mr. Randol and his wife were vacationing near the home of Mrs. Randol's son, Edward Stephenson, and his wife, Alma, Rockledge, Fla.

Surviving, beside his wife and stepson, are a stepdaughter, Mrs. Barbara McIntire, McHenry and Kensington; two sisters, Mrs. John Mamott, Black Rocks, North Carolina, Edith Randol, Miami, Fla.; one brother, Paul Randol, Alexandria, Louisiana; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

A memorial service will be conducted at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, March 22 in the Bethel United Methodist Church, Mt. Lake Park. Interment will be in the Oakland Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that contributions be made to the Glenn T. Randol Memorial Scholarship Fund, Garrett Community College, McHenry, Md., 21341.

Second Impression

And God Created Darwin

by Harry Fox

The times, they are a changin' out in God's country. Out there in the heartland of America, the home of folks who believe in God and country, things are not well. God's country it may be, but it seems that God isn't doing too well in the school textbooks.

But relax. The Arkansas legislature is coming to the rescue. They've fixed up a little bill to give God equal time, you see. Now, whenever a science text discusses the theory of evolution, the "creationist" viewpoint is going to be right there, side by side with the scientific ramblings of Charles Darwin. The governor likes the idea, too. He says he'll probably sign that bill when it reaches his desk.

What, may I ask, is all the fuss about, anyway? The theory (fanatic anti-evolutionists usually inflict the word so it becomes the-ory, a dead giveaway) of evolution first whipped up a storm when Charles Darwin hopped off the Beagle and suggested that more complex life forms share a common, simpler predecessor. Nowhere did Darwin, or to my knowledge, anyone since, propose that humankind "descended from apes."

Personally, that doesn't worry me, even if it was part of the evolutionary theory. What does worry me is the frantic attempts of "creationists" to demand a kind of equal time for their viewpoints in the classroom. They feel that God is "crowded out" of the schools, but one cannot legislate truth, or faith. It is perfectly true that the dogmatic ideology of secular humanism often dominates the classroom. That is, however, caused more by the teacher than the texts being used. I seriously doubt that some kind of enforced "equal time for God" in the science book will alter the conduct of the average teacher. I hope I wouldn't let that sort of legislated censorship affect my job.

Besides, what is the fuss about? In the century since Darwin first used his God-given mind to enquire about the beginnings of life, faith has not withered away. The pro-creation champions need to recall the classic graffiti scrawled in a New York subway. Under the words "God is dead—Nietzsche" some other hand wrote, "Nietzsche is dead—God."

American Association of University Women

The First 100 Years

by Carol Kapel

"Education for women is abominable. An educated woman would produce malformed offspring."

The above quote was spoken by a prominent male physician in 1881. To dispel that type of thinking, in November of that same year, 17 young graduate women representing eight universities gathered at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and voted to organize an association of women college graduates. These first college women had stepped into a world that was largely unprepared for them, both socially and occupationally.

An educated woman was still a novelty in 1881, but that would change as women attended universities in greater numbers. Among those in the forefront — actively seeking higher learning for women while encouraging those same women to assume new and increasingly responsible roles in society — were the members of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, now known as the American Association of University Women.

The AAUW, which theoretically began with 17 members in 1881, now boasts a membership of nearly 200,000. There are more than 1880 branches, representing approximately 1600 colleges and universities.

The Garrett County Branch became a reality in September, 1946. Polly Hanst and Donna Littman originated the plan for a college women's group, and were instrumental in arranging the initial meetings.

The purpose of the group was educational and cultural, promoting the opportunities for local women to make use of their talents and abilities.

The programs during the past 34 years have included the areas of music, art, education, local history, cultural aspects of other countries, conservation in all areas, family and community concerns, and environmental protection.

The local AAUW involvement has been expanding greatly over the years, in keeping with the AAUW national and state programs.

The theme for the current year's offerings is "Families Facing Change". The local members have shared discussions and insight into such subjects as the Amish family structure, the community college effect on family life, and families facing change in terms of effects on children, morals in today's social structures, and family stress.

Guest speakers have included Dr. Donald Ruhl, president of Garrett Community College; Susan Crawford, a local attorney who spoke concerning laws that affect families; William Grant, who explained family estate planning, and Craig Abrahamson, who discussed the Amish family culture.

In their centennial history, the national organization, through local branches, has been instrumental in advancing the status of women, taking action on legislation, working for high standards and continuing improvement of higher education for women, and environmental questions having lasting impact on all the world's people.

The accomplishments of the national AAUW, through local branches, have recommended the group for responsible leadership; they are concrete expressions of aims and objectives set by those first 17 organizers in 1881.

The Garrett County branch has recently named Elizabeth McComas as the recipient of the AAUW Name Grant, in the amount of $500, to be donated in her name for an Educational Foundations Scholarship. Past recipients of Garrett Branch Name Grants include Angela

Capital Program Bond For County Delayed One Year

The Garrett County Planning Commission at its March meeting completed its recommendations for a capital improvements project package for a possible county general obligation bond, but the county commissioners say the package will have to wait a year.

The commissioners explain the reason for the one-year delay is that a county bond package must go through the Maryland General Assembly as legislation, but the deadline for introducing legislation this year has passed.

At a meeting with Senator Ed Mason and Delegate DeCorsey Bolden in January, the commissioners expressed an interest in legislation for a general obligation bond. Bolden says the commissioners did not follow up their verbal request with a written document, so, neither he nor Mason pursued the matter.

If approved by the commissioners as recommended by the Planning Commission, the Maryland package would amount to approximately $2 million.

The projects to be included in the package are those requested by various county agencies and approved as part of the county capital improvements program recently reinstated by the commissioners.

The program had been established in 1974 and was to have been revised annually but had not been.

Though the commissioners have the ultimate approval of projects to be included in the program in the package, the Planning Commission is to prepare both a proposed program and a proposed annual package.

The commissioners stated that any legislation involving a general obligation bond would probably go to referendum.

Oakland Scouts International Dinner Held

Oakland area Girl Scouts and their leaders gathered for an International Dinner at St. Paul's United Methodist Church on Saturday, March 14. A total of 161 persons took part in the event.

Eleven Girl Scout troops participated, representing eight countries. Each girl brought a dish from her troop's designated country, and all troops presented skits depicting various things they had learned while studying their assigned country. They were as follows: England—Brownie Troop 5116; France—Jr. Troop 5111 and Cadette Troop 5613; Germany—Jr. Troop 5522; Greece—Jr. Troop 5018; Holland—Brownie Troop 5023; Japan—Brownie Troop 5125 and Jr. Troop 5553; Mexico—Cadette Troop 5020; Sweden—Brownie Troop 5569 and Jr. Troop 5537.

Recipe books were printed and are available by contacting Lois Martin, chairperson of the event.

THE END OF A LONG EVENING apparently began arriving a wee bit early for Brownie Scout Elizabeth Savage, as she catches 40 winks after the international dinner, where sampling tasty morsels from foreign countries may have become a tiring experience. Jennifer Wofford, right, another member of the brownie troop representing Sweden, and Carrie Johnson, sitting behind, a former scout now volunteering her time, keep a watchful eye on the events during the festivities. Eleven girl scout troops participated in the event, representing eight countries. Each provided a dish from the chosen country, and presented a skit depicting things they had learned during the study of that country.

Bankers Show Support For President Reagan's Economic Recovery Program

The American Bankers Association voted in overwhelming support of the national economic recovery program now pending before the Congress. At ABA's Banking Leadership Conference in Washington recently, the banking leaders adopted the following:

"The battle to control inflation is so important that we cannot afford to disagree over details.

"The urgent and overriding need is to reduce the growth of government significantly; the economic health of the American people depends on it.

"The basic thrust of the national economic recovery plan is right, and early action on it is critical if the economy is to be turned around.

"The American Bankers Association enthusiastically supports the proposed spending reductions, knowing full well that some of the cuts will apply to programs we favor. They should be enacted as soon as possible.

"Tax cuts are needed to encourage savings, investment and productivity, and these also should be enacted quickly. However, they should not be allowed to increase the federal deficit.

"We also continue to support monetary restraint to control inflation and regulatory reform to lift unproductive and inflationary burdens imposed on all citizens and businesses.

"The American Bankers Association will act on its own, and it will encourage its member banks, to support the national economic recovery plan. It may be our last opportunity to put America on the road to economic self-discipline and health."

Dick Bender—

Out Of The Shadows And Into The Limelight

"One of the best point guards, if not the best, in area basketball is Dick Bender," says Northern High head coach Harv Speicher, and many area coaches would agree. But it has only been recently that Bender has received the kind of attention from colleges which top notch players usually receive.

Bender, like most of the top area players, is being recruited by the area junior colleges: Garrett CC, Allegany CC and Potomac State. But in the last several weeks, he has received the attention of such small college powers as Waynesburg College (23-5), the reigning NAIA District 13 champion (Waynesburg will compete in the NAIA National Tournament in Kansas City later this month), Franklin and Marshall College (26-3), which was ranked fourth among NCAA Division schools going into their conference tournament, and Marietta College of the Ohio Athletic Conference. Bender has also received the attention of such schools as West Liberty College, Western Maryland and Gettysburg.

Bender's statistics are attractive but not spectacular. He ended up in area scoring at 18.9 ppg. in 23 games. He also averaged three assists, 6.3 rebounds, and two steals a game, while shooting 49% from the field and 69% from the foul line. Speicher explains, "Being a small school, we depended on Dick to do a lot of things for us, including breaking the press, passing, rebounding, scoring, playmaking, and stopping the opponents' offensive threat." But the item which really has college coaches looking seriously at Dick is his height (6'2") and experience at his natural position—point guard. "Dick will not have to learn a new position in college such as other talented area players who had difficulty adjusting," comments Speicher. "He can handle the ball superbly and has proved it by being our playmaker for the past three years."

Another plus for Bender, according to Speicher, is his intense self-motivation. Recently he became so upset by his team's loss to a team which he felt they should have beaten easily, that the coaching staff found him in the gym working at his game when they arrived at 7:30 a.m. for an 8:30 a.m. practice. The overnight janitor informed Speicher that "the Bender boy" had asked to be let in the gym at 6:15 that morning.

Bender is also an honor roll student and ranks 8th in his class academically.

When asked why he feels that Dick will be successful in college, Speicher said, "First of all, he is very unselfish, and secondly, he plays best under pressure situations as is evidenced by the fact that his career high games both, came in the District playoffs (Mt. Savage 29, Flintstone 31). When Southern's head coach, Tom Bosley, was recently asked to evaluate Bender's ability, he said, "Dick creates so many problems for defensive matchups because he can post up the small man or take the big man outside and because he can do so many things with the ball."

Why then has it only been recently that colleges have become aware of Bender? Speicher feels that his exposure has suffered because he had to play in the shadow of other players during his sophomore and junior years. When Bender was a sophomore, it was Tony Doer (Frostburg State College) who was taking all the glory at Northern, and during Bender's junior year, Bill Bender, now playing for the GCC Lakers, was the Huskies' top offensive player. Speicher also admits that the mediocrity of Northern teams has not helped make Dick Bender a household name, such as a Hobel (Valley) or Ryscavage (Southern).

One thing is for certain, according to Speicher, "Dick is extremely eager to make a contribution to whatever college he may choose." Apparently many people, including recruiters, think he has the tools to do so.

Thanks For Making Hoover Sale A Success

This year's promotion, "Circus of Values" was a great success. Rolyans have competed nationally for the winner to the Hoover/Cotter Company annual sale every March. They have won 7 years in a row for the branch contest and once for the national in 1976. Gary Hoover, regional sales manager for the Hoover Co. was at Rolyans introducing the new Celebrity Q.S. line of canister cleaners to the public. Included in the Circus Sale, were all kinds of animals and a real Circus Clown, portrayed by James Cogley of Oakland, Md. Jim loved the part of being a clown and giving enjoyment to the many children that attended.

Rolyans hopes to win again this year, but realize that competition gets tougher each year.

This year's prizes are: A Hoover Concept One Powerdrive Vacuum Cleaner valued at $300.00; A Sharp Carousel Microwave Oven and $500.00 in cash.

Gary Hoover of the Hoover Co. said that sales on the new Hoover Cleaners were great during this sale. The customers at Rolyans were wishing them all great success on the contest.

Congratulations!

Congratulations to Mrs. Danita Rhodes, Route No 1, Box 131, Oakland, Maryland, winner of the Eastern Sleep Mattress.

Be sure to enter:

Poison Prevention Week

March 15-21

An important message from

Gregg's Pharmacy

Where "Your health is our business."

A PATIENT GUIDE FOR POISON PREVENTION

1. Identify and post immediately the phone numbers of your local or regional poison control center and your community pharmacist.
2. Identify the nearest hospital capable of handling accidental poisonings and decide the quickest and shortest route available.
3. Keep a supply of syrup of Ipecac available. Syrup of Ipecac is used to induce vomiting. Do not induce vomiting until you have talked to someone qualified to make that decision. VOMITING IN SOME CASES MAY DO MORE HARM THAN GOOD.
4. Become familiar with the techniques of mouth to mouth breathing.
5. When an accidental poisoning occurs DO NOT WASTE TIME. Determine immediately if the patient is conscious, breathing, convulsing, the nature of the poisoning (inhalation, ingestion, spilled on skin or eyes) and the substance involved.
6. If the patient is not breathing you must immediately begin mouth-to-mouth breathing. Ask someone to call for an ambulance or dial the operator and ask her to assist you.
7. If the patient is awake and breathing determine if the patient can swallow. Do not administer any fluids if the patient cannot swallow. If fluids are to be administered, they should be used in small quantities so as not to induce vomiting until it is determined to be appropriate (See No. 3). Use water or milk only.
8. When the eye is involved hold the eyelids open and flush with a gentle stream of tapwater for 15 minutes. Seek additional assistance and examination from your doctor.
9. If the skin or clothing is involved, remove the clothing and rinse the area with large amounts of water. Where damage to the skin is not great use of a mild soap and large amounts of water are appropriate.
10. If poisonous gases are involved, remove the victim from the area immediately.
11. How to induce vomiting: a) The only safe way to induce vomiting is to give syrup of Ipecac according to the following dosage. Remember syrup of Ipecac should be administered with six to eight ounces of water to be effective. Adults and children over one year of age: Give 15 ml (one tablespoon) on one dose. The dose may be repeated in twenty minutes if vomiting is not induced, but one time only. Turn the patient's head to the side (if lying) downward when vomiting begins. b) If syrup of Ipecac is not available, administer a glass of milk or water and gag the patient with the finger. Do not use other home remedies to induce vomiting. c) Do not induce vomiting if the patient is: 1. Unconscious 2. Having seizures 3. Has swallowed a corrosive substance such as drain cleaner, lye or acid 4. Has swallowed kerosene, gasoline or other petroleum distillate substance.
12. If a trip to the physician's office or hospital is necessary carry the poison container and/or the vomitus with you.
13. In any accidental ingestion always seek additional assistance from a poison control center or qualified health professional.

Rent Control Activists

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A District Court judge put two rent control activists on probation for their convictions on charges of disrupting a City Council meeting last month.

Charles Doble and Jonathan Reidy had attempted to read a pro-rent control statement during the Feb. 23 council meeting.

Judge Alan M. Resnic gave Doble, 30, a 30-day suspended sentence and a year's probation and Reidy, 25, was given probation Monday.

Canine Stops Robbery

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A police officer and his canine partner foiled a robbery at a savings and loan, a police spokesman said Tuesday.

Officer Jerry Dotson and his dog, Rebel, walked into the savings and loan and a teller yelled that she had been robbed, said spokesman Mike Bass.

Dotson drew his gun and ordered the suspect to lie on the floor, Bass said.

Police arrested Steven Pinder, 26 and charged him with robbery.

Bass said officers confiscated cash and a butcher knife during the Monday incident.

Arundel Jury Charges

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The Anne Arundel County grand jury has indicted a man on two counts of assault with intent to murder in the shooting of two women sitting in a car outside his apartment building.

Sheriff's Office Hears Vandalism, Theft Complaints

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department received complaints last week relating to theft and vandalism in the county.

A house trailer located at Allegany Drive and P Street, Mt. Lake Park, and owned by Samuel Eastman, Washington, D. C., was reported broken into sometime between Wednesday and Friday of last week.

The owner's son-in-law found that the trailer had apparently been searched, as drawers and cabinets were left open. Police said there was no sign of forced entry, and two cameras were the only items taken.

Stolen from the residence were an Olympus 35 RC camera with lens cap and case, valued at approximately $250, and a Canon 35 mm camera with case, also valued at approximately $250.

In a separate case, Robert Ritchie Bray, White Oak Mobile Court, reported that his car was stolen from the VFW on Route 135 on March 3 at about 11:50 p.m.

The department located the vehicle off the roadway on Old Garrett Road, where it was apparently wrecked and abandoned. Damage to the vehicle is undetermined at this time.

Four vandals were reported in the Oakland area. A custodian at Dennett Road School, Oakland, discovered March 10 that the door to the outside boys room had been forced open and the hot water in the showers had been turned on.

The loss is undetermined at this time, as it is not known when the incident took place. A school official stated that the room had not been checked for some time, and that a recent gas bill appeared higher than usual.

Sometime between March 3 and 10 unknown persons broke a glass window in the ticket booth of the Route 219 Drive-In Theatre, Oakland, by throwing a rock through the window. No estimate of the damage has been determined at this time.

William Jackson Welch, Mt. Lake Park, reported that someone entered his school bus sometime over the weekend, while it was parked in the Par Matt Lanes parking lot. The subjects cut the vinyl off the back panel of the right rear seat of the bus, amounting to a loss value of approximately $40.

In a separate case, Catherine Sines, Deer Park, discovered Sunday that the left front tire of her vehicle was flat and there were two dents on the wheel.

The 1979 Pontiac was parked in front of her residence, and the dents on the wheel apparently caused the tire to flatten, amounting to a loss value of approximately $25.

David A. Sumrall, 21, held without bail Tuesday at the county detention center on charges of assault and battery in the wounding of Wanda H. Melton, 28, and Nancy H. Walton, 25, last month.

The two women were sitting in a car parked in an apartment lot when they were struck by a bullet apparently fired from a replica of a Revolutionary War musket, investigators said.

Use Bus For Getaway

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A couple robbed a savings and loan, then made their getaway on a Mass Transit Administration bus, police said.

Investigators said the man and woman threatened a teller with a gun and forced her to hand over an undisclosed sum of cash Monday.

The couple ran outside and boarded a bus, rode a few blocks and then fled on foot.

Back-Breaking Verdict

SNOW HILL, Md. (UPI) — The victim asked for leniency and a judge ordered probation for a Pennsylvania man found guilty of battery for breaking the back of an Ocean City lifeguard.

Worcester County Circuit Judge Daniel Prettyman recently sentenced Joseph A. Charley, 33, of Seneca, Pa., to three years of probation.

Assistant State's Attorney Raymond Jarvis III said Tuesday he had planned to recommend a five-year prison sentence, but the lifeguard said it would "bother his conscience" if Charley was sent to prison.

Charley was convicted of pulling down a lifeguard stand July 20, 1980, which resulted in a broken back for Alfred Fielder, a teacher at Towson State University.

In addition to probation, Prettyman ordered Charley to complete a 13-month drug and alcohol therapy program in Pennsylvania.

Charley told the judge he was drunk at the time of the incident and did not mean to harm anyone.

He said Monday he currently sells insurance and no longer sells insurance. The ethics committee's report is expected next week.

Board was that students were pulled out of classes teaching basic skills.

Herbert Harman, Board president, stated the programs should be compatible with the regular program. "Our objective is to provide the best education for kids," he said.

The Board directed Ringer to develop administrative guidelines for schools to follow in determining the pull-out program schedule.

The Board approved the transfer of the old Grantsville school and surrounding property, including a roadway, to the county. James Lupis, Jr., Assistant Superintendent of Administrative Services told the Board, the commissioners would sign a deed to transfer the road right of way to the Town of Grantsville.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Maryland are offering non-group health care insurance regardless of a person's health on a year-round basis for the first time, a spokesman said Tuesday.

Spokesman Nick Greaves said the insurers had offered the non-group enrollment plan regardless of a person's health status in the past, but only during one-month to three-month periods.

Enrollment in the new program is open to anyone who is not eligible for Medicare without regard to the condition of their health or whether they have been denied coverage in the past.

No physical examinations or health statements are required, Greaves said.

He said Blue Cross and Blue Shield are the first to offer such non-group enrollment.

"We realize that opening the door continuously to non-group members regardless of the condition of their health may carry some unusual risks with it, but we believe the people of this community look to Blue Cross and Blue Shield to help those in greatest need," Greaves said.

District. Tickets for the event may still be purchased from any Republican State Central Committee member. Persons desiring further information may call 334-9490.

Mrs. Holt has been elected five times in landslide victories to the United States House of Representatives from Maryland's Fourth Congressional District, which includes all of Anne Arundel County and the southern portion of Prince George's County.

Prior to her election to the House in 1972, Mrs. Holt served six years as Clerk of the Circuit court of Anne Arundel County. She was the first woman elected to Congress from Maryland in a general election.

During her Congressional tenure, Congresswoman Holt has concentrated her efforts on national security and budgetary issues. She has been a member of the powerful Armed Services Committee since her first term and also served on the House Budget Committee during the 95th and 96th Congresses. On the Armed Services committee, Mrs. Holt serves as the Ranking Republican on the Subcommittee on Procurement and Military Nuclear Systems and also on the Subcommittee on Military Personnel and Compensation. From her position on the House Budget Committee, Mrs. Holt was a leader of the fight to slow the growth rate of Federal spending. Her efforts to restore supply side economics achieved national prominence and were featured in such publications as The Wall Street Journal and Fortune magazine.

Another legislative accomplishment is the National Homestead Act, which started what Housing and Urban Development officials have described as one of their "most successful" housing programs. It is today successfully operating in many large American cities.

In 1975 and 1976, Congresswoman Holt served as Chairman of the Republican Study Committee. She has served as Vice Chairwoman of the Board of the Office of Technology Assessment. In 1976 she edited and co-authored a book, The Case Against the Reckless Congress. She contributed an article to a similar book, Can You Afford This House? in 1978. She is a member of the U.S. Naval Academy Board of Visitors.

An attorney, Mrs. Holt graduated from the University of Florida Law School, which honored her as a distinguished alumna in 1976. She and her husband, Duncan, an engineer, have two daughters, a son, and four grandchildren.

Coal Talks Stalled; Strike Held Likely

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Negotiations between the United Mine Workers union and the soft coal industry stalled Tuesday. UMW President Sam Church said mine operators apparently want a strike in the nation's coal fields in 10 days.

With no new talks scheduled, only Church and his team of union negotiators turned up at the bargaining table in a downtown hotel Tuesday morning.

Church postponed a meeting with his policy-making bargaining council, but told members to remain in Washington. If a tentative settlement is reached, it will go first to the bargaining council for approval, then to rank-and-file miners.

The union chief said he left for lunch that he had not been in contact with chief industry negotiator B.R.

RESA Directors Protest Reagan Proposal To End ARC Funding

"The abrupt and indiscriminate abolition of the Appalachian Regional Commission proposed by the President will cut the very muscles this region of Maryland needs for economic survival during these times," George E. Allen, Executive Director of the Regional Education Service Agency of Appalachian Maryland (RESA) stated last week.

Echoing these concerns, the RESA Board of Directors, at their last meeting, endorsed the resolution of the Appalachian Governors which asks the President and Congress to reconsider the proposed abolition of the commission (ARC).

The Board also agreed to seek public support for the resolution through a public information and education system, Ed-Alert System for Public Issues Facing Education, which is now operating.

The Board noted that the three-county regions (Allegany, Garrett, and Washington) does not have the resiliency to absorb the immediate loss of ARC funds through the rescinding of appropriated monies and abolition of the Commission.

The Board pointed out that the immediate loss of over 5 million dollars in non-highway funds, delays in completing the National Freeway, the chronic and increasing unemployment problem (well in excess of the National and State averages), and prospects for declining revenues because of the aging population (the proportion of the population over 50 years had increased from one-fourth to one-third between 1970 to 1980) cannot be made up from local or state revenues.

According to the President's message to Congress, he is asking Congress to rescind $120 million already appropriated to the Appalachian Regional Commission for education, health, child development, public works, and other economic development programs in the thirteen (13) Appalachian states. In addition to this rescission of FY1981 non-highway funds, he is asking that Appalachian Highway monies be transferred to the U. S. Department of Transportation and the abolition of ARC effective June 30, 1981. Congress only recently extended the life of the Commission through FY1982.

The most immediate and critical issue facing Appalachian Maryland and the rest of Appalachia is the rescission of FY'81 non-highway funds," according to the Tri-County Council. About $5 million already allocated to Maryland for this region will be cancelled. According to George Allen of RESA, approximately $700,000 of the Maryland block grant was for education projects.

An analysis by RESA staff indicates that over fifteen projects will be cancelled on or after July 1 which will affect every member institution serving the educational needs of the region, thousands of current and prospective students, and hundreds of citizens, small businesses and industries.

The Board detailed points in the Governors' resolution which were:

—To urge the President and the Congress not to rescind remaining ARC FY1981 non-highway funds.

—To urge the President and the Congress to provide continued funding for ARC highway and non-highway programs in FY1982 at whatever levels reflect a fair share of federal budget cuts.

—To urge the President to appoint a representative to work with them during the next 90 days to determine how the ARC process might be used to carry out the President's programs nationally. The governors commit themselves to a cooperative, bipartisan effort. They will submit their recommendations promptly, along with various options, including a possible orderly phase out of the Commission.

Information on the rescission of ARC FY1981 non-highway funds is provided in the Ed-Alert System. Persons who desire this information may call RESA

Jump Rope For Heart Campaign Set At Accident

A Jump Rope For Heart campaign to benefit the American Heart Association, Western Maryland Chapter, will be held this Saturday, March 21, from 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. in the Accident Elementary gym.

The Accident School is the only school in Garrett County participating in this program, and through its participation the school will receive $100. The local program was initiated by Nan Gangler, Physical Education teacher at Accident, who got the students involved after three weeks of rope jumping in their regular curriculum.

Rope jumping is one of many cardiovascular exercises which can be used by children to help achieve and maintain fitness.

Nearly 40 children at the Accident School will participate in the program this Saturday. The students are currently soliciting pledges for the various teams for every minute the team jumps.

Mrs. Gangler explained that approximately six students will make up a team, and they will take turns rope jumping. The maximum time which a team can jump is 180 minutes or three hours.

Second through fifth-graders will participate, and Mrs. Gangler said the parents of the children have displayed their support by bringing the students out to the school. The children will receive individual prizes such as t-shirts, jump ropes and windbreakers for the amount of money they generate.

The national event is endorsed by the Maryland Association of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, the Physical Education and Public Information Committee (PEPIC), the Maryland Commission on Physical Fitness and the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The funds raised by the Accident School children will assist the local heart association's fight against heart disease and stroke, the number one killer in the United States today.

Yesterday and TODAY

You'd probably love to have a car like this to fool around with. But suppose you had to drive it day in and day out?

We Americans are used to having the latest, and we don't like to live with what seems out-of-date to us. For that reason, a good many of us don't go to church. We tell ourselves that church was great for Grandma and Grandpa, or maybe even for Mom and Dad, but it has no place for us in this jet age.

If we believe this... then it is we who are out-of-date! The Church today is a modern institution in touch with the world around it. It helps us cope with the problems of modern life, teaching us to change with a changing world. Let's catch up with the times. Let's attend church.

ARE THESE "THE LAST DAYS"?

March 22, 1981

Background Scripture:
Matthew 23 through 24:35
Devotional Reading:
Joshua 23:14-16

Years ago there was a humorous review on Broadway called "Beyond The Fringe." One of the sketches in this show was built around an anonymous religious group that had predicted that the "End of the World" was going to occur on a specific date. On that day the group assembled on a mountain top to await the great cataclysm. As in chorus they counted down to the precise minute when their prophecy was to be fulfilled, nothing happened. For a few breathless minutes, actors and audience waited together in silence for something to happen. When at last it was apparent that nothing was going to happen, the leader of the cult announced to his group, "Oh well, everybody back tomorrow at the same time!"

Not One Stone Upon Another

The humor in the sketch, of course, lay in the fact that the group was quite underdressed by the failure of their prophecy. They had their hearts set on the "End of the World" and were waiting for it to take that glorious expectation away from them. There was also a sense in which we in the audience were laughing at ourselves, for we too are often infected with the same kind of arrogant confidence that assumes we have some kind of "inside knowledge" of God's plan. History has been full of "Doomsday" groups. Yet, these repeated failures of doomsday prophecy do not seem to have deterred today's prophets of doom and destruction. Books about the "End of the World" are very popular in the religious and general markets. Religious leaders today are still confidently — almost gleefully — telling us that we are in "the last days" before the world is utterly destroyed. And when we look at the symptoms all around, who can help but wonder at times whether the sickness we see is not fatal and the clamor we hear is the "death rattle" of the world as we know it?

Yet, if we seriously study the confusing words of Jesus are not the "signs of the end," but the "signs of the end," but the counsel as to what we are to do in the meantime: "see that you are not alarmed" (24:6) and remember that "he who endures to the end will be saved" (24:13). For Jesus, despite all of his prophecies concerning "the last days," did not commission his followers to preach a message of impending disaster, but "the gospel of the kingdom...throughout the whole world."

Let God watch his calendar and determine the time of "the last days."

WE CAN COMPOUND COSMETIC PRESCRIPTIONS

It may surprise you to know ancient records mentioned that pharmacists, then called apothecaries, prepared the healing and beautifying lotions and unguents. Even now dermatologists prescribe some for problem skins. When directed by physicians, we can color them for different complexions.

A pharmacy is a safe place to get cosmetics. Of course we carry your favorite products and we know about their ingredients. If you ask for suggestions, we can give you informed professional answers. Our cosmetic inventory is controlled like our drugs so they always will be potent and fresh.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

State Forest Lands: Burden Or Bonus?

by Michael R. Gregory,
Forest Naturalist,
Maryland
Forest Service

Often I am asked by the public: "Just what good comes of all the state forest land in Garrett County?" It seems that certain people do question the worth of our state forests to the county. Since these lands are not taxable by the county, in some people's minds they represent lost revenue to the region. Those who look at our state forests in this respect are inclined to consider the 70,000 acres of state forest to be an unfair burden to Garrett County. However, the fact that these lands are not taxed should not lead people to believe that they do not greatly contribute to this county's economy and the life style of its citizens.

Doyle Builders
Let us help get you into a new home this year.
334-4808

To accurately assess the value of our state forests to this county and its people we have to consider a number of different aspects. For example in terms of employment the Maryland Forest Service employs approximately twenty persons to manage and maintain Potomac, Garrett, and Savage River State Forests. In addition more than fifteen forest product operators rely on these state forests in order to provide them with the timber necessary to operate their businesses. Each of these operators in turn employs anywhere from two to twenty men to help in the cutting, loading, and hauling of timber that is harvested from the state forest. As such a number of people depend on state forest either wholly or partially for their livelihood.

Another fact we should take into account is that twenty-five percent of the state forest's annual income is returned to the county to spend as the county deems necessary. During the 1980 fiscal year the three state forests in Garrett County generated more than $220,000.

This income resulted in a return of more than $55,000 to the county. The income generated on our state forests is a direct result of the production and sale of timber and wood fiber. At present it is estimated that Potomac, Garrett, and Savage River hold close to $19 million in timber. This resource will prove even more valuable in the future due to anticipated demands for wood fiber over the next two decades.

In trying to determine the value of our state forests we should also look at their value as recreation areas. Hunting, fishing, camping, hiking, sight-seeing, cross-country skiing, and snowmobiling are all viable recreational pastimes on our state forests. Each year our forests attract thousands of visitors, both locally and from out of state, who come to pursue these various recreational pastimes. These visitors, in turn, have a great impact on the local economy since they rely on local businesses to obtain food, lodging, and other services.

In addition our state forests serve as an important source of wildlife habitat, function as vital watersheds, and provide the county with many of its scenic qualities. While these benefits are difficult to assign any dollar value, they still possess a real worth in terms of their contribution to the quality of life here in Garrett County.

As one can see our state forests do contribute to the people and local economy in a number of ways. No doubt there will still be some people who will say that this county would be much better off if all the land in Garrett County was privately owned. True, if the 70,000 acres that are now state forest were privately owned the county would collect more tax revenue. However, the question must then be raised as to how much more it would cost the county to provide the necessary public services to these additional private ownerships. This would probably be a difficult question to answer. Yet there remains one question that is even more difficult to answer. That is, would Garrett County still exhibit the same charm, scenic beauty, and recreational opportunities if it were not for our state forests?

Career Realities Workshop Stated

The Homemaker Career Opportunities Program of Garrett Community College, under the direction of Barbara Frey, has arranged for a seventh workshop in its spring series to deal with "Job Market Realities." The workshop will be held on March 25, at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College.

The seventh workshop will be conducted by Holly Beasley, Employment Counselor, of Maryland Employment Security Administration, for the purpose of discussing with homemakers in transition, as well as other interested persons, what the job opportunities are in Garrett County and in the state. Also to be discussed is the job market picture for the future and non-traditional careers for women.

The public is invited to attend this workshop to be held in room 306 from 10 a.m. until 12 noon.

For further information, interested persons should contact Barbara Frey at 334-9184.

Student Teacher Assignments Made

Frostburg State College has assigned 28 early childhood and elementary student teachers to 31 area public schools, according to Mrs. R. Margaret Hamilton, coordinator of the college's ELE/ECE Field Experiences.

Among those interns and cooperating teachers from Garrett County are Linda Martin, Oakland, and the cooperating teacher, Ms. Cynthia Kolbe; and Nancy Stewart, Oakland, and Ms. Donna Verdini, cooperating teacher.

All are currently affiliated with the Accident Elementary School.

Terra Alta Man To Face Charges

A West Virginia man will face charges Thursday of resisting arrest, failure to obey the orders of a police officer, disorderly conduct, and disorderly intoxication as the result of a domestic dispute in an Oakland residence last September.

Michael Douglas Koch, 20, Terra Alta, was arrested for continuing to interfere with the apprehension of another man by Oakland City Police, Sheriff's Deputies, and State Police Officers.

A plea entering is scheduled for 9:30 a.m.

Census Survey

To Be Conducted

The U. S. Bureau of the Census will conduct a regular survey on employment and unemployment in this area during the week of March 16-20, according to Porter S. Rickley, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Philadelphia.

In addition to the usual questions on current employment, the March survey will include others concerning the work experience and income of household members last year and whether they have moved since March 1980.

Households in this area are part of the sample of 78,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all U. S. households, Rickley said.

The monthly survey is conducted for the U. S. Department of Labor and provides a continuous record of activity in the labor force. The January survey indicated that of the 106.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 97.7 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 7.4 percent, the same as in December and little different from the rates which have prevailed since May of last year.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile totals, according to Rickley.

Poison Prevention Week Underway

Poison Prevention Week has been designated for March 15 through March 21. The week is designed to focus attention on the child poisoning problem and remind adults of their responsibility for keeping poisons and children apart. The theme for the week is "Children Act Fast - So Do Poisons."

The Maryland Poison Center, a division of the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy, handled over 42,500 calls during 1980. Of these, almost 30,000 involved actual exposures to potentially poisonous products. Children under five years account for approximately 59% of these exposures, according to the center. Statistics collected from the Division of Poison Control within the Food and Drug Administration report that plants have become the number one object of interest to children under five years of age. Soaps, detergents, and cleansers are the second most common agent with disinfectants, cleansers, and window washing products as the top individual items.

In Maryland, poison prevention education recommends poison-proofing the home, the use of the MR. YUK poison warning labels, and proper use of safety closures as effective means to prevent accidental poisonings.

If a poisoning does occur, the Maryland Poison Center is as close as the nearest telephone. Maryland residents may call (1) 800-492-2414, toll free.

Despite the success of safety caps and education, health officials say that vigilance remains the best antidote against child poisonings. In other words: Keep poisons away from children.

Medical Specialists Assigned To Local National Guard Battalion

MEDICAL SPECIALISTS JOIN ARMORY — SSG Rick Wakefield, left, and SSG Tom Sedlak, right, perform routine blood pressure monitoring at CO C, 121 ENGR Battalion Oakland Armory, during a weekend drill. Wakefield and Sedlak recently joined the Oakland unit. They will develop a weight control program, provide a dispensary during weekend drills, go to the field to provide first aid and instruct unit members in basic first aid and CPR.

For the first time in the history of Co C, 121st Engineering Battalion, MDARNG, Oakland Armory, there are now attached two medical specialists, SSG Rick Wakefield and SSG Tom Sedlak. Their duties consist of developing a weight control program, providing a dispensary during weekend drills, going to the field to provide first aid and instructing unit members in basic first aid and Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation.

SSG Tom Sedlak came to the unit from Omaha, Nebraska, where he was assigned to the 82nd Field Hospital as a Respiratory Therapy Specialist. Prior service includes two and one-half years as a military policeman assigned to the U.S.A. Executive Flight Detachment, where he provided security for the Presidential helicopters stationed at Ft. Belvoir, Va. During that tour of duty he was awarded the Army Commendation Medal, Good Conduct Medal, Presidential Service Badge and Residential Unit Citation with Oak Leaf Cluster.

Sedlak resides in Loch Lynn with his wife, Joyce, and daughter Kendra. He is employed at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital as assistant director of the Cardio-Pulmonary Department.

SSG Rick Wakefield, a native Garrett Countyman, came to Co C, 121 ENGR BN from active duty where he was assigned to Walter Reed Army Medical Center as a Psychiatric Specialist. Wakefield spent over six years on active duty with assignments ranging from stateside duty in San Antonio, Texas to overseas tours in Athens, Greece and Rome, Italy. During his six years of active duty, SSG Wakefield was awarded the Army Commendation Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster, Good Conduct Medal and N.A.T.O. Reliance Badge.

Wakefield resides in Friendsville and is presently employed at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in the Central Services Department.

During the next few months Sedlak and Wakefield will provide free blood pressure tests at Radio Shack, Oakland. The space is being provided by Ken Metheny, owner and Past Commanding Officer of Co C, 121 ENGR BN.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Sergeant Kenneth Sukow, Accident, a member of the West Virginia Air National Guards' 167th Tactical Airline Group, located in Martinsburg, W. Va., returned home recently after serving two weeks on active duty with the Air National Guard.

FUNDS RAISED THROUGH TOOTSIE ROLL CAMPAIGN

Through the sponsorship of the Knights of Columbus, Oakland Council No. 1771, the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped raised $438.46 selling tootsie rolls during the Autumn Glory parade. Pictured above, left, is Terry Wakefield, GOH member, accepting the check from John Kurilla, treasurer of K of C. The State Council of K of C each year donates tootsie rolls to raise funds for the handicapped. This year GOH members Terry Wakefield, Joan Ivanouski and Gerry Kahl dressed as clowns and walked among the crowd along the Autumn Glory parade route accepting donations for the tootsie rolls. The tootsie roll campaign for GOH has been sponsored for five or six years in Garrett County, and Kurilla said this year's was the biggest campaign ever.

Sergeant Sukow and 83 other members assigned to the Civil Engineering Flight, deployed first to Travis Field Air National Guard Training Site, Savannah, Georgia, then to Eglin AFB, Florida. While at Travis, Sukow, a Grounds Pavement Specialist, was involved in numerous road repair and paving activities.

A prior army man, Sergeant Sukow has been in the Air Guard for six months. When not participating in guard activities, Sergeant Sukow works for the Maryland State Highway Department. He and his wife, Sandra, their daughters, Cassandra and Vicki, reside at Star Rt. No. 1, Accident.

Navy Cryptologic Technician Seaman Recruit Tamara J. Ludwig, daughter of Dorothy A. and Robert E. Ludwig Sr. Route 1, Oakland, has reported for duty with Naval Security Group Activity, Edzell, Scotland.

A 1980 graduate of Southern High School, she joined the Navy in September of 1980.

BUILDING FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE

Question of the year... How do you build financial independence by the time you are ready to retire? A lot of people ask themselves this question... but only a few find the answer. In fact, only six out of every 100 persons reaching age 65 have found or will find the answer.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce, a few years ago, distributed a pie chart. Its figures said that 6% of those 100 persons aged 65 or over were financially independent. This chart had a foot note that stated, "five of those six people were financially independent due to their ownership of real estate." How do you go about building your own independence in this manner? The first step is to buy the property you and your family need to live in. The second step is to purchase another piece of property to build up from. This will be your cornerstone. How do you go about this? Drop into our office and we'll be glad to discuss it with you.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Keep A Safe Distance From Electric Lines

As the weather begins to warm up, many people will be resuming outdoor work and activities around their homes. This always brings renewed danger of contact accidents involving electric lines. Please be extra careful when working or coming near them. Serious injury or even death could result. Keep a safe distance.

<h3>TRIMMING TREES</h3> When electric lines are near trees, extreme care must be taken to avoid any contact with wires or accidental cutting of the wire itself.	<h3>SUBSTATION FENCES</h3> Under no circumstances should anyone climb poles or fences surrounding substations. Death or serious injury could result.	<h3>ANTENNAS</h3> When installing or repairing TV, CB or other antennas, make certain they cannot come in contact with or fall into electric wires.
<h3>FALLEN WIRES</h3> Always stay away from fallen or downed wires. Should you see downed wires, call your nearest Potomac Edison office immediately. Keep others away until repairmen arrive.	<h3>SIGNS AND POSTERS</h3> Don't attach signs, posters or any other items to electric poles. Staples or nails create safety hazards for linemen who must climb these poles.	<h3>ALUMINUM LADDERS</h3> Never position any ladder so that it or you will be in the vicinity of electric wires. Aluminum ladders can be especially hazardous.

Events Above The Mountaintop

Paul S. Frank, Jr.

Friday, the Sun will cross the equator at three minutes past noon. This will be the time of the Vernal Equinox, the beginning of Spring. For those living at the equator, the Sun will be directly overhead just as it will be next September 22nd. For those who may be at either the North Pole or the South Pole, the Sun will be at the horizon all day. As the days pass, the South Pole will be in 24 hours of darkness. However, the North Pole will be in daylight all day as the Sun rises higher in the sky each day.

Moon

Friday, the Moon will pass through its Full Moon phase at 10:22 a. m. This will be the time that the Moon will be opposite the Sun in the sky. Moonrise will be near the time of sunset and moonset will be near the time of sunrise.

Next Tuesday, the Moon will be 405,719 kilometers (252,156 miles) from Earth. This apogee will be at the greatest distance between Earth and Moon during March.

Visible Planets

Mercury, Jupiter, and Saturn will be the visible planets during the week. Mercury may be observed very low in the southeast shortly before sunrise. Jupiter and Saturn are among the stars of Virgo. They will rise as the Sun sets and be visible all night.

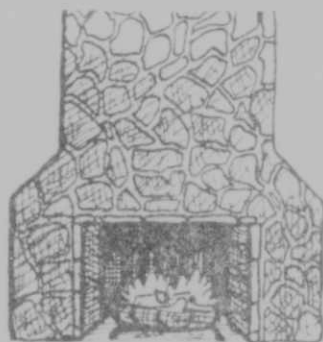

Daylight Increases

By the end of the week, Tuesday, there will be 16 minutes more daylight each day. Sunrise was at 6:24 this morning. Sunset will be 12 hours 3 minutes later at 6:27 p. m. Next Tuesday, sunrise will be at 6:14

a. m. with sunset at 6:33 p. m.

One Fined In Assault Case

The owner of the Wisp Ski Resort, McHenry, was found guilty of battery stemming from charges brought against him by Eugene Spilman, Jr., Cockeysville in Garrett County District Court last week.

Helmuth Martin Heise, 33, Oakland was fined $25 for his part in the assault.

According to the complainant, Heise and two other men, Richard Glatfelter, 63, McHenry, and Robert Dean Yaste, 29, Accident, physically attacked him in the parking area of the ski resort after allegedly accusing him of selling stolen ski lift tickets.

Glatfelter and Yaste pled not guilty, and were given probation before judgment by Judge Milton Gursion.

A Swanton man, David Lee Kitzmiller, 19, was found guilty of theft charges lodged against him by Sheriff's deputy Martin Van Evans.

According to the report, Kitzmiller entered a local electronics shop and stole a stereo amplifier valued at $29.95.

Judge Gursion fined the defendant $25 plus court costs and placed him on 12 months unsupervised probation.

Assessment Answers & Tax Talk

by James Burley

Under the present assessing method, only one assessment notice is generated in a three-year period because the notice is issued upon a revaluation of property, and only one revaluation occurs during this cycle. Likewise, there is but one regular appeal time because an appeal period only follows the issuance of a notice.

In a situation where the 45-day appeal period has transpired, what recourse remains to an owner who belatedly believes the new valuation placed on the property is too high? Must the owner wait until the next assessment notice arrives three years later? From the owner's standpoint, this is not the best of situations, but several opportunities are open.

First, the owner can simply ask - it is best to do this in writing - that the assessor review the case to be certain that all factors are correct and that the records are free of any errors. Mistakes found can be corrected, and missing information can be considered. Either could lead to an adjustment which would be favorably applicable to the forthcoming property tax. However, no new notice would be issued, and the result would not be subject to further appeal to a higher authority because to do so would compromise the status of those filing a timely appeal.

Second, a provision in the Maryland Code affords the owner the right to appeal through the petition process at any time prior to the next date of finality, and any action ensuing from this appeal will be valid for the taxable year that follows the forthcoming date of finality. The annual date of finality is any January 1.

The taxpayer makes this request on a standard form supplied by the assessor. It is called, Application for Revaluation of Real Property. The property will be reviewed, and a hearing, if one has been requested, will be held. Afterward, a final notice will be issued. The owner then has the same opportunity to appeal to the higher levels in proper process. The process follows virtually the same procedure as if the notice of assessment had been appealed in the first place, except that any ultimate alteration of value will affect - and this is a key point - only the tax bill issued subsequent to the date of finality this petition precedes. Thus, if a taxpayer petitions in May, any adjusted value will be favorable not to the tax bill due that July but to the one following.

This may be complicated enough for the moment, but there are two other related ramifications upon which light should be shed. In the case of a newly acquired property where the transfer occurs between January 1 and June 30, the new owner may appeal the valuation affecting the next taxable year so long as this is done within 60 days of the transfer date. In the other instance, where ownership changes at such a time as to make impossible the necessary notice period before the imminent dates of finality, the acquiring owner, meaning the new owner, then has 30 days from the date of the notice to appeal. The likelihood of this happening would be limited to mid-December to the end of the year, coinciding with the brief period between the date of the notice that had gone routinely to the old owner of record and the upcoming January 1, date of finality.

Letter from the Owners

Dear Friends:

Susan and I would like to take this opportunity to extend our appreciation for the warm welcome that we received with the opening of our store location back in the Oakland area. As most of you have known, I am a native resident of Garrett County, born in Oakland and raised in the Swallow Falls area.

In the past four years I have worked endless hours developing My "O" Tire Service in the Frostburg area. It is with great pleasure that I can say that we have developed well and are now able to provide a dedicated full service tire store complete with retreading both passenger and heavy truck at our facility in Oakland. We have further plans to establish a full line of auto services such as front end alignment, shocks and brake work and electronic tune up with qualified factory trained mechanics. These things we hope to have available for you by early summer.

During the month of March we are extending an opportunity to all to apply for an interest-free six-month budget account. These accounts, once established, will have the opportunity to purchase tires or any other products as well as services with the ability to charge against their budget account and be billed on equal installments.

Again, we sincerely thank you and invite you in to visit with us.

Sincerely Yours,
Russell & Susan Sines

"But I thought Medicare covered everything?"

It's covered by Medicare, but there's a catch. Medicare only covers the cost of the service, not the cost of the facility. So if you're in a private room in a nursing home, you'll have to pay for that. And if you're in a private room in a hospital, you'll have to pay for that. So Medicare doesn't cover everything. ENERGY TIP — Keep all lamps and lighting fixtures clean because dust absorbs light.

A good self-concept is important for everyone, including children. Parents can help their children feel good about themselves and ultimately develop a positive self-concept. Here are some ways you can help:

- Build the child's sense of basic trust. Let him know that you accept, respect and trust him and seek to earn his acceptance, respect, and trust.
- Learn why the child acts the way he does. Is he jealous of a new baby? Bored? Frustrated?
- Be yourself. Accept your own feelings about yourself and about your child.
- Express your unpleasant feelings verbally. Rather than bottle up anger until it explodes, tell the child how you feel, while trying to express your feelings in a quiet voice.

Gasoline Use
Up In January

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced recently that gasoline consumption in the state totaled 154,322,381 gallons during January 1981, up 2.6% from the 150,462,052 gallons consumed during January 1980.

"This is the fourth month in the last five when gasoline consumption increased," Goldstein said. "The first months in which consumption showed significant increases were September and October 1980, when prices were very stable or actually declining."

The buying habits of the consumer following the decontrol of gasoline and the resulting sharp price increases are not reflected in the January 1981 figures, according to the comptroller.

"It is possible that the sharp increases in prices will result in more involuntary conservation, such as we have seen in the past 24 months," Goldstein noted.

The upward trend in gasoline consumption has resulted in increased motor fuel tax collections. For the first eight months of Fiscal Year 1981, motor fuel tax revenue totals $126,821,729, up approximately three-quarters of one percent from the $123,913,425 collected for the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Maryland Revenue Estimates Updated

The Maryland Board of Revenue Estimates, consisting of State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein (chairman), State Treasurer William S. James and State Budget Secretary Thomas W. Schmidt, met with Governor Harry Hughes Friday and informed him that estimates of state revenues were being increased by $5.5 million for Fiscal Year 1981 and by $2 million for Fiscal Year 1982. These increases bring the projected General Fund Balance at the close of Fiscal Year 1981 to $110,896,000 and at the close of Fiscal Year 1982 to $7,637,000.

The board warned, however, that the increases were primarily due to one-time items, and that it had actually decreased its estimate of retail sales tax revenue by $11 million for Fiscal Year 1981 (to $743,968,000) and by $10 million for Fiscal Year 1982 (to $805,826,000). The sales tax is Maryland's second largest source of General Fund revenue.

"It was necessary to reduce the sales tax estimate because those revenues have been running below estimates for the past three months," Goldstein said. "Continued high interest rates, inflation and unemployment are factors that still cloud the sales tax picture."

revenues were increased by $10 million (to $177,910,000) to account for this delay in the "instant" game.

"We were able to increase our estimates of certain other smaller and one-time revenues by $8.5 million for Fiscal Year 1981, and by $2 million for Fiscal Year 1982," Goldstein said.

The board also noted three factors which could adversely affect state revenues during Fiscal Year 1982. The first is legislation currently being considered which would prohibit the operation of all "instant" lottery games. If approved, this measure would reduce Fiscal Year 1982 lottery revenues by $30 million. The second factor includes pending budget cuts affecting revenue producing units of the State Comptroller's Office. These cuts could reduce collection of Fiscal Year 1982 revenues by as much as $10 million. The final factor noted was President Reagan's proposal to accelerate the depreciation allowance on business assets, which would reduce Maryland corporation income tax receipts by $8 million for Fiscal Year 1982, including $3.5 million in General Funds and $4.5 million in revenues dedicated to the Transportation Trust Fund.

Church News

The three churches of the Bittering Parish had a social hour on Friday evening for David Rockwood, his wife and young son. Refreshments were served by all of the churches. During the evening, Mr. Rockwood spoke briefly to the group, thanking them for their hospitality, and giving some facts about himself and family. There were about 100 in attendance.

On Sunday morning Mr. Rockwood conducted worship services in all three churches. Immediately following, Dr. Donald Anderson, secretary of the W. Pa.-W. Va. Synod conducted a congregational meeting in each church for the purpose of voting to extend a call for Mr. Rockwood to serve the parish as its new pastor. From members of each of the three councils came an affirmative vote to extend the call to him, and the congregational voting followed. St. John's voted unanimously to extend the call. Zion voted unanimously, and a large majority in Emmanuel voted the same way, so a call was officially extended to him. Other formalities will be cleared away within 30 days, and the parish will receive his acceptance of the call.

He will graduate from Gettysburg Seminary on May 22.

Tax Offices To Remain Open On Maryland Day

Maryland State Comptroller Louis J. Goldstein reminded taxpayers this week that all 12 offices of the Maryland Income Tax Division will remain open on Wednesday, March 25, when most state offices will be closed in observance of Maryland Day.

"Our offices will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. to offer taxpayer assistance in person or over the telephone," Goldstein said.

The comptroller also noted that taxpayers should not automatically reach for a Maryland "short form" just because they filed a "short form" to the Internal Revenue Service.

"This year there are several benefits that are available to taxpayers on their Maryland tax returns that are not available on their federal tax forms. You don't have to itemize deductions to claim these benefits, but you must file the 'long form' 502," Goldstein stated.

Among the benefits available this year are: up to $400 in tax-free interest income for married couples (up to $200 for single taxpayers); a subtraction of up to 20 cents per mile for use of your personal vehicle while volunteering services for non-profit organizations whose principal purpose is providing medical, health or nutritional care; and a subtraction of one-half of a political contribution made during 1980 to a maximum of $100 for married couples (up to $50 for single taxpayers).

"Remember, it's not necessary to itemize deductions to claim these benefits, but you must file the 'long form' 502. If you would like to have your Maryland tax return completed free of charge, bring a copy of your completed federal return and all W-2 statements to any of our offices," Goldstein said.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

FONDA FAVORITE — Jane Fonda is my favorite actress. How many movies has she been in? When did she begin her acting career? — Nina Kanter, Lido Beach, N.Y.

Jane Fonda, daughter of Henry, made her film debut in 1960 with "Tall Story." She's appeared in more than 25 films since then.

Jane Fonda

LIVELY SCARECROW — My friend says Ray Bolger, who played the Scarecrow in "The Wizard of Oz," is dead and I say he isn't. Who is right? — M.C. Enfield, Conn.

You are. Of the stars billed over the title (Bolger, Judy Garland, Jack Haley and Frank Morgan), only Bolger still lives.

WIVES AND KIDS — What was Bing Crosby's first wife's name and how many children did they have? His second wife is not the Cathy Crosby of "It's Incredible." Is she? How many children did they have? — H.H. Havre, Mont.

Bing and his first wife, Dixie Lee, had four sons. Kathryn Crosby (not Cathy) had two boys and a girl.

THIRD TRY WINS — This is the third time I have written and I hope it might be possible to get an answer. My husband and I have been having a "discussion" for about two years and there is $30 riding on the answer. I say Sam Jaffe, who played Dr. Zerkow on "Ben Casey," was married to Betty Ackerman, who was also on the series, at the time the series was running. My husband disagrees. — Mrs. E.H. Douglas, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Collect the $30 from your husband, Sam and Betty were indeed married when the series was on the air. On the set, they shared a dressing room with both of their names on the door. Someone told me a visiting actress playing a guest lead saw the names and, not knowing they were married, asked in shock, "You have actors and actresses sharing rooms here?"

The reality behind 'Berlin Tunnel 21'

Five years ago, a German actress named Ute Christensen folded herself into a tight bundle as her fiancé welded her into the rear of his American sedan, between the back seat and the reconstructed trunk compartment. They traveled from East Berlin to West Berlin, for two and one-half hours, finally escaping through the Berlin Wall.

That symbol of oppression is the centerpiece of "Berlin Tunnel 21," a dramatic new film in which Mrs. Christensen stars with Richard Thomas, Horst Buchholz and Jose Ferrer, Wednesday, March 25 on CBS.

In the TV story Mrs. Christensen portrays the woman friend of an American (Thomas) who tries to get her out of the eastern sector of Berlin. The young man, who remains in Berlin after his discharge from the U.S. Army, plans her escape, and organizes a group of other men who have loved ones on the other side to dig a tunnel beneath the wall.

It is the same wall that, in real life, Mrs. Christensen's husband, Allen, brought her through on a quiet autumn day. Allen had a transit visa that allowed him access to and from East Berlin. So he devised a clever, though daring, escape plan to rescue the East Berlin-born actress, who was not allowed to cross the border to marry him.

On the night of the escape the couple met at an out-of-the-way area of East Berlin, where he welded a sheet of metal around her huddled form, wedged between the back seat and the trunk. He covered that with a scrap of carpeting, and threw in some clothing and small appliances as camouflage.

"The border guards opened the trunk, but they did not detect anything or anybody," the actress recalls.

However, the one thing the couple forgot was an air duct to make her ride safer. When she finally arrived at their pre-planned destination, she had almost suffocated from the fumes seeping into the back of the car. She awoke to freedom in a hospital.

Although the actress demurs whenever it is suggested that "Berlin Tunnel 21" is her story, she notes that the drama is a reality for many Berliners.

"It is more than a romantic story about an escape. It is a story about freedom. Escape stories like mine exist in all variations in Berlin."

"The human struggle to be free is a universal theme that most people can relate to," says Richard Michaels, director of "Berlin Tunnel 21," which was filmed entirely on location in West Berlin.

"Imagine waking up one morning and seeing a barricade of men with guns, barbed wire, tanks, chains cordoning the middle of the street," he says.

"Unlikely scenario? But that is what happened in 1961 when the border between East and West Berlin was closed, restricting the flow of traffic."

"Berlin Tunnel 21" is a story of interruptions, a feeling most Berliners have even today, of being simultaneously walled in and walled out.

"It is also a film about how some people refuse to accept the interruption of the Wall in their lives," says Michaels, who has directed such acclaimed television dramas as "Scared Straight! Another Story" and "And Your Name Is Jonah."

Despite the contrivances that exist today to restrict most East Berliners from traveling to West Berlin — mined land areas and waterways, dogs trained to kill, armed border guards and the gray concrete monstrosity of the Wall itself — East Berliners continue to risk their lives at whatever the cost to gain freedom," says Michaels.

During the first week of filming, for example, a 19-year-old East German border guard shot and killed a friend and fellow guard attempting to get to the Western sector, some 10 yards away.

"That's more than a scenario. That's real life, the daily human drama that continues to unfold of people throwing off oppression in any way they can," Michaels says.

The reincarnations of old TV series

By Ruth Thompson

Occasionally, the star of a hit series will cause the show's demise by quitting. More often, however, a cancellation is decided by network executives who feel that a show's popularity might soon run down. Do the executives guess right? Sometimes. But sometimes not — witness the growing popularity of updated editions of long-gone series.

Already this year, two departed series have been re-created in slightly altered form.

It was Redd Foxx himself who ended the original run of "Sanford and Son." He moved from NBC, the network that had carried it, to ABC, where he was given great creative scope and a chance to develop a variety show or any other format he thought might work. But nothing he tried there turned out as funny as Redd playing the crafty, crochety Fred Sanford.

To paraphrase Fred Sanford — Redd Foxx is no dummy. He reactivated the Sanford character and, after trying to upgrade the setting, moved Sanford back to the junkyard with his nemesis, Aunt Esther (LaWanda Page), very much in evidence. He's also back at NBC.

When the entire cast of "The Brady Bunch" reunited for a January special on NBC, "The Brady Girls Get Married," the purpose was to launch a spinoff of the original series. It has since gone weekly. "The Brady Brides," starring Eve Plumb and Maureen McCormick, both from the original series. Also cast in the spinoff is the original household's trouble-shooting helper, Ann B. Davis.

Ann B. Davis

An interesting sidelight on the very likable Miss Davis is, that except for doing an occasional commercial, she had all but retired from television. She has been living as a lay member of an Episcopal religious community in Denver where, she said a few years ago, her commitment to the community was permanent. However, its clergyman leader encourages her to take a leave of absence whenever there is work she would like to do.

When William Conrad reactivated his private eye role last fall for the CBS movie, "The Return of Frank Cannon," there was speculation that it also presaged a return of the "Cannon" series. But even if CBS had wanted it, the timing was wrong. William Conrad had signed for the "Nero Wolfe" series on NBC, which, incidentally, hasn't proven as popular a vehicle for him as "Cannon."

The latest of the good old series to lure its former stars back into their makeup and costumes is "The Munsters," which ended its original run in 1966. NBC is the network and "The Munsters' Revenge" is the title for the update, a two-hour movie format. The basic cast of Fred Gwynne, Yvonne DeCarlo and Al Lewis, were joined by Sid Caesar, as the villainous Dr. Diabolo.

THURSDAY

Gil Gerard plays Buck Rogers in this action-adventure series about the American space hero and his dangerous exploits against enemies from other galaxies in "Buck Rogers," airing Thursday nights on NBC.

The zany castaways of "Gilligan's Island" have done two reunion shows in recent years. So have Robert Conrad and Ross Martin for their "Wild, Wild West," which was a casualty of a reaction to "violence" on television. However, it was as much fantasy as action, and a wild farce from start to finish. It was also a top-rated series. But perhaps the all-time misjudgment of what the public wants was the cancellation of "Star Trek," allegedly because an executive at the network believed science fiction was waning in popularity.

TV TATTLE

King of kid shows

In 1956, a young man named George Schlatter produced his first major show, "Children Are People, Too." Now, 25 years later, Schlatter is producing another show aimed at a school-age audience, "Real Kids."

"I've always been fascinated with kids," says Schlatter, whose adult shows — "Laugh-In" and "Real People" — were hits as well. "They're honest, they're funny — and they're unpredictable."

"What we're trying to do is let kids talk to or entertain each other without benefit — or handicap — of an adult image."

The average age of the studio hosts on "Real Kids," which airs on Sunday nights, is a little over 10 years old.

"One of the things we're trying to show is that you don't have to be a superkid to be special. Sure, we'll feature some unusual or funny or really talented kids, but we'll also show you some average youngsters who became heroes or are working their butts off to overcome some enormous handicap."

Rogers stars again

Kenny Rogers proved himself such a star in his first motion picture-for-television that CBS has signed him for another.

"Coward of the County" began production recently in Crawfordsville, Ga. and, once again, as in "Kenny Rogers as The Gambler," the movie uses a song of Rogers' for its narrative springboard. The song "Coward of the County" is featured on two of Rogers' albums.

The story begins late in 1941 and continues into the early days of World War II. The plot revolves around a youngster who is judged a coward in his small Southern town because he refuses to fight.

Kenny Rogers plays the boy's uncle, a flamboyant preacher.

Vanderbilt mini-series

First, her own jeans, and now, her own mini-series.

Gloria Vanderbilt will be the subject of an NBC mini-series based on the best-selling book "Little Gloria ... Happy at Last," by Barbara Goldsmith. The book focuses on the wealthy society figures who, in 1934, fought over the custody of the young Gloria Vanderbilt, a child with a $2.5 million trust fund.

Involved in the sensational custody case were Gloria's mother, Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, who was left impoverished by the death of her husband, Reggie, Gloria's aunt, Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney, sister of Reggie, and the founder of the Whitney Museum of Modern Art, and Gloria's aunt Thelma, twin of her mother, who was intimately associated with England's Prince of Wales.

Mickey Rooney

Remarkable clown

CBS announced production of "Leave em Laughing," the true story of a Chicago circus clown who, with his wife, Shirley, cared for dozens of homeless children while struggling to find regular employment in his profession.

Mickey Rooney will star as Jack Thum, the beloved clown. Anne Jackson and Red Buttons will also star. Former child star Jackie Cooper will direct the production.

In the story, Jack Thum tries to find enough clown jobs to support his ever-growing family. When told he has terminal cancer, Jack learns to face his own plight and that of his wife and dependent children.

FRIDAY

Bill Bixby plays Dr. David Banner in "The Incredible Hulk," airing every Friday night on CBS.

(Station reserves the right to make last-minute changes.)

SATURDAY

Anthony Michael Hall plays a boy who craves adventure, and Roberts Blossom is cast as an old treasure hunter in "The Gold Ring," a two-part presentation of "ABC Weekend Specials" to air Saturday, March 21 and March 28.

(Station reserves the right to make last-minute changes.)

CLARK GABLE AND Vivien Leigh star as the tempestuous couple, Rhett Butler and Scarlett O'Hara, in the epic story of the Civil War and Reconstruction. Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland also star in "Gone With the Wind," to be rebroadcast in two parts, Sunday, March 22 and Tuesday, March 24 on CBS.

Dairy Farmers Face Higher Labor Costs

Higher labor costs in 1981 may force the nation's dairymen and other farmers to seek new ways to improve their farm labor productivity, says Dr. John W. Wysong, Extension farm management specialist and professor of agricultural economics at the University of Maryland.

Because they usually hire permanent, full-time workers for crop and livestock production, dairymen in particular will have higher payrolls to meet this year, Dr. Wysong notes.

However, the quantity of labor they employ per unit of output can be reduced by using more and better capital investments to enhance total resource productivity. Congress should ease the burden of fixed capital investments by legislation permitting faster rates of depreciation on new farm equipment and building investments which are aimed at improving human work productivity, the Maryland Extension specialist declared in a recent position paper.

Traditionally, increased farm efficiency and higher productivity have restrained costs of labor per hundred-weight of milk and meat produced, says Dr. Wysong.

For example, a three-man labor team on a modern dairy farm in Maryland can maintain 90 or more cows. By contrast, a three-man-equivalent labor force managed only 45 cows in the 1950s.

Similarly, the average milk yield per cow in Maryland has doubled in this period—from 6,000 pounds per year in the 1950s to more than 12,000 pounds per cow in 1980. This upward trend in labor productivity has helped to offset the rises in wages and social security taxes over the years, restraining retail prices for consumers in the process, he concluded.

Specialist Says State Dairymen Use Sound Management, Economics

Supply-side economics and management are nothing new for progressive Maryland livestock farmers, notes Dr. John W. Wysong, Extension farm management specialist and professor of agricultural economics at the University of Maryland.

In recent years, dairymen in Maryland have improved their on-farm efficiency through "reallocating processes," Dr. Wysong says, and they set a new state record of 12,358 pounds of milk per cow in 1980.

At the same time, they have restrained their total marketable milk production largely in line with changing total consumer demands for Class I fluid milk and dairy product uses in the Mid-Atlantic milk marketing area, he says.

However, at the national level, dairy farmers in 1980 set an all-time record output of 128.1 billion pounds of milk with a record average production of 11,827 pounds per cow. This represented a net expansion of nearly 12 billion pounds of milk from just five years earlier, Dr. Wysong points out.

Last year's high U. S. production has resulted in a softening of manufactured milk prices at wholesale and a buildup of federal government commercial storage holdings, Dr. Wysong observes.

As a result, milk prices relative to other animal product prices—such as beef, lamb, pork and broilers—are being reviewed by the Reagan administration for possible changes in the support price levels in line with estimated production costs and historical parity price relationships.

Class I utilization of milk (fluid milk) in the Mid-Atlantic milk marketing area (Federal Order 4) has declined from about 65 percent in 1970 to about 51 percent in 1980 as total production in the area has expanded, Dr. Wysong points out.

These total production increases occurred even though Class I poundage for fluid uses declined. Per capita demand for fluid milk also declined during this period to offset population and consumer income gains.

Meanwhile, Class II utilization increased sharply from 1970 to 1980 as production of cheese, butter and dried nonfat milk powder expanded to meet market requirements.

This expansion in Mid-Atlantic area milk output since 1970 has occurred principally in Pennsylvania, Dr. Wysong says.

Nearly 21,000 Farmland Acres Served By APC

Last year, 20,936 acres of Maryland farmland were treated and served by one or more conservation practices available under the Agricultural Conservation Program, according to Stuart Peterson, Acting Chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The ACP is the oldest and most widely used ASCS program.

To help farmers solve soil and water conservation problems, ASCS provided cost-share funds totaling $952,780. "This assistance was used by 885 producers to carry out needed conservation measures," Peterson said. Such measures included planting trees, constructing water impoundment reservoirs and terrace systems, building sediment retention structures and establishing sod waterways. Cropland Protective Cover, Sod Waterways, Forest Tree Stand Improvement and Permanent Vegetative Cover Establishment are the most used conservation practices in the State.

"We have an obligation to protect soil and water resources for the benefit of farmers and the public," Peterson said, "and the ACP endeavors to meet this obligation."

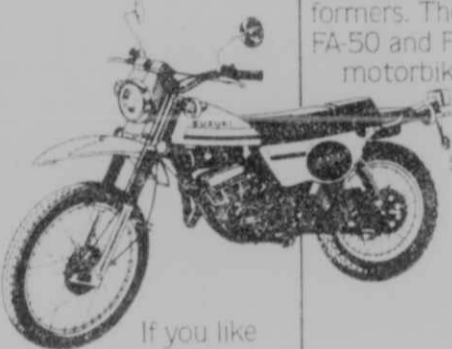

He said that the objectives of the program are to provide solutions to the problems of runoff from farmland being a source of agricultural pollution, or land eroded by wind and water.

About 960 farms were enrolled in the 1980 program and 56 entered into long-term agreements to conduct practices over the next 3 to 10 years.

The agency is currently conducting sign-up for the 1981 ACP. For applications or additional information persons should visit the county ASCS office.

Agriculture Day Is Proclaimed

"Agriculture: It's Your Heartbeat, America!" This is the theme for the nationwide observance of "Agriculture Day" scheduled for Thursday, March 19, according to Charles Shafer of Southern States Oakland Coop.

"It's all part of the nationwide Agriculture Day observance which will unite volunteers in all parts of the country in a coordinated effort to communicate the message of agriculture's enormous productivity and efficiency to top decision-makers, the news media and urban audiences nationwide," Shafer said.

For the first time since its beginning in 1973, Agriculture Day has been officially proclaimed a national observance by the U. S. Congress in a joint resolution approved by the President. The theme grew out of the contributions agriculture makes to the U. S. economy as the nation's No. 1 industry.

"It's essential that the American people understand that their economic future is linked directly and substantially to the health of our agricultural production and distribution industry," says Agriculture Day Foundation President Bob Lanphier. He is

Feed Costs Continue To Rise

Maryland farmers paid more for all feeds in February than a year ago, announced the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. Increases ranged from five to 29 percent above February 1980 prices and were mostly up from the month before. The exceptions were broiler feed, which decreased $5.00 from January's price of $25.00 per ton, and Middlings which remained unchanged. All other feed prices increased from one to five percent above the previous month.

The prices producers received in February for most commodities were also above a year ago and generally above January's prices as the Index of Prices Received for all commodities rose 31 points (14 percent) above a year earlier and one point (4 percent) above the previous month. Beef cattle at $49.40 per hundredweight, calves at $92.60 per hundredweight, and fresh apples, at 13.5 cents per pound, were the only items with prices below last year.

The All Crops Index, at 260 percent of its 1967 base, increased 34 points (15 percent) above last year, but decreased three points (1 percent) from last month. All crop items were above last February, but only sweet potatoes and corn were above the month before, gaining 60 cents to $16.10 per hundredweight and four cents to $3.72 per bushel respectively. Wheat, the other exception, held steady at $4.45 per bushel.

The Livestock and Livestock Products Index rose 39 points (14 percent) above February 1980 and three points (one percent) above January 1981. Beef cattle and calves prices averaged below last year while beef cattle, hog and egg prices fell below a month earlier.

president of the DICKEY-John Corporation based in Auburn, Ill.

Lanphier pointed to the following facts illustrating the role agriculture plays in the U. S. economy.

- Nation's No. 1 industry — assets of $927 billion.
- Nation's No. 1 inflation fighter — with productivity growth five times that of non-farm business over the past 5 years.

- Nation's No. 1 exporter — $40 billion in 1980.
- "We are proud to be associated with a strongly united effort — the telling of the tremendous success story that is U. S. agriculture," Shafer said. "We firmly believe that by working together under the 'Heartbeat' theme we can build a better informed urban public."

Value Of Exported Goods Increases

The total value of Maryland exported agricultural goods rose 18 percent from a year earlier to $195.4 million.

The value of exported poultry and poultry products, at $24.7 million in 1980, ranked Maryland eighth in the nation in that category. This was 67 percent above the $14.8 million reported in 1979 and accounted for nearly 13 percent of the value of all items exported from this state.

Maryland also ranked ninth in the nation in tobacco exports for 1980, as the value equaled $17.4 million. The value of tobacco exported rose eight percent above the $16.1 million reported in 1979.

Feed grain exports valued at $72.6 million, was 23 percent above a year earlier and made up 37 percent of the total value of all Maryland exports. Feed grains were the number one group of items exported from Maryland.

Soybeans and soybean products were the second largest commodity group exported, comprising 22.2 percent of the total, at $43.4 million. That value, however, fell one percent below the previous year.

IN MEMORIAM

In Memory of Alice Jenkins our dear mother, wife, daughter and sister, who passed away one year ago March 11. The depth of sorrow we cannot tell of the one we loved so well. And Alice while you sleep, a peaceful sleep, your memory we shall always keep. Beside your grave we often stand, and try in vain to understand. Forgive us, Lord, in tears we pray, we loved you so very much, why couldn't you stay? We cannot keep from wondering, no matter how we try. And in our sad and troubled hearts we keep on asking why? You bid your loved ones their last goodbye, you were gone before we knew it. Just to be together in the same old way, would be our greatest wish today. Each time we see your pictures, you smile and seem to say, "Don't cry I'm only sleeping, we'll meet again some day." In our hearts, your memories still linger sweetly, tenderly, fondly and true, there is not a day goes by that we do not think of you. So all is left that we can do, is pray and leave your grave. And we will leave behind a token of love to the best wife, mother, daughter, and sister ever made. May God grant you eternal love and rest. Sometimes it seems so very hard to understand why certain things must be. But I know the Lord has a reason for it all, beyond our power to see. Very sadly missed and loved.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Mt. Lake Park Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a public hearing on March 23, 1981, at 7:00 p.m. in the Mt. Lake Park Town Hall, 21550. The Board will review an application made by EHP Associates for a Special Exception Permit to allow the construction of a two-story apartment structure containing twenty-nine one-bedroom units. The complex is proposed to be constructed on the property located on "N" Street in a TR Town Residential zone. NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PRELIMINARY PERMIT

Reed Hydro-Electric Corporation
Project No. 3856-000.

Take notice that Reed Hydro-Electric Corporation (Applicant) filed on December 8, 1980, an application for preliminary permit (pursuant to the Federal Power Act, 16 U.S.C. §§791(a) - 825(r)) for proposed Project No. 3856 to be known as the Savage River Project located on the Savage River in Garrett County, Maryland. The application on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection. Correspondence with the Applicant should be directed to: Mr. John L. Reed, Reed Hydro-Electric Corporation, 8437 Morris Avenue, P.O. Box 21536, Marvly, 20223. PROJECT DESCRIPTION - The proposed project would utilize the existing U. S. Army Corps of Engineers' Savage River Dam, 184 feet high and 1,050 feet long with a 320-foot long spillway section, and would consist of: (1) a penstock 10 feet in diameter and approximately 150 feet long; (2) a powerhouse measuring 108 by 40 feet; (3) generating units operating under a head of 100 feet and with a total capacity of 35 MW; (4) a 4.0 mile long transmission line; and (5) appurtenant facilities. The Applicant estimates that the average annual energy output would be 25,000 kWh.

PURPOSE OF PROJECT - The applicant expects to sell all power to the Potomac Edison

PROPOSED SCOPE AND COST OF STUDIES UNDER PERMIT - Applicant seeks issuance of a preliminary permit for a period of three years, during which time it would perform surveys and geological investigations, determine the economic feasibility of the project, reach final agreement on sale of project power, secure financing commitments, consult with Federal, State, and local government agencies concerning the potential environmental effects of the project, and prepare an application for FERC license, including an environmental report. Applicant estimates the cost of studies under the permit would be $50,000.

PURPOSE OF PRELIMINARY PERMIT - A preliminary permit does not authorize construction of a permit. If issued, gives the Permittee, during the term of the permit, the right of priority of application for license while the Permittee undertakes the necessary studies and examinations to determine the engineering, economic, and environmental feasibility of the proposed project, the market for power, and all other information necessary for construction in an application for a license.

(A copy of the application may be obtained directly from the Commission.) Comments should be confined to substantive issues relevant to the issuance of a permit and consistent with the purpose of the permit as described in this notice. COMPETING APPLICATIONS - Anyone desiring to file a competing application must submit the Commission, on or before April 24, 1981, either the competing application itself or a notice of intent to file a competing application. Submission of a timely notice of intent allows an interested person to file the competing application no later than June 23, 1981. A notice of intent must conform with the requirements of 18 C.F.R. §4.33 (b) and (c) (1980). A competing application must conform with the requirements of 18 C.F.R. §4.33 (b) and (c) (1980). A competing application must conform with the requirements of 18 C.F.R. §4.33 (a) and (d) (1980).

Any comments, protest, or petition to intervene must be received on or before April 24, 1981.

FILING AND SERVICE OF RESPONSIVE DOCUMENTS - Any comments, notices of intent, competing applications, protests, or petitions to intervene must be filed in all capital letters the title "COMMENTS," "NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A COMPETING APPLICATION," "PROTEST," or "PETITION TO INTERVENE," as applicable. Any of these filings must also state that it is made in response to this notice of application for preliminary permit for Project No. 3856. PSC Authorizes Potomac Edison Rate Increase

In an Order and Opinion released Thursday, the Maryland Public Service Commission authorized The Potomac Edison Company to file new rates providing $3,346,000 in additional annual revenues. Potomac Edison had requested an increase in rates of $4,642,000 which was filed under Section 690, the so-called make-whole provision, of The Public Service Commission Law.

Section 690 authorizes a gas, electric, or telephone company to file proposed new rates based upon the existing authorized fair rate of return, and requires the Commission to institute proceedings to determine if additional revenues are required to provide the company with the opportunity to earn the existing rate of return. The statute further requires that the Commission make such a

Three Injured In Separate Auto Mishaps

An Oakland woman was critically injured in a two-vehicle crash on Maryland Route 20 near Dilly Road Friday morning at 8:30 a.m.

According to Maryland State Police, Virginia Rodeheaver, 22, a passenger in an auto driven by her sister, Marilyn McCain, 33, also of Oakland, was injured when the car, traveling east on Rt. 20, went into a skid, went out of control, and crossed the center line, where it was struck by a west-bound pickup truck driven by Dale Dumire, General Delivery, Elk Garden, W. Va.

Both women were treated at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where they were transported by Southern Rescue Squad. Mrs. Rodeheaver was later transferred to West Virginia University Hospital, where she is currently a patient in the intensive care unit. She was listed in fair condition at press time.

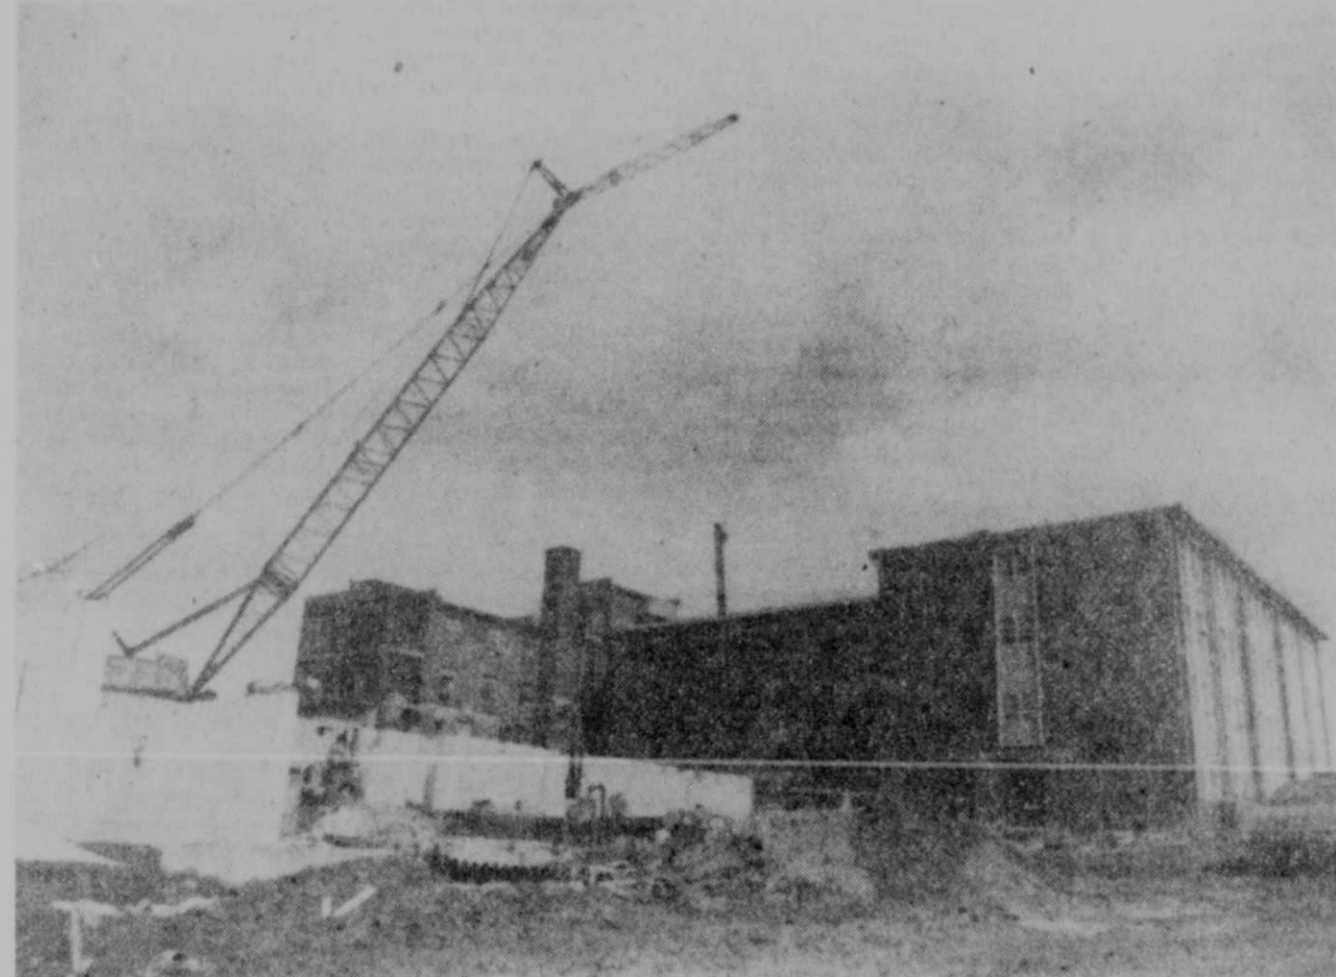

Mrs. McCain was treated and released from Garrett Memorial. Dumire was reported uninjured.

State police are continuing the investigation. Charges are pending in the case.

Oakland Fire Department and equipment truck responded, as well as State Police and Southern Rescue Squad.

In an accident on Saturday morning, an auto driven by Daniel Allen Preston, 21, Mt. Lake Park, struck a bridge on the Sand Flat Road when the driver lost control on a snow covered roadway.

A passing motorist transported Preston to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he is currently listed in satisfactory condition.

THE FIRST PIECE OF STEEL erected in the construction of any building is almost as eventful an occasion as a ground-breaking ceremony, and this is what happened yesterday morning at the site of the new building of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. All of the steel is expected to be in place within about two weeks and the entire project should be completed by mid-1982. Project G, as it has been called, has been in the making for several years and was approved overwhelmingly by the public in a referendum vote last May. The new structure will provide critically needed space for the support departments of the hospital, as well as space for more beds if needed.

Richmond Named To Rural Hospital Advisory Panel

Kenneth A. Richmond, Administrator of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, has been appointed to the Advisory Panel of the Small and Rural Hospital Center, a constituent center of the American Hospital Association.

The Center was created by the American Hospital Association in January 1973 to provide a continuing program of assistance, support, growth and improvement for small or rural hospitals in the nation's health care delivery system. The Center represents almost 4,000 of the 8,000 hospitals throughout the country which have fewer than 100 acute care beds, are located outside of a standard statistical metropolitan area and have 4,000 or fewer annual admissions.

The purpose of this nationally recognized representative group of persons working in small or rural hospitals is to develop program priorities for its constituency, serve with American Association Hospital staff in advocating the perspective of the small and rural hospital, promote a national focus for small and rural hospital issues, and improve responsiveness to the small and rural hospital issues.

The Advisory Panel is composed of 24 individual representatives of small and rural hospitals throughout the country.

Thayer Hands Down Life Term To Baltimore County Woman

By Carol Kappel

The bizarre murder conspiracy trial and conviction saga of Kathryn Louise Mason, 35, held in Garrett County Circuit Court in January of this year, came to a dramatic close yesterday afternoon when Judge Fred A. Thayer sentenced the Baltimore woman to life in prison for her part in the plot and ensuing shotgun slaying of her ex-husband, William John Murphy. Murphy's life was taken to collect $11,000 on a life insurance policy naming Mason as the primary beneficiary.

The courtroom, sprinkled with relatives of the victim, local media representatives, law enforcement personnel, and interested onlookers, sat in muffled silence as Judge Thayer spoke to the defendant, addressing first the terms of the motion for a new trial proposed moments before judgment was passed, then briefly recalling particular events of the January proceedings.

Carefully intimated in the judge's comment was the admission of a letter written by Robert Jones, brother and co-conspirator of Ms. Mason, introduced moments before as possible new evidence.

The motion for a new trial was denied, and when asked if she had anything more to say, the defendant broke down emotionally, saying only "I didn't conspire to do anything. I was only afraid of my brother."

Judge Thayer then turned his attention to the matter of the sentence, describing the crime as a "cold-blooded, calculated murder," and the conspiracy as one that "almost worked." He deemed the entire case as "basically incredible to the court" and detailed alternatives available, but not feasible in Mason's case.

When sentence was passed, an audible "Thank God" was heard from the rear of the courtroom, where members of the victim's family sat close together.

Oakland Man Is Sentenced To Ten-Year Jail Term

A ten-year jail term was handed down in Garrett County Circuit Court on Wednesday, March 11, against Jackie Garland Friend, 27, Oakland, on charges of assault and battery and an additional two-year sentence on charges of resisting arrest to run concurrent with the first charge.

Friend was found guilty of the violations stemming from the assault of a Maryland State Police officer last June.

According to police records, Cpl. Ronald Lewis was attempting to stop a vehicle driven by Friend for displaying improper registration.

Friend reportedly failed to respond to the order to stop, leading the officer on a bizarre chase over several county roads, finally ending in a field off the Zedick-Miller Road.

At this time, the fleeing car developed mechanical difficulties.

The report further states that when Cpl. Lewis approached the door of the car, it was slammed into his lower body, after which time he and Friend became involved in a physical altercation. At this point, another man in the auto, Robert Dale Albert, 22, also of Oakland, exited the car and attacked Cpl. Lewis from behind, grabbing him around the throat.

After several minutes, the two suspects were subdued by Cpl. Lewis, and charged with a variety of traffic violations and criminal actions.

Friend was originally charged with eight counts, ranging from assault with intent to murder to driving without a license. Six of those counts were dismissed.

Friend's prior record shows

McCrobie Denies Roads Workers Sleeping On Job

Charges of sleeping on the job against seven county roads workers were dropped, stated Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator.

McCrobie explained there was no evidence to prove the men were sleeping in their trucks in the Table Rock area February 20.

A county official had called in a complaint to the county commissioners' office that the trucks were parked alongside the road and that the men might be sleeping.

When questioned, the men stated they were waiting for the rain to stop so they could begin repairs to roads in that area.

The charges were dropped after a hearing for the men.

Commissioners Resident State Trooper Program Under Consideration For County Amend Revenue Sharing Budget

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners have approved amendments to the FY 1981 revenue sharing budget to compensate for a $183,021 shortfall in anticipated revenue.

The commissioners reduced allocated funds for nine of the fourteen departments in the revenue sharing budget in order to come up with a budget that equaled $727,979, the actual revenue sharing funds coming into the county.

The shortfall was discovered in February when the first of four quarterly revenue sharing payments, which came the first of January, was determined to be $45,477 less than anticipated.

The payment was actually the second to the county this fiscal year, but, because the Federal fiscal year runs from October 1 to September 30, it was the first of four payments of a new rate.

The commissioners had planned for a total of $906,000 in revenue sharing funds for this fiscal year, broken down to approximately $27,000 each quarter, but will receive $727,979 at about $181,503 per quarter plus $3,100 in estimated interest.

The amendments will reduce funds to the County Commissioners Office, budgeted for $4,000, by $1,000; to Courthouse Projects, $31,235, by $1; Election Board, $900, by $49; Commission on Aging, $3,000 by $2,340; Animal Shelter, $10,000, by $1,290; Garrett Community College, $26,000, by $34,400; Health Department, $11,000 by $11,000; County Jail, $7,000, by $5,000, and the County Roads Department, $41,238, by $101,652.

The commissioners noted that the cuts to Garrett Community College and the Health Department will be allocated in FY 1982.

Departments which did not receive revenue sharing budget cuts were the Sheriff's Department, the Board of Education, the Ruth Enlow Library, and the Animal Health Lab.

McCrobie Denies Roads Workers Sleeping On Job

Charges of sleeping on the job against seven county roads workers were dropped, stated Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator.

McCrobie explained there was no evidence to prove the men were sleeping in their trucks in the Table Rock area February 20.

A county official had called in a complaint to the county commissioners' office that the trucks were parked alongside the road and that the men might be sleeping.

When questioned, the men stated they were waiting for the rain to stop so they could begin repairs to roads in that area.

The charges were dropped after a hearing for the men.

Commissioners Resident State Trooper Program Under Consideration For County Amend Revenue Sharing Budget

The Garrett County Commissioners are currently exploring the possibilities of incorporating a law enforcement program in the county known as the Maryland State Police Resident Trooper Program.

Commissioner Ernest Gregg, in a recent interview with The Republican, explained the program as one of a contractual nature, enabling the county to enter into an agreement with the Maryland State Police to place fully-trained resident troopers in various areas of the county, who would take over the functions of the local sheriff's department. The Sheriff and two deputies would remain employed by the county to handle administrative functions, serve papers, warrants, etc., transport prisoners, and be responsible for the county jail.

Commissioner Gregg related months of extensive study on the program, being considered as a cost-cutting measure to save county tax dollars, and has found potential minimum savings of $150,000 per year by initiating the program. The Troopers would come into the assignments with their required two years training, in addition to their background as State Troopers, offering the benefits of experience and eliminating new employee costs. The reserve capabilities of the Maryland State Police, both in numbers and specialized services, to meet emergencies and specialized needs, would be constantly available. Backup Troopers would be available to replace the resident officer due to illness, and duplication of services would be gradually eliminated.

Gregg emphasized the point that the contract agreement is an annual one, and can be renewed or cancelled, according to the success or failure of the program. State financial aid for police protection could be increased from the present 60 percent to nearly 100 percent under the proposed plan. Gregg further stated that some of the vehicles and equipment now used by the Sheriff's Department could be sold, while others could be utilized effectively in the program, saving additional tax money for the county.

The resident troopers would actually live in the community assigned to them, responding to all citizen needs, meeting emergencies, enforcing local ordinances, motor vehicle violations, and cases of criminal misconduct.

The positions available would first be offered to the existing officers of the McHenry Detachment, whose training and experience would be considered when delegating those positions. Only if necessary would new Troopers be assigned from those on a waiting list for Garrett County. At no time would

Commissioners Open Bids, Make Appointments

A bid opening and seven appointments made up part of the day for the Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday.

The Board received notification from the office of Governor Harry Hughes of the appointment of Troy Greasy, Pleasant Valley, as a member and designated chairman of the Garrett County Property Tax Assessment Appeals Board.

Beside's Greasy's appointment, the commissioners approved six appointments to various county agencies.

Os. J. Hag Jackson, Oakland, and Charles C. Bender, Grantsville, were both appointed for five-year terms to the Garrett County Planning Commission.

Russ Kennedy received an appointment to the Commission on Aging for a three-year term.

Appointed for two-year terms on the Western Maryland Area Agency on Aging Advisory Board were Barbara Starr, Swanton; Mabel Hauser, Deer Park; and Ernest Spoerlein, Oakland.

The Board received and opened six bids for five 1981 model year police vehicles for the county sheriff's department but did not take action to award a bid.

The commissioners agreed to take the bids under advisement to verify the bids met all specifications, recognizing the existence of a manufacturer's cutoff date for receiving orders for 1981 vehicles.

Companies submitting bids were Sharrs Chevrolet for $41,679.41; Ralph Pette & Son, $38,023.15; Caselman Motors Co., $41,175; Oakview Motors, $31,089.25; Grantsville Ford, $39,565; and Shaffer Ford Sales, $39,873.99.

School Programs Jeopardized By Proposed ARC Abolition

by Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Superintendent of Garrett County Schools

Editor's Note: This article is a follow-up to an article in the March 18 issue of The Republican entitled "RESA Directors Protest Reagan Proposal To End ARC Funding," which discussed the impact of the possible abolishment of the Appalachian Regional Commission.

The proposed abolishment of the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) will have far-reaching impact for each of the thirteen states making up the Commission. Maryland, in particular, and Garrett County, specifically, would feel the effects of such action as soon as September 1981 when public schools open.

Currently, the Garrett County Board of Education operates two programs in each of the high schools which are completely funded with dollars made available through the ARC. Consistent with the economic development goal of the ARC, the trowel trades program and the diversified cooperative education programs operated at both high schools have attempted to provide youngsters with skills which they can put almost immediately to work in the local economy.

In case of the diversified cooperative education program 80 students (approximately 50 at Southern High School and 30 at Northern High School) are currently involved in this cooperative effort between the school and community to provide opportunities for students to discover their career interests and aptitudes by doing "real" work.

The program allows for an almost infinite diversification of occupational experiences as students are currently assigned as clerks, waiters, surveyors, draftsmen, cooks, secretaries, etc.

The students' on-the-job training experiences are complemented by classroom instruction directed toward the development of proper work attitudes, communication, human relations, and personal improvement.

For the employer, the program provides a pool of part-time workers, serves as a training program for prospective employees, and provides trained personnel for local employment.

The trowel trades program presently serves approximately 25 youngsters. Activities, here, include mixture of technology, training, and practice to prepare students for entry into the masonry field on an apprenticeship level. Not only are the students schooled in the techniques of laying block and brick to a line, but each student has to construct chimneys and fireplaces, projects which are essential for life in the Appalachian mountains. Lastly, students are taught how to lay up "cut" stone, a material which is native to Garrett County.

Should funding of these programs become non-existent through the abolition of the ARC, the Garrett County Board of Education will be faced with the difficult decision of either continuing these programs with local funds or eliminating the programs. Though this kind of decision is always a difficult one, the decision this year could be even more difficult because of a lack of additional funds from state sources which could absorb the loss in ARC funds.

Should the Congress, however, not approve the president's proposal to abolish the Commission, the problem would not arise. The ball, so to speak, is in the Congress' court—they have approximately 30 days to act on the President's proposal. These two programs currently operating in the schools are, then, only two examples of what may be lost to this area should ARC funds be abolished.

State Police Investigate Various Cases

A woman from Midland has been charged by two Grantsville firms with issuing worthless checks to purchase groceries and gasoline in January of 1980.

Carol Jeanne Donald, 38, issued a check for $30 to the Grantsville Foodland on January 7. The check was returned for insufficient funds, and after Donald failed to respond to a certified letter regarding the bogus check, the summons was issued.

The Chestnut Ridge Gulf service plaza was also a victim of a worthless check written by Ms. Donald in the amount of $20 on the same day. She was notified of the problem, and failure to respond resulted in the issuance of a second summons for bogus check writing.

A hearing is pending on the matter.

Steve Edward Frazee, Friendsville, reported the theft last week of his driver's license (F-626-777-189-638) and a credit card from his wallet, which had been removed from a locker at the Wisp Ski area. The wallet was recovered by the owner after a search of the premises.

Vacation Guides Now Available

The 1981-82 Garrett County Vacation Guides have arrived at the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council office, according to a release from that office.

The cover of this year's guidebook shows Ed Beckman "enjoying a beautiful summer day on Deep Creek Lake," according to the release.

The 72-page booklet offers information to tourists, including accommodations, activities, restaurants, historical sites, special events, services and more.

Approximately 55,000 copies of the booklets have been printed and they may be found at many of the businesses within the county. Persons wishing to obtain a copy may also visit the council's office in the courthouse Monday through Friday.

These booklets will be distributed to people phoning or writing to the Promotion Council requesting information, plus at travel shows, information centers and local businesses. There is always 100% distribution of these guidebooks, according to the Council.

Beachy Prints Displayed At Grantsville

A photographic exhibition entitled "Photographs of Western Maryland: 1860 to 1925" is currently on display at the Ruth Enlow Library in Grantsville.

Thirty of the 60 prints in the exhibition were produced from original glass plate negatives of Grantsville photographer Leo J. Beachy (1874-1927). Included in the exhibit are photographs of the Casselman Bridge, Main Street in Grantsville, the Casselman Hotel, D. I. Hay's Store in Salisbury, Pa., and several photographs of local families and groups during the period from 1905 to 1925.

In addition to the Beachy photographs, the exhibition includes prints of original photographs taken by Robert Shriver and J. L. Griffith of Cumberland.

The exhibition is made possible by a grant from the Maryland Committee for the Humanities, and was prepared by Gaye Savant of Cumberland, and sponsored by the Allegany County Historical Society and the Division of Learning Resources of Allegany Community College.

The Beachy photography collection is owned by Mrs. Maxine Beachy Broadwater of Grantsville. The Shriver/Griffith collections are the property of the Allegany County Historical Society and Mrs. Eleanor LeFevre Holzshu of Cumberland.

Nicknames Of Pride . . .

Maryland: the Free State, the Old Line State, America in Miniature . . .

Today is Maryland Day, a day which to some Marylanders (namely, state and county employees) is a holiday, but to most citizens of the state, is just another day. Ho hum.

It is often therapeutic, though, to sit back and take a moment to think about our state and express some pride in being a Marylander. From an historic viewpoint, our state possesses a wealth of color. It received the nickname Free State because it was the only colony of the original 13 which placed no restrictions on religious freedom. It won the nickname Old Line State for the bravery of Maryland troops during the Revolution, in particular at the Battle of Long Island. It was off the shores of Fort Mifflin in Baltimore that Marylander Francis Scott Key jotted down the immortal words of our National Anthem.

Our state offers such a variety of things, America in Miniature also seems to be a fitting title. Although it is a geographically small state, the range of climate and topography is incredible, from the snowy mountains of Garrett County to the flatlands and sunny beaches of Ocean City. We have industry, manufacturing and mining, but we also have farming, forestry and fishing. We have "down home" country ham and roastin' ears, but we also have fresh oysters and lobsters. We are within a stone's throw of our nation's capital, one of the most beautiful cities in the world. We have a solid educational system and produce some of the highest technology in the nation. We have horse racing, sailboat racing, ski racing and tennis tournaments. We have the Colts and the Orioles. We have just about every tourist attraction imaginable.

Of course, there is always room for improvement. Maryland taxes, for example, are not exactly one of the highlights of our state. But just off the tops of our heads, we can't think of any other state that offers a greater variety than Maryland. And didn't someone say that variety is the "spice of life"?

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It seems that every week in the Public Notice section of this paper there is another application for a liquor store or bar license. It's going to look pretty disgraceful to have a bar or liquor store on every other corner in our county. The Liquor Control Board is supposed to screen applications but it seems that everybody and his brother is getting one. Other counties and states limit the number of licenses they give out in a certain area. When is our Liquor Control Board going to wake up?

Because of out-of-town work on Fridays, I can't attend the Liquor Board hearings, so I'm writing this letter instead. Does anyone else feel like I do? Let's speak up before it's too late.

Dear Editor:

Don't you think it's about time we start putting our foot down and put a stop to this unnecessary, needless spending of our good hard earned money? Well, I do! There are people all over the world starving, our schools are in bad need of money, and yet the county commissioners, and the sanitary commission of Garrett County are planning to spend thousands of dollars for something hardly anybody wants. It's a disgrace to the American people to have our money spent in such a needless way.

If you think your taxes are high now wait until next year, because if they put all three phases of the Gorman water project in, that will be approximately one million dollars of the taxpayers money.

If the county commissioners and the sanitary commission want to spend our money, then why not spend it in good faith, for something worthwhile. The Gorman water project could be stopped at the Gorman bridge and only cost an estimated $50,000.00.

I think all of us taxpayers should try to put a stop to this needless spending of money. It's up to us all to get our tax money put to good use.

Let's remember this and other needless projects from the past when the next election comes around.

Dear Editor:

This is to inform the general public that some teachers at Southern Middle School are not in agreement with the methods by which the physical education department teachers have chosen to make their situation of overcrowdedness known.

We realize that overcrowded classrooms are a problem throughout the school. However, there are established grievance procedures which should be followed.

We feel that any gains made at the expense of the students is purely unprofessional. As a result of their chosen method, the students are now receiving even less education than they were in the crowded conditions.

The administration at Southern Middle is a most cooperative group of educators who make every attempt to put the welfare of the students first.

This group of teachers has chosen to support the administration in their efforts to improve the situation.

Concerned teachers at SMS (the letter was signed by 12 teachers)

Editor's note:

The above letter was submitted this morning as a result of a "sit-in" being staged by the physical education teachers at Southern Middle School this week in protest of overcrowded conditions in the gymnasiums at the school. The teachers claim that the administration of the school and the school superintendent of schools have consistently refused to alleviate the alleged problem. Both the administrator of the school, John Rickman, and school superintendent, Jerome Ryscavage, stated that they have met with the teachers and are doing what they can to alleviate the problem.

Editor:

I have two little gripes and was wondering if anyone else feels the same.

First I have a suggestion for the downtown area of Oakland. You don't want a bypass and you don't like business moving to the malls, so with the parking situation as it is already, why don't you reserve ALL parking for special application and the empty busses that run around the area, then buy a farm outside of town for parking and bus your clients in. That way you could use the buses and parking spaces. The ones that do brave it to drive to town, lay a $10.00 parking violation on them. It would add up a lot faster than a nickel at a time.

Secondly, what little I know about nutrition for growing kids, seems to point to the fact that they have to eat the food, before it can do them any good. I do wish that the public school's "special dietitian" would consider this fact in planning the meals, also could you please keep the milk cold so that the flavor we produce and protect will still be in the carton when the kids get it.

Thank you . . . A parent who has eaten in your schools, and paid your $10.00 fines,
Don Mason

Dear Mr. Editor:

I would like to take this time to say that I am truly outraged and very disturbed with concepts Mr. Richard Buckingham has just proposed concerning Garrett County's Cafeteria.

I will have to say that Mr. Buckingham is correct about some of his proposals, such as budgets being cut. With the increase in the price of food, some cuts are going to have to be made. But I feel the way he is going about these cuts is very asinine.

According to Mr. Buckingham, all workers, with the exclusion of the managers, in school cafeterias will be cut a minimum of two hours a day as of April 1, 1981. Also, School lunch prices will increase ten cents by this time. Along with this, the children will be paying almost double the amount they are paying now for their lunches by next year.

Last but not least, Mr. Buckingham was asked if his hours or pay would be cut. His reply was, why, no! Of course, his pay comes from a different source. There is no reason for his pay to be cut.

Now, I ask you, is this fair? Shouldn't Mr. Buckingham also take a cut in his hours or wages?

Furthermore, can the people of Garrett County afford to pay $1.25 for a school lunch? Will it get to the point that parents won't be able to afford a hot meal for their children while they are in school?

Think about it! What's your opinion?
Thank You,
Nancy Plessinger

Dear Editor:

Creation, what a beautiful thing, providing it is in the hands of a responsible creator. I am referring to the position of Food Service Director, filled three years ago by Mr. Richard Buckingham.

Check the records of your county cafeteria managers and see for yourself. The school lunch program was definitely showing profit. The profit left the program when Mr. Buckingham was appointed overseer.

I do, however, have to admit that prices have gone up. I, too, pay these increases. But for a program that was showing a sizable profit, I see no reason for it to have such a deficit now. I don't believe all the blame can be placed on our new president and his budget cuts. The blame should be placed right here in Garrett County with our local government.

Mr. Buckingham is doing his thing as far as cutting a budget. He is going as far as cutting the cafeteria workers time down two hours a day. At a recent meeting of the school lunch program personnel, Mr. Buckingham was asked if his own salary would be cut. No, was his reply, his salary comes from another source.

The job indeed was done before this man was appointed to the position.

I feel that all county parents and tax payers should be looking into the matter before the school lunch prices are so far out of sight that everyone will be thinking that a hot lunch is not as good an idea as our county has provided our children in the past years.

Thank You,
Parent, taxpayer, and concerned for our children

Dear Editor:

The price of meals for Garrett County students is going to be increased again at the end of this month.

Three years ago the cafeteria system went from one run by each school's cafeteria manager to one run by (and into the ground) a central office method, coordinated by the County Cafeteria Manager. The old system generated enough funds to be self-sufficient with the aid of Federal commodities (free to public schools) . . .

Since the introduction of the new system the quality of the foods purchased has declined, student participation in meal schools declined, lunch prices have increased, and the program is running a deficit.

It is interesting to note that for by Mr. Buckingham. What the public doesn't know is that another price increase is anticipated for the new school year. The thinking is that the price increases will offset Mr. Buckingham's poor management.

The new system is on the edge of financial collapse. Tens of thousands of dollars were turned over to the new system by the old cafeteria system 2 1/2 years ago. Not only is this money gone, but the cafeteria system is having trouble meeting its present obligations. Look at the statements from the Board of Education (published in The Republican). The cafeteria system has consistently spent more money than it has taken in. More price increases! The Board will quietly, through financial juggling, bail out the system. The public will never know how, when, (or how much).

The past system was financially workable. How can the new system (When it hired a supervisor, assistant supervisor, secretary and part-time truck driver) even expect to operate efficiently? The kids who eat in the cafeterias and the parents (who pay the bills) are the losers.

Thank you.

Dear Editor:

As a Garrett County resident, taxpayer and parent I am quite disturbed about the situation concerning the Food Service Program of the Garrett County School System.

The director of the program has stated that Federal cuts are the basis of raising school lunches and reducing cafeteria workers' hours. I realize that the cuts will have a bearing on the situation, but not until next school year. The school cafeterias had several thousand dollars in their accounts when the present director was hired to his position, a position I feel was a waste to begin with. After three short years, the director has placed the program several thousand dollars in deficit.

The situation would even be easier to accept if all Maryland counties were being affected in the same manner. The other counties are looking at problems which will occur in the next school year, but our county must act now because of lack of funds. No more than three weeks ago personnel were told everything would be all right until 2 p.m., with proceeds going toward the students' spring field trip.

The Good Neighbor

by Harry Fox
(with apologies to St. Luke)

Now there was a certain Citizen who went down to Washington one day, and he was set upon by three highwaymen of the region. The chief of these was Greed, and the other two were like unto him, Ignorance and Poverty. They took everything Citizen had, and left him as one dead.

Now, on this highway traveled many of the chief priests of the people, going to and fro from Washington. One of these priests was Politics, and he saw Citizen, and had compassion on him. And Politics said, "I want to help, and restore you to your former state, so I shall go unto the temple called Legislature, and there write laws." As he left, he said, "Citizen, I shall give you a new name; you shall no longer be called Citizen, but Constituent."

Now another priest called Bureaucrat was hurrying to his temple, and he too saw Citizen, and had compassion. And he said, "I want to help, so I shall ask Politics to make a new law in his temple, and I shall make for you a Bureau, where you can come for help." And Citizen cried, "I have no money, and that shall cost dearly." But Bureaucrat calmed him and said, "Don't worry, I shall go unto the Taxpayers, and ask them for money to pay for the Bureau." As he left, he said, "I give you a new name; you shall now be called Client."

Now, as the years passed, many more priests traveled upon the road to Washington, for it was a devout nation, and many came to worship. All of them saw Citizen, and they wanted to help, and so many Bureaus arose in the land. Yet, each time Citizen left the Bureaus the three highwaymen would set upon him again, and take what he had, and leave him as one dead.

Now a new priest arose among the Taxpayers, and he said, "Let us close the Bureaus, and go unto the Legislature and write new laws, and return unto the Taxpayers that which is theirs, for if the Taxpayer is secure, the highwaymen will be afraid to stay in the country, and we shall restore to Citizen his own name."

All these wanted to help, yet none thought of capturing the three highwaymen. Now, which of these was a neighbor unto Citizen?

Long Stretch Use Of Grantsville School Opposed

About 80 townspeople attended a special meeting of the Mayor and Council of Grantsville Monday night at the fire hall, to voice their opinions concerning the Long Stretch Youth Homes, Inc. obtaining the old elementary school building for classes. Long Stretch is a private, non-profit child care facility licensed by the Department of Social Services, which houses nearly 60 boys. The organization lost its educational and administrative facilities February 17 when fire gutted that building.

Resulting from opinions expressed Monday and a vote taken, the council made a recommendation to the Board of Garrett County Commissioners that the school not be used for that purpose. The old school building is currently in the possession of the Garrett County Board of Education, but is expected to be taken over by the Board of Garrett County Commissioners.

William Platter, director of Long Stretch, made a presentation to the group Monday night. He requested that the youth home use part of the building for education, offices and cafeteria purposes, with the students being bussed in on a daily basis.

According to one council member, the people were largely opposed and expressed concerns about security and runaways. Persons also expressed concerns about using tax dollars to renovate the structure when it will be used by the youth home only two years. Citizens indicated that the town would benefit by obtaining tax if the building is used for industrial purposes. (The youth home pays no property tax). Monday night's vote showed 49 people against Platter's request and two people for it.

HUD Earmarks Funds For Two County Projects

The Town of Kitzmiller and one of the eight projects proposed by the Garrett County Board of Commissioners have received preliminary approval for funding under the 1981 Community Development Block Grant, Karen Richmond, HUD block grant administrator, reported Tuesday.

Richmond, who met with the commissioners Tuesday to announce the news, told the commissioners the federal office of Housing and Urban Development has earmarked $300,000 for a housing rehabilitation project in the Crellin-Hutton area to be managed by the Community Action, Inc., and for administration of the block grant, and $244,000 for the construction of part of the water system at Kitzmiller.

The notification of the preliminary approval authorized the county and Kitzmiller to submit formal applications for Block Grant funding. The Town of Kitzmiller had submitted a pre-application separate from the project package proposed by the county.

The county had proposed a total package of eight projects totaling $536,255 in its pre-application.

These projects not approved were:

Bloomington Senior Citizens, $30,000 for renovation of a building to a Senior Citizens' Center; Accident, $46,500 for water and sewer service for the new Accident School; Grantsville, $25,000 to fund a feasibility study for water service; Friendsville, $50,000 for purchase, renovation and furnishing of building for a community center; Mt. Lake Park, $20,000 for paving 900 feet of road surface; Oakland, $63,907 for water line materials and for work on a water line extension along Route 135.

County Liquor Stores May Be Just A Memory

by Beverly J. Sincell

Should the Garrett County Liquor Control Board close the two county liquor stores?

The Board has been grappling with this question since January at the request of the county commissioners and Delegate DeCorsey Bolden.

Brenda Butscher, chairman, believes the stores — one in Oakland, one in Grantsville — should remain open as long as they are profitable, but no one really can prove they are profitable enough.

Results of an inventory which will compare January and February sales are expected to show whether the stores are making much of a profit. Joe Wolf, Administrative Officer, expects to have these results in the next few weeks.

Meanwhile, Bolden has introduced emergency legislation in the 1981 General Assembly session which, in case the three-member Board does decide to close the stores this year, would allow liquor store owners with a Class D License to buy straight from wholesalers. State law requires Class D License holders to buy liquor from the county dispensary at a 20 percent mark up above freight costs and the wholesale price. There is a Special Class D License which authorizes license holders to buy liquor from wholesalers, but then requires them to pay a ten percent quarterly surcharge to the Board, not less than $1250 a year.

If the Board does decide to close down the stores, Joe Wolf believes it will close the Grantsville store first. "The Grantsville store is barely breaking even," he said.

One option under consideration by the Board is to close down across-the-counter sales to the public and continue sales to retailers, which makes up 80 percent of the stores' business.

Brenda Butscher is not in favor of this idea because she is not convinced it would be a profitable venture.

But if the Board closes down both the retail and wholesale operations, she is concerned about those retailers who would be put out of business because they could not afford to buy in bulk from the wholesalers. "Some can't afford to buy a full case at a time," said Butscher. She explained these retailers buy in small quantities from the dispensaries.

The Board, which is composed of members George Meese and William Naylor, besides Butscher, has been attempting to make the stores more profitable by cutting down operation expenses. In the past year, store hours have been cut back, two employees laid off, and one job vacancy left unfilled. It also has increased prices on liquor sold in the stores.

As a result, the Board did turn in $13,000 to the county in February, the first submission of this fiscal year.

But $13,000 isn't enough to the commissioners who had budgeted $90,000 in FY 1981 revenues to the county from the Board.

Wolf says the commissioners have been unrealistic in budgeting $90,000 for expected revenues from the Board because it has not turned over that amount of money for ten years. The commissioners respond if the stores can not generate that amount of money for the county, they should close down.

The revenues expected from the Board are in the form of pure profit from the stores. The county also received a two-cent tax on each can of beer sold in the county, which totalled $70,000 in the first six months of this fiscal year.

Bolden and the commissioners point out the stores were established in order to produce revenue for the county. They maintain the stores have no reason to remain open if they do not make money for the county.

Wolf explained one reason the stores have not been able to submit as much money as in years past is because competition from private businesses has reduced sales. He noted that when Bolden's bills authorizing the issuance of Class D and Special Class D licenses was passed and when the licenses were issued is when liquor store sales, both retail and wholesale, began dropping.

Bolden admits his bill instituting the license was a subtle measure to phase out the county liquor store. "The county shouldn't be in the retail business," said Bolden. "County government can't operate as efficiently as the private sector."

State Republican Party Hoping To Unseat Sarbanes

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The Maryland Republican Party has received about $5,000 from a fund raising campaign started March 4 to unseat Sen. Paul Sarbanes, D-Md., in 1982, the party's executive director said Monday.

Charles Ransom Jr. said the GOP is raising money for the 1982 Senate campaign.

State GOP Chairman Allan C. Levy started the campaign this month because of Sarbanes' vote against the confirmation of Alexander Haig as secretary of state.

Levy sent copies of a letter urging Sarbanes' defeat to 42,500 Maryland voters March 4. Most went to Republicans and independents, although a few Democrats also received letters, said Ransom.

"We have received somewhere around $5,000 to $6,000," he said. "Some Democrats have responded (with contributions)."

In the letter, Levy said Sarbanes has voted to "weaken our national defense systems" by opposing Haig's confirmation and supporting former President Carter's "giveaway" of the Panama Canal and other Carter policies.

Some Republicans mentioned as opponents to Sarbanes have been Rep. Marjorie Holt, R-Md., former Sen. J. Glenn Beall Jr., Anne Arundel County Executive Robert Pascal, and Prince George's County Executive Lawrence Hogan.

Power Plant Siting Process Gears Up

The process for selection of suitable power plant sites in Western Maryland is gearing up this month, announced P. James Moskel, a communications specialist with the Washington, D.C. firm of Henningson, Durham & Richardson.

March 27, the advisory group, which was selected over a year ago and includes citizens and government personnel, will meet to establish a priority listing of criteria to determine candidate areas most likely to contain suitable sites. Moskel said the group would again meet April 13 to review the preliminary set of candidate areas.

This meeting will be part of a five-step site screening process to select specific candidate areas for future power plants. The selection of such sites is in line with a 1971 mandate by the Maryland State Legislature that the Department of Natural Resources identify, evaluate, and acquire potential power plant sites suitable for use by major electric utilities in the state.

Sites which may be chosen as a result of the Western Maryland study would be purchased by the State and held in reserve. If these sites are eventually needed, they would be purchased at fair market value by major utilities in the region, such as the Potomac Edison Company.

Similar studies are being conducted throughout the state, Moskel noted. The Western Maryland study involves Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick counties and the portion of Carroll county contained in the Monocacy watershed.

Moskel emphasized that community involvement in the study is important.

Four rounds of public workshops in each county are planned during which small discussion groups will review the progress of the study, ask questions, and express concerns. The first workshop in Garrett County has been scheduled for April 28 at 7:30 p. m. in the Coal Mining Technology Building, Room MC350, at Garrett Community College.

Booz, Allen and Hamilton, Inc. has been selected to be the technical consultant. The firm's primary objectives will be to define areas where power plants are most likely to be compatible with existing resources, and then to define specific sites within those areas which are best suited to the development of electric generating stations.

Future power demands could require a coal-fired facility capable of generating between 600 and 1800 megawatts of electricity. Between 500 and 1500 acres would be needed to accommodate such a power plant and its auxiliary systems if it would have to be built.

Factors to be considered in the site selection will include impact on the environment and the community, the potential for use of Maryland coal, the availability of a water supply, related engineering requirements, and public comment.

The role of the advisory group is to provide advice on the design and conduct of the study. It is comprised of citizens from all five counties.

Garrett County members are Joyce Bischoff, Friendsville; George Brady, Kitzmiller; Del Carpenter, McHenry; County Commissioner Lester Hunter; Dana Thoman, McHenry; Tim Duggan, Oakland; and Wayne Hamilton, Red House.

The study is funded through the money accumulated from the surcharge on utility bills.

Further information on the study can be obtained by calling the toll free number, 1-800-492-6559, or by contacting advisory group members.

Correction Noted

In last week's edition of The Republican in an article entitled "Water Bills To Be Corrected by Mt. Lake Town" which appeared on the front page, it should have read that the customers have been over-charged.

The billing was based on water readings for a three-month period, submitted to the town by the Mt. Lake Water Company. Some of the readings, however, were for periods which exceeded 90 days, as some meters were not read until October or November. Changes will be made on sewer bills, not water bills.

Laker Baseball To Open Saturday At Hagerstown

The Garrett Community College baseball squad will open its 1981 campaign Saturday with a doubleheader against Hagerstown Junior College in the Hub City. The Lakers then play Dundalk Community College Sunday in Baltimore.

Phil Caruso is beginning his second year as Laker head coach. Caruso will be assisted by John Helmick. Both are recent graduates of Frostburg State College, playing baseball there for Bob Wells.

A 30-game schedule will see the Lakers play many of the top teams in Region XX. Four games each with Allegany Community College and Community College of Baltimore will highlight the season.

The Laker line-up will feature 12 sophomores and eight freshmen. The infield will be anchored by Jeff Taulton and Greg Beachy at second base and returning MVP Lawrence Nesselrodt at shortstop. Their quickness and nose for the ball should give Garrett a good double-play combination, according to Caruso.

Rich Bricker will be two other top-flight hurlers.

The Lakers are entering phase two of Coach Caruso's rebuilding plan. "We were competitive last season, but the lack of consistent hitting brought the record down. The eight new recruits and the return of Frank Lewis figure to solve the hitting problem. Pitching and team speed will again be our strengths," Caruso said.

The roster is as follows:

County Grand Jury Indicts Two Women On Welfare Fraud

Two former Garrett County residents, Phyllis Ann Brady, 51, and Marjanna Greaser, 45, have been indicted by the Garrett County Grand Jury on four counts of welfare fraud, theft, and false application.

An arrest warrant has been issued for Ms. Brady, who currently resides in Winchester, Va., and a summons was issued for Ms. Greaser, who lives in Kitzmiller.

The indictment states that Ms. Brady allegedly obtained public assistance to which she was not entitled by falsely representing information disclosed to the welfare agency, a violation of Article 27, Section 230, of the Maryland Annotated Code.

The indictment included two counts of theft from the Department of Human Resources and one count of false application. Brady's violations allegedly occurred between September of 1976 and December of 1979.

Greaser was indicted on similar charges, which allegedly occurred between June of 1971 and October of 1979. Welfare fraud counts carry fines of up to $1,000, and a term of not more than three years in prison. The theft charges and false application counts carry a combined total of up to 25 years in prison.

Initial appearances have not yet been scheduled.

Three Summer Homes Entered, Items Stolen

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating three incidents of breaking and entering and theft which occurred recently at summer cottages located along Lake Shore Drive.

A caretaker reported that someone had entered the cottage of Paul Wyler, Potomac, sometime between Wednesday and Saturday. The door was forced open with a pry-type tool and the building was ransacked, with cabinets and drawers left open. An air rifle which had previously been in a corner had been placed on the couch at the residence.

Taken from the dwelling were: a Sony Stereo Master Center with inside and outside speakers, AM-FM radio, record player and 8-track tape player, one set of Realistic EPI speakers, one Sony color 19-inch portable television, 40-track tapes, one pair of Nordica ski boots and outside shells, a Panasonic clock radio, a West-clo alarm clock, an antique Bowie knife with a wood handle and 12-inch blade, a Shearling leather vest, brown sheep skin, two decorator plates from Texas, a cut glass vase, a picnic basket and a hamburger maker. Total loss value of all the items taken is approximately $2,110.

A neighboring cottage, owned by William Donald Scherer, Frostburg, was entered sometime between late February and Saturday. Subjects broke the door while gaining entry, and removed an electric toaster, a hooked rug and an afghan, all valued at about $100.

The third cottage, entered between March 6 and 21, is owned by Scott Mark Weddell, Sr., of West Newton, Pa. The wooden door and dead bolt lock were broken when the subjects pried their way into the dwelling. Taken were a Remington bolt action 22 caliber rifle with scope, valued at about $75, and a set of wrought iron fireplace tools with brass handles, valued at approximately $30.

Vandalism and theft have been reported in the area of Par-Matt Lanes, Oak Park.

Patricia Ann Welch, Mt. Lake Park, reported that someone threw a bottle at her school bus parked in Par-Matt Lanes parking lot on Sunday, breaking a window. A second window was found cracked after being struck with an unknown object. The windows are valued at approximately $100.

Ms. Welch also reported that approximately two months ago someone slashed the back of a seat on the bus, amounting to a loss value of approximately $30.

In a separate case, John Maroney, Oakland, reported that his vehicle was parked in Par-Matt Lanes parking lot on March 16, and it was later discovered that a Channel Master CB antenna was missing from the vehicle. The antenna is valued at approximately $35.

In other business, Charles Edward Pariseau and Keith R. Reed, both of Sky Valley, reported the shooting of a dog on March 9.

Pariseau told police that he shot the dog near his residence, as it had been tearing up trash and chasing wildlife for some time. He said he was unaware who the owner was.

The dog, a 14-month-old doberman pincher, died from the gunshot wound. It was owned by Reed, who stated that it was valued at more than $300. The owner reported that the dog, which was not licensed, was allowed to run free.

In a separate case, Rebecca Rosemary Esposito, Mt. Lake Park, reported the theft of a food stamp book valued at about $40, taken from her bedroom nightstand at the residence of Betty Cosner, Mt. Lake Park. The incident occurred sometime between March 8 and 11.

The department arrested two persons last week.

Barry Ball, 28, Deer Park, was arrested Saturday and charged with assault and battery. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

William M. Helbig, 32, Oakland, was incarcerated Monday on charges of battery and destruction of property. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Assessment Answers & Tax Talk A WAY TO CONTROL PROPERTY TAXES

by James Burley

The term, Constant Yield Tax Rate, is a little-known and less-understood provision in the Maryland Code which enables property owners to voice their opinions on local property tax rates before the final action is taken.

By February 15 of each year, the State Department of Assessments and Taxation must notify the counties including Baltimore City and the other separate taxing authorities of the estimated assessed value of all taxable property within their jurisdiction. The assessments department must also give them the estimated assessed value of any new construction and improvements as well as the value of any deletions. After excluding property appearing for the first time on the assessment records, the department tells each taxing authority what the tax rate would be to produce the same revenue as last year.

NUMBER 700,000 — State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, left, holds the 700,000th State Income Tax refund check to be mailed by Nelson Smith, right, supervisor of the unit that sends checks to state taxpayers. Approximately half of the expected 1.4 million refund checks have now been mailed to state taxpayers.

This rate is called the Constant Yield Tax Rate.

Further, the taxing authority may not impose an increase above the Constant Yield Tax Rate without first advertising its intent to do so in the newspaper. The advertisement must be in large type and a quarter page in size, and must additionally give notification of a public meeting to be held for the purpose of hearing comments on and to explain the reasons for any tax rate increase. The time, date, and place of the meeting will be given in the advertisement, which meeting must be held no less than five days but not more than fifteen days after the notice is published.

The meeting on the proposed tax rate increase can and frequently does coincide with the meetings held to consider the proposed budget. But, whether occurring on the same date or not, it must be held not less than fourteen days before the date the property tax rates are levied.

After the public hearing has been held, the taxing authority can then adopt a resolution or ordinance levying a property tax rate in excess of the Constant Yield Tax Rate. If the action taken to adopt this increased tax rate is not approved on the day of the public hearing, the date, time, and place at which the resolution or ordinance will be scheduled for consideration and approval by the taxing authority must be announced at the public meeting.

The Constant Yield Tax Rate provision in no way prevents the county or the city, or any of the other taxing authorities from lowering the tax rate.

Local governments depend on state and federal tax funds and the locally levied property tax to meet the expenses of local government and services. Shortfalls between revenues and expenses are met by raising the property tax rate because, of the three, this is the one tax source controlled by the local government. Relying upon only the property tax to meet the full burden of the deficit is questionable and is viewed by some as unfair. Though still little understood, the Constant Yield Tax Rate provision is a potentially powerful device at the disposal of the beleaguered property taxpayer in checking the extent of this burden.

The 1980 actual tax rate and the 1981 Constant Yield Tax Rate for Garrett County is $3.31 and $3.17, respectively.

The legal date for the setting of the local property tax rates varies among the local governments, but all must be set by June 30, because the levy begins July 1, 1981, and most property tax bills are mailed on that date.

Visiting Friends Holds Workshop

The Visiting Friends Program sponsored a workshop on March 18 at the Garrett Community College Oakland Center planned as a refresher course for volunteers and a training course for new members.

Ann Abrahamson, Coordinator for the Garrett County Team on Child Abuse and Neglect, presented a two-fold program on the topics "Active Listening Skills" and "Developing Social Skills".

Attending the meeting were Ray Leidinger of Parent Support Services and Rae Ellen Heiser of Older Women Alone, who are coordinators of volunteer programs in Cumberland.

Workshop participants were Madeleine Collins, Lynne Elminger, Norman Uphold, Joy Lane, Dorothy Graham, and Debbie Pariseau.

Persons desiring information about the Visiting Friends program, a volunteer organization to provide support to families in crisis, should contact Lynne Elminger, 334-3137, or Joy Lane, 334-9030.

The statute closely prescribes whether, and in what amount, the Company is entitled to rate relief. If it is indicated that the previously adopted rate-making formula should be changed or the rate of return decreased, further proceedings may be instituted after the conclusion of the initial make-whole proceeding, according to the PSC. percentage increase to all rate schedules.

In other action, the Commission accepted rate schedules filed by Potomac Edison which reflect major rate design changes as directed by the Commission in a decision rendered on February 25, 1981, in Case No. 7338 II. As a result of the rate design changes, the overall increase in revenues of 2 percent will result in a slight reduction in rates to residential customers, except those residential all-electric customers whose service was connected prior to 1975.

the present complement of 17 uniformed State Troopers currently serving Garrett County reduced.

The program, according to Gregg, has not yet been thoroughly discussed and explored by the full board of Commissioners, but has proven highly successful in seven other counties in the state and several municipalities, making a total of 80 Resident Troopers now employed by county governments throughout Maryland. The program was so successful in Carroll County, according to Commissioner Gregg, that an additional six trained troopers were requested by the citizens of the area, making a total of 30 men now active in the program.

Gregg expressed grave concern for those men currently serving as deputies whose positions would be eliminated if the plan is incorporated, but promised to do everything possible to help secure alternative employment. "Our principal concern at this point is the welfare of 27,000 Garrett County residents," said Gregg, "and at this point, many things must still be explored."

In opposition to the plan, Sheriff John Evans, interviewed earlier this week, said, "I can't see the point of the whole thing. They can't show me where it would save money. If they could show me in black and white, that would be different, but they can't." Evans reported that he's written a letter to the governor and the attorney general asking for support for his department.

Commissioner Gregg, on the other hand, claims he is prepared to outline the detailed plan of the program upon completion of all data gathering and extensive conferences with the board of commissioners and the personnel director.

Additional reports will be forthcoming and explained as progress analysis on the status of the program becomes available.

Health Fair

Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations.

This year's Health Fair is primarily sponsored locally by the Garrett County Health Department and Garrett Community College.

All persons attending the fair are required to register as they enter, after which they may choose to take any tests they wish. Tests offered include height and weight, blood pressure, blood chemistries, anemia, tuberculosis testing, vision screening, glaucoma testing, hearing and oral screening for cancer. A health risk questionnaire will be offered to those under 60 years of age. All tests will be explained to fair participants before they are taken. All persons attending the fair must talk briefly with a nurse regarding a summary of the tests taken and suggested referrals to various sources for further examination of suspected or "positive" problems, according to Health Fair officials.

A $7 fee is required for the blood chemistry test, as the tests must be sent to Baltimore for processing. Persons who choose to have the blood tests taken must refrain from eating four to eight hours prior to the tests.

Educational and demonstrative booths will be offered at the fair. The American Cancer Society will provide female cancer education and hemocult (occult blood) education testing. Nutritional education will also be provided.

Miltenberger Jazz Trio To Perform

A program of classical and popular jazz will be presented at Garrett Community College auditorium this Saturday, March 28, at 8 p. m. when the Miltenberger Jazz Trio performs. The concert will be the fourth in the Highlands Concert Series for this season.

Featured artists in the group will be Dr. Jim Miltenberger, piano; Jim Roderick, bass; and Jim Jackson, drummer. Miltenberger and Jackson are professors of music at West Virginia University. Roderick, a graduate of West Virginia, is adjunct instructor of music at Garrett Community College and at Potomac State College. For the past several years he has appeared locally with the group "Sound Affair."

Tickets for the concert may be purchased at the door. The program is sponsored by the Garrett County Arts Council and the Humanities Division of Garrett Community College.

PET POINTERS

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

Tumors can occur in almost all animal species, including household pets. Some are related to the animal's genetic makeup; others are caused by viruses, external chemicals or radiation.

There is no fail-safe way of locating tumors, but there are various warning signs that should alert a pet owner to the possibility of such growths. These include abnormal swellings, persistent sores, unusual bleeding or discharge, change in skin color, extended lameness, weight loss, fatigue or difficulty in eating or swallowing.

Tumors are actually clusters of disorderly, uncontrolled cell growths. Some are malignant (life-threatening); others are benign. Many benign growths develop slowly, are usually round or oval in shape and generally do not interfere with the functioning of the pet's vital organs. In contrast, the malignant or cancerous tumors often grow rapidly and destroy normal tissue. These tumors are doubly dangerous because their cells may break off and travel through the bloodstream, creating additional tumors in other parts of the body.

Warts are probably the most common form of benign tumors. Generally seen in older dogs, warts appear singly or in groups. They may develop on your pet's muzzle, eyelids, or other body surfaces. They generally require no attention, but should be removed if they are irritated by friction from a collar, the floor or the pet's scratching.

Young dogs occasionally get benign skin tumors that look like small, reddish buttons. Because these benign growths may resemble cancerous tumors, your veterinarian may want to remove a small tissue sample for analysis and diagnosis, and treatment if necessary.

Not all tumors appear on the body surface. Some grow in muscle, fat or other tissues under the skin, so that they're more easily felt than seen. These tumors may be firm, enclosed masses or inflamed fluid-filled cysts.

In female dogs, especially those older than six, a lump on the underside of the body can be a breast tumor. Female dogs spayed during their first year have a much lower rate of breast tumor development later in life, so it is wise to consider spaying your female pet while she is quite young.

Other types of malignant growths include bone tumors, which cause prolonged lameness; mouth or nose tumors that interfere with the pet's ability to eat or breathe; and blood cell cancers that disrupt the functioning of body organs.

If your veterinarian confirms that a tumor is malignant, there are various therapies available. Cancerous tumors that are discovered early can often be removed entirely. For tumors that may have spread, basic surgery may be supplemented with drugs or radiation therapy to help control or stop the unwanted cell growth.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE — The Crellin Elementary School will sponsor a Crafts Fair on Saturday, April 4, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., to raise money for the school's annual spring field trip. The fair will feature Easter and other crafts, made by parents and students, a white elephant sale, pie and ice cream and a raffle for a handmade quilt or afghan. Pictured are some examples of the student crafts. Artists from the Oakland and Crellin area will also be present to demonstrate their skills and sell their wares. The local artists include Mitchell Catell, who will whittle roosters and wooden flowers; Debbie and Donna Zimmerman and Mary Giffelty, who will demonstrate macrame, and Virginia Upole, who will make pillows.

CHILDREN AT THE CRELLIN SCHOOL have been working for several weeks, making arts and crafts items to be sold at the school's Crafts Fair. Pictured clockwise, from the upper left-hand corner, are Todd Crocco, Beverly Myers, Tommy Knotts, Tammy and Steve Eisenfrout, C. J. Gelson, and Julie Hudnell. The students have been working with ceramics, sand art, spice ropes, pillows, pom-pom animals, crocheted items, pet rocks, worry pencils, yardstick holders, placemats, pin cushions, magnetic foam gnomes, teasel mice and owls, needlepoint, and weaving. The entire school is involved in the project, and children have worked after school hours to prepare for the sale of the many items produced.

HELP!

Everyone recognizes this plea for assistance. It draws immediate attention and hopefully, immediate aid. Over the past 8½ years, the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad has done its best to serve the local area by responding to your cries for help. There is a lot of personal satisfaction in helping your fellow man, and the volunteers who belong to the squad have been happy to do their part.

Now these men and women are asking you for help. As in any organization, there is much enthusiasm and support in the beginning. Naturally, over the years this lessens. The appearance of an ambulance, when it is needed, is taken for granted. But there must be willing volunteers to drive that ambulance and give first aid to the patient. Professional and personal obligations cause members to become inactive, and unfortunately there is seldom anyone to take their place. This places a greater burden on those who remain.

We are asking our fellow Northern Garrett Countians for help. A majority of the community has had either direct or indirect contact with the Rescue Squad. Ask yourselves what would have happened if there had been no response when you became suddenly ill, or had a serious accident. Please consider offering your help. We have training available for anyone who is interested. An Advanced Red Cross First Aid Class is scheduled for April 7.

For more information call Loretta Rush, Training Officer, 826-8145, or Jim Wilburn, 895-5656, or either station. It will insure the continued existence of a vital community service.

Southern High School Students Set To Welcome German Visitors

Southern High School's dream of having a student exchange program with a high school in Germany will become a reality on April 1 when seventeen students accompanied by a teacher from Sulingen, West Germany, arrive in Oakland for a three-week visit sponsored by the School Exchange Service.

Since last October when the Garrett County Board of Education gave Southern High School permission to apply for a "partner school," Mrs. Joan Lambert, group leader and co-coordinator, along with Lowell Letzel, co-coordinator, have been meeting with students, parents, and teachers to prepare for the exchange.

In December, 1980, the local school was linked with a school in Delmenhorst, but that link lasted only six hours, when the German school found it necessary to cancel. In January, the link was made with Gymnasium Sulingen (a high school attended by students who hope to attend a university).

Since final confirmation, students, teachers, and parents have been completing arrangements for the exchange. Orientation meetings have been held, and schedules of activities have been arranged.

Because Sulingen is a town of approximately 10,000 people, the leaders feel the link with Southern is very compatible. The town is located in a rural section of Germany, giving the students a common bond.

A special welcome banquet will be held April 3 in the Southern High Cafeteria, at which time the German guests will be formally introduced. Entertainment will be provided by the Southern High School Senior Chorus, directed by Mrs. Carolyn Lambert-Witt. Mrs. Virginia Grove is chairperson of the banquet.

Two showcases in the main lobby of the school have been displaying the pictures of the German guests and articles from Germany contributed by Ruth Beitzel, Margaret Ammann and James Panther. The displays were prepared by Mrs. Sonia Pratt, with the aid of Art III students. In addition, Miss Martha DeBerry, librarian, has prepared an exhibit on Germany in the school library.

Fred Learey will take the group on a fossil hunt on April 5.

Prior to the hunt, LeRoy Bolding will present a lecture to provide necessary information of the geological formation of the Eastern seaboard. David Slagle, instructor at Garrett Community College, and Bolding, head of the science department of Southern, have sample fossils to show the students before they go on the hunt.

To orient the exchange students to Garrett County, Ruthvan Morrow, former social studies teacher at Southern High School, will give a slide presentation and narration on Garrett County on April 6.

Jim Hart, planetarium director, has arranged a special visit for the exchange students to the planetarium April 10, and there is a possibility that the group will visit Camp Hickory on April 15.

The students will tour Washington, D.C., on April 11, as they requested. Chaperones on the bus trip will be Lowell Letzel, Joan Lambert, Norma Hesen, Evelyn Ault and Harry Filmey. Arrangements for the trip were made by Eugene Flinn, Supervisor of Transportation for the Garrett County Board of Education.

Mrs. Dorothy Leighton, chairperson of the local field trip on April 16, suggested that the students visit the Amish community in the county, since the Amish speak a German dialect. Troy Gnevy has arranged for the guests to visit the John Yoder farm, the Troy Gnevy farm, the Charlie Mason farm, Rigidly Rafter's, the Lichty sisters and the Swan Meadow School. Mrs. Leighton has arranged a German lunch at the Starlite Restaurant and a tour of COMSAT, the communication satellite at Etam.

Transportation for the local field trip will be provided by Dorothy Leighton, Evelyn Ault, Norma Hesen, Dora Shafer, Earlean Reneslacs, Pauline Parack, Margaret Doyle, Phyllis Leininger, Walter Livengood and Dan Hutson.

The final group activity before their departure April 20 will be a going away party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Flinn.

In addition to attending classes, the German students and their teacher will discuss their country, its history, government, economy and customs with students at Southern. This intercultural, educational experience is the primary reason for the exchange, according to Mrs. Lambert.

The following families in the Oakland area will be housing the German guests: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Parack, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stemple, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Flinn, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Leininger, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Perando, Mr. and Mrs. Juris Reneslacs, Mr. and Mrs. William Hesen, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Livengood, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Shafer, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Leighton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ault, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hutson, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hauser, Mrs. Virginia Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Filmey, and Mrs. Zelma Neary.

The exchange program does not end here in April. Mrs. Lambert will be accompanying twelve students from Southern High School, Mrs. Betty White, a teacher at Southern, and Cindy Gnevy, a student at Garrett Community College, to Sulingen on June 15. They will visit there for three weeks, attending school and participating in school and community activities.

Mrs. Lambert lauds the cooperation from students, parents, teachers, administrators, supervisors, and community members in arranging this educational exchange.

Position letter to all Southern Garrett County parents:

"WOULD YOU LIKE YOUR CHILD TO BECOME A STATISTIC?"

We feel that the parents and general public of Garrett County need to be made aware of the appalling and dangerous situation which now exists in the Southern Middle School Physical Education program.

We are being swamped by as many as 148 students per class, which is creating a circus-like atmosphere for students, as well as a teaching nightmare for the four of us.

We have suffered quietly and patiently under these outrageously crowded conditions for five years while the administration of our school has used the bureaucracy of the school system to undermine our efforts to arrive at a reasonable solution to this overcrowded situation.

We are tired of fighting the administration and the bureaucracy of our school system. Nothing is of more importance to us than the safety, health and instructional quality of our program. Therefore, we feel that the only recourse left to us is to initiate a "Silent Sustained Physical Education Program" for all students here at Southern Middle. This program will provide very limited physical activity thus insuring the health and safety of the students presently involved in this dangerous situation, until a better solution can be arrived at.

Sincerely Yours,
Southern Middle Physical Education Staff

Bill Would Restrict Jury Trials To Limit Circuit Court Caseload

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — In an attempt to lessen the circuit court caseload, the House of Delegates voted Tuesday to take away a defendant's right to demand a jury trial if a district court judge agrees the defendant's sentence will not exceed 90 days.

In a "Catch 22," that they would be asked to decide if a sentence would exceed 90 days without knowing the facts of a case or the defendant's background, but would be prohibited from hearing the case if they knew the defendant's personal background first.

For the victim, it's his third or fourth time in court and it wears him out."

Owens said the accused would not be hurt by the change because he or she still has the automatic "de novo" right to appeal any district court ruling to the circuit court and face a sentence no more severe than handed down by the lower court.

"It's a bill to stop them from asking for a jury trial just to prolong the case," he said. In two other unrelated actions, the House:

Unanimously approved without discussion legislation to make it easier for the state to dispose of money or property abandoned in bank accounts or safe deposit boxes.

The measure, which now goes to the Senate, would reduce the holding period by banks from seven to five years before the property is turned over to the state. The state expects to receive a one-time, $7 million windfall if the measure is also passed by the Senate and signed by Gov. Harry Hughes.

—Voted 118-5 for a bill designed to regulate how high loads of sand or other material may be piled in the back of open bed trucks.

The so-called "peaking of loads" bill, which now goes to the Senate, was considered a compromise by those who favored a more stringent measure to require canvas covers over loads in open bed trucks.

The Maryland Newsfront

The measure, supported by Gov. Harry Hughes and the state's judges and passed on a 112-11 vote, now goes to the Senate.

Supporters of the change argued the right to jury trials had been abused by lawyers seeking a different judge, a more convenient courthouse, a more favorable plea bargain, or who wanted to delay the trial repeatedly as a way to discourage alleged victims or witnesses from testifying.

Delegate V. Lanny Harchenborn, R-Carroll, one of the few opponents, said he was concerned judges would be caught

"I can hardly believe what I'm hearing," said Delegate Frank Conaway, D-Baltimore, an opponent. "Are we saying we are going to infringe on the rights of individuals to lower the work load on judges?"

But Judiciary Committee Chairman Joseph Owens, D-Montgomery, said, "Everybody is going into district court asking for a jury trial." He said the problem was particularly acute in the Baltimore court system.

"Usually it's a minor case (and they seek a jury trial) so they can get a better decision when they plea bargain," he

Maryland News In Brief

Loud Rock Music

RANDALLSTOWN, Md. (UPI) — The Baltimore County Liquor Board has told a rock music club to choose between operating under sharp limits or losing its license.

The restrictions permit the Hidden Valley Country Club to be open for three days a week in April and four days a week in May until 1 a.m.

The board set the limits after hearing testimony from police, health and fire inspectors on violations and complaints from neighbors about rowdy customers.

Howard Fire Dept.

ELLCOTT CITY, Md. (UPI) — Howard County Fire Administrator Harrison Shipley will resign at the end of March, saying he wants to spend more time with his family.

Shipley denied that friction between paid and volunteer firemen had much to do with his decision to leave.

County Executive J. Hugh Nichols said Tuesday he has appointed John Moore to succeed Shipley. Moore is a volunteer firefighter and will take the new position April 1.

State Gun Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has rejected a challenge to Maryland's mandatory five-year minimum sentence for use of a handgun in a crime.

The high court Monday denied the appeal of Tommy Whack, who was sentenced to 20 years in prison in 1979 for robbing a supermarket in Landover and given another five-year sentence for using a handgun during the crime.

Whack's attorneys said the 1972 Maryland law constitutes double jeopardy for the single crime of robbery.

The Maryland Court of Appeals had upheld Whack's conviction, ruling that the state legislature intended that separate sentences be imposed on persons convicted of using a handgun while committing a felony.

Fight Reagan Cuts

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Officials of the Maryland Urban Services Agency said they joined similar agencies across the country to fight President Reagan's proposed $500 million cut in the Community Services Administration budget.

The administration funds the 12 Urban Services Agency centers in Maryland and 916 facilities in other states that provide day care, neighborhood service centers and other assistance to the poor and elderly.

"Without (the centers), the poor would be devastated in terms of ... services," said Elva Edwards, assistant executive director of the Baltimore Urban Services Agency center.

Frederick Co. Strike

FREDERICK, Md. (UPI) — About 600 union employees at the H.L. Hartz Clothing Co. began a strike Tuesday at the firm's six Frederick County plants to protest an alleged company refusal to provide a pay raise.

Members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America voted to strike Monday and did not report to work Tuesday.

The union said Hartz has refused to pay a 20-cent an hour pay raise negotiated earlier. The union also said the company was late in paying workers last Friday and has practiced sexual harassment.

The company has refused comment on the dispute.

Anne Arundel Indicts

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — An Anne Arundel County firefighter was indicted on charges of raping a 17-year-old woman and kidnapping her boyfriend at a lover's lane in Linthicum earlier this month, a prosecutor said Tuesday.

Bernard G. Keirsey III, of Pasadena, was charged in two indictments listing 11 counts ranging from first degree rape to handgun violations. Assistant State's Attorney Stephen Beard said.

Beard said Keirsey is accused of walking up to a parked car, shining a flashlight inside and ordering the woman and her boyfriend to get out by threatening them with a gun. Keirsey allegedly ordered the boyfriend to get into the car's trunk, which he then locked.

He then allegedly raped the girl.

Beard said Keirsey surrendered to court police shortly after the March 13 incident.

Senate Budget Committee Cuts State Budget By $48 Million

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — A Senate committee Tuesday recommended $48.6 million be cut from Maryland's 1982 budget, only about $5 million less than the reductions passed by the House of Delegates.

The unanimous vote by the panel sends the $5.6 billion budget to the full Senate, where debate probably will begin Thursday. Among the items the Senate faces will be whether to tighten restrictions on abortions paid for by Medicaid, which the Budget and Taxation Committee decided to leave for the floor.

There also may be a floor fight over $15 million in Medicaid funds that have been ordered reserved for payment in 1983 of 1982 bills that arrive late.

While the committee completed its budget work, about 250 persons, many of them members of the Baltimore NAACP, rallied on the State House steps to protest social program cuts.

Both the Senate panel and the House recommended a little more than $32 million in general fund cuts. The difference comes in contingency programs — those programs whose existence depends on pending legislation.

The vote was seen as a victory for those who last week led the fight to have the panel accept without review the House cuts. Gov. Harry Hughes persuaded the committee to go back to work, but many of the House cuts were kept.

Still, Hughes got back about 60 of the 90 positions in the Health and Mental Hygiene Department that were cut by the House. Most of those positions cut by the House had been vacant for at least six months.

"Everyone got a little of something," one committee member said. "I guess you could say that those who felt the budget needed some big cuts won, but the governor got some of things he wanted, too."

The Senate panel restored the resident trooper program, under which counties contract state troopers to act as county police, as a concession to Sen. Charles Smelser, D-Carroll. It also recommended that Baltimore receive only $1.5 million for fire protection of the port of Baltimore, while the House voted to give the city $2.2 million.

The committee also was at odds with the House on a $2.2 million contract for medical services for the state's prison inmates, recommending it be chopped drastically and then rebid.

Teachers, Bar Develop Course To Teach Legal "Survival Skills"

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Representatives from the state education department and bar Tuesday announced a unique program designed to afford elementary school students and teachers a working knowledge of the law.

"I look upon this as the teaching of a survival skill," said Gerard W. Paradis, director of the law program in Maryland schools. "A young person has to know how to balance a checkbook, but he also has to know that, if he doesn't do that, he's breaking the law."

Since 1975, lawyers in the state have helped instruct an estimated 175,000 secondary school students and about 6,000 teachers in the law. Program directors said their efforts have had great success, and they sensed a need to include elementary students.

"We felt the need to get to children while their attitudes were still forming," said Paradis. "Many times, by age 12 or 13, youngsters have already formed their basic opinions on the law."

Schools Superintendent David W. Hornbeck said he hopes the program will spur student interest and involvement in the legal profession.

Charles O. Fisher, president of the state bar association, said he hopes the program counters bad feelings many people have toward the legal profession. "Some newspaper columnists have called us parasites and a lot of other things," Fisher said. "But lawyers, as a profession, do more public service work than any other group I know of."

Elementary school students will be taught from lesson plans with such titles as "Learning to Live in Your Community — A Special Place," and "Making It Work."

Group discussions, "brainstorming" sessions and problem-solving are included in lesson plans, along with case studies and role playing. Lawyers will participate in many of the sessions, said Arthur M. Ahalt, chairman of the program's citizens advisory panel, noting that 500 lawyers have participated in the secondary school program.

The emphasis on teaching the law in public schools originated in 1971, with Leon Jaworski, then-president of the American Bar Association, Paradis said. Thirty-six states currently teach the law in secondary schools, but none offer it to elementary school students.

Hornbeck said the law courses do not detract from the school system's current emphasis on reading, writing and arithmetic, adding that individual municipalities decide how much emphasis they will give to law-related programs. "We do not mandate programs at the state level," Hornbeck said. "We merely identify objectives."

Hornbeck said about 400 Anne Arundel County teachers have been trained in the law and that the county now requires some legal instruction in the ninth grade. Other school systems offer sessions in the law, as part of high school civics classes.

State To Seek Death Penalty

BALTIMORE (UPI) — State's Attorney William Swisher said Tuesday two men accused of slitting the throats of two restaurant employees "deserve the death penalty" if convicted and he will prosecute the "gruesome" murder case himself.

"Certain people deserve the death penalty and certain people don't," Swisher said. "If anyone deserves the death penalty, these two do."

George Green, 24, and Willie Green, 39, who are not related, were being held without bail at the city jail. Each is charged with two counts of murder, two counts of armed robbery and two counts of unlawful possession of a deadly weapon.

They allegedly slit the throats of Robert Seidman, 57, finance manager of the Great American Melting Pot, and chef James Curtis, 60, during a robbery Friday.

"These men are dangerous and desperate and accused of a crime committed under gruesome circumstances," Swisher said.

The two Greens will be arraigned April 14 in Criminal Court.

Sachs Opposes Reagan Plan To Cut Legal Aid Programs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan's plan to end legal aid programs would "cut off the poor from the courts" at a time when they need legal help more than ever, Maryland's attorney general said Tuesday.

Attorney General Stephen Sachs, testifying before the House Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties and the Administration of Justice, urged Congress to restore money in the budget for the federal Legal Services Corp., which has 330 local programs to provide legal services for about 30 million poor Americans.

Reagan's proposed elimination of the program would "work a radical and mean-spirited change in the nation's legal system," Sachs said.

"So many vital public questions become legal issues and access to court is tantamount to access to government itself (that to) cut off the poor from the courts would work a special kind of disenfranchisement on 30 million Americans," he said.

Sachs said Legal Aid attorneys in Maryland have regained unemployment compensation for 24,000 state residents whose benefits were wrongly reduced, restored Medicaid services to 188,000 people whose aid was improperly ended and established the right of people to a hearing before being involuntarily committed to state mental institutions.

"Each of these cases, and hundreds more like them in Maryland and elsewhere in the country, illustrate the value to the poor, to Congress and to the states of law enforcement through legal services programs," Maryland's chief law enforcement official said.

Sachs said poor people are in a "consistently precarious legal position" because they often have inadequate housing, unscrupulous landlords and poor health care.

Without free legal services, they would have no way to fight such problems in the courts, Sachs said.

He said public officials are tempted to resent legal services to the poor, particularly when "lawyers for the poor are successfully litigating against us in sensitive areas such as the quality of care provided in mental institutions or the failure to adequately fund important social programs."

But the Legal Aid attorneys are often right, he said.

Sachs also said Reagan's changes in social programs will be accompanied by new laws that may be incorrectly implemented in some cases, requiring legal steps to help the poor.

Vision Care Firms Protest Requirement For State Insurance Commission Control

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Several vision care companies argued Tuesday they should not be required to have state insurance licenses because the service they provide is not insurance protection.

Maryland Insurance Commissioner Edward J. Birrane Jr. held a hearing to investigate a formal complaint that some vision care providers may be providing insurance protection without required state insurance licenses.

The companies contract with private firms and local government to provide low-cost eye exams and glasses to employees in exchange for monthly payments.

Vision Care Services Inc. of Chevy Chase, a licensed, non-profit insurer, filed the complaint against several firms, including United Optical Company and New Deal Optical.

Jeffrey D. Herschman, an attorney for VCS, said his firm's competitors should be considered insurance providers because their services are based on a contingency plan. Eligible members are entitled to a low-cost eye examination and reduced-rate glasses if the optometrist determines glasses are necessary, which Herschman argued is a contingency of some plans.

Searle E. Mitnick, representing United Optical, said that group's coverage does not constitute insurance protection because members are entitled to one annual examination and one pair of glasses. The plan does not provide any other service whether the member wants it or not.

"This is a major factor that takes it (United Optical) out of insurance. That is not a contingency. It doesn't depend on whether he needs or desires the service, he only gets one exam and one pair of glasses," he said.

Birrane asked Mitnick if United offers members the option of going to an outside doctor for service. United, currently under contract with Anne Arundel County, refused a contract in 1978 because the county would supply United with money to pay an independent doctor to provide service, Mitnick said.

The optical firm receives a check from the county for the following month based on the number of enrollees from the previous month.

M. Albert Figinski, representing New Deal Optical, maintained New Deal's service does not constitute insurance because members cannot go to outside doctors and the plan is offered as a fringe benefit to employees.

If Birrane rules in favor of the complaint, the affected companies will have to take steps to become insurance companies, including establishing headquarters in Maryland and obtaining state licenses, a process that could take up to a year.

Birrane is expected to rule on the complaint within a month.

University Gets Grant To Study Interferon Gene

CATONSVILLE, Md. (UPI) — The Du Pont Co. has awarded $500,000 to the University of Maryland-Baltimore County to clone an interferon gene, a substance scientists believe may cure some cancers, officials said Tuesday.

Dr. Paul Lovett, chairman of the UMBC biology department, will direct the research program with assistance from Du Pont consultants, said Susan Baldwin, a UMBC spokeswoman.

The UMBC grant is the largest of several the E.I. Du Pont de Nemours and Company Inc. has awarded to study interferon.

The human body produces interferon, which attacks some viruses, in small amounts. Scientists have said it may have potential in fighting viruses that cause some cancers as well as the common cold.

However, a method has not yet been found to produce interferon inexpensively or in large quantities.

Lovett said he believes there is a "good probability" of successfully cloning interferon in a certain bacterium — Bacillus subtilis.

The American Cancer Society said Monday it is monitoring the effects of artificially produced interferon given to three cancer patients in January.

Injured Jockey Is Paralyzed In Tuesday Fall

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A jockey who broke his spine in a fall at Pimlico Race Track was paralyzed from the waist down and in critical but stable condition Tuesday, a spokesman for Sinai Hospital said.

Son Boulmetis Jr., 24, fell from his mount, Val Des Portes, in the ninth race Monday when the filly broke her leg. Also hurt in the spill was Kenny Black, 17, the fifth-rated American rider last year.

Black suffered a broken collar bone in the spill and was treated at Sinai Monday and released.

Val Des Portes, owned by Mrs. Bernard Daney, was destroyed because of the broken foreleg.

Black's horse, Noble Jade, tumbled over Boulmetis' mount in the stretch after Val Des Portes' leg broke and she crumpled against the rail. Both horses were long shots and out of contention when the accident occurred.

Boulmetis is the son of Sam Boulmetis Sr., a Hall of Fame jockey.

Sinai spokesman Paul Umansky said Boulmetis will undergo surgery when his condition stabilizes and will remain in intensive care for several days.

Tear Gas Sales On Increase In Maryland

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Maryland companies that manufacture and distribute compact tear-gas canisters said Tuesday sales have increased dramatically because people want to protect themselves against criminals.

Four or five Maryland companies manufacture the tear-gas cans, which spray chemicals that cause a burning sensation, loss of breath, crying and coughing. Effects can last as long as 30 minutes, and in some cases, the spray leaves an invisible dye that appears under ultraviolet rays.

Betty Duncan, of Erdman Manufacturing Co., said her company gets "a lot of men who come in here and say they're buying them for their wives for protection and sometimes women come in themselves and buy them."

But Baltimore Deputy State's Attorney Mary Ann Willm said she does not "consider them all that effective. A nice smiling dog is a better alternative."

The tear gas canisters, sold by independent distributors and at military surplus stores, range in price from $3.98 to $10.98 and have such names as "Zapper" and "Paralyzer."

Rick and Jennifer Long, of Monkton, said they have turned 100 devices purchased at $1,000 into a business grossing more than $3.5 million per year.

About $2 million came from sales in Maryland, with the balance in 29 other states, they said.

Basketball is the only major sport that is completely American in origin.

Byron Co-Sponsors Tax-Relief Bill

U.S. Rep. Beverly Byron (D-Md.) has co-sponsored legislation to provide tax relief for persons establishing savings plans for the purchase of a home or to pay for a college education.

The legislation would help families save money for the purchase of their first home and for financing higher education costs by allowing tax deductions for the special savings accounts. These accounts would be similar to individual retirement accounts which currently provide tax incentives.

"We must make changes in the tax system that will stimulate individual savings thereby increasing the funds that savings and loans and commercial banks and will have available for home mortgages. The changes would also lower the interest rates for home mortgages," Rep. Byron said in a speech to the Frederick County Home-builders March 18.

Titled the Housing and Education Savings Account Act, the plan would offer individuals an annual tax deduction of up to $1,500 for contributions to housing accounts for 10 years for first-time home purchases. Contributions of up to $1,000 per year could be made to college accounts for each child, while the deposit and accumulated interest would remain tax-free.

"This legislation would be particularly helpful for young couples who are facing rampant inflation, escalating mortgage rates, spiraling home prices and other challenges that make it difficult to accumulate the savings for a down payment on a home."

Calling the proposal "the most important tax provision to help stimulate the home-building industry," Rep. Byron said it is projected that some 19 million new housing units will be needed in the 1980's.

"There is a great deal of merit in the view that we should move immediately with tax changes. These tax provisions, in addition to a program of fiscal responsibility, will fight inflation and revitalize the now-suffering housing industry," she said.

In 1947, an explosion in a mine in Centralia, Ill., resulted in the deaths of 111 men, most of them asphyxiated by gas fumes.

In 1964, the Radio Corporation of America began its commercial production of television sets to receive programs in color.

In 1975, King Faisal of Saudi Arabia was shot to death by a deranged nephew in his palace in Riyadh.

A thought for the day: American novelist William Faulkner said: "I believe that man will not merely endure, he will prevail."

throughout the state. All walks will be led by a forest or park service employee and will begin at 2 p.m. During the walks wildflowers will be identified and their role in the ecosystem will be discussed. Phone reservations must be made to the forest or park sponsoring the walk. Reservations will be accepted on a first come-first served basis.

"But I thought Medicare covered everything?"

If you're covered by Medicare and think it pays all your health care expenses, you could be in for a surprise. In most instances Medicare only provides partial payment. In some cases it provides no payment at all.

This is why Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Maryland have developed Preferred Medicare Supplemental. It's a new program that fills in the gaps in your Medicare protection to help pay your health care expenses ranging from doctors' office visits to hospital care. It even helps pay for prescription medicines.

For example, Preferred Medicare Supplemental covers the first

$204 of your hospital bill, an expense not covered by Medicare. Preferred Medicare Supplemental covers the $90 deductible and the 20% of expenses not covered by Medicare for physicians' office visits, diagnosis, X-rays, laboratory tests and other services.

What's more, Preferred Medicare Supplemental even pays for your prescription medicines from participating pharmacies, after a deductible of $4 per prescription.

Find out more about Preferred Medicare Supplemental by calling or writing Blue Cross and Blue Shield today.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

YOU BET — Didn't Billy Dee Williams star with Diana Ross in a movie called "Mahogany"? My brother says he didn't but I have a good memory and I know a good-looking man when I see one. Also, where can I write Billy Dee Williams? — Lachell Allen, Hartford, Conn.

Diana Ross

Trust your memory when it comes to good-looking men, a category into which Billy Dee fits very easily. He was in the film, "Write Him in Care of ICM, 40 West 57th Street, New York, NY 10019."

STILL ON THE TRAIL — I had an argument with a friend about my favorite cowboy, Gene Autry. I say he died last year and my friend says no. — D.M.R., Chatterbox, Pa.

Your friend is correct. Your favorite cowboy is still alive.

LOVES DOLLY — When you write to celebrities, do secretaries always answer your questions? Will they let the star read the letters? Where can I write Dolly Parton? I loved her in "9 to 5" — Dolly Dreamer, Great Falls, Mont.

When they are as popular as Dolly, probably very few letters get through. But it's still worth writing if you like a star. Write Dolly at 813 18th Avenue South, Nashville, TN 37203.

Joan Crawford

PROJECT ON JOAN — I'm doing a project on Joan Crawford. Where can I learn more about her? — Laurie Crawford, Geneva, Ill.

Go to your library and find two books about her, "Mommie Dearest" by her daughter, and Bob Thomas' biography. Also, old movie reference books will list her films.

(Do you have a question about TV? Write Val Carew at 200 Park Avenue, Room 602, New York, NY 10166.)

TV TATTLE

Tammy Wynette story

The first 24 years of Tammy Wynette's life were a haze of poverty, sickness and marriages. Today, Miss Wynette has a happy home life, 35 hit songs to her credit, a nine and 1/2 acre estate in Nashville and a 10-room house in Florida.

Her autobiography, "Stand by Your Man" will be presented Tuesday, March 31 on CBS. Reflecting on her life, Miss Wynette says that her real success is the strong family relationship she has built.

"My kids and my husband give me more joy and pleasure than anything else," she says. "Our family is very, very important to both of us."

"My life has not always been a bed of roses, and I tried to write an honest and open book. I felt that if I didn't include the bad with the good, it would not be worth writing."

Looking back, Miss Wynette says she wouldn't change a thing.

"I learned too much from doing it the hard way, but that's the best lesson I could have learned. I really appreciate the good when it comes around now because I have a lot to compare it with."

CBS sports news

What changes will CBS sports undergo in the near future?

The president of CBS sports made some remarks recently to the New York Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. Said Van Gordon Sauter, addressing that question:

"We are getting out of the 'trash-sports' business as quickly as we can work off contracts. We are no longer going to have motorcycle riders moving walls with their faces. We are no longer going to have misshapen men hauling refrigerators up steps to a Playboy Club somewhere in New Jersey."

And on the subject of sports announcers:

"Obviously we need to develop a star system. Television is a star business and we need to develop a small group of people, fronted by Brent Musburger, who will be the personification of CBS sports on television."

Tiny circus trainer

"I want to teach my son everything I know so that one day when he steps into the ring all alone, he is the absolute master," says Gunther Gebel-Williams, the famous animal trainer of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

In NBC's "My Father the Circus King," airing Thursday, April 2, the special relationship between Williams and his 10-year-old son, Buffy, is examined. The program follows the father-and-son team through the events of a day in the life of the circus.

"What looks so easy under the spotlights takes years and years to accomplish," says Williams. "Only time can make a good trainer, and Buffy will be the greatest."

TV tennis tips

Turn on the TV set and improve your tennis game!

That's what PBS is bargaining for with their new series, "Vic Braden's Tennis for the Future," a part-tennis, part-entertainment series premiering on Saturday, April 4. The series is based on Braden's best-selling book of the same title.

"Most people," says Braden, "are so scared to death of looking bad that their whole goal is to prevent that."

Vic Braden

instead of trying to have some fun and hit the ball."

His mission is to teach people how to have fun and play better tennis at the same time.

Channing done filming; Diller a humanitarian

One by one the expectant mothers face the camera and say "Oh, I want a boy. A strong boy for my husband."

One couple has their wish, their son is born. As the infant is swaddled in his blue blanket, born, too, is a lifetime of subtle but distinct cues — cues that will shape the behavior of this minute-old baby boy for years to come.

In the rebroadcast of "The Pinks and the Blues," airing Tuesday, March 31 over PBS, "Nova" (produced by WGBH Boston) looks at contemporary boys and girls — the children who are being raised after a decade of sex role redefinition. With the help of psychologists and sociologists, "Nova" draws some conclusions as to why, even in 1980, boys will be boys, and girls will be girls.

What was found are patterns so strong that they determine the way a girl or boy is treated throughout childhood — yet so subtle that parents and teachers responsible for the child's socialization may deny that distinctions are made.

And those patterns start immediately. Tufts University psychologist Zella Luria found, for example, that the parents of day-old, first-born infants of equal weight and length, consistently describe their baby boys as appearing stronger, more alert, bigger and harder than their baby girls — stereotypes that, Dr. Luria notes, "run smack in the face of reality."

In actuality, she says, baby girls are measurably less vulnerable to disease and accidents than are boys.

As infants mature, their fathers do much to encourage sexual stereotyping. They often roughhouse with their sons and treat their small daughters with delicacy; mothers, found Stanford University psychologist Eleanor Maccoby, are more relaxed than fathers when, for instance, their sons choose feminine types of toys, such as curlers or tea sets, to play with.

Children are still being raised with traditional sexual stereotyping, as seen on "The Pinks and the Blues."

Teachers are no less apt than parents to treat girls and boys differently, as playtime observed in a preschool classroom points out. The girls sit quietly reading aloud with the teacher, the boys carom around the room, intent on demolishing their toy trucks. A crash draws the attention of the teacher, who reprimands the boys forcefully. A lesson is learned: Aggressive behavior in boys is unconsciously rewarded with attention.

"Boys" and "girlish" behaviors are both considered natural and spontaneous. Yet, sometimes they are shaped by pressures even acknowledged by parents.

Don and Pat Graham of Gaithersburg, Md., talk of their two older daughters and two younger sons, ranging in age from 8 to 12. Pat wants "ladylike" daughters who will grow up to be good mothers, while Don wants sons who are strong in body and character. And while the Graham girls are vacuuming and cooking, the sons are seen gathering firewood in the backyard and exploring their wide-open world on their bicycles.

TV PEOPLE

Jill Whelan: a star who loves her work

By Debra Morgenstern Katz

Jill Whelan

She stars in a successful, long-running TV series; she co-starred in a smash movie and she starred in her own summer series. Amidst all that activity, she has collected more than 30 stuffed teddy bears and several more porcelain ones. She has finished furnishing one three-story Victorian dollhouse and has started on another, and she is studying the three R's in school. Jill Whelan is a very mature 14-year-old. The young star of "The Love Boat" took a few minutes out of her day to call New York for a telephone interview. It was 7 a.m. in California and Jill was getting ready to leave for school, which began at 8. When "The Love Boat" is being filmed Jill has a tutor on the set, but the show is now on hiatus, so she attends school. She doesn't have many opportunities to see her friends while she is working, but she's seeing them all now because they're starting together in a school production of "The King and I." Jill's friends are extremely important to her, in fact, she says, she was more afraid and nervous to audition for this school play in front of all her friends than she was to audition for a TV Movie of the Week the day before this interview. When the show is not on hiatus, Jill says she gets in to work at 7 a.m. and gets out by 4. But she doesn't consider the schedule grueling; she thinks it's fun. "Love Boat" has been the best thing I've ever done," says the soft-voiced Jill, who plays Capt. Stubing's daughter on the series. "We're all pretty close and we have a lot of fun on the show. With the chemistry we have there, we're all kind of blessed." Another role that was "fun" for Jill was the one of the heart-transplant patient in the slapstick hit "Airplane." "If the people are fun like they were in "Airplane," then it's not hard work to make a movie. They were crazy all the time in that movie." For example, "the guy who played the lead in "Airplane" had an old beat-up Mustang convertible. One day he went to get his car and the crew had filled the entire car with junk — soda cans, scrap wood — and he just laughed, jumped in and drove home." Getting the role in "Airplane" wasn't hard either. The producers asked her to lie down on the couch and make a face she did, and she got the part. In fact, Jill hasn't had to confront any real struggle or rejection yet. When she first decided to go into acting, she was immediately signed for commercials. Then, at the same time she was offered a role as one of the orphans in the touring company of the musical "Annie." She was also offered the role of Nancy in the ABC summer series, "Friends," and from there went on to "The Love Boat." "It was easy," says Jill, giggling. Then she says mock-seriously, "I was lucky." Luck, notwithstanding, it was Jill herself who provided the impetus for her own career. Her parents were hesitant and really didn't want her to go into acting as soon as she did. "They wanted me to see what I could get out of both worlds first, and then decide which world I wanted to take." But at 7 years old, Jill started acting in local theaters. Her first role was in "The King and I" — and it was a choice she has yet to regret.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

'GH' diet expert plays same role in real life

"General Hospital's" diet whiz Richard Simmons (who plays himself on the soap) is seen here surrounded by many diet "no-no's."

By Nancy M. Reichardt
HOLLYWOOD — There may be a lot of slimmer women watching the daytime soap operas in months to come — if that is, they've had a chance to read about and practice the weight loss program of Richard Simmons (who plays himself, the director of the diet and exercise class on "General Hospital"). Simmons (who claims, "the only time I was thin was the day I was born") has penned the latest in diet books — he never says the word "diet" — entitled, the "Never Say Diet Book" (Warner Books, $14.95).

The last time I looked the book was number four on the New York Times best-seller list. And with little wonder. As you read it you can't help but be motivated by Simmons' enthusiasm. Viewers who have seen Simmons exercise classes in the "GH" disco know what I mean.

As a former fatty himself — at one time the 5-foot-7-inch Simmons weighed in at 260 pounds — Simmons is out to help the rest of us who need to lose those added pounds.

Controversy on TV: how much is enough?

By Ruth Thompson

Do television and movie audiences crave tame material or controversial material as "entertainment" features on their screens? There are no easy answers, for the line between good taste and trash is often hard to determine.

And controversial themes abound. When producers picked the late Evita Peron, co-dictator with her husband Juan, as the subject of the musical "Evita" in London, theatergoers there hailed the production as exciting — and were apparently unconcerned about the lady's politics.

However, when a New York version was planned and it is an enduring Broadway hit, major rewriting was in order.

Evita Peron received a different portrait in the two-part docu-drama presented a few weeks ago by NBC. It drew big audiences the first night but, despite the presence of major star Faye Dunaway, lost ground the second night to "Fallen Angel," the CBS movie about child pornography.

What's left? A couple of months ago, writer Michael Blankfort said he thought the last taboo was incest when he started his current novel "An Exceptional Man." And he was surprised, though not displeased, to catch a discussion show about incest the very morning of our interview. Since then, there have been at least half a dozen more talk shows about incest.

Does it mean a more receptive climate for a dramatized version of Blankfort's novel on television? Blankfort says he is saying "No" to television. But only because he prefers to see his work transformed into a film, which he wants to write himself.

And he has the credentials. He has long ranked as one of Hollywood's major screenwriters, who, incidentally, has also taught psychology at Princeton University. He says he hasn't approached anybody about casting but thinks it would be great if Ed Asner could be talked into playing the father. And for the father of a son, Blankfort says, he has never met Susan Sarandon but that she could bring such a role the excitement it requires.

Yes, television has traveled a long way in the very few years since Edith Bunker's facing up to cancer on "All in the Family" was considered controversial. Or since some stations refused to carry the episode of "Maude" in which Bea Arthur, the middle-aged protagonist, declared herself in favor of abortion.

The subject of rape is now commonplace too.

And homosexuality, which has been given careful treatment

Bea Arthur

ment in several specials (most recently "The Shadow Box," which co-starred Joanne Woodward and Christopher Plummer) is now — along with greed, jealousy and adultery — getting the hyper-emotional treatment in ABC's "Dynasty."

Preston County Animal Lovers

Ask: "Why Not Here?"

Editors note: The following article was written by Kristy Roth, a junior student at East Preston High School, Terra Alta, and a member of the journalism class of Dawn Milne, instructor.

Where can you get a pedigree puppy which has had all of its shots, a puppy that will be spayed/neutered free of charge when of age, and a puppy that needs someone to love it? In Oakland, Maryland, at the Garrett County Animal Shelter.

For an adoption fee of $20, out-of-state people can find dogs and cats to love, and for the same fee, the animal comes with all the mentioned services that will make the pet a real joy to those who love him.

Plans like this are on foot for Preston County, thanks to a real animal lover and single rescue leaguer, Mrs. Mary Sisler of Terra Alta.

Since settling in Terra Alta in 1966, Mrs. Sisler has adopted 19 cats per year of residence. Twenty-three "fur people", to use Mrs. Sisler's term, have found a home with her, and their plights have prompted Mrs. Sisler's work toward establishing an animal shelter in Preston County.

"On one of the coldest nights we had this winter, I found a kitten in my yard," Mrs. Sisler said. "It was drenching wet and fast freezing. Of course, I took the little fur person in. I rubbed her dry and fed her warm milk. She's made her home with me."

Mrs. Sisler feels that this kind of rescue league work should be established in every county so animals could be saved and controlled. "Many people in Preston County believe we have a humane society and animal shelter," Mrs. Sisler stated, "but we don't!"

Dog wardens do give an option to finding homes for all the stray animals, that is, euthanasia. Mrs. Sisler believes that this is not a good alternative, but says it is better than having animals running free, starving or being shot.

Adequate shelters, however, should offer veterinary help to animals, as well as just a roof over their furry heads.

In an effort to establish an animal shelter in Preston

County, Mrs. Sisler circulated petitions throughout the county during the past summer. People were asked about possible locations for a shelter, spaying and neutering clinics, humane destruction of animals, volunteer help, whether or not donations would be an acceptable method of supplementary funding, and if there were any possibilities of donations of land for a shelter.

In the response to a question of location for an animal shelter, 62.1% of 264 respondents believed the shelter should be located in Kingwood; 20.8% chose Terra Alta as the second possible location.

Practically all believe in the virtue of spaying/neutering clinics, as 99.4% of 311 respondents conceded that it would be a valuable service.

Humane destruction of animals which are strays was assented to by 69.5% of 311 respondents.

Broaching the questions of volunteer help, 58.4% of 142 respondents offered to donate services to the establishment of the shelter or to the shelter itself once established.

Most citizens thought supplementary funding could be met through donations, and most respondents chose to donate $5 annually to the operation of the establishment. A second choice was an annual $40 donation given on a quarterly basis.

The donation of land on which to locate the shelter received minimal and/or negative reaction.

Mrs. Sisler sees Garrett County's shelter's financing plan as a possible funding and manpower plan for a Preston County shelter. County owned, and financed by Garrett County and the Garrett County Community College, the shelter can handle most routine veterinary care, surgery and emergencies.

GCC veterinary assistants help with surgeries and laboratory work as part of their training under the supervision of Paul Deal, D.V.M. of Country Side Animal Hospital.

"Joe Stiles, Terra Alta's police chief, has been a big help with Terra Alta's present kennels," stated Mrs. Sisler.

"He has built dog houses and cemented in around the kennels." Other county animal lovers have donated dog houses and cat cages.

Area veterinarians have offered to help with the shelter by lowering their fees for shelter animals' work; however, more definite plans have been couched until spring breaks.

Mrs. Sisler hopes to involve area youth groups and county government. "Then we must get a Board of Directors!" stated Mrs. Sisler. "We need more help!"

Persons interested in donating time, money or services may call Mrs. Sisler at 789-2315.

A cat named Dusty, who resided in Texas, copped the kitten record in June, 1962, when she gave birth to her 420th.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by Carolyn & Butch Helbig

Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

IF YOU ASK ME . . .
I've heard that carpeting has value as an insulator. Is this true? If so, how much insulation value does it have?

Carpeting can provide a great deal of insulation. Studies have shown that carpeting provides as much as twenty times the insulating capacity of the hard vinyl flooring. Wall to wall carpeting helps prevent floor drafts so it increases the room's comfort as well as the efficiency of the home's heating system.

We're considering indoor/outdoor carpeting for our patio. What should we look for when shopping?

Look for the same basic qualities that you'd seek in any other type of carpeting. Indoor-outdoor carpets are made of synthetic fibers so you don't have to worry about mildew or rot. They're perfect for patios, basement playrooms, entryways or anywhere, indoors or out. Since you'll be using the carpet outside, be sure the one you select also has a mildew-proof backing.

Stop in today and look over our fine selection of name brand carpets. There's one just right for every room in your home. Be sure to read and save our weekly column for better ideas on carpeting your home.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

Adult Scouting Dinner Slated

The Boy Scouts of America, Deep Creek Council, will hold its annual Boy Scout Appreciation Dinner at Bausch & Lomb at 6 p.m. on March 30. All adult Scouters and their wives/husbands, as well as any adults interested in scouting, are invited to attend.

This year's guest speaker will be the Honorable Beverly Byron, United States Congresswoman from Maryland's sixth District.

Real Estate

By DON CARSTENS
Deep Creek Realty

HINDSIGHT HURTS

If you happen to be an old newspaper collector, you should have a valuable insight into the wisdom of investing in real estate during inflation. As a case in point, one home recently sold for $52,000. Five years ago this same home sold for $35,000.

True, prices were never higher but for that matter, prices probably will never be lower either. For example, if this $35,000 home increased in value at a rate of only 6% per year, in ten years it will be worth $62,680. In twenty years, the same house will be selling at $112,250. And a 6% appreciation is conservative in these days of double digit inflation.

When mortgage money is tight, the opportunity to buy the right home at the right price will never be better. When the flow of money increases, so does the demand for homes and, consequently the scarcity of selection at the right price. Shakespearean advice applies: If to buy or not to buy is the question, 't'were well if it were done now.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

THE WAY THE CLUB WORKS IS ACTUALLY QUITE SIMPLE
As a new member you immediately receive our two high status jewelry catalogs of fine, top quality nationally advertised items. But — as you'll see when your membership materials arrive — there is one big important difference between the Club's two high status catalogs and other catalogs you may have seen. These hard-to-believe-it's-true, low rock bottom prices are all provided for you in the members only, confidential Super Discount Price List. This Price List shows you your cost for each of the many hundreds of high status, top-notch quality items in your Club catalogs. You pay only the confidential price listed (which is always less than half of retail) plus a modest shipping charge.

EVEN BIGGER BARGAINS ARE IN STORE FOR YOU!

From time to time — besides our always in stock high status jewelry catalog items — as a member, you enjoy receiving special surprise bargains bulletins... offering you the exclusive privilege of sharing in "limited quantity" merchandise. Spectaculars... like you've never seen before! These Surprise Bargain Bulletins are chock full of famous designer and name brand items — consisting of such fabulous goodies as fashionable luxury furs, leathers, sportswear for women and men, as well as children's apparel. Plus everything else from cameras, stereos to TV sets.

GUARANTEED FIRST CLASS TOP QUALITY DESIGNER NAMES AND NATIONAL BRANDS

Anything you get from the Club is brand-spanking new... nationally advertised "first class" all the way, the kind featured by the finer department stores, the fashionable boutiques and establishments in your area and in chic, upper income national mail order catalogs. But, whether ordering from the Clubs high status jewelry catalogs or from special surprise close out bargains bulletins — we have just one basic never changing pricing policy. All our fabulous first-quality items are available to you at less than half of suggested retail. Quite often you save an incredible 90% off! You never again need to wait around for local "going out of business sales" anymore. You enjoy unbelievable savings everyday 365 days a year! Every item is guaranteed to please you.

CHECK IT OUR FOR YOURSELF! 30-DAY NO-RISK TRIAL MEMBERSHIP!

Any item you order may be returned within 30 days for a fast, no-question asked refund. Your orders filled and shipped to you promptly. Everything shipped insured. No hidden charges or catches, ever. This year we expect 1,200,000 smart American consumers to join the Club and buy the many hundreds of eye-catching selections lavishly illustrated in both club catalogs. Like you, they shy away from junk jewelry and cheap merchandise of any kind... they too know that the quality of items we purchase says a lot about ourselves. For themselves and their families they prefer nationally advertised and top quality items. But they'll buy them always at less than half of retail... conveniently shopping from their homes and, thereby saving time, gas and money!

HERE'S ALL IT TAKES TO JOIN:

Simply mail the attached coupon with $1 for your lifetime membership fee. Anyone can join and there will never be any additional dues or fees to pay, ever! And, if you are not fully satisfied — even your $1 membership fee is refundable — just return everything within 30 days. You are never obligated in any way.

We hope you will fill out and mail the no risk membership coupon today. We are ready to rush the Club's two fabulous "high status" jewelry catalogs and, of course, your confidential Super Discount Price List. GCC Offers Music Fundamentals Class Strains of "America" and "Mary Had a Little Lamb" coming from the GCC auditorium on Monday afternoons indicate that the students in the Music Fundamentals class are practicing their lessons. Under the instruction of Jim Roderick, this class meets each week to learn the basics of music.

In addition to basic theory and scales, the students learn to play simple tunes on the piano and the recorder. The course is designed to present the fundamentals of music that would be needed by a teacher in the elementary schools or in any other early childhood education situation. It is also designed for any persons who wish to learn the fundamentals for the purpose of reading music and playing a particular instrument.

Roderick, a resident of LaVale, holds a degree in music from Frostburg State College

Grantsville PAC Meets Recently

The Grantsville Parent Advisory Council met on Wednesday, March 11, in the Title I room. Sixteen parents and staff attended the informal meeting.

A report was given by Lois Bittinger, Garrett County P.A.C. chairman; Rose Lee Folk, Grantsville Home-school aide; and Matthew Stieringer, principal, on their recent trip to the state meeting in Baltimore. Carol Warnick, Grantsville P.A.C. chairman, gave an update on the county cookbook soon to be completed.

Anna Miller, Grantsville Resource Teacher, conducted the morning program concerning "Homework." Prior to the meeting a parent survey was conducted concerning their thoughts of homework. Mrs. Miller shared the results of this survey with those parents present at the meeting. Mrs. Betty Kolb and Mrs. Pam Drees, teachers, shared their views and reactions about the subject.

The afternoon session involved some parents developing a self-esteem calendar, while other parents worked on the county P.A.C. cookbook.

Farm Machinery Course Offered

Since 1970 certain agricultural tasks have been declared hazardous for youth under the age of 16 by the U.S. Department of Labor, according to Lawrence Little, Extension Agent, 4-H and Youth. With certain exceptions, employment of youth under the age of 16 at these jobs is illegal. However, the law does not apply to minors under 16, who are employed on the home farm by their parents, said Little.

The purpose of the Hazardous Occupation Training conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service is to train and certify youth between 14 and 16 years of age so they can legally be employed in hazardous jobs in agriculture, he said.

The program provides training in operation of a tractor of over 20 PTO horsepower, including connecting or disconnecting an implement to such a tractor. Operation of a corn picker, grain combine, forage harvester, potato digger, feed grinder, forage blower, self-unloading wagon and post hole digger or driver are also covered.

Although the course is designed for youth between the ages of 14 and 16 years, persons up to 21 years of age who desire to work off the home farm, or want to learn the skills necessary to gain employment on a neighbor's farm, may enroll in a 20-hour certification course. The course will cover such topics as safety, instruments and controls, maintenance and safety checks, starting and stopping tractors, tractor safety on the farm, tractor safety on the road, why farm machinery accidents occur, farm machinery accident situations, and safety standards for agricultural tractors and implements.

Upon successful completion of a written exam on tractor safety and the safe operation of machinery, coupled with a practical exercise to demonstrate driving ability with a tractor and two-wheeled trailer, participants will receive a certificate from the Department of Labor. The certificate will allow participants to legally drive a tractor and operate farm machinery. The extension service will offer the 4-H Tractor and Machinery Certification course on Thursdays during April and May, from 7 to 9 p. m. at Jackson's Equipment in Oakland.

Oakland Men Elected To Co-op Board

Ralph Miller, Rt. 2, Oakland, and Herbert Wildesen, Rt. 3, Oakland, were elected to the local Advisory Board/Stockholder Committee at the Southern States Annual Membership meeting held in Mt. Lake Park on March 14. More than 300 stockholder members and their families attended the session.

Wildesen was named chairman of the local board, while Lawrence Bernard, Oakland, was chosen as vice-chairman.

Elected to the local Southern States Farm Home Advisory Committee were: Mrs. Mayo Shreve, Rt. No. 3, Deer Park; and Mrs. George Zimmerman, Rt. 2, Oakland.

Mrs. Lee Shillingburg, Rt. 3,

Deer Park, was chosen as chairperson of the Farm Home Advisory Committee while Mrs. Herbert Wildesen was named secretary.

Herbert Wildesen was also chosen as delegate to represent the local membership at the Southern States Cooperative's 57th Annual Stockholders Meeting to be held in November. Carl Ridder, Oakland, was named alternate.

Wayne Harman, Clarksburg, W. Va., a member of Southern States Cooperative's regional staff, will report on the over-all Southern States operations. This report will also include a 12-15 minute slide-tape presentation entitled "You Are Here", which will show the cooperative's broad involvement in behalf of its members. It points up the fact that members are represented everywhere Southern States is involved because the cooperative is set up so that the people running it keep the member-patrons interest the number one priority.

The report on local operations and services rendered to farmer members in the community was given by Rex Hoelcraft, manager of the Oakland Southern States. He reported that total volume for their operation for the past year was approximately $1,487,519.00.

There was also a special recognition ceremony for new board members, and Farm Home Advisory Committee members, as well as those from these groups who were retiring. These included: Lee Shillingburg, George Zimmerman, Mrs. Larry Gordon, and Mrs. Keith Stahl.

Morgantown, W. Va., the Director of District E was special guest.

February Milk Production Up

The average daily milk production in Maryland rose to 35.0 pounds per cow in February, a 1.1 pound increase from the previous month and 1.9 pounds more than a year ago. According to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service, milk production totaled 121 million pounds in February, two percent above a year ago. Milk produced per cow averaged 980 pounds, 20 pounds above a year earlier. There were 123,000 milk cows on farms this month, down 1,000 head from January and a year ago.

Maryland milk producers received $13.92 per hundredweight on a 3.5 percent butterfat basis for milk delivered to plants during January. Actual deliveries during January averaged 14.60 per hundredweight. The preliminary price for February averaged 14.70 per hundredweight at 3.88 percent butterfat.

Maryland dairymen paid more for feed in February than a year ago. Most feeds increased from a month earlier, except for middlings, which remained unchanged.

Record Corn Crop Predicted For 1981

Farmers in Maryland intend to plant a record corn crop for 1981, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. At 775,000 acres expected to be planted, acreage is three percent above the previous record set last year.

Intentions to plant soybeans on March 1 equaled the 490,000 acres from last year's final planted acreage. Winter wheat seedlings last fall totaled 140,000 acres, 40 percent above the 1980, and the largest since 1975. Barley plantings last fall and intended plantings this spring at 106,000 acres, is 15 percent more than last year's acreage and the largest since 1975 when 106,000 acres were also planted for harvest. Acres of hay to be harvested during 1981 amounted to 240,000 acres, a two percent increase from the 1980 acreage of 235,000. Farmers expect to plant 21,000 acres of tobacco in 1981 and 1,300 acres of sweet potato, both unchanged from the 1980 area harvested.

4-H CONTEST WINNERS — Criss Kepple and Doug Jessup, recent first and second place winners, respectively, of a Country Kids 4-H Club contest, stand with Harold Smith, Deer Park, and his registered Quarter Horse stallion, Rebel Bar Cody. A free mare breeding with Rebel Bar Cody, a donation to the club from Smith, was the grand prize for the club contest won by Miss Kepple. Jessup won a half-price breeding with the stallion for his mare.

Farmers Urged To Certify All Fall-Seeded Crops

"Producers who certify accurately to all their crops will be eligible to receive the benefits of disaster protection, price support loans, and deficiency payments for 1981," says Stuart C. Peterson, Acting Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Since the Normal Crop Acreage (NCA) limitation will not apply for the 1981 crop year, farmers need only to certify accurately to be eligible for any payments to be made for the 1981 crop year.

"Maryland County ASCS Offices are currently accepting certifications on fall-seeded crops," said Peterson. He noted that May 1 is the final certification date for fall-seeded acreage. After that date, producers will be required to pay a $15.00 fee to verify their certified acreage in order to have a late-filed report accepted.

During last year's sign-up period 2,458 Maryland producers certified to their small grains by the May 1 deadline. "These producers were then protected under the disaster provisions against hail, drought, or any natural disaster," said Peterson. Under the 1980 program, $47,633.00 in low yield payments were made on wheat and barley, and $2,292,927.00 in low yield payments were made on corn. To avoid the loss of program benefits due to inaccurate certification of acreages, farmers are encouraged to request pre-measurement service. Producers who take advantage of the service are then guaranteed that their fields are a certain size. Farmers can obtain pre-measurement service for $15.00 per tract plus $4.40 per acre if staking of the measured acreage is requested. "We will measure, reference, and mark out fields with stakes prior to planting. To be certain of full compliance, farmers must plant within the stakes that are placed when the land is measured," Peterson said. The cost of the service without staking is $15.00 per tract. Farmers who have not certified to their fall-seeded crops for 1981, are urged to visit their County ASCS Office.

the members all showed such interest, he would award a second prize half-price breeding and all members who finished the contest could breed their mares at 25 percent off the regular fee.

Winning the contest and a free breeding for her mare was Criss Kepple. Second place was won by Doug Jessup. He will be able to have his mare bred at one half the regular price. Also finishing the contest and eligible for a 25 percent discount were: Tim Kepple, Mike Kepple, Tracy Jessup, Rick Wilson and Jennifer Evans.

Others participating in the contest were Vickie Wilson and Larry Schenk.

Events Above The Mountaintop

March 25-31 1981
Paul S. Frank, Jr.

Moons may break apart when gravitational forces become so great, they pull the moon apart. Another cause of moon splitting may be the bombardment of a moon by a large meteorite. Many of Saturn's moons were observed by Voyager 1 to be heavily cratered, some with very large craters. Some of Saturn's moons appear to be fragments of former moons that may have broken apart.

Moon

Saturday, the Moon will pass through its Last Quarter phase at 2:34 p. m. At this time, the Moon will be 90 degrees west of the Sun. Moonrise will be at 11:21 tonight. Next Tuesday, the Moon will rise at 3:36 a. m.

Visible Planets

Jupiter and Saturn will be the visible planets during the week. They will be among the stars of Virgo. These planets will be visible all night, rising at sunset and setting at sunrise.

Daylight Increases

Sunrise was at 6:13 this morning. There will be 12 hours 21 minutes of daylight today, ending with sunset at 6:34 tonight. Next Tuesday, sunrise will be at 6:04 a. m. Sunset will be at 6:40 p. m. Daylight will last 15 minutes longer on Tuesday.

Today is the 84th day of 1981. At noon, the Sun will be at the same altitude that it will be next September 17th.

BLADE CHUCK ROAST

from the outside.

BE YOUR OWN BUTCHER

With the high price of meat, everyone is concerned with trying to save money at the meat counter. One way this can be done is by selecting larger, more economical cuts of meat and cutting them into smaller pieces.

A blade chuck roast which weighs five pounds or more would be one cut of meat to buy when it is on "special." From this cut you can get two servings per pound. Look for a roast with a large rib-eye muscle.

A blade chuck roast can be distinguished by the shape of the bone. Look for the long, thin bone shaped like the blade of a knife—this is part of the shoulder blade of the beef animal.

The following information will help you to get three meals for two people from one Blade Chuck Roast—two steaks, a small pot roast, and sliced beef for stir-fry or stroganoff. Also, the bones and trim can be used for making soup or sauces.

1. On the top of the blade bone is a piece of muscle that can be separated out and sliced thin for use in stroganoff or stir-frying.

2. The middle muscle is then removed. It is a tougher piece of meat and must be cooked with moist heat. Use it for pot roast, stew, ground beef, or swiss steak.

3. The remaining muscle should be removed from the chine bone (part of the backbone of the animal) and cut along the natural seam to remove the muscle from the less tender meat around it. This rib-eye steak can be used as a thick filet mignon or split into two smaller club steaks. This meat is tender and can be cooked by dry heat (broiled—pan fried).

Now, sit back and feel good about all the money you saved just by investing a little time!

The following recipe will be a tasty way to use the meat from the top of the blade bone.

STIR-FRY BEEF AND VEGETABLES
1 cup-thinly sliced,

bite-size strips of beef or pork
1 cup-thinly sliced
green pepper strips
1 cup-thinly sliced
onion rings
2 cups-bite-size fresh spinach leaves
2 tablespoons-soy sauce
2 cups pre-cooked rice
2 tablespoons-cooking oil

Preheat a wok or large skillet. Add 2 tablespoons cooking oil. Add 1 cup beef or pork and stir-fry about 2 minutes. Then add 1 cup pepper strips, 1 cup onion rings, 2 cups spinach and 2 tablespoons soy sauce. Stir-fry until spinach wilts.

Serve over bed of rice—2 cups precooked. (If you wish, precooked rice may be added directly to the stir-fry mix).

Serve at once; makes 4 servings.

Oakland Woman Dies Of Injuries From Auto Wreck

Virginia Lee Rodeheaver, 22, Oakland, who was critically injured in a two-vehicle wreck on Friday, March 26, died Monday in West Virginia University Medical Center, Morgantown, W. Va.

The accident occurred on Maryland Route 29 near Dilly Road. Mrs. Rodeheaver was a passenger in a car driven by her sister, Marilyn McCain. Oakland. According to the Maryland State Police, Mrs. McCain's vehicle skidded out of control and crossed the center line, where it was struck by a pickup truck.

Both women were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, and Mrs. Rodeheaver was later taken to Morgantown where she was placed in the intensive care unit.

Mrs. McCain was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital. She was charged by the State Police with failure to drive on the right side of the roadway.

The Oakland Fire Department and equipment truck also responded to the accident.

Born in Washington, D.C., Mrs. Rodeheaver was a daughter of Frank M. Fletcher and Catherine C. (Pence) Fletcher, Temple Hills.

She was employed in the Garrett County Treasurer's Office.

Surviving, besides her parents and sister, are her husband, Delmar L. Rodeheaver, and two brothers, Frank M. Fletcher III and Tab W. Fletcher, both of Temple Hills.

Friends were received at the Durns Funeral Home.

Services will be conducted today at 2 p.m. in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, with the Rev. Manning Smith officiating. Interment will be in the Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

The family suggests expressions of sympathy take the form of memorials to the Southern Rescue Squad.

GNB Board Elects Three New Members

Richard S. Devlin

The annual meeting of the shareholders of Garrett National Bank was held March 19 to elect directors for the ensuing year.

The total number of directors was increased to sixteen, as three new members, Richard S. Devlin, Thomas D. Jones and Robert P. Sharps, were elected to serve on the board.

Devlin is president of Garrettland Construction Co., Inc., and has held that position for the past five years. A ten-year resident of Oakland, he is also a member of the Mt. Top Home Builders Association. He and his wife, Judy, reside at Purgin Farms. They have two children, Douglas and Susan.

Jones has served as Director of the Garrett County Economic Development Department since 1975. He is a graduate of Southern High School and Frostburg State College, where he earned his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science in Management degrees. A member of the Oakland Rotary Club and

Numerous Blazes Battled Over Weekend; One Home Destroyed

Dry weather conditions resulting in several brush fires kept Garrett County fire departments hopping over the past week. There were also some fires which were not related to the weather, one of which caused the destruction of a two-story frame house on the U'rian Road off Route 400 on Sunday afternoon.

According to Robert Shimer, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, the fire which leveled the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary K. Stine was caused by either a leak in the gas system or a deteriorating line which fed LP gas to a cook stove.

Stine told Shimer that the odor of LP gas was present in the house for the past several days. However, he was unable to find the source. Shortly after 12 noon on Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Stine and their two children, Jason, three, and Kenneth, 14, went outside to wash the family car. Shimer said that Mrs. Stine then detected an odor of burning wood and her husband went to investigate. Upon entering the kitchen, Stine found a fire burning next to the kitchen stove.

The alarm was reported to Garrett County's Alarm 1-2-3 p.m. and firefighters from Deer Park and Bittinger responded to the scene, only to find the structure totally involved in flames upon arrival.

Shimer said the Stines have some insurance, but probably not enough to cover the loss. The family reportedly lost all of their possessions, with the exception of the clothes they

Sanitary Board Awards Gorman Water Contract

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission took action last Tuesday to send a notice of award of contract to Dychland Construction Company, Dychland, Pa., for construction of the first phase of the Gorman Water Project.

Bob Fousek, Acting Administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District, stated that construction is expected to begin by the end of April.

In other business, the commission heard an update on design proceedings for the Deep Creek Lake Sewerage Project by representatives of Rummel, Klepper and Kahl, a Baltimore engineering firm.

The firm has been compiling a feasibility study on a proposed expanded system, to include Glendale Peninsula and areas near Deep Creek Lake State Park, Gravelly Run Road, Harvey's Peninsula, Beckman's Peninsula and Paradise Point.

Fousek stated that, according to R. K. & K., "indications are that the expanded system would possibly be approved by the Environmental Protection Agency." To be added to the basic system.

He added that R. K. & K. is "hoping it can turn some of the first segments of the project out to bid by this fall, and begin construction by spring of 1982."

Fousek said these segments would most likely be for the plant site and Mayhew Inn Road.

Personnel Study Begins For County

The personnel management review study of Garrett County non-elected employee positions is underway in the county, reported Ernest Selig, consultant.

Selig, who will be performing the study in a 70-day period which began Monday, met with the county commissioners Tuesday to describe his procedure.

The study, which is funded 50 percent through the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development with federal funds and 50 percent with county funds including in-kind services, will be multifaceted beginning with classification of positions, Selig indicated.

Selig will draw up specifications for each position based on interviews and questionnaires. He noted he would work with employees to ensure their agreement with his specifications.

Following completion of the study, Selig will conduct a local labor/market survey to determine salaries for jobs similar to county positions paid by private industry within a 50-mile radius of the county.

As part of this stage, Selig stated he would ask the commissioners to appoint a three-member committee, composed of county citizens, to evaluate the county positions.

Also, he would draw up a graph of pay scales showing positions grouped by qualification.

He would then compare county positions with the local labor/market survey and propose an integrated pay scale for county employees separate from pay scales determined in negotiated agreements.

Afterwards an employee committee would be established to establish rules and regulations for personnel.

Buckingham's Budget-Balancing Action Under Fire

County school cafeteria manager Richard Buckingham has described himself to have been "in the hot seat" in the past two weeks for recent measures approved by the Board of Education to balance the school food service budget.

Criticism of increases for meat prices, cutbacks in employees' hours, and the program itself has come from all corners, from employees and citizens and from Delegate DeCorney Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett).

Delegate Bolden criticized the measures after meeting with Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, and James Lapis, Jr., assistant superintendent of administrative services and with county cafeteria workers.

Bolden stated, "I have no authority to change anything as it all rests with the schools and the administration, but I remember when the program was a good one. It was doing the job. Morale was high, the children were receiving adequate, nourishing meals. Then for some unknown reason, they destroyed it. Now, instead of looking at the obvious alternative—to return to the old system—they continue to pursue the ill-managed program that has brought them to this present situation and fiscal chaos."

Further than penalize the cafeteria and food service people it seems reasonable to dismiss the administrator, his secretary, and the truck driver, sell off the fancy equipment, and go back to a common-sense food service program.

"I also look with much disdain on the fact that President Reagan's proposed budget cuts are getting the blame for financial problems in the present food service in our schools. A common sense business approach in government such as President Reagan's budget cuts will restore a sense of pride in workmanship in this country. There has never been unrest and dissension in the food service business in Garrett County until now."

Ryscavage, in response to the criticisms stated Buckingham is "really taking the brunt of criticism and unjustly so. We centralized the operation and we needed a cafeteria manager very conscientious and is working in a difficult situation."

Ryscavage explained the Board of Education began the centralized program in July

Serious Crime Up 13% In County, 6% In Maryland

According to a release from the Maryland State Police, serious crime in Garrett County increased 13% during 1980. Preliminary figures indicate that crime increased statewide by 6%, the fourth consecutive year of increase.

Violent crimes as a group were up 8% statewide and property crimes increased by 6%.

A total of 277,827 serious crimes were reported to the 135 police departments in the state during 1980. On the average, one out of every 11 persons was a victim of serious crime in Maryland last year and a serious crime was committed every two minutes.

Garrett County's figures were reduced in the categories of murder, forcible rape and robbery, but increased in the categories of aggravated assault, breaking and entering, larceny and theft and motor vehicle theft. There were two murders in the county in 1979 and one in 1980; five forcible rapes in 1979 and one in 1980; nine robberies in 1979 and five in 1980; 25 aggravated assaults in 1979 and 35 in 1980; 108 breakings or entries in 1979 and 210 in 1980; 335 larceny and thefts in 1979 and 389 in 1980; and 21 motor vehicle thefts in 1979 and 34 in 1980. The overall crime index was 675 in 1980 as compared to 596 in 1979.

Crime in all regions of Maryland increased last year. Western Maryland recorded a 19% increase, the Baltimore metropolitan region showed a 7% increase, the Washington metropolitan region was up 15%, the Eastern Shore increased by 4%, and Southern Maryland showed a 14% gain.

The two crime categories that showed significant increases were robberies, which jumped by 29% statewide, and breaking and entering, which increased by 14%.

According to State Police Superintendent Thomas S. Smith, "The increasingly high unemployment rate, coupled with the economic recession are the major factors in the dramatic increase in robberies and breakings and enterings."

Smith predicts that serious crime will continue to escalate until economic conditions improve.

Col. Smith pointed out that Marylanders should be aware of the various crime prevention materials and programs that are available free of charge from both local and State Police. These programs can help persons to reduce their chances of being a victim of a serious crime.

Smith continued, "We do not have enough police to deter this increase in crime and it is essential that citizens join with the police in an effort to reduce their vulnerability to crime."

Resident Trooper Program Kindles Controversy Throughout County

The events of the last seven days concerning the proposed plan to consider incorporating the Maryland State Police Resident Trooper Plan for Garrett County have met with stormy opposition from Garrett County Sheriff John Evans, and members of his department.

A visit to The Republican newsroom on Monday, headed by Sheriff Evans, Attorney Thomas Dabney, legal representative for the Fraternal Order of Police, Chief Deputy Frank Finch and Deputy Van Evans, came as a direct result of the front-page article appearing in the March 25 edition which made public the proposed plan.

Armed with statistics they had gathered since the public announcement of the proposed plan last week, which would abolish nine deputy sheriff positions now held in the department in favor of a contractual agreement between the county and the Maryland State Police to provide a professional, highly trained level of public protection, the group presented reasons for their opposition to such a plan.

Sheriff Evans claims the county has tied up an estimated cost figure of approximately $112,000 in equipment, $48,000 in training, and $11,000 in special training and seminars over the last four years, averaging $4,000 per deputy.

In listing advantages of his department, it was noted that Deputy Martin Van Evans has undergone special FBI training, and is certified for law enforcement training to other members on the force at no additional cost to the county. The experience of the men, an average of seven years, was expressed as an asset to the county.

Sheriff Evans described the Resident Trooper Program as one that is needed if a county does not have a police force. "We are trained, and we are equipped. We are the county police," stated Evans. The delegation of Sheriff's department men jointly agreed that the figures claimed to be saved by Commissioner Greg are based on no factual information, in their opinion.

The fact that someone is on duty 24 hours a day at the Sheriff's Department is a point the men feel is a strong one. Familiarity with county residents is another asset the department representatives feel is in their favor, as it often becomes necessary to resolve family disputes, control intoxicated persons, etc. The men feel the State Troopers don't have time or would not do so because they may not be as localized as the present deputies.

Dabney, speaking for the department, stated that the $190,000 savings reported possibly would be offset by the cost of training and seminars.

County Commissioners Agree To Repayment Of $73,960

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners agreed Tuesday to a repayment schedule of the $73,960.17 overpayment to the county discovered early this year by the State Comptroller's office.

The commissioners received a letter this week from Louis Goldstein, state comptroller, explaining the overpayment was made June 1979 when a taxpayer from the Savings and Loan Association, miscalculated the income between Allegany and Garrett counties.

The error resulted in an overpayment to Garrett County and an underpayment to Allegany County.

Goldstein suggested a repayment schedule which would involve a deduction of $12,500 from local income tax payments spread out over six payments, two falling within this fiscal year.

Deletions would be made in the payments to the county for the months of May '81, June '81, November '81, February '82, May '82 and June '82.

In other business, the commissioners endorsed the Maryland Commission on Physical Fitness and the formation of a local commission composed of 15-20 county citizens.

The commissioners instructed Dr. William Pope to compile a list of prospective members for their recommendation to the Governor, who will make the final appointments.

The purpose of the commission will be to promote physical fitness in the county.

Pope also presented a proposed contract with Cannon Design Inc., Grand Island, New York, for the architectural design of health department office facilities to be housed in the Garrett

Means Ways & Moans Approves Coal Tax Bill

The coal tax bill to grant taxing authority of the strip mine coal industry to Garrett and Allegany counties passed the House Ways and Means committee Saturday.

The bill, which has been subject to revision after revision, will mandate both Allegany and Garrett counties to impose a coal tax, rather than enabling the county governments to establish the tax if they wished.

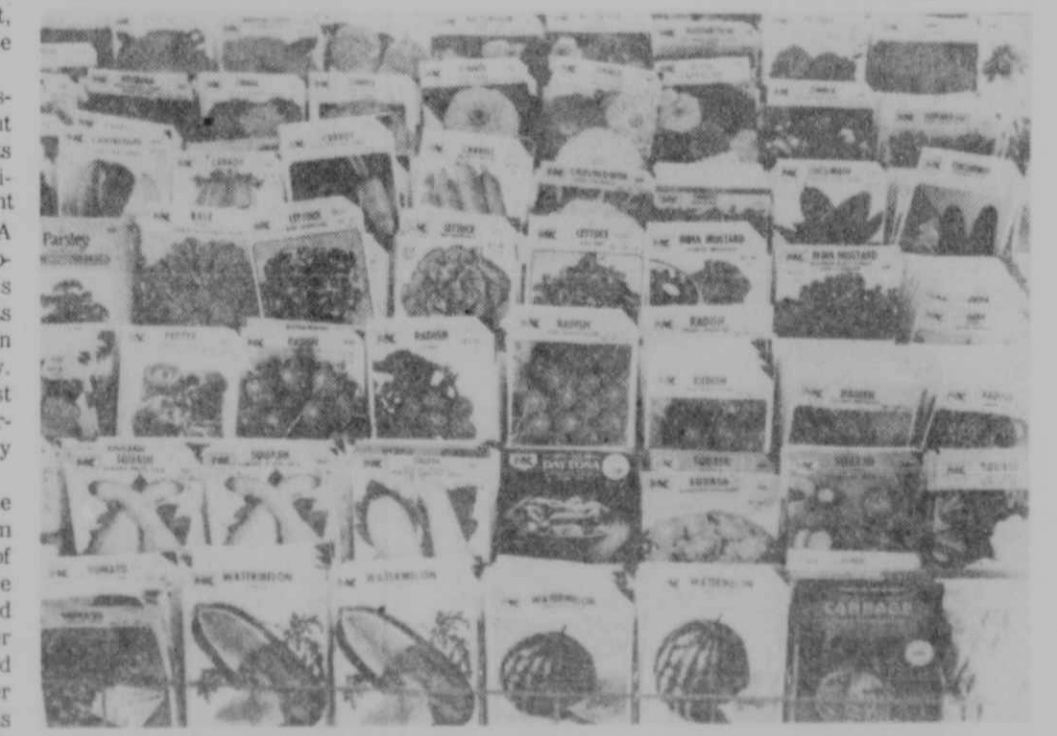

The amount of the tax, originally proposed by bill sponsor Delegate DeCorney Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett), is to be 30 cents with a five-cent escalation per year for three years, was amended to be 35 cents per ton the first year with an escalation of one-year increment of five cents per ton and then two-cent increments over the following three years.

Twenty cents of the tax would be a replacement of the abolished personal property tax which could go into the general funds of the counties. The remaining would be used for maintenance and repairs of coal-haul roads and bridges.

Attached to the bill in the last round of amendments was a two-year "sunset" clause so that if legislation isn't enacted in the General Assembly session of 1983 to continue the tax, it would be abolished after two years.

The bill must now pass the House and then the Senate.

SEEDTIME BEFORE HARVEST — The rhythmic cycles of nature do much to influence our lives. An abundant harvest requires the investment of many months of hard labor and tender care. Here on the Mt. Top, one of the surest signs of the arrival of warm weather is the proliferation of seeds and seedlings sprouting from the soil. For many folks, gardening provides a delightful combination of healthy exercise, good nutrition, and an inflation fighter's dream—food that costs a fraction of the store-bought kind.

Town View Applications Available

Applications for residency in Town View Village, Accident, the rental housing complex for senior citizens, are now available, announced Diana Wawzinski, county housing coordinator.

But although applications can be obtained and completed now, Wawzinski notes they will not be accepted until April 13.

No official date for residents to move into the complex has been set, some units are not completed yet, but the Accident Community Housing Corporation has a target date of June 1.

The Board has hired Grace O'Brien, McHenry, as resident manager for Town View. She will review applications and determine which comply with qualifications set by the state and federal funding agencies.

Wawzinski states that as a general guideline, persons 62 years or older or handicapped with low to moderate incomes are eligible to apply.

The housing complex is aimed to benefit senior citizens by providing them with lodging close to major services and close to other persons of the same age.

Residents of Town View will have the opportunity to form a tenants organization to plan activities, said Wawzinski.

Town View includes 20 one-bedroom units with a community room and laundry rooms. Wawzinski stated it is close to the Accident Park, the library, a grocery store, and a physician's office.

Applications for residency are available at various locations in Accident, Grantsville, Friendsville, McHenry and Oakland, Wawzinski said.

They are also available at the county housing office, 323 Oak Street, Oakland.

Wawzinski stated persons who desire assistance in completing the applications can set up an appointment with her by calling her at 334-4200, or they can contact personnel in social service agencies.

Persons desiring further information may contact Wawzinski at the housing office or Grace O'Brien or Pastor Fred Illick, president of the Council, at 826-8170.

All signs indicated a bright outlook for agricultural crop prices. Some things can't be controlled, such as the weather. But one of the vital things you can control is fertilizing. Because of the healthy signs of farming, we anticipate a heavy demand for fertilizer. This could result in local transportation problems, equipment shortages, inadequate inventories. Right now we have ample inventories to fill your order - bulk or bagged, and our spreader equipment is ready to roll. Frankly, we think to insure getting the supply you need to cash in on a good crop year, you should order and take delivery now. Beat the rush.

For Handicapped Residents

Ability As Opposed To Disability

Editor's Note:
This is the first in a six-part series dealing with available services for handicapped people in Garrett County, and the determination and contributions of handicapped individuals and those who work for their welfare. Special services offered by private and health organizations and area schools will be explored in the series, to provide county residents in need of services with additional information and direction.

Part One

by Kathy Bailey

The year 1981 has been proclaimed by the United Nations General Assembly as International Year of Disabled Persons, with the theme of "full participation and equality." For many county agencies and concerned professionals, parents and citizens, the proclamation provides an opportunity to increase public awareness of the ever-present, but seldom talked about, problems of disability. In recent years services for the handicapped that never existed before have been coming into Garrett County, ready to serve the hundreds of people who make up this area's handicapped population.

IYDP's aim is to encourage the rehabilitation of the estimated 450 million people on earth who suffer from some form of physical or mental impairment, an estimated 35 million who reside in the United States. Some are born with disability, while others are injured in accidents or through crippling diseases.

At least one person out of ten is afflicted by some kind of disability, according to the United Nations Division for Economic and Social Information. Some disabilities are quite noticeable, such as the lack of a limb, blindness or the need to use a wheelchair, while others are hidden, such as epilepsy, heart disease, arthritis, or emotional or psychiatric difficulties. Charlotte Griffith, liaison for Garrett County to the U. S. Council for IYDP, states that "everyone is a moment away from a disability... misfortune strikes randomly and when least expected. Many believe it will happen to other people, not themselves."

Accidents are not discriminating, and at least 20 million occur each year in homes worldwide, leaving an estimated 110,000 people with a permanent disability, according to DESI. More than 10 million are injured each year in road accidents, with consequences that include amputations, brain injuries, paraplegia and quadriplegia. Mentally ill patients occupy one-fourth of the world's hospital beds, and one out of ten persons will suffer this disability at some stage during their lifetime.

An estimated 10 to 15 million people worldwide suffer from blindness, and approximately 70 million have significant hearing impairment. An estimated 15 million people are afflicted with cerebral palsy, and an equal number suffer from epilepsy. Cardio-vascular diseases are particularly significant among the richer populations of the world, and a continuing toll is felt from 20th century armed conflict by disabled war veterans, according to DESI.

In 1977, 558 persons in Garrett County were identified as having a handicap, according to a collective study by an inter-agency committee on mental retardation. The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 sparked more willingness nationwide to work on handicapped issues, as it was obligated by law, focusing on such areas as employment, access, education and public awareness.

Ms. Griffith, Garrett County's Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor, has been appointed director of the IYDP thrust in Garrett County, which will focus on awareness, accessibility, transportation, recreation, safety, education and residential alternatives. As will be noted in other parts of this six-week article, much has been done in this county to achieve some of these goals, however, according to Ms. Griffith, much more needs to be done, particularly in the area of accessibility.

A proclamation for Employ the Handicapped Month states that "more handicapped men and women than ever before are seeking normal and productive lives," however, "many barriers, architectural and attitudinal, still exist, inhibiting their search for employment."

The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation is the only agency in Garrett County which provides direct services to persons with disabilities, in need of physical restoration, job training, vocational testing and employment services. The agency also serves the employer by providing technical assistance with building accessibility, describing financial incentives in hiring a handicapped person, and assisting in modifying the work site, if that is necessary.

Since the recent loss of her secretary, Ms. Griffith is the single staff person at the local office of Vocational Rehabilitation. She currently serves approximately 800 Garrett County residents.

The emphasis of this goal-oriented service, which is under the Maryland Department of Education, is on ability as opposed to disability. Clients 18 years of age and older must meet financial guidelines, however exceptions can be made if one is ineligible.

The agency first determines whether a person has a disability or a handicap, whether it poses a serious impairment to his/her getting or keeping a job, and whether DVR can meet his/her individual needs. Ms. Griffith works in cooperation with the medical community through diagnostic services and often acts on physicians' recommendations, concentrating on eventual employment and offering whatever assistance is necessary to prepare clients for work they can do successfully.

Some clients may need physical restoration, provided by DVR in the form of devices to overcome disabilities, such as eyeglasses, hearing aids, braces or artificial limbs. Surgical, psychiatric and hospital care are also available if needed, and the agency also offers the services of a blind specialist. Physical, occupational, speech or work therapy is offered to clients through the use of other community resources.

Employment counseling and training for the right job are an important part of DVR. Clients are forced to be very practical about the types of feasible jobs for them and the possible pay, said Ms. Griffith. This is particularly true in Garrett County, with its high unemployment rate. Ms. Griffith works with the local CETA and unemployment offices, and she sits on the Board of Directors for the Appalachian Adult Activities Center in Oakland, a resource for severely disabled persons.

Some clients undergo job training or college training. Others may develop home-maker or farm work skills. The agency will, in some instances, help clients get started in operating their own business, if that is the feasible alternative.

Once placed in a job situation, clients are monitored for 60 days by the agency, and post-employment services are offered to the client within one year after the end of the monitoring period.

The local office, which opened in 1975, began full-time operation in July of 1976. The program is 80 percent federally funded and 20 percent state funded. Under President Ronald Reagan's proposal, DVR will face a 25 percent cut in funding and funding will be given to the State for dispersement, along with other programs to receive federal funding.

Referrals for clients come from various area sources, such as Social Services, area nursing homes, the Garrett County Health Department, Mental Health, people in the community, former clients and Social Security. Ms. Griffith is often notified when persons apply for Social Security income or Social Security disability income, in which case services offered by DVR (employment income) should knock out the disability income.

A governmental proclamation reads that "Jobs exist in industry, business and government that can be performed by the skilled handicapped often with increased safety and productivity." IYDP and DVR, in Garrett County represented by one energetic and determined individual working in cooperation with many agencies, are fighting to eliminate the barriers which often stand between a client's qualifications and an employer's willingness or ability to give that client a chance.

Next week's article will focus on the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped (GOH), formerly known as GARC and GORC.

were wearing. The Stines are presently residing with relatives in the Oakland area.

Firefighters remained on the scene for about three and a half hours. Oakland and Grantsville fire personnel were put on standby and the equipment truck from Southern Rescue Squad also responded. Deer Park firemen were called back to the remains of the house at 1:18 a. m. Monday after they had rekindled. They remained on the scene for about one and a half hours.

Oakland firefighters were summoned last Wednesday at 10:02 p. m. to the residence of Noma Day in Rosedale after fire broke out in the kitchen. The fire, reportedly caused by an improperly installed wood stove, was brought under control quickly, however damage to the kitchen was extensive.

Before the arrival of the fire department, a neighbor, Paul Wilson, managed to slow down the progress of the blaze by carrying water in buckets and tossing it onto the fire.

The house is owned by Nola Reinhart.

Firefighters were on the scene for about one hour. Also standing by was the Southern Rescue Squad.

Oakland also responded to the home of Deborah Wagner, 115 West Liberty Street, on Saturday after a washing machine caught fire. The alarm was sounded at about 11:45 a. m. The fire was confined to the washing machine in the basement, although there was some minor smoke damage throughout the house.

Ms. Wagner said she was laundering some clothing which contained gasoline and when she opened the lid of the washer, there was an explosion and fire. She suffered minor burns on her face.

Firemen were on the scene for about 20 minutes.

Deer Park VFD responded to a brush fire on the Leon White farm Saturday at 3:02 p. m. They were out for about one half hour.

Brush fires were the order of the day on Sunday, as four alarms were received by Garrett Central Alarm.

At 11:46 a. m. Accident VFD was called and spent about 35 minutes extinguishing a brush fire on Eberly Road. Kitzmiller VFD received an alarm at 2:18 p. m. to extinguish a field fire just outside of town. They were out for about 15 minutes. Later that afternoon, Bittering VFD spent about one hour fighting a field fire at the Donald Stanton residence on Route 495. At 5:39 p. m. Elk Garden VFD was called to douse a brush fire in Emoryville. They were out about 20 minutes.

Also on Sunday, Oakland VFD responded to a flue fire at 601 East Oak Street. One section of wall was destroyed in the 9:38 a. m. blaze. Firemen were on the scene for about one hour.

Oakland was summoned Monday afternoon to the residence of William Sgaggo, also on East Oak Street, after smoke was reported in the house. An inspection did not locate any fire, however, fire personnel returned to the home later that evening and discovered that the motor on a furnace was burning. The fire was quickly extinguished.

Feelings Revisited . . .

It is amazing how the five senses of human nature can mentally take a person back to days and experiences long gone by in his or her life. A certain fragrance, a particular song on the radio, the delicate taste of a specific food . . . all of these sensations stimulate the memory center of the brain and allow us to re-live and remember certain feelings and events which, up until that moment, had been forgotten. Sometimes these feelings are unpleasant, such as those brought back by the auditory and visual stimulation Monday afternoon when President Reagan and three others were shot on the streets of Washington.

Persons over the age of about 24 years were rudely yanked back to that terrible day in November of 1963. Even though the outcome this time was not as great a tragedy, the films of the attempted assassination and the words of the media personnel Monday afternoon resulted in our having to re-live the miserable feelings associated with JFK's death. The same queasiness, the same anger, the same shock, the same nauseating knots in the stomach—it was all there.

These feelings immediately create varied reactions, questions, and comments, such as "What is this country coming to?" and "This type of violence must stop!"

First of all, one can hardly assume that the entire nation is going down the drain based on the actions of one obviously mentally ill individual. It takes only one such person to do such a thing and, heaven knows, the world has an abundance of such persons. It is impossible to identify all those in need of psychiatric care.

Secondly, there seems to be little we can do to eliminate this violence. As we have stated before, in our opinion, stiffer control of handguns is needed. However, gun control will not prevent assassinations. Stiffer penalties will do little to persuade a sick mind not to carry out his deed. More protection for the president may help, but total protection is impossible, at least as long as the president continues to mingle among the crowds.

The time may soon come that our president will be only by way of tele-communication. That is a rather sad day.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am a bus driver for the Garrett County School system and I wish to bring a dangerous situation to the attention of the public which is inevitably going to lead to the serious injury or death of one or more of our children. I am referring to the numerous drivers who totally ignore the red flashing lights of a school bus when it is picking up and letting off children.

By law, all vehicles approaching a stopped school bus, which has its red lights flashing, must stop and wait until the lights stop flashing to proceed. It is not uncommon for five or six vehicles to break this law every day and come flying right past my bus when it is stopped. As yet, no child has been injured, but it is only a matter of time before a tragedy occurs. A child's life is worth far more than the few extra minutes it takes to stop for the school bus.

Even emergency vehicles, enroute to a fire or other emergency situation, are required to stop for school buses, and ambulance and fire engine drivers in the county have been most cooperative. Regular drivers would never be in a greater hurry than emergency personnel.

Think, if it were your child or grandchild or some little one that you love who is in danger, would you be so careless as not to stop for the flashing red lights?

Bus drivers can and will report persons breaking this law.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Beckman

Dear Editor:

I am writing to you as a person concerned about local services to the handicapped. Vocational Rehabilitation is the link in this community for the provision and coordination of services to persons with disabilities. Vocational Rehabilitation has in the past been 80% federally funded and 20% state funded. Under President Reagan's block grant proposal, Vocational Rehabilitation is anticipating at least a 25% cut in funding with the final amount of appropriations to be left to the discretion of the State.

As a taxpayer and public employee, I have no problem seeing a reduction in spending within the government. I would be more comfortable with the change if I knew that the programs which help fill the needs of disabled persons and have demonstrated their worth and merit, such as VR, would receive appropriate funding. However, I am not so naive as to believe that will happen unless we let the decision makers and our representatives know our thoughts and feelings on the matter. At a time when citizens feel powerless about the impact effects of cutbacks in particular programs, this is an opportunity for people to take pen in hand, write a letter and express their view points. For those interested in doing so, please write to: Senator Edward Mason, House Appropriations Committee, Room 311, Lowe Bldg., Annapolis, MD 21401 and Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, Senate Budget and Taxation Committee, Room 100, James Office Bldg., Annapolis, MD 21401 and please send a copy to Governor Harry Hughes, Executive Mansion, Annapolis.

Thank you and everyone else for taking the time to help others.

Sincerely,
Charlotte Griffith

Dear Editor:

Due to the recent influx of letters from various cafeteria and lunchroom operators, I feel compelled to write in support of their views, while expressing a few of my own.

First, I feel the school lunch prices should not be raised any higher than they are now, because of the fact that the quantity of food is rarely sufficient, and the quality is often quite poor. This is not due to the cooks handling and preparation, but due to inferior substances and variety (or lack of it). For this reason, cafeteria workers salaries should not be cut.

To suffice your appetite until you reach the safety of your own refrigerator at home, you could find yourself spending upwards of $2.00 daily for extra food, and that usually isn't worth the investment.

Variety lacks so that approximately eight weeks ago, we ate tater tots (or potato rounds—same thing) each and every day for more than one solid month. (Parents, don't be fooled by innocent looking menus.) If they said whipped potatoes, we had tater tots; if they said French fries, we had tater tots; if they said hamburgers, we had tater tots; if they said macaroni and cheese, we had . . . coops. I got carried away! These usually came in a rainbow of colors, ranging from off-white to grey to black (and they weren't burnt).

We the youth of today are eating little devils! (Can you get gangrene from grey tater tots???)

Sincerely,
Jeffrey Cooley
Student
Northern High School

Dear Jeffrey:

According to our reliable sources, tater tots exhibiting a state of grey pallor are not conducive to the contraction of gangrene.

Only In Fun . . .

A special feature of today's issue of the Republican is an April Fool's Day "front page," which can be found on page 17. With our publishing date falling on this particular day this year, we just couldn't resist doing a little something extra.

The material found on this page is completely fictitious and not intended to hurt the feelings or damage the reputation of anyone. We carefully avoided satirizing any of the truly sensitive issues in the county. Although we did use "stories" utilizing various county officials (with slight name changes), we did so only in fun. We sincerely hope they all "get the joke."

If this effort evokes even a few smiles on the faces of our readers, it will have accomplished our goal.

The Time Is Now . . .

by Carol Kapei

Often when a family finds itself in financial trouble, it turns to a credit counselor or economic advisor for help.

A disclosure of the facts is heard, discussions take place, and plans begin to formulate which are intended to slowly heal the wounds in the family budget and often in the family structure.

Expenditures are studied, cutbacks are explored and decided upon, and slowly but surely, with cooperation, the family structure is righted again and well on its way to independence and solvency.

The same formula could apply to Garrett County. The government finds itself in deep financial trouble. Expenses are overwhelming. Income is not received as expected. Federal cutbacks loom in the distance. Government waste and mismanagement are obviously running rampant somewhere in the various departments. Citizens are angry. Officials are frustrated. The ink is running red and ideas are running short.

Responsibilities have increased to the point that the county commissioners feel obliged to attempt a last ditch effort to save the county money, and curb wasteful spending. Commissioners—a word of advice. Streamline the government operation, and find ways to make it more efficient. Cut services if you must. Cut jobs if necessary for the good of all. Expect slack from the public who doesn't understand the necessity and especially from those whose jobs may be threatened and whose services may be cut back. But show this county a difference. Bring us back into solvency again, in record-breaking time.

Quite a tall order, isn't it? But one delivered to you with each complaint; each letter to the newspaper; each Tuesday session. You must plug the hole in the dike and do it now.

Never mind that cooperation will be null and void for the most part from those most likely to be affected by adverse decisions. Never mind that the job will be taunted and ridiculed and that the trio of commissioners will be the target of gossip, and sometimes unfair criticism.

Just continue to make feasibility studies, gather statistics on employees and their functions, negotiate contracts that do not reflect inflationary measures, and act as a liaison between the citizens and the department heads.

Just don't try to win any popularity contests in Garrett County. Try only to keep in mind that those truly interested in the future of the county study your moves, your projects, and your goals, and wait with bated breath for positive signs of your existence.

Garrett County residents and government officials must realize that the time to explore, examine, and seriously consider financial structure change in any form is now—today. All ideas with potential merit deserve consideration—not instant opposition based on individual elements of loss, displacement, or lesser operating expenses.

All ideas will not be good ones. All ideas will not provide a solution, but all ideas deserve a thorough examination. Garrett County citizens need to give these ideas a chance to work.

Sir:

The degree of mercy that Hitler had for the Jews was zero, nonexistent. Also nonexistent is any concern or feelings for wild life by one and all who engage in the senseless slaughter and overkill of the great, gentle and intelligent whales. Some species are close to extinction, but the killing goes on. The fact that a source of income is efficiently terminated, permanently and forever, does not concern these despicable over-killers the least bit. The over-kill of the last century was truly a mass slaughter. The buffalo were reduced from tens of millions to a mere dozen or so by the turn of the century, and barely saved from extinction by concerned conservationists. But after decades of relentless slaughter and unabated over-kill, the point of no return was reached for the passenger pigeon and the species bade the planet earth farewell forever in 1914.

And woe unto the baby Harp seals by reason of the army of club swingers that descend on them every spring, who have no qualms whatever about beating the heads of the helpless little creatures to a bloody pulp with their Big John clubs. And because the Great Auks of many years ago were unafraid, defenseless and could easily be killed with a club, it was in this very manner that they were brought to extinction all too quickly by the over-killers with their clubs. The perpetrators of this sorry deed were the whalers of that bygone era.

State Troopers, I'm sure, get a much larger salary than the deputies. What would be saved (actual figures, percentages are sometimes very misleading)? Would the services lost be worth any small financial gain?

It's time we took care of our own Garrett Countians and not outsiders.

Earline S. Evans

Dear Editor:

I see that the commissioners are still going to try to get rid of most of the Sheriff's Department for a State Police Program.

There are some others that could be gotten rid of first such as Shockey and the Administrator they hired to do their work. Why can't the taxpayers see this waste of money? We didn't need them in the first place. Also the Garrett Bus System is another place to start since most of the time the only person you see on it is the driver, especially on 560. A Van could accommodate all the people that ride at one time and be a lot cheaper. Other towns use new Vans and it would save taxes if we did. I am sure three Vans would be cheaper than three empty buses and the drivers would still have jobs. What do you think taxpayers? We don't need to pay some of these people to sit around and come up with dumb ideas, as they will find out in 1982.

I know that a lot of the taxpayers and others want the Sheriff's Department left alone and we are willing to pay for protection and we are going to fight for it, commissioners or no commissioners. Let the State Police mind their own business and keep their nose out of the Sheriff's Department. The deputies pay taxes too and this program will not save money, you can bet on that. The commissioners will think up some other crazy idea to raise taxes. The Grand Jury can't speak for everyone.

Taxpayer Too

Dear Mr. Sincell:

Once again I read in your paper about Mr. Shockey and the County Commissioners' trend toward hiring "resident troopers" for the law enforcement in our county.

There are a number of pitfalls that are perhaps being overlooked by the local government.

The Sheriff's Department consists of trained law enforcement personnel that are generally local people. They know the residents and are for the most part familiar with persons likely to be involved in criminal actions. The quality of law enforcement they provide cannot be had with a resident trooper who is brought in from another area of the State.

The State Police who are currently stationed in this county presently carry sufficient duties and responsibilities. There is no need to overburden that department, much less cause confusion by the resident trooper program.

From the financial perspective, yes, there may be some local tax dollars saved in the immediate future, but someone has to pay for the troopers. Is the program really cost effective? We are all taxpayers while we reside in this state. We pay state taxes as well as local county property taxes. Eventually, the burden for paying for resident troopers will fall into this county and State Police Troopers get paid considerably more than the deputies. There are the added costs of overtime, cars, equipment, etc. that must be borne by the county with the resident trooper program.

The Sheriff's Department is in the same position with the Sheriff's Department. It would be more practical for the County Commissioners and Mr. Shockey to realign their priorities, keeping in mind that the western part of Maryland has had for at least the past year, the highest increase in crime in the State. They're literally playing with fire and their constituents, the residents, will be the ones who get burned.

A Concerned Citizen

Who does Ernie Gregg think he is anyway? Looks like he is trying to play Reagan and put more people in the unemployment line. If he would get rid of that Personnel director Shockey and the Administrator he didn't need and the Garrett Bus System we wouldn't have to worry about the Sheriff's Department. They sure don't get all of the tax payers money.

We don't need three buses to haul three or four passengers and a driver. Most of the time it's just the driver, Tom Butcher has been right about that all along and everyone else knows it too.

It might be a good idea for the commissioners to be looking for a job after next election. They will likely need one. If they want to put others out of work, let them be among them.

If they say this program will be cheaper they are wrong about it like everything else they have tried to make the people believe. We aren't buying it and we will back the Sheriff's Department to stay as it is.

It seems we only have two commissioners anyway and Gregg tries to run the whole thing. It seems there's lots of things he isn't so good at running so why should he be allowed to run the County? We

by Harry Fox

A few years ago I had a "fender bender" sort of traffic accident in Bangor, Maine. The accident itself was nothing spectacular. As I stopped at a yield-right-of-way sign facing oncoming traffic, the driver of the car behind me didn't. The result was a minor re-design of the bumper of my (borrowed) car, and a lesson that things are rarely what they seem.

The traumas of living are rarely as awful to live through as they seem, but try and tell that to someone standing in the middle of a downtown street as impatient motorists jam the intersection. "Let's move the cars to the side," I suggested to the other driver, a middle-aged woman who was quite near the end of her rope on this warm summer day. "No ya' don't," she said, in the distinctive voice of a native "Mainer." "I ain't goin' ta have this thing blamed on me." I offered the alternative of the curbside as a better place to afix blame, but without any luck. "Ya started and then ya stopped again." Then, in a staccato voice punctuated by weary sighs, she turned to the (now growing) crowd of bystanders. "He started, and then he stopped again. He stopped and then he started and then he stopped again." In vain I tried to get this tableau out of the middle of the street. "Ma'm, that's called 'yield-right-of-way'."

Over the hill came the cavalry. Actually it was one of those motorized meter readers on a Vespa scooter. At least it was an authority figure, wearing a uniform. "Hello, officer. You see, this lady and I seem to have had a little accident here, and I think we need your assistance." No response. Just a benevolent smile. Reassuring, but not what I had in mind. "Don't you think we should move the cars to the side of the street?" Still not a word. Now my mind started to race. Was this some new method of dealing with crisis situations? Perhaps by saying nothing, he was going to listen to our statements and so determine who was at fault.

That is, he could listen, if he could hear over the ongoing litany from the other party to the nightmare. "He started, and he stopped, and then he started again," like a record with a scratched groove.

Now I was getting frantic. Perhaps he was a recent emigrant from Quebec, just a few miles north. "Parlez vous Anglais?" God help me if I needed my high school French now.

Just then our taciturn young officer got out one of those Porky Pig Magic Slates, the kind you can write on and erase. He gave me one of those wonderful smiles, and wrote me a note: "I am a deaf-mute. I have radio-signaled for a police officer."

Suddenly I wanted to duck into one of my shoes until the color of my face stopped resembling a bottle of burgundy.

A valuable lesson, for anyone interested in the craft of reporting, or the drama of living. Just like the young man's Magic Slate, if you lift the cover on events, things are rarely what they seem.

are tired of this crazy talk.

Get rid of some of the others you don't need Mr. Gregg. You hired them since the deputies were hired and if you was so interested in saving money why didn't you forget about hiring someone else? Also forget the Gorman Water Project.

We need three commissioners that know what they are doing since the ones we have obviously don't.

Taxpayer

Dear Sir:

It was indeed a pleasure to read of the proposed plan to consider incorporating the Maryland State Police Resident Trooper Program in Garrett County appearing in last week's edition.

As a resident and taxpayer of the county, I notice in my travels as a salesman for a petroleum company that we seem to have much overlapping law enforcement. We seem to support the largest sheriff's department in the state, to my knowledge, and the fact shows in the outrageous tax rate citizens share because of such spending in county government.

In comparing the size of Garrett County to a similar county in a neighboring state with a similar population, it seems unusual that they function quite nicely with one sheriff and three deputies. Perhaps Garrett County residents should study the Resident Trooper Plan with great interest, and realize that we need a few good men, highly trained and professional in their duties, to protect our lives and property. There is no need to support a Sheriff's Department with ten deputies, as well as various dispatchers and jail personnel.

When you become too familiar and friendly with those you serve, you tend to lose that professional touch. Everyone can sympathize with the possible loss of jobs to the nine deputies if the program is adopted, but the welfare of an entire county is at stake.

In my opinion, the Resident Trooper plan is a good one, and an excellent way to begin the budget cuts this county so desperately needs. Residents need to take a good, hard look at the eventual outcome of returning to sensible governmental decisions. The commissioners are attempting to right some of the wrong in government spending. They need our support.

Sincerely,
William Herring

Dear Editor:

I would like to respond to the article in last week's paper about resident state troopers for Garrett County.

I wonder if some Garrett Countians understand what they would be losing if Mr. Gregg's plan goes through. The county has paid for these deputies to be well trained in their profession. Mr. Gregg lead the public to believe that the state troopers would be better trained. This is not true.

He wants to get rid of the deputies that you have already paid to be trained, and replace them with out of county residents. The majority of our deputies are natives of the county, and all live in the county. Are we again going to bring outsiders in to fill county jobs and put Garrett Countians in the unemployment lines?

The Sheriff's Department is the citizens' police department and they answer directly to us, the citizens. We elect the sheriff, therefore he answers to us. If resident troopers eliminate the sheriff's department as a police agency we the citizens have no input. Who do the troopers answer to, a sergeant or a captain at the barracks in Allegany County, whom we have no control over.

Statistics show that crime has risen in the state and county as The Republican has shown. The court records show that the Sheriff's Department, with the few men they have, initiated prosecution in the majority of those crimes that have come to trial. Therefore, are we going to stab these men in the back and give the criminals an open hand to do as they wish. Commissioner Gregg, Criminals Salute You!

Thank you,

Dear Editor:

This letter is in reply to the recent article regarding the resident trooper program.

How can two deputies serve the same amount of papers that it now takes ten deputies to serve during two shifts of work-plus transporting prisoners for medical treatments, court, transfer to institutions, provide courtroom security, serve as jailers and serve arrest warrants?

Do county taxpayers realize they would be required to fund the troopers higher salaries, uniforms and automobiles? How does this additional expense lead to savings?

The article appears to state that specialized services are available to state troopers only. It failed to emphasize that a deputy is entitled to the same specialized services as a resident trooper.

Mr. Gregg states that the resident troopers would "actually" live in the community assigned to them. Don't the current deputies now live in these communities? In case you don't realize, Mr. Gregg, the present deputies don't commute to Garrett County from other states—they "actually" live here. Is it practical to bring in resident troopers from other parts of the state who are not as familiar with this area and needs of county citizens which would only cause loss of jobs to eight county residents who are familiar with the job and area?

Mr. Gregg also states that new positions would be found for the laid off deputies. Would he not have to create new positions to be filled?

He also states that this program has worked in seven other counties. But, isn't it true, Mr.

Gregg, that some of these counties also have county police that act in the same capacity as our deputies in addition to their resident troopers and sheriff's department?

Statistics prove Garrett County residents prefer Sheriff's Department services over state police services due to the higher amount of service calls received.

Respectfully,
Dave Bell

Dear Editor:

In regard to your front page article last week (March 25, 1981) concerning Commissioner Gregg's desire to abolish the Sheriff's Dept. in favor of a Resident State Trooper Program, it would seem that no thought has been given to the desires of the citizens.

We would be giving up men who are experienced, trained and qualified in law enforcement, who know Garrett County and its people.

The newest deputy on the force has had four years experience and training. We know that those deputies that have been there longer have plenty of training and experience. They are sincere and dedicated to their job.

The majority of the deputies have spent much of their lives in Garrett County. Several were born and raised in Garrett County. They take their responsibility of serving Garrett County very seriously.

Why bring in other people to do a job that is already being well done by your own Native Garrett County Deputies?

Sincerely,
Mary R. Shank

County Winter Recreation Needs To Be Assessed

The Garrett County Planning Office is conducting a survey to assess the recreational needs of snowmobilers and cross-country skiers in Garrett County, Anna McNallie, senior planner, announced.

Information gained from the survey will be used in the preparation of the county recreation plan, under the direction of McNallie.

McNallie added the recreation plan will be included in the county development plan, which the county planning commission is revising.

McNallie explained the aim of the survey is to help determine whether additional trail systems are needed or existing trails need improvement and whether additional facilities and programs are needed.

The survey forms will not be mailed out due to lack of funds, but will be available to the public at the county planning office, said McNallie.

McNallie emphasized that to be able to adequately ensure improvements to the cross-country and snowmobile programs in the county, persons interested in either sport should participate in the survey.

She urges both county residents and sports enthusiasts coming into the county to obtain a survey form by either calling her at 334-4200 and leaving name and address or going to the planning office

Two Are Sentenced In Circuit Court

Two men were sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer in Garrett County court last week for their part in separate incidents.

Robert Dale Albert, 22, Oakland, was sentenced to three years in jail, with the last two years suspended, and placed on 24 months supervised probation for his part in the June, 1980, attack on Maryland State Trooper Ronald Lewis.

Albert, along with Jackie Garland Friend, was charged with assaulting the officer following a high-speed chase over several county roads near Deep Creek Lake. The men were subdued by Trooper Lewis, after the physical altercation, and arrested on various charges.

Friend was sentenced to ten years in last week's Circuit Court session for his part in the assault.

Sheriff's Office Investigates Area Burglaries, Vandalisms

Numerous thefts and vandalism occurring throughout the county were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department last week.

Charles E. Gibson, McKeesport, Pa., reported the theft of a boat and motor, two snowmobiles and two transporting trailers from the driveway of his summer dwelling at Skippers Point, Deep Creek Lake.

The incident occurred sometime between December 25, 1980 and January 5. The M.F.G. 14-foot boat is red and white in color, the 35 H.P. Johnson boat motor is white and the boat trailer is white with red fenders. The snowmobiles taken, along with a trailer, are an Arctic Cat 440 Cheata and a Polaris 340 Electra. No loss value has been placed on the missing items.

In a separate case, David S. Finney, Mullens, W. Va., reported that, while attending a basketball game at Garrett Community College on February 7, someone entered his unlocked apartment at McHenry and removed an AM/FM cassette tape player portable radio, valued at approximately $300.

William J. Welch, Oakland, reported that sometime between February 26 and March 26, someone pumped approximately 250 gallons of fuel oil from his underground tank. Loss value is estimated at $310.

In a separate case, Elmer Reckart, Oakland, reported that someone removed a CB Cobra 29, 23 channel radio and a "Fuzzbuster" (radar detector) from his Mack truck while it was parked at Harco Lumber, his place of employment. The incident occurred Friday and the total estimated loss value is $220.

Gerald D. Burke, Springfield, Va., reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at his summer home on Mayhew Inn Road near Lake Shore Drive, sometime between September, 1980 and March 27. Unknown persons used a pry-type tool to force open a door. The cottage was ransacked and a Black and Decker electric drill, an electric vibrating sander and three sleeping bags were stolen. Loss value of these items is approximately $134. An unknown amount of fishing equipment was also reported missing. This is one of several burglaries which have occurred in that area of Deep Creek Lake.

Artie Ellen Trenum, Oakland, reported that someone cut and flattened three tires on her vehicle while it was parked in the driveway at her residence on the Oakland-Sang Run Road. The incident occurred during the night on Monday. The tires are valued at approximately $135.

In a separate case, Donald Butler, Mt. Lake Park, reported that during the night of March 21 someone collided with his 1976 Ford truck and failed to notify him. The truck was parked at his residence on Deer Park Avenue.

Tableland Milk Producers, Inc., Route 39 west of Oakland, reported unknown persons cut barbed wire on top of a fence surrounding that property and climbed over the fence during the night of March 23. Police said that at least three persons entered upon the property, as evidenced by footprints left in the snow.

The intruders used an unknown pry-type tool and attempted to open the door on a coke machine located on the property. The attempt was unsuccessful, however damage to the machine is estimated at $50. Nothing was disturbed.

In a separate case, Brenda J. Thorn, Oakland, reported that a rabbit was stolen from a cage in the rear of her home, sometime during the night of March 26. The animal is gray and white, male and six months old. It is valued at approximately $20.

Luther M. Moore, Oakland, reported that he heard what sounded like a shotgun blast on March 25, and found that a 24-inch window glass was broken out at his residence. Feathers from an unknown-type bird were found on several pieces of glass.

A breaking and entering was reported to have occurred at the Curtis A. Beitzel residence in Grantsville, Route 495, sometime during the month of March. Unknown subjects broke the glass on a door to gain entry, and ransacked the dwelling. The owner is in Florida and will return in April. It is unknown at this time what, if anything, is missing. The damage is estimated at $5.

In other business, the department arrested four persons last week.

A 16-year-old juvenile was arrested March 25 on charges of assault and battery. He was released to the YMCA, Cumberland.

Darlene F. Sanner, 29, Green Lantern Road, was arrested Friday on a bench warrant. She was released the same day on her own recognizance.

Wayne V. Jamison, 29, Loch Lynn, was incarcerated Monday on charges of driving while intoxicated. He was released the next day on his own recognizance.

Russell Upole, Jr., 24, Grantsville, was incarcerated yesterday after he pled guilty to attempted second degree rape in Garrett County Circuit Court. Upole was placed in the custody of the Sheriff's Department awaiting a pre-sentence investigation. Bond was set at $5,000 and Upole was released yesterday when bond was met.

Resident Trooper

ible in last week's article by Commissioner Gregg is not possible and cannot be shown. Sheriff Evans stated, "Because I am an elected official, I must answer to the citizens of Garrett County. If I don't do my job, I don't get re-elected." Evans expressed concern over why the program is being considered in the first place, and placed obligation to the county as a priority to himself and his men. He feels, according to Dabney, that State Troopers would not be familiar with the area, the citizens, and the needs of the county if they were brought in from a waiting list to fill the six proposed positions.

When it was pointed out that the six positions would first be offered to the present complement of troopers now stationed in Garrett County, Dabney told of an independent unofficial survey being made by himself and other members of the Sheriff's office among various state troopers in the McHenry detachment concerning their interest in the program, and reported that those men spoken with were not interested in becoming resident state troopers.

When contacted on his position on the issue, Maryland State Police Sgt. Paul Sanders, Commanding Officer of the McHenry Detachment, advised that he was not informed of any questioning of his men concerning the program, and felt that none of them were familiar enough with the program at this point to make a judgment concerning participation. Sgt. Sanders offered the following statement as to his position, "As a representative of the Maryland State Police, I will not engage in a verbal battle over a program or an issue with the Sheriff's Department or any government official. We are professional law enforcement officers whose duty is to provide protection for the lives and safety of Maryland residents. My men are in the barracks or on the road serving the public 24 hours per day."

Sanders further stated that "decisions concerning the Resident Trooper Plan are political in nature, and are to be decided by the county governing body, not the present law enforcement personnel."

To explain in detail the rules and regulations governing the proposed plan, Sgt. William LeFevre, department director of the Resident Trooper program, Maryland State Police headquarters, Pikesville, stated Monday afternoon, that approximately 18 months ago, the Garrett County Commissioners approached his office to explore the feasibility of such a program in the county, which is currently facing severe financial difficulties, and has the second highest tax rate in the state.

LaFevre was again contacted a short time ago to review the current county law enforcement possibilities in relation to

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Arthur (Fuzzy) Burgess who passed away March 30, 1967. Gone is the face we loved so dear, silent is the voice we loved to hear. Too far away for sight or speech, but not too far for thought to reach. Sweet to remember him who was here, who, gone away is just his dear. Deeply and sadly missed by his wife Marce, daughters Mary, Kathryn and families.
—Adv. 5-11

services the State Police could provide, as a money-saving measure. After researching the current activities of the county sheriff's department, LeFevre and Commissioner Ernest Gregg tentatively agreed that six Maryland State Police officers could provide the level of service now assigned to the nine deputies at a substantial cost savings to the county.

To detail the Resident Trooper Plan, if the county commissioners decide to incorporate the program, each Trooper would remain under direct control of the Maryland State Police, being supervised by the Commanding Officer of the nearest barracks, located in McHenry. Each Resident Trooper would receive his orders by normal communication channels through the supervising State Police Barracks. The principal executive of the contracting agency (the county commissioners) would deal directly with the commanding officer on all matters concerning the duties or performance of the trooper.

The Resident Trooper would be in uniform at all times during regular working hours, not leaving his assigned jurisdiction without permission of the barracks.

The Resident Trooper would not be called on for use on blockades, manhunts, missing person searches, etc., except in extreme emergency.

Among the fundamental purposes for the county to enter into such an agreement for law enforcement service with the State Police, according to proponents of the plan, are to offer a professional level of police service to the citizens of Garrett County at a lesser cost than now in existence; to provide for greater uniformity and flexibility in police protection; to enhance the quality of services provided; and to reduce duplication of services. The prime focus is to provide effective law enforcement services within an efficient framework of operational expenditure.

According to LeFevre, and the Resident Trooper manual, budgetary discretion is clearly one of the most important of the organizational factors that makes the plan attractive to counties throughout the state. One serious difficulty with estimating the costs of a local sheriff's department, he said, is control of future increases in the cost of services. Increased expenditures are often annual rituals which the local governing body finds hard to deny.

Budget hearings for Garrett County departments are now in progress, with the county sheriff's department in line for increased operating expense for Fiscal Year 1982. According to a spokesman for the commissioners, the sheriff's department is $2,336 in the red for the FY81 budget for vehicle expense, and has used more than 75% of the total FY81 budgeted amount. Salary increases, additional manpower, and additional vehicles have already been solicited in the FY1982 budget requests. Five vehicles, at a cost of approximately $38,000, were thought to have been included in FY81 expenses, but were not, and must be paid for at the beginning of the FY82 Calendar Year if the bids are accepted.

With the Resident Trooper Program, no force exists within the local area to push for increased pay of its members or for increased expenditures in its functional areas. According to the manual, the program offers freedom from the administrative problems of handling a local sheriff's department, which often generates more frequent and difficult personnel problems than do other county government employees. The county would receive, the manual says, the benefits of highly specialized units that the Maryland State Police, as a large agency, can more easily provide than a smaller agency, such as a sheriff's department. The relative degree of efficiency of the operation should be reflected in the quality of service received by the county citizens, LeFevre related, because the purpose of the arrangement is

Lakers Split Doubleheaders With Hagerstown, Dundalk

The Garrett Community College Laker baseball team opened its season Saturday afternoon, falling to host Hagerstown Junior College 6-2 in the first game, and then coming back for a win in the nightcap, 5-3. The Lakers then traveled to Dundalk on Sunday and split another doubleheader, scoring a one-hit shutout, 4-0, in the opener, and then losing the second contest, 6-0.

Laker pitcher Rick Bricker took the loss in the opener against Hagerstown, although his teammates Lawrence Nesselrodt and Dean Marsico each doubled and singled and Jeff Taulton homered, for a total of five hits. Hagerstown rapped seven hits, three of which were by first baseman, Callandrelle.

Behind the pitching of Joe Lopez and the timely hitting of Nesselrodt and Marsico in the second contest, the Lakers rebounded for the win. One of Marsico's two hits was a two-run, bases-loaded single in the seventh which secured the victory. Nesselrodt also collected two hits.

In what Laker coach Phil Caruso called a "tremendous game," Laker pitcher Steve Butler tossed six hitless innings to Dundalk batters in Sunday's opener before giving up a single to Glenn MacDougall in the seventh.

In that contest, the Lakers jumped out to a two-run lead in the first inning. Third baseman Earl Gift drew a walk with one out, took second on an error, and then crossed the plate on a base hit by Dean Marsico. Brian Turley then recorded his first of three hits, a double, which scored Marsico.

Both sides went scoreless until the sixth, when Jeff Taulton rapped his second home run of the season over the leftfield fence.

A security run was added by Garrett in the seventh when Mike Briscoe led off with a single, advanced to second on a sacrifice fly by first baseman Ed Wildesen, and scored on a base hit by Nesselrodt.

Caruso said his team played "flawless defense" and turned four double plays.

The second game was a different story, however, as some walks and a few costly errors, plus a lack of offense by the Lakers cost them the contest and dropped their season ledger to 2-2.

Dundalk got on the scoreboard in the first on a pair of walks and a base hit by Steve Noles. They added another run in the third, also a result of a walk and error, two runs in the fifth and a final pair in the seventh for the 6-0 shutout. Marsico took the loss of GOC, while Kendall scattered five hits by the Lakers.

The Lakers face more tough encounters this week, as they travel to Baltimore Community College tomorrow for a doubleheader. Baltimore was the seventh ranked team in the nation last season.

The Lakers will then face Frederick in their home opener Saturday and travel to Cumberland to meet arch-rival Allegany CC on Sunday.

"We should get better as the season progresses," Caruso said. "The early part of our schedule is extremely difficult," he added.

C&P Offers New Telephone Device For Handicapped

People with hearing or speech impairments will be able to order a new telecommunications device from the C&P Telephone Company of Maryland as of today.

The TDD (Telecommunications Device for the Deaf) will enable people to communicate via a telephone line with anyone else who uses a similar machine or a teletypewriter — the two telecommunications mediums of the hearing-and speech-impaired.

C&P will offer the equipment to Maryland residential customers with speech and hearing impairments at a monthly rate of $13, a price authorized by the Maryland Public Service Commission that C&P says is below the actual cost of providing the service. Interested persons may contact the company's Telephone Service Center of Disabled People on either of these toll-free lines: Voice only, 800-424-8656; TTY only, 800-424-8657.

Persons who receive the TDD will automatically become eligible to receive a reduced rate on certain intrastate, dialed-direct long distance calls. Customers with speech and hearing impairments who already receive the reduced rate on intrastate long distance calls still need to contact the Center to secure a TDD.

The device is portable and comes with its own carrying case.

Literature about the equipment is available at each of the company's 33 Phone Center Stores located throughout the state and by calling the Telephone Service Center for Disabled People.

The TDD is a single unit with a visual window and a keyboard similar to a typewriter's. It connects to any telephone through the handset and comes with a rechargeable battery in case of a power failure.

As customers type their messages, the words instantly appear on the display windows of the calling and called parties.

The Bell System now maintains 24-hour operator service

TELEPHONE FOR THE DEAF — Communicating via a telephone line beginning today will be made easier for people with hearing or speech impairments when the C&P Telephone Company of Maryland offers customers the use of this new telecommunications device. Persons can contact the company's Telephone Service Center for Disabled People to learn more about obtaining one. The toll-free numbers are (voice only) 800-424-8656, and (TTY only) 800-424-8657.

centers for users of telecommunications devices for the deaf. By dialing 1-800-855-1155, these users calling from anywhere in the U.S. will reach a special operator who can help complete person-to-person, collect, credit card, and third-number billed calls.

State Police Say Thieves' Luck Runs Hot And Cold

A Westernport woman was a victim of a thief who apparently took advantage of her misfortune during an auto mishap.

Linda Marie Davis reported to Maryland State Police last week that $500 in cash was stolen from the glove compartment of her car while she conferred with persons on the scene of the accident.

The investigation is continuing. An unknown thief found that crime definitely did not pay when stealing a wallet from a shower room locker at the Village Inn, McHenry.

Randall Wayne Perando, 25, Deer Park, reported to Maryland State Police that someone had removed the wallet from his clothing while he was in the resort pool. The wallet was later discovered in the wastebasket of the men's rest room, where the disgruntled thief apparently tossed it after finding only one dollar inside. Unbeknownst to the thief, a fifty-dollar bill was folded between some cards in the wallet, and was recovered by the owner.

Union President Will Try To Stop State Prison Guards' Job Action

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A leader of the prison guards' union said Tuesday he will recommend guards cancel a planned job action at three Jessup facilities because the state's two highest ranking corrections officials resigned.

Ed Davis, president of American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 1678, said about 300 guards at Brock Bridge, the House of Correction and the Correctional Institution for Women had planned to suspend all voluntary activities Wednesday to protest long-standing grievances with correction officials.

Those activities include escorting prisoners to programs away from the jail and volunteer participation in job-training programs, Davis said.

Last Thursday, 26 Brock Bridge inmates were indicted on 61 counts including murder, rape, escape and drug dealing. The prisoners were supposed to be at jobs or at school when the offenses occurred.

Sunday, Public Safety Secretary Gordon Kamka and

Director of Corrections Edwin R. Goodlander, targets of widespread criticism, resigned because they said they could no longer be effective at their jobs.

"Right now, the job action technically is still on for Wednesday. But it looks as if our plans have been somewhat interrupted. What we were calling for — a change in administration — has come to pass," Davis said.

"I don't see the necessity at this juncture of taking a job action. I'll vote to call it off because I don't believe in wasting time or money for nothing," he said.

Prison officers had "severe and difficult differences on philosophical approaches" with Kamka and Goodlander, Davis said.

"Personally, I liked those two guys. But professionally, no. They just couldn't get anything done that would do us any good," he said.

Davis said the union will cooperate with the corrections department's new leaders. "We are going to wait and see who the permanent persons will be and what their approach will be. We will meet with the permanent people and extend the olive branch. It's time to stop fighting and do some corrections work."

"But if the situation once again becomes intolerable, we'll go back to what we did in the past. But we're not looking for another fight. We're tired. We've been waging war since 1979 and we need a rest," Davis said.

Meanwhile, the Baltimore city grand jury investigating accusations of mismanagement at Brock Bridge is planning to call at least two high-ranking corrections officials this week.

The grand jury is scheduled to subpoena William Lamb, superintendent of the state's 20 minimum-security facilities and his deputy, Michael A. Meneffe, superintendent of Brock Bridge.

The grand jury is trying to determine when state officials found out about the alleged abuses of the college-and-work-release programs and what actions they took to halt them.

Allege President Denies

ST. MARY'S, Md. (UPI) — The president of St. Mary's College said Monday he was not intoxicated last week when he was arrested by state police for drunk driving on U.S. Route 301 in Waldorf.

J. Renwick Jackson said he was sleepy because he had worked 18 straight hours and had attended two meetings that day.

Jackson said Trooper Christine Mazaika told him she was going to charge him, then asked him if he would take a test. He said he refused because he thought the trooper had already prejudiced herself by telling him she would charge him.

Motel Robbed

LAUREL, Md. (UPI) — A search of a motel to find two men who robbed the motel clerk at gunpoint early Tuesday was unsuccessful and state police have no suspects, a state trooper said.

A trooper on routine patrol early Tuesday became suspicious when he did not see the clerk in his office at the motel, state police spokesman Dan McCarthy said.

The trooper radioed a police dispatcher, who called the motel. When the clerk answered, he told the dispatcher he had been robbed by two armed men and tied up, but managed to free himself.

Troopers from Glen Burnie, Waterlo, and the College Park barracks, a tactical squad and canine units conducted a room-to-room search, but the robbers already had fled.

Kent Jury Acquits

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (UPI) — A Kent County jury acquitted a 21-year-old woman of murdering a Rising Sun man who gave her and a friend a ride last summer.

The jury found Pamela Y. Brooks, 21, innocent of five counts of murder and armed robbery. But she was found guilty Monday of three counts of assault and battery, transporting a handgun and theft.

Both Miss Brooks and Diane M. Souffie, 21, of Rising Sun, were charged last September for the death in July of Brian E. Waddell, 19, also of Rising Sun.

According to court testimony, Waddell picked up the two women hitchhiking and after the shooting they drove his van to Ocean City and Rehoboth Beach.

Miss Souffie, who was eight-and-a-half months pregnant at the time of her trial, was convicted of second-degree murder earlier this month.

License Suspended

BEL AIR, Md. (UPI) — The state Department of Health and Mental Hygiene suspended the operating license of a trash dump in Harford County because the owners have not built a sediment pond and did not remove scattered wastes from the site daily.

The order gave the owners of the Hask Valley landfill until April 27 to comply with earlier order requiring construction of the sediment pond, regrading of slopes and removing scattered wastes daily.

County Public Works Director Thomas H. Hamer said the order "comes at a bad time" because budget restraints have forced a cutback in the hours of county-owned landfills.

Autopsy Findings

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The state medical examiner's office said a woman whose body was found near her Catonsville home Sunday died of head and neck injuries inflicted by a blunt instrument.

An autopsy on Evelyn Dietrich, 68, was performed Monday by doctors in the medical examiner's office.

Faulty Sewerage

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — A Crofton woman is suing a plumber and a contractor because she says water and sewage leaks are so bad in her condominium that mushrooms are growing in the bedroom.

Diane Ramsey filed a $3.5 million lawsuit against GWA Realty of Maryland Inc. and Razzano Plumbing and Heating Co. Inc. in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court Monday.

The suit said Ms. Ramsey has been plagued with plumbing and sewage troubles since she bought the condominium in 1977 and has had to move out several times because of the smell and the soggy floors.

following, "I resent uniformed deputies in county police vehicles approaching the citizens of the county using tax dollars and county time, in such a manner. All groups involved must stick to the basic issues of cost factor and saving of tax dollars to the county, rather than personality factors. The citizens have a right to know all the facts before being asked to make a decision. Most people in the county have little or no knowledge of the program."

According to Commissioner Gregg, additional meetings will be forthcoming, and progress will be followed throughout the week on all aspects of the issue.

1978 to make the food service program self-supporting as well as to establish consistency in school menus and to gain better control over personnel.

The Board wanted to make the program self-supporting to reduce the amount of county tax dollars going to the program. Buckingham stated that before he became manager, the Board was paying $84,184 to the program. Now it is paying $34,000.

The money, he explained, was funding retirement, workmen's compensation and hospitalization benefits for employees as well as funding some school programs which were not making money. Now, the Board is only financing workmen's compensation and hospitalization.

In response for calls to abolish his position and his central staff positions, Buckingham stated that when he became manager, a full-time secretary and part-time secretary were already working in the program.

He said he made the part-time position a full-time position and doubled the work load for the staff by taking most of the paper work from school cafeteria managers.

The truck driver was hired and a truck purchased to pick up and deliver food for the schools. Before he became manager, maintenance men at the different schools used school board vehicles to pick up and deliver the foods. They are now free to do their own jobs, Buckingham pointed out.

Buckingham denied that the quality of foods served in the schools had declined. He said that school cafeteria managers take turns throughout the year in making up the menu for the county schools over a six-week period.

The only time he intervenes in the process of making up the menus is when they do not comply with federal guidelines, which is necessary to qualify for federal aid.

One specific complaint made by students is that one particular food item, later tots, have been offered at every meal. A truckload of later tots, according to some sources, had been purchased by the county after it had been rejected by Allegany County because the

Last-Minute Motorists Rush To Beat Auto Sticker Deadline

GLEN BURNIE, Md. (UPI) — About 1,000 last-minute drivers formed a line that wrapped around Motor Vehicle Administration headquarters before business Tuesday at the 11th hour to receive their yellow and black 1982 license plate stickers.

"No question about it. More people held off this year. As of yesterday morning, we were about 125,000 applications behind last year's processing pace," he said.

The waiting crowd was in good spirits Tuesday, Horwitz said.

Motorists driving without stickers April 1 risk a $500 fine if they are convicted.

The chronic procrastinators "pay their taxes April 15," he said. And people who say they like waiting in line — "don't ask my why, they say they enjoy meeting other people. Some of them this morning brought their coffee and I saw one guy watching 'Good Morning, America' on a portable TV set," he said.

Motorists driving without stickers April 1 risk a $500 fine if they are convicted.

"But you'd be surprised the number of people, even John Good Citizen, who have the stickers in plenty of time and get caught because they forgot or tucked them under the visor," Horwitz said.

About 100,000 licenses were flagged for non-payment of parking citations, a decrease of about 40,000 from last year, he said.

"That means that the guy who gets a ticket in Ocean City while on vacation has to go back there and pay it off if he waits until deadline. The same thing happens in Cumberland," Horwitz said.

Drivers were required to pay all outstanding repair orders and parking tickets before they could get their stickers.

Queues formed early Tuesday outside the Baltimore Municipal Building where overdue tickets were paid.

Steve Horwitz of the MVA blamed the backup on drivers. He said more motorists waited as long as possible this year than last to renew their registration.

Horwitz spoke to people in line and said he has detected a pattern in the past few years.

Last-minute motorists fall into three categories: those who didn't have the money to pay $20 or $30 for stickers, much less clear up their ticket debt; habitual procrastinators, and a group that likes the camaraderie of waiting in line, he said.

"It's more pronounced this year, but a lot of people say they can't afford shoes for their

TEARS OF JOY stream down the face of 17-year-old Melissa Mushberger, Oakland, just moments after she was crowned Queen Kumquat (try saying that six times fast) Sunday evening at the 53rd annual Kumquat Festival in lower Hutton. Miss Mushberger is a junior student at Southern High School where she is president of the Checkers Club and a member of the local chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Pigeons. Pictured at left is first runner-up, Bonnie Nicely, and at right is last year's queen, Cathy Crumpets. Seconds after the announcement of the winner, Miss Mushberger was reported to have exclaimed, "I just can't believe it!"

A REAL DIE HARD — Local ace fisherman, Newt Creyphish, McHenry, just couldn't believe it when he went out Monday morning to catch his breakfast and discovered that Deep Creek Lake was gone. "At first, I just thought it was an optical illusion," he commented. "You know how the light at daybreak can play tricks on you." Newt is pictured above at his dock in the Turkey Neck section of the lake. Officials still have not determined what happened to the lake, but they suspect foul play. See story.

Decision Rendered On By-Pass

After months of deliberations, public meetings and debate, the Garrett County Planning Commission, along with the Garrett County Commissioners, have made a decision concerning the proposed Oakland Route 219 By-Pass.

"I'm glad this is finally over," stated a relieved Tim Doogin, county planning Director, following the Monday afternoon meeting.

"It was a tough decision, but we feel it is a decision which will be of most benefit to all persons concerned," stated Commissioner Bernie Craig.

"It just goes to show, that when you get all the facts out on the table, a solution can be found for every tough issue," commented Tom Jonas, of the Garrett County Development Corporation.

"It wasn't an easy decision, but I feel all these weeks of discussion has resulted in a

Parents' Groups To Meet Tomorrow

The Garrett County Mothers Don't Always Matter Group will hold a joint meeting on April 2 at 6 a. m. at the Odd Couples' Hall in Hutton in conjunction with the Father's Seldom Pay Attention Anyway Organization.

The topic for discussion will be "Exploring the Present County School Attendance Policy", with "How to Become an Indifferent Parent in 11 Easy Cakes" as a sub-topic. Questions will be ignored after the session. Refreshments will be available.

workable solution," noted Commissioner Shuman Paw.

"Every decision we make is going to displease somebody," added Commissioner Jess Punter. "Realizing this fact makes a decision as tough as this one was just a little easier."

Editor's note: Unfortunately, we are unable to report just exactly what the decision was on the Oakland By-Pass question, as Nacilbuper reporter Karul Maple, who was covering the meeting, fell asleep just as the decision was announced. We hope to have further details by next week.

Five New Classes Offered By GCC

Five new courses will be offered this semester at the McHenry Campus of Garrett Community College, according to GCC Dean, Bobb Trampum.

Nail Filing 101 will be offered by the School of Health and Beauty Aids. Registration fee will cover the cost of emory boards.

The Zoology Department will offer Bat Watching 113. Class participants must be caught up on all their rabies shots.

Window Shopping 111 will be available through the Economics Department. This course is a pre-requisite to Window Shopping 112 and 113.

The Physical Education Department will sponsor Rat Shooting 117, with all classes being held at the county landfill.

In order to take advantage of the persistent wind at the McHenry Campus, Kite Flying 121 will be offered by the Physics Department. Charles Brown will be the instructor.

Trampum stated that persons interested in any of the above courses should contact the college immediately, as they are "filling up fast."

Commissioners Discuss Proposals To Eliminate County's Deficit

In their continuing effort to cure the financial woes of Garrett County, the county commissioners on Friday unanimously approved a proposal to hold a bake sale every Saturday morning at the courthouse for the next several weeks. There was also some discussion about including a car wash in conjunction with the sale, however a decision on that was tabled for at least another week.

"Because we are able to purchase such items as donuts, cookies and cakes at a bulk rate," Commissioner Bernie Craig stated, "we concluded that this would be an excellent opportunity to put a dent in the deficit we are facing."

There was some concern by Commissioner Shuman Paw that "store-bought" goods would not sell as well as the homemade variety. "Folks around here are raised on home cookin'," he said, "and I just don't think we are going to have much luck pushing this stuff." However, after more discussion, Paw decided it was "worth a try."

Profits on the bake sales are expected to be approximately $50 per week. Commissioner Jess Punter calculated that, at this rate, the county's deficit should be wiped out by the year 2042. "That's considering about a ten percent annual inflation rate," Punter said.

Another proposal being considered at this time by the commissioners is for Garrett County to secede from the United States, declare war on the United States, surrender that afternoon, and then apply for foreign aid. Commissioner Craig said that there were a "few legal points" to be worked out before any further action can be taken on this plan.

In other business, the commissioners approved a proposal to purchase authentic, life-size, inflatable dummies of themselves to be used for all proclamation signings. The commissioners stated that they felt far too much of their time was being spent on such signings. They had originally discussed hiring an official Proclamation Signer, but due to the expense of creating another county position, they rejected that proposal. Commissioner Paw said that a qualified Proclamation Signer usually receives $18-20,000 a year.

These dummies will be in a sitting position when inflated and the manufacturer guarantees that persons "will never know the difference" when viewing a photo of the dummies in the newspaper as to whether or not they are the real thing. Apparently a more sophisticated model is available, one which contains a tape recorder so as to give the impression that the dummies are actually talking, however the commissioners decided that this was an "unnecessary expense."

The right hand of the dummy of Commissioner Craig, who is chairman of the board, will contain a pencil, in order to simulate the signing of any given proclamation. When asked what they would do if the board chairmanship changed hands (no pun intended), Commissioner Craig said that the hands of the other two dummies could easily be adjusted to hold a pencil.

The dummies were expected to be delivered this morning.

Bulletin

Local fire and rescue personnel were called to the Garrett County Courthouse this afternoon after an explosion in the county commissioners' office. Reliable sources said that the blast occurred as a result of over-inflation of a life-size dummy of Commissioner Jess Punter. There were apparently no injuries, however a few windows of the office were shattered and pieces of the balloon-like figure were found as far away as the Oakland City parking lot. Further details of the incident were unavailable at press time.

Other items of business discussed by the commissioners in Friday's meeting included a proposal to carpet the animal shelter, to make Ground Hog Day a legal county holiday, and to purchase silver bullets for the county deputies.

Officials "Baffled" By Strange Disappearance of Deep Creek Lake

The residents along Deep Creek Lake received quite a shock Monday morning when they looked out of their lake-front windows and discovered that the lake was gone. The county, state and Department of Natural Resources police reported that they received some 300 calls before noon Monday from persons all over the county wondering what had happened to Maryland's largest fresh water lake.

Harry Goatherd, manager of Deep Creek Lake, said in an interview late Monday morning that the Pennsylvania Electric Company, which owns the lake, had assured him that they had not released all of the water Sunday night for power generation. Goatherd stated that he was "baffled" by the lake's disappearance, but was making several calls down state to get some answers.

"It all kind of took me by surprise," Goatherd said. "I had just gone down to the lake and stepped into my boat. I knew something just didn't look quite right, but I couldn't pinpoint what it was. Then I tried to start my boat and, wow, you should have seen the mud fly!" he exclaimed. "It was at that moment that I realized the lake was missing."

He said he went down immediately and checked the dam and found it to be intact. When questioned about possible evaporation, Goatherd said that it "just simply wasn't warm enough" Sunday night.

"All I can figure" he scrutinized, "is that the lake has been stolen."

After some quick calculations, Goatherd figured it would take about 1,623,000 tank trucks, each with a capacity of 2,500 gallons, in order to transport all of the water from the lake overnight. "It would be highly unlikely," he said, "that that many tank trucks could come into the county in one night and not be noticed by somebody. Why, you would need every truck driver in ten states just to operate that many trucks!" he said. "That would be quite a theft ring," he chuckled.

State police, who are reasonably certain that the lake was stolen, said that the Deep Creek Lake incident is just one in a rash of similar lake and pond thefts which have occurred over the past several weeks in the tri-state area. The big question on their minds is where these bodies of water are being hidden. Apparently there have been no reports of strange lakes or ponds appearing in other locations.

"What we're dealing with here," Sgt. Rick Slanders of the Maryland State Police stated yesterday, "is a crazed, eccentric group of individuals, who are either out looking for some kicks, or are extremely thirsty." Slanders admitted that they were a "clever bunch," however.

Goatherd called an emergency meeting of the Deep Creek Lake advisory board last night to discuss what course of action to take on the matter. However, the members of the board, apparently feeling that there was nothing left for them to offer advice on, decided to dissolve the board and go home. Goatherd was said to have stated, "This is a fine how-do-you-do."

By yesterday morning several lake property owners had shown up at the tax assessment office at the courthouse in Oakland to protest their tax bills, claiming that they were paying lakefront tax rates, but that they no longer had any lake front. Gerry Moler, of the tax office, told the property owners that he and his staff "would look into the matter."

Another individual highly upset about the lake's disappearance was Windy Flanks, executive director of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council. Miss Flanks, said that the regional National Bass Tournament is scheduled for tomorrow and it will be "very difficult" to go ahead with the tourney if the lake is not there. "Most of these expert bass fishermen are pretty particular, anyway," Miss Flanks lamented. "Fishing in mud is not usually their idea of a good tournament," she concluded.

One optimistic note was received from the state roads department, who said that this would be "an excellent time" to repair or replace the Glendale and Route 219 bridges, provided the lake will eventually be found and replaced. "It would be a real bonddoggle to replace the bridges and then not have any lake," a spokesman for the department conjectured.

DNR police remind citizens that all swimming and boating at the lake will be suspended until further notice, and they particularly stressed that persons should not dive from any of the bridges.

Persons with any information as to the whereabouts of the lake or noticing some ten billion gallons of suspicious water are asked to contact the state police.

Nacilbuper Seeking New Photographer

A recent bulletin from the Garrett County Animal Shelter concerning unusual traits of county wildlife claims that a skunk cannot bite and throw its scent at the same time.

Verification of the report was made when The Nacilbuper staff photographer, Greg Flylips was cited along the Oakland-Sang Run Road near the animal shelter wildly stuffing the lips of a stray skunk with chunks of his peanut butter sandwich while running backwards toward Oakland.

Upon reaching the office, Flylips stated "That's it for Adorable Adoptable pictures." At last report, he was raising alfalfa sprouts somewhere near the Cranesville Swamp, venturing into Oakland only to catch spring and fall clearance sales at the Nearly New Shop.

Weather

The weather report for Garrett County has been cancelled, as we won't be having any for the next several days.

Pranksters Find Use For County Courthouse Plaza

County police said yesterday that the investigation is still underway to determine who was responsible for placing 23 assorted outhouses on the courthouse plaza sometime Friday night. The structures were discovered early Saturday morning by a courthouse janitor when he went out to vacuum the plaza.

Sheriff July Evens stated yesterday that his office had received several calls Saturday morning by "rather desperate" residents, living in the more rural areas of the county, who found their outbuildings missing. Evens said his department has few leads in the caper, but he believes the culprit or culprits are members of a group of citizens who protested the building of the new courthouse a few years ago. On the sides of several of the huts, in bright red, spray-paint letters, were sayings such as "Roses are red, Violets are blue, We hate this building, And who built it too," and "Two, four, six, eight, This structure we will desecrate."

Evens said that the outhouses must be claimed by Friday and owners will be responsible for removing them from the plaza. Those which are not claimed, he said, will most likely be sold at public auction. He stated that several of them are in "pretty good shape."

Sports

Oakland Nipped By Grantsville In Local Tourney

The Oakland Orangutans saw their hopes for their first championship in the Garrett County semi-amateur basketball circuit go down the drain Monday evening as they were edged by the Grantsville Gorillas, 147-13, in the league finals, held on the Northern High School floor.

The score was tied 12-12 at the half, but the Gorillas caught fire in the third quarter and went up by 25-12 going into the final chapter. "Our shooting just went cold," lamented Orangutan coach Jake "Tube Sock" O'Reilly.

It appeared for a moment that Oakland would stage a rally, when with 5:04 remaining in the contest, guard Doug Dullard ripped the nets on a foul shot, narrowing the gap to 88-13. The rally was short-lived, however, as the Gorillas, led by the inside shooting of Sam "The Ram" Jammer, reeled off 15 straight buckets in the next three minutes.

Coach O'Reilly later admitted that the fact that all but one of his players, third-string center Ron Liddle (3-6, 68), had fouled out of the contest at the 4:58 mark. "Ronny played his little heart out," O'Reilly stated, "but there's only so much one fella can do."

Gorilla coach Greg Greaty was quite pleased with the win. "With the exception of being a little lax on defense in the third quarter, our kids played an excellent game," he said. "I was especially pleased with Jammer's performance." Jammer (6-11, 421) led Grantsville's scoring with 111 points on 41 baskets and 29 of 33 from the free throw line. Forward Jim "Slim" Cooper (6-5, 102) contributed 33 points on 15 baskets and three free throws. Cooper had to leave the game in the third period when one of the Oakland players allegedly tied his right arm in a square knot.

Leading the scoring for the Orangutans was the league's only female player, Roxanne Bumbler, who netted ten points on five fielders.

Oakland's only other basket was a 13-foot jumper by 81-year-old Zeke "Pops" Henderson, who, having forgotten to let go of the ball when he made that shot, left the game with minor injuries.

"I really felt like this was one of those games that could have gone either way," O'Reilly concluded. "If we had played them on our own floor, things could have gone the other way."

Grantsville will now move on to regional action and face the Cumberland Yaks Friday evening in Avilton.

SENIOR TOUGH GUY — Zachery "Punch 'em Out" Wilson, 92, Loch Lynn, was named the winner in Saturday afternoon's Senior Citizens Tough Guy Contest, sponsored by the Garrett County Commission on Aging. Wilson earned the crown after pummeling seven opponents, including 74-year-old Butch "Fisticuffs" McCoy in the finals. Although there were numerous cuts and bruises, Commission officials report that there were no serious injuries in the competition, which was held in the auditorium of the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College. Among Wilson's prizes are a week's supply of Ben-Gay and a life subscription to Parents Magazine. All proceeds from this event will go toward the purchase of new pads for the Senior Citizen Rugby Team.

An impossible dream? Not at all. Men have already gone to the moon and women will follow. This girl, it she really wants to, may be one of them.

It's really easy to do. That word "really" is often the key to success. It may take hard work, courage and time, but if a person really wants to achieve, the chances are that they will. But both men and women need strength in order to succeed — the kind of strength that the church offers. Take a look at the record. You will find that some of the greatest pioneers both on earth and in space have also been churchgoers.

Don't you think there must be a reason for it?

FOR GOOD ADVICE ALWAYS CONSULT AN EXPERT

Well meaning friends who give you prescription medicines that have helped them relieve an ailment with similar symptoms can cause you serious harm. Many drugs are too potent to be taken without a physician's approval. Many different ailments have the same distress symptoms. To diagnose the cause of trouble takes years of study and observation of sick people. Only a physician has this knowledge.

Prescriptions contain what a physician considers to be the specific medicine which will best help his patient. What helped your friend may endanger you. Never take any other person's prescription without getting the approval of your own physician.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

ENERGY TIP: Place a pan of cold water inside the oven immediately after use to absorb the excess heat.

HELPFUL HINTS
Often when attempting to complete a task around the house, it seems that there must be an easier way. The following tips will help to make some of those jobs go a little faster.

*To make it easier to turn screws into hard wood, first draw the threaded portion across a bar of soap. This will also help make later removal of the screws easier.

*Before painting a kitchen or any area where grease may have accumulated on the walls, the surfaces should be scrubbed first. Paint adheres best to a clean surface.

*Plastic items, such as shower curtains and tablecloths, should be machine-washed with terry towels to aid cleaning. They can be machine-dried on the AIR setting—heat could damage the plastic as well as become a fire hazard. Place a few clean, dry bath towels in the dryer to help absorb moisture.

*A dull, overcast day is best for washing windows and glass-top garden furniture because sunshine dries the glass so quickly that streaks may develop.

*When washing walls or floors, don't forget baseboards where dirt and grime often settle. Apply thick suds with a sponge or cloth. Use a non-abrasive nylon pad on stubborn stains. Rinse with a damp cloth or sponge and wipe dry.

*Try one of the following three formulas to remove stains from nonstick surfaces such as Silverstone and Teflon: 1/4 cup coffee pot cleaner in 1 quart of water; 3 tablespoons oxygen bleach, 1 teaspoon light duty liquid detergent in 1 cup of water; or 3 tablespoons dish-washer detergent in 1 cup of water. Let the solution simmer in the stained pan for 15-20 minutes, then wash the pan thoroughly, rinse and dry. Recondition the pan with cooking oil or shortening before using.

*For best results when machine drying clothes, dry items of similar weight together. Lightweight fabrics take less time to dry than heavier ones.

FOOD NOTES

Celery is well-liked food with a wide variety of uses. It contributes small amounts of iron, calcium, and vitamin C to the diet. Also, when eaten raw, it helps clean teeth.

This month celery is in plentiful supply, according to the USDA. Since the price will be reasonable, try to include it in your diet. Here is a stir-fry recipe that could be a terrific accompaniment to any meal:

CELERY STIR-FRY MAGIC

- 1 cup celery cut in 1/4-inch pieces
- 1 small clove garlic minced
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- 1 eight-oz. can cut green beans, drained
- 1/2 lb. mushrooms, sliced
- 1/2 teaspoon instant chicken bouillon mix
- 1/4 cup sliced almonds
- grated peel of 1/2 fresh lemon
- 1 tablespoon fresh squeezed lemon juice

In skillet, stir-fry celery and garlic in butter and oil until just tender (about 5-6 minutes). Add green beans, mushrooms and bouillon; stir-fry 2-3 minutes more. Stir in almonds, lemon peel and juice, serve. Makes two servings, about two cups.

EXTENSION HAPPENINGS

Workshops on "Nutrition from Newborns to Teens" will be conducted on April 7 at the Friendsville Health Center and on April 9 at the Grantsville Health Center at 10:30 a.m. and at 1:30 p.m. All interested persons are invited.

Secretaries Week Activities Stated

The Third Annual Secretary of the Year Contest is being sponsored by the Business Division of Garrett Community College. The winners will be announced at the Awards Luncheon, which will be held during Professional

Secretaries Week, April 19-25

Secretaries nominated by their employers will be divided into two categories — ten years or less experience and over ten years experience. They will be judged on secretarial skills and personal qualities which make them efficient.

A Workshop for Secretaries will be held prior to the luncheon. Topics discussed will include office etiquette, taking control of situations and learning how to say "No". This workshop is being sponsored by the Garrett County Chapter of Professional Secretaries International (formerly known as the National Secretaries Association).

Contest and reservation forms may be obtained at the Oakland Center and McHenry Campus or from the college display stands at the Village Inn, Starlite Restaurant, Ruth Enlow Library, Grantsville Foodland, and Fratz Red and White. All forms must be returned by Tuesday, April 14.

For more information on the contest and workshop persons should watch for the ad in next week's Republican newspaper or call Tammy Garber at 387-6996, Ext. 25.

Library Will Sponsor Spring Film Festival

The Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland will sponsor "Spring Film Festival 1981", featuring a great film of mystery and suspense, Monday evenings at 7 p.m., April 6 through May 25. All films are free to the public and will be shown in the library's film room. The movies are from the Audio-Visual Department of Enoch Pratt Library in Baltimore.

The film to be shown this Monday is entitled "The Third Man." The haunting music of the zither, and the war-torn buildings and cobbled streets of post-war Vienna provide the setting for this classic mystery-thriller romance based on a novel by Graham Greene.

Holly Martins, an unintelligent but tenacious American writer of Westerns, arrives in Vienna to join his old friend Harry Lime. He is told that Lime has been killed in a hit-and-run car accident, and was wanted by the police

DOE Offers Energy Grants

Approximately $1.1 million in U.S. Department of Energy funds are now available to help private citizens, non-profit organizations, institutions, state and local agencies, native American tribes and small businesses develop small-scale energy technologies.

The funds are the third cycle of grants under the Appropriate Technology program in DOE Region III, which consists of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

The program is designed to encourage individuals and groups to develop small-scale energy technologies, such as solar water heating, electricity generated by wind or water and the novel use of energy conservation measures.

Grants of up to $10,000 can be awarded to successful applicants for energy ideas and up to $50,000 for developing a device or system into a useful technology or for demonstrating a technology under operating conditions.

During the first two years the program was administered by DOE Region III Office, Philadelphia, Pa., and about $2 million was awarded to 149 applicants. DOE provides cash awards, not loans, for carrying out specific projects.

Project proposals are first reviewed by a technical review panel and then by state panels in the home state of the applicant. Proposals are judged according to their practicality, appropriateness to local energy needs, environment and health and community involvement.

Following the technical and state review, applications are evaluated by DOE personnel. Applicants are encouraged to complete their projects in one year. Successful projects are subject to periodic monitoring reviews and an evaluation by DOE upon their completion.

Program applications may be obtained by writing: Regional Program Manager, Appropriate Technology, U.S. Department of Energy, Region III, P. O. Box 7913, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 19104.

Residents of Maryland and West Virginia may call 1-800-323-0670 toll-free. The toll-free number will operate daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. until April 20.

Travolta likes babies; and Cerone likes sitar

By Cindy Adams
NEW YORK — Honored at Harvard recently along with young director Dan Field, was John Travolta — and he proved he likes em young. He grabbed Field's infant daughter and pampers, colic bottle and all, he gurgled, burbled and cooed the kid on his lap all day long. It is possible you may not believe this but Yankee Rick Cerone takes sitar lessons. What he'll do with this newfound talent only God knows. Michael Bennett's new gorgeous rehearsal studios downtown have him oozing money from every pore. Liza Minnelli, Jane Fonda and Glenda Jackson were all working out there at the same time.

one who's making the snappy songs in fancy patter route-former fighter Jake La Motta's ex-wife Vicki. Her youngest child's 20 now and, with "Raging Bull" making La Motta's name big again, she's going to strike while the publicity's hot. Hey, would you believe Goldie Hawn broke the all-time record at the Hain Sheng theater in downtown Taiwan with "Private Benjamin." Goldie appeared with the movie in person.

Ricky Schroder

"Barnum" star Jim Dale says he's marrying Julie Schaffer as of immediately. Kenny Rogers must be fond his missus. He gave her a palazzo in Malibu in her own name, a crock full of diamonds, a pair of Rolbs and now a floor-length Russian lynx for $100,000. Ricky Schroder signed to appear at supermarkets and shopping malls coast-to-coast. Boy, will that kid earn popcorn this year.

OK following surgery, Julie Harris is recuperating at a Connecticut spa where she swims and splashes daily. Reggie Jackson gifted New York and Oakland with $3,000 worth of athletic equipment. Here's

TV TATTLE

Learning from TV

One way to make TV respectable is to get teachers talking about it. CBS is sending a 16-page television resource publication to more than 70,000 educators and librarians throughout the country. Called, "Take a Lesson from TV," the publication aims to help teachers in the classroom make creative use of the TV programming the children watch at home.

"Television is an art form, an information bank and an electronic encyclopedia," says Jack Blessington, Director of Educational Relations for CBS. "There are points of history, scientific data, aspects of geography, and a host of other information that come into the lives of students every day as a result of television. That's why we saw this project as a worthwhile resource for teachers and parents."

Lonely acting

Little Meeno Peluce is starring in CBS' "Misunderstood Monsters" with such show-business stars as John Carra-dine, James Earl Jones, Louis Nye, Mickey Rooney and Michael York. However, 10-year-old Meeno Peluce is the only one who appears on screen.

That's because the story is a fantasy adventure that combines live action (Meeno's part) with animation (with voice-overs done by those famous actors). Meeno acted most of his part in a studio without any other actors.

"I did most of my lines reacting to dialogue read by the script supervisor," says Meeno. "In some ways, it's hard not to have a real person to act with. But you can use your imagination more and that makes it easier."

Jeffrey Tambor

Friends forever

A new comedy is in the works at NBC.

Production began recently on "Pals," a half-hour comedy program development project starring Jeffrey Tambor from "The Ropers" and Tony Lo Bianco from "Police Story." Tambor plays Harry Miller, a hard-luck type who's always getting drawn into the crazy escapades of his free-wheeling brother-in-law, Frank (Lo Bianco). Frank, however, always manages to come out ahead. Linda Carlson and Margaret Willock co-star.

Two-time winner

According to a popular sports cliché, a true champion is one who can consistently turn in a winning performance. In the field of sports broadcasting, Dick Enberg is such a champion.

NBC's Enberg was selected as the National Sportscaster of the Year for the second consecutive year by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association. He shares the 1980 award with Al Michaels of ABC. Previously, Enberg was named California Sportscaster of the Year four times by the same organization.

He'll receive his award Monday, April 6 in Salisbury, N.C.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

THIRD APPEAL — Please give me an address for — and tell me something about — Lydia Cornell, the blonde actress who plays Sara on "Too Close For Comfort." I am interested in marrying her.

A big fan, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Lydia was born in your state — El Paso to be exact. Both her parents were violinists with the El Paso Symphony. They later moved to New York, where Lydia began her acting career. She attended the University of Colorado and after graduating became manager for record star Michael Murphy. Then she decided to move to Los Angeles where she got a job as a secretary and production assistant at Jack Webb Productions. Meanwhile, she was studying acting. She appeared in "Love Boat," "Charlie's Angels," "Little Me" and "Project U.F.O." before joining the ABC series.

Write her in care of the show at ABC, 4151 Prospect Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90027. Oh, about marrying her. There is no mention of a husband in her biography, so that should help. By the way, she speaks Spanish and Russian and likes to write in her spare time.

plays? — Wondering, Cincinnati.

Alan is 45 and has been married for many years. Yes, he is an extremely concerned man who cares deeply about humanity. He also has a wonderful sense of humor.

MAIL CALL — I would like addresses for Alan, Alita, Melissa Gilbert, Dean Butler and Larry Wilcox. The reason I want to know their addresses is because I like writing to stars. — Jamie Shepard, Jacksonville, N.C.

Write Alita in care of "M*A*S*H," 20th Century-Fox Studios, 10100 Foothill Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90212. Write Melissa and Dean in care of "Little House on the Prairie" and Larry in care of "CHiPs," all at the same address, MGM Studios, Culver City, CA 90230.

INFATUATION TIME — I am infatuated with Erin Gray of "Buck Rogers." Please tell me her marital status, any other facts and where I can write to get a photo of her. — S.W. Durham, N.C.

Erin was born in Honolulu on Jan. 7. She is tall — 5 feet 7 inches — and is married to a high school sweetheart, Kenneth Schwartz, an agriculture and real estate expert. They have a son, Kevin, 4, and live both in Los Angeles and Ontario, N.Y., where they raise cattle and train polo ponies.

A FAN — Can you tell me if Alan Alda of "M*A*S*H" is married? How old is he and is he the type of person in real life that he is in the series? He is really concerned about people or is it just a part he

Celebrities who lend help for good causes

By Ruth Thompson

How much do celebrities care about the good causes they support publicly? Most often the good deeds are deeply felt personal commitments. And nobody has stated it better, or with more gentleness, than Margaret Hamilton.

The beloved veteran actress recently wound up seven years as Cora, the shopkeeper promoting a nationally distributed brand of coffee. But every year she is seen as the wicked witch of the west when the timeless movie classic, "The Wizard of Oz," replays on television.

It seems odd that, in the film, Miss Hamilton menaces Judy Garland's little dog Toto, because from her own early childhood, she was taught respect, as well as love, for all living creatures.

Before Margaret Hamilton became an actress she was a kindergarten teacher. At least some of the lady's real personality was — and is — evident to youngsters because, she says, they all seem to know she was only play-acting as the witch and are sorry she melted down.

Perhaps that's why she's such a convincing TV spokesperson for a cause she supports, Friends of Animals. Yes, she wants people to adopt strays from agencies but never to make them a Christmas or Easter surprise.

She says, "It's not fair to bring an animal who is probably frightened by new surroundings into a strange home on a gala holiday when people are preoccupied with celebrating. Make it a little later so the dog or cat can have a few quiet days to become reassured and to learn the housebreaking rules expected of it when to go out for a walk, or where the litter box is."

How was she recruited? "Well, I heard about their good work and started sending them donations. Then they discovered me from their lists and said I could help even more by talking about helping animals on television. And that's why I do."

Dina Merrill gives her time and energy to many good causes but there are two that are closest to her heart: the City Mission Society, which has a number of projects, including a summer camp program for New York City children, and the Juvenile Diabetes Society of which she is a founder.

The society, which funds research, is one of the ways she memorializes her son who, at the age of 14, was stricken with a severe form of juvenile diabetes and died in a boating accident a few years later.

Though long believed to run in families, none of Dina's other three children are afflicted.

Peter "Columbo" Falk said that he used to have a wariness for telethons because a few years ago, he had heard of unscrupulous promoters attaching themselves to good causes. But he was persuaded once to make an appearance on an Easter Seal telethon.

While I was waiting for my turn to go on the air, I talked to the people involved, and some of the people who were being helped by Easter Seals. They wanted to overcome what other people regarded as their problems and use the abilities they have." He satisfied himself that Easter Seals really was a good cause and later accepted the chairmanship of an annual drive for funds.

This year, singers Pat Boone and Marvin Hamlisch are among those who spoke out on behalf of Easter Seals, with both of them commending the other show business folk who get on the bandwagon, with their checkbooks as well as their talent, for galas and benefits.

FRIDAY

Robert Guillaume is the star of his own show, "Benson," airing Friday evenings on ABC.

SATURDAY

Lauren Tewes is the lovely cruise director Julie McCoy in the romantic comedy series, "The Love Boat," now in its fourth season, airing Saturday nights on ABC.

PETER O'TOOLE AND Barbara Carrera star as enemies and lovers — he is the leader of the conquering Roman army, she is a Jewish slave — in "Masada," the epic dramatization which will be presented over four nights, starting Sunday, April 5 on ABC.

TV PEOPLE

Mark Twain's modern vision of Civil War

"You have the two greatest gifts of a writer: memory and imagination," wrote John Hay, soon to be America's Secretary of State, to Mark Twain. The occasion was the publication in Atlantic magazine of the first installment of Life on the Mississippi.

The Private History of a Campaign that Failed, to air Monday, April 6 on PBS, checks local listings for air times in your area covers the period of Twain's life immediately following the segment covered in "Life on the Mississippi."

Life on the Mississippi is based on young Samuel Clemens' (Twain's real name) experiences as a riverboat pilot from 1857 to 1861. He resigned as a pilot when growing hostilities in the Civil War made river navigation too dangerous. Like 50,000 other young Missourians, he joined one of the loosely organized militias then forming all over the state to drive the Yankees off Missouri soil.

Twain wrote "Life on the Mississippi" in 1883. He wrote "The Private History of a Campaign that Failed," which was first published in Century magazine. It dramatizes his short period of service as the second-in-command of a rag-tag group of teen-agers who called themselves the Marion County Rangers and whose battle experience as a group was limited, at best, to the story to the accidental ambush of a solitary civilian.

This first taste of war was enough for Twain. He resigned his "commission" and headed west on the extended trip that was to turn him into a real writer.

It was not until almost 45 years later, in 1904 or 1905, that Twain wrote the intense short essay called "The War Prayer," which is dramatized in the PBS special as an epilogue to "The Private History of a Campaign that Failed."

"The War Prayer" is an anti-war piece of such great power that its author forbade its publication during his lifetime.

Twain was a different man when he wrote "The War Prayer," older, more cynical, deeply convinced that human behavior is motivated by selfishness.

"The War Prayer" is a rousing sermon against war and bloodshed, an indictment of the shortsightedness that prevents people from understanding that victory for their side is achieved at the expense of misery for the other.

Twain, however, did believe in war when it was the only course of action that would right a vast wrong. Throughout his life he believed it was the duty of the individual to evaluate the cause in which he was being asked to fight — and to act accordingly.

In 1864, one year before he produced "The Private History of a Campaign that Failed," he wrote to William Dean Howells expressing his sentiments. "Man's first duty is to his own conscience and honor — the party and the country come second to that, and never first."

Kelly Pease, left, and Harry Crosby are brothers who learn that there is without glory in "The Private History of a Campaign that Failed."

IN FOCUS

Mansion on 'Dynasty' is historic landmark

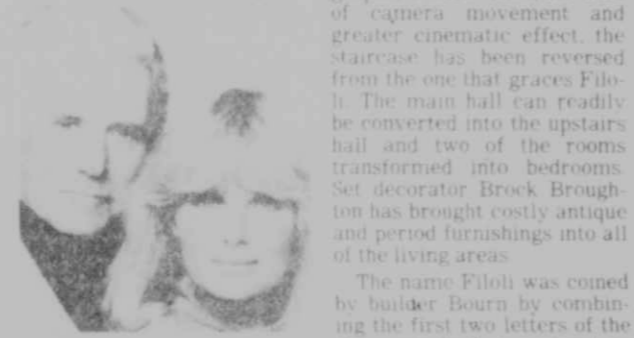

Filoli, the magnificent 48-room house Blake Carrington (John Forsythe) calls home in "Dynasty," is actually near San Mateo, some 30 miles south of San Francisco, and not in Denver where "Dynasty" is set. The mansion is almost a personality in itself and plays a principal role in the series that airs every Monday night on ABC.

Framed by well-manicured lawns and lush gardens, the imposing brick mansion sits on a gentle rise on the eastern slope of the Coast Range Mountains. The central portion of the 65-acre estate, which contains the main residence and the Lurline B. Roth Gardens, is a registered state landmark and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Built in 1918-19 for Mr. and Mrs. William P. Roth II, the mansion and its 18 acres of gardens were to become world-renowned for their beauty and design, especially after being purchased by Mr. and Mrs. William P. Roth in 1937.

The residence was designed by Willis Polk, an inventive California architect who was comfortable with a variety of styles and who frequently combined several in one building. Though basically modified Georgian in style, many of the doors are French, the exterior brick is laid in Flemish bond, the tile roof is Spanish and details of the trim are from the Stuart period.

Filoli, an outstanding and important example of country house architecture in the United States is one of the few in California that remains intact in its original setting. The house covers 18,000 square feet with 36,000 square feet of interior floor space.

John Forsythe and Linda Evans are "Dynasty's" mansion on "Filoli."

Superstars Today's show will feature competitors vying for honors in a variety of athletic challenges.

Tax Offices To Provide Extra Hours Of Service

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced this week that all 12 offices of the Maryland Income Tax Division will offer extra hours of free taxpayer assistance this coming weekend.

The offices will be open this Saturday, April 4, from 9:00 a. m. until 1:00 p. m. for the convenience of those state taxpayers working on their returns. Taxpayers can also telephone for assistance on Monday, April 6, from 4:30 p. m. until 7:00 p. m.

"With the filing deadline drawing closer, taxpayers tend to make some errors that are less common earlier in the filing season," Goldstein said. "Taxpayers should be sure to double check all mathematical calculations, because math errors are much higher this time of year."

"In addition, taxpayers should be careful when they are completing their returns and placing them in envelopes. Don't forget to attach all W-2 statements and put the proper form in the proper envelope. Both the federal form 1040 and the Maryland income tax forms are blue this year, so be very careful to put each in its proper envelope. If you are sending in the Maryland Homeowner's Property Tax Credit application, remember it has a separate envelope in the tax packet. Please don't send your property tax credit application and your state tax return in the same envelope."

"All of these errors delay processing your return and they are easily avoided," Goldstein stated.

The address and telephone numbers of all offices of the Maryland Income Tax Division are listed on the back of the tax packet and in local telephone directories.

Dog Obedience Course To Be Offered By GCC

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College will offer a Dog Obedience course beginning on Thursday, April 9. The course will be held at the McHenry Campus of Thursday from 5:30-7:30 p. m. and there will be one Saturday session on April 25, from 9:30-11:30 a. m. In the event of inclement weather, make-up sessions will be scheduled.

H.A. Savage, who has had previous experience in dog obedience training, will be instructing the course.

There is a registration fee for the course and students are required to have a choke chaining collar on their dogs, as well as a leash at least six feet long. Dogs must be at least four months of age.

Pre-registration is required and must be completed by April 6. The course is limited to 13 participants.

For further information, persons may contact the Offices of Continuing Education at 334-8266 or 367-4966, ext. 78.

HARRIS

for fun afloat . . .

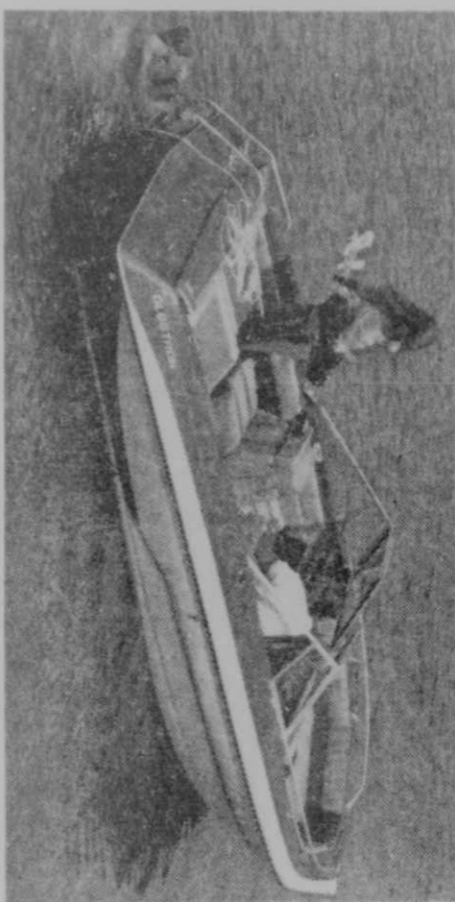

For the free spirit in you, Harris introduces its rebellious new line of 1981 Flote-Botes. We're calling them rebellious because we know no other boat even comes close to a Flote-Bote in terms of quality, economy, versatility, safety and performance.

You buy a boat to get away from it all . . . to breathe a little easier and spread your wings a little farther. The problem is that most boats don't give you that freedom. Flote-Botes are designed to let you do anything you want to — from sun bathing and fishing to partying and camping. There's so much deck space on a Flote-Bote you'll have room for everything. Room for passengers, room for walking, room for skis, life preservers, scuba gear, fishing rods and tackle boxes. Better check out the Flite-Botes at Bill's Marine Service.

Glastron

America's Number One Seller—

Glastron is proud of its boating leadership and its reputation for quality products at fair prices. That kind of commitment is why more people own Glastrons than any other fiberglass boat in the world, and that is why Glastron now is one of the featured lines of quality boats offered by Bill's Marine Service.

Good value at a fair price. You're aware of trade-in value on your car. What about your boat? Glastron consistently brings higher resale values than most other brands. When you buy a Glastron, you're buying a boat that's going to hold up over the years.

The SSV 17' stern drive has room and storage to handle the largest crew whether skiing, punting, camping, or just plain cruising. Standard features include fold-down lounge seats, two all jump seats, stern boarding ladder, in-floor ski storage, and much more. You'll want to see at Bill's Marine Service.

Contact Craft

Whether your needs are for competition skiing or just family pleasure, Ski Nautique, built by Contact Craft, has it all. Few areas within recreational boating have not been affected by the impact of the name Nautique. That name has made Contact Craft the largest manufacturer in board runabouts in the world today.

For years, Bill's Marine has featured the Nautique line. See exciting new features in the 1981 line and find out for yourself the many reasons why Nautique is still the ski boat to be had.

THE WORLD-CLASS BOATBUILDER

WELLCRAFT

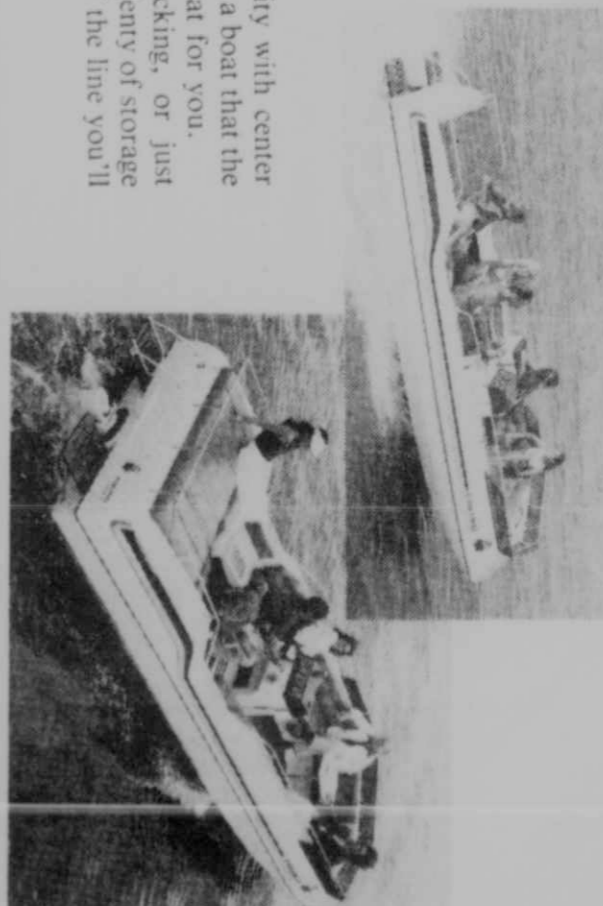

The exciting Wellcraft line is now available at Bill's Marine, bringing with it an unequalled reputation for performance boats. VIKING

The proud Viking offers fantastic maneuverability with center console visibility. When the vacation schedule calls for a boat that the entire family can use, the Viking 19 Step-In is the boat for you.

It's versatile enough for skiing, fishing, picnicking, or just cruising the lake. Quick planing, easy to handle, and plenty of storage space. The big, roomy Viking is an important part of the line you'll find at Bill's Marine Service. Come, see it yourself!

DAV Protests Reagan Proposal To Halt Hospital

The Disabled American Veterans of the State of Maryland announced its opposition last week to the proposal by President Ronald Reagan's administration to eliminate the construction of the Baltimore Veterans Administration Hospital from the 1982 Fiscal Year Budget.

In a letter to President Reagan, Walter D. Hyle, Jr., Adjutant, said, "We, as do all Americans, agree that inflation and the cost of government must be reduced, but we, as Americans who have sacrificed a bit more than others, do not see the cancellation of the Baltimore hospital as helping either of these problems."

Hyle raised the following points in favor of the construction of the hospital:

—Construction of the new hospital would be less expensive than expansion and modernization of existing facilities;

—The new hospital would increase total bed capacity in Maryland VA Hospitals by 17 beds, but would reduce the total acute medical-surgical beds by 87;

—Medical care is less costly in VA hospitals;

Certain facilities and services will be shared between the proposed VA Hospital and the University of Maryland Hospital to reduce costs;

—Out-patient and in-patient care will be consolidated at one center;

—The new location will be more accessible;

—Seventy-one percent of the veterans at existing facilities have no medical insurance or have been exhausted prior to admission.

Events Above The Mountaintop

April 1-7 1981

Paul S. Frank Jr.

Two small tooth-shaped moons, S-10 and S-11, of Saturn seem to be an accident waiting to happen. They are moving closer to one another because one is in a slightly higher, slower orbit than the other one. When the faster moon catches the slower one, combined gravitational forces will send the faster moon up into the slower orbit and the slower moon down into the faster orbit. This exchange has been calculated to occur once each 7 years. When it occurs, only a few kilometers separate the moons. The next close encounter was calculated to be in January, 1982.

Moon

Our Moon will pass through its New Moon phase at 3:19 p. m. on Saturday. At this time the Earth's satellite will be in the same direction as the Sun is from the Earth. Moonset will be 3:06 this afternoon. Next Tuesday, the Moon will set at 10:21 p. m.

Sunday, the Moon will be at the closest point to Earth that it will attain during April. This perigee will be 358,496 kilometers (222,808 miles) from Earth.

Visible Planets

Jupiter and Saturn will be the most easily observed planets during the week. They will be near each other, low in the southeast at sunset. Their background stars are those of Virgo.

Two other planets are in the same direction from Earth as the Sun. Mars will be in conjunction with the Sun at 9:00 tomorrow morning. Venus will be in superior conjunction with the Sun at 4:00 Tuesday morning. Both of these planets will be on the other side of the Sun from the Earth.

Daylight Increases

By next Tuesday, there will be 15 minutes more daylight than there will be today. Sunrise was at 6:02 this morning. Sunset will be 12 hours 39 minutes later at 6:41 this evening. Next Tuesday, the Sun will rise at 5:53 a. m. and it will set at 6:47 p. m.

Today is the first day of this year. The Sun will follow the same path in the sky today that it will follow next September 10th.

Oakland Family Receives Mail From The Sky

The William F. DeBerry family, Oakland, has received a message through the air from Wheeling, W. Va. The sender was Mike Habursky, a third grade student from Kruger Street Primary School in Wheeling. His message was borne to the DeBerry home by a balloon as part of the nationwide Writing Pals Ballon Contest sponsored by Weekly Reader, a classroom newspaper.

Students at Broad Ford Elementary School are also participating in the contest.

The goal of the program is to motivate children to write to, and to become familiar with, students in other parts of the country.

Weekly Reader will present a $500 prize to the school that gets back the message that has travelled the farthest distance.

Mathias, Japanese Official Discuss State Coal Export

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) last week raised the question of exporting Maryland coal for electric generating stations in Japan with Japanese Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ito.

Mathias had a discussion on the use of steam coal mined in Maryland with Ito during a working meeting for the Japanese Foreign Minister held by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Japan currently imports a significant quantity of metallurgical coal mined in Western Maryland. He told Ito that Japan could import steam coal as well as coking coal if U.S. port facilities were adequate. "When ports are better equipped," he said, "Japan can then buy steam coal."

Maryland metallurgical coal is presently shipped through the Port of Baltimore, which lacks adequate storage, handling and transfer facilities for stepped-up export activity in steam coal, according to Mathias. Coal ships must wait weeks and sometimes months before loading in Baltimore.

Several coal companies have announced plans to modernize facilities in the Port of Baltimore in anticipation of greater coal export.

The door prize was won by Lillian Guthrie. Nine members were present.

Mrs. Susan Norris read the P.T.A. prayer, and the kindergarten class of Mrs. Joann Harris won the $5 room award with the most parents present. Ice cream parties will be given to four classrooms for having at least one father present at the meeting.

Matthew Stieringer, principal, reported that the kindergarten playlot swing set has been ordered from Kurtz Brothers at a cost of $1028.00. He informed parents that the architect would visit the school on Thursday and check out the heating system which has reportedly created several problems.

Annual Easter Seal Campaign Begins In County

The annual Easter Seal campaign has been launched in Garrett County, announced Robert E. Proudfoot, chairman.

Money received during the campaign is used in Garrett and Allegany Counties for programs for crippled children.

Proudfoot noted there are clinics at the county health department for crippled children manned by the county department staff and physicians from Baltimore, Cumberland, and the county.

Allegany County, which has a League for Crippled Children, also provides Garrett children with clinics not available in this county.

"Our children from the Oakland area go to the Brace and Cerebral Palsy Clinics in Cumberland and now all children who are closer to Cumberland than Oakland go to Cumberland for braces, physical therapy, and clinical services," Proudfoot said.

The League is entirely supported by contributions, particularly from the Easter Seal campaign.

Proudfoot stated that donations are 100 percent tax deductible. Donations can be mailed to the Allegany County, Maryland, League for Crippled Children, Inc., P.O. Box 267, Cumberland, Md., 21502. Checks should be payable to "League for Crippled Children".

Schrock Family Receives MCMP Excellence Award

Seventeen dairy farm families, including the family of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Schrock, Grantsville, were honored by their fellow members in Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc. for producing milk of exceptional quality. The Excellence Awards were presented March 28 during the 46th Annual Meeting and Banquet of MCMP at Marriott's Hunt Valley Inn, Cockeysville.

The awards program was created by MCMP in an effort to recognize those producers who produce milk of the highest quality and to motivate others to do likewise.

The quality production awards are divided into three categories: Excellence, Gold and Silver.

The criteria for the selection of recipients of the Excellence Award is as follows: (1) All standard plate bacteria counts under 10,000 for 1980; (2) No off-odor rejection; (3) No positive antibiotic test results; (4) No unsatisfactory sediments; (5) No somatic cell counts in excess of 1,000,000/ml. and; (6) a 99 percent average on all farm inspections by the Health Department and the Cooperative in 1980.

Seventy-two producers earned Gold Awards during 1980. The criteria for the Gold Award are the same as for the Excellence, with the exception of the farm inspection scores. The Gold group must have an average farm inspection score of at least 92.

Those producers who earned the Silver Award met all requirements previously listed for the Gold, with the exception that all standard plate counts must have been under 50,000 and 11 of the 12 must have been 10,000 or under. Fifty-two producers earned the Silver recognition.

The Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers Inc. has approximately 1,000 members.

Mason-Dixon Polled Hereford Meeting Slated

The planning committee of the Mason-Dixon Polled Hereford Association announced they will be holding a meeting on Tuesday, April 7, at 7:30 p.m. at Garrett Community College in NC-350. The major items on the agenda will be the completion of plans for the Field Day-Annual Meeting of the association to be held at the Stony Run Farm of Edward Bucklew on June 6 and discussion of the possibility of holding a fall Polled Hereford sale.

Dr. William H. Buser, chairman of the planning committee, invites Polled Hereford registered and commercial breeders, as well as their friends to attend the meeting. Those in attendance will be given an opportunity to ask questions and make suggestions that will be helpful to the organization. Individuals desiring to join the organization will also be given the opportunity to join at the April planning meeting.

Buser indicated he would be recommending to the planning committee that a board of directors be elected from the members who have joined prior to the annual meeting. He indicated that to date over 20 individuals from Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia have paid their dues to the organization. A dues structure at the February meeting of five to 20 dollars was adopted, depending on the classification of membership.

Interested individuals may get additional information from Buser (387-6930) or any of the planning committee members.

BURGLAR-PROOF EXTERIOR DOOR

The most obvious entrance for a burglar into most homes is via the front or rear exterior doors. A burglar can open an ordinary snap lock fairly easily with a thin sheet of plastic or metal. On all hinged exterior doors, you should use a dead-lock. In this, a separate pin on the flat side of the latch tongue stays stuck in the strike even when a burglar pushes back the latch tongue.

Locks with a dead-bolt that is operated by a thumb-turn from the inside are equally effective; but, of course, they do not lock a door automatically.

For maximum security, you can equip exterior doors with an automatic dead-lock plus a separate night lock. In the latter, the lock and strike fit together like a mortise and tenon joint, and there is no way a burglar can pry them apart.

The most expensive night lock can be opened only with a key from both inside and out. Even if a burglar breaks a glass beside the door, he cannot open or force the lock. The lock is dangerous, however, if you have a fire and can't find the key.

Pickets Described As "Peaceful" At Mettiki Mines

Although guard is heavy at the gates of the Mettiki coal mines located in the Table Rock area, the situation there in relation to the nationwide United Mine Workers strike has been basically peaceful, according to area police.

Garrett County deputies and Maryland State troopers have been stationed at the mine around the clock "to prevent any problems," said one officer.

Approximately 80 to 100 pickets stood in the road outside the gates of the non-union operation Thursday at 2 p.m., "hurling and threatening," but causing no real problem, according to police. Police said most of the pickets are believed to be from West Virginia.

State Police used a helicopter and K-9 units to keep the situation in hand Thursday, and that department made one arrest.

Marshall Allen Hoover, Elkins, W. Va., was arrested at the entrance to Mettiki and was charged with disorderly conduct and driving while intoxicated. Hoover was released Thursday when he posted $200 bond.

A second incident occurred about 2 p.m. on Monday, when approximately 48 vehicles drove back and forth in front of the Mettiki gates. However, Sheriff John Evans stated that "so far the strikers have been real decent."

The pickets, on strike since March 27, are protesting mining operations by the estimated 200 non-union employees at Mettiki. Attempts to obtain a statement from George Kutchman, General Superintendent there, were halted as he refused to speak with members of the news media.

Weather

Southerly winds to 15 mph today and to 20 mph Thursday.

This 4 1/2-pound, 22 1/2-inch beauty was caught last Wednesday morning by Mike Hinebaugh. Deer Park, who said he was using corn for bait. Hinebaugh's ten-year-old son, Michael, reeled in a 17 1/2-inch rainbow just two days earlier, also at Broadford. Hinebaugh said he will give up the opportunity for a fine fish dinner and have his trophy mounted instead.

ADDITIONAL MANPOWER, a State Police helicopter and K-9 units made up the force at Mettiki coal mines on Thursday, when 80 to 100 striking pickets gathered outside the gates of the non-union operation. Garrett County Sheriff's Department deputies and Maryland State Police troopers have been stationed at the mines around the clock for the past week. Today is the 13th day of the nationwide United Mine Workers strike which has sparked picketing in protest of non-union employees. A second incident occurred at Mettiki on Monday, when approximately 48 vehicles passed in front of the entrance. Police, however, describe the situation there as basically peaceful.

Area Churches Schedule Palm Sunday Service

To commemorate the beginning of Holy Week, several Oakland area churches will again conduct an ecumenical Palm Sunday service in downtown Oakland this Sunday at 11:15 a.m. The service, which will consist of scripture readings, prayers and hymns, will be held on Second Street in front of the Professional Building. A feature of the service will be an anthem, "Hosanna," sung by combined choirs and directed by Mrs. Dorothy Leighton.

In remembrance of the entrance of Jesus into Jerusalem for the Passover, a procession will follow the service north on Second Street to St. Mark's Lutheran Church for refreshments and a social gathering.

Participating churches include St. Peter's Roman Catholic, Oak Park Church of the Brethren, Bethel United Methodist, St. Matthew's Episcopal and St. Mark's Lutheran.

The public is invited.

Health, Forest Officials Note Burning Policy

The Garrett County Health Department and the Maryland Forest Service announced in a news release this week the policies on open air burning.

Open burning is permitted, the release said, between the hours of 4 p.m. Eastern Standard Time or 3 p.m. Daylight Saving Time and midnight, subject to the following conditions:

There must be a natural or constructed fire break at least 10 feet wide completely around the material to be burned that is free of inflammable material.

Adequate personnel and equipment are present to prevent the fire from escaping. At least one responsible person remains at the location of the fire until the last spark is out.

An Air Quality Control permit is obtained from the Garrett County Health Department (334-4111).

A contractor may obtain a burning permit from the Forest Service for disposal of slash or debris from land clearing prior to 4 p.m. if adequate safeguards for fire protection are available. These burning permits can be obtained by contacting the Maryland Forest Service office at Mt. Nebo (334-3395) or the Oakland office (334-5291). Forest Service personnel will examine the site prior to issuing the permit.

The Health Department and Forest Service also stress that all burning be minimized to reduce the threat of forest fires and to reduce air pollution. They remind that extreme caution should be used when it is necessary to burn, especially during periods of dry weather, such as over the past few weeks.

Health Fair Set For Saturday

A Health Fair, primarily sponsored by the Garrett County Health Department and Garrett Community College, is scheduled for Saturday, April 11, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College.

The purpose of the Health Fair is to increase the awareness of good health practices. Primary services offered are divided into five areas: screening, counseling, education, referral, and follow-up.

These services are offered free of charge except for a $7 charge for blood chemistry tests. If a blood chemistry is desired, it will be necessary for those persons to refrain from eating four to eight hours prior to the test.

Tichnell's Death Sentence Overturned By Appeals Court

The death sentence for Richard Tichnell, convicted of killing a Garrett County Deputy Sheriff in 1973, was overturned Monday by the Court of Appeals, which ordered a new sentence hearing.

Monday's ruling applies only to the sentence and not to the murder conviction, which still stands.

Tichnell's death penalty has now been struck down twice by the high court. He was found guilty of killing David Livingston after Livingston attempted to arrest him outside an Oakland sporting goods store which had been broken into.

After the conviction, Tichnell chose to have a separate jury for his sentencing hearing. A mistake made by the first trial jury resulted in the Court of Appeals overturning the death sentence.

Because the second jury knew little if anything of the case, Judge Alfred Truitt, who handed the case in Wisconsin County Circuit Court, ruled that essential portions of the trial transcripts would be read to the sentencing jury, with no witnesses from the first trial being called. Truitt did rule that either side could bring additional witnesses to offer new testimony if they chose.

The heart of Tichnell's case, according to the Court of Appeals, was that he shot Livingston in self defense, and not while trying to escape, as the state contended.

Court of Appeals Chief Judge Robert Murphy ruled that Tichnell's decision to allow only the reading of the transcript denied Tichnell the right to cross examine witnesses in front of the sentencing jury.

Murphy's ruling indicated the importance of Tichnell's right to raise doubts in the minds of the jurors about the state's testimony.

The decision was the first in Maryland testing whether testimony from a prior trial could be admitted in a sentencing hearing as justification for the death penalty. The court's decision was based partly on the fact that no other precedents could be found that had been decided in any other state.

Rash Of Brush Fires Continues, Home Damaged
Dry weather conditions over the past week have once again kept county fire departments busy responding to brush fires. Garrett Central Alarm reports that almost 20 alarms for field and brush fires have been received since last Wednesday, most of which resulted in little or no damage.

One brush fire, however, which began as a result of controlled burning of a shed, resulted in severe damage to a basement home near Kempton on Saturday. Garrett Central Alarm received a call at 5 p.m. that a barn and brush were burning along the Kempton Road about three miles beyond the Mettiki coal mines. Firefighters from Gorman, Bayard, and Oakland were dispatched to the scene.

A spokesman for the Oakland VPD said that two unidentified men had attempted to burn a tractor that had once housed a tractor. They believed that they could control the fire and heat by covering the blaze with sheets of tin. However, high winds caught the surrounding brush on fire and the blaze spread to the basement structure about 75 yards away. The home was occupied by Helen Cassidy.

The perch of the structure sustained severe damage, but firefighters were able to save the remainder of the dwelling. Fire personnel remained on the scene until 8 p.m.

Commissioners Support Sewerage System Project

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners adopted a resolution Tuesday supporting the Shady Acres Area Sewerage System Development Project, sponsored by the Garrett County Sanitary District.

The project will involve the engineering design and construction of a sewerage system service for businesses and residences in the Shady Acres area.

By adopting the resolution, the commissioners agreed to guarantee repayment of loans incurred during construction of the project. The District has established a line of credit with a $20,000 ceiling with the First National Bank, Oakland.

In other business, the commissioners met with Ken Reckart, developer of Nest Lick Acres, to further discuss a dispute over responsibility of construction of a roadway into the Nest Lick Acres development.

Residents of the development claim that a previous Board of Commissioners committed the county to construction of a roadway from U.S. 219 to the property line of the development, approximately 180 linear feet.

The commissioners noted this agreement had been made on the condition that the roadway be brought up to county roads specifications.

Reckart stated he had rough graded the road and provided a right of way for the development residents, but had no plans for further work on the road.

The development currently consists of 35 lots; 11 of the lots are improved with houses.

The commissioners made no decision on the matter.

Junior Hartman, owner of Hartman and Sons Auto Wrecking in Swanton, and Dr. William Savage met with the commissioners to discuss the county junkyard ordinance.

Hartman told the commissioners he had spent a large sum of money to meet with the screening requirements of the ordinance and considered unfair the fact that other junkyard operators were not in compliance with the ordinance but still had not been forced to comply with the ordinance.

The commissioners praised Hartman for his compliance, noting he had set an example for other junkyard owners.

They pledged to immediately begin an investigation of junkyard operators to determine if 60-day notices of termination of licenses to those not in compliance with the ordinance.

The commissioners met with Bob Coleman, Alan Snow and Williams Herring, representatives for Boswell, to discuss the bid award for asphalt for the county roads department. The commissioners told the representatives Boswell's bid had varied from specifications in the bid.

Karen Richmond, black grant administrator, submitted an invoice of $1776 as final reimbursement from 1979 HUD Community Development block Grant to Garrett Community.

Resident Trooper Program Defeated By Tuesday Vote

A late-breaking news release last night by Garrett County Commissioner Ernie Gregg announced that talks concerning the proposed Resident Trooper Program for the county had fallen on deaf ears, and the proposal was defeated by the majority of the board of commissioners in an impromptu vote late Tuesday afternoon.

Sheriff John Evans presented petitions bearing approximately 900 signatures of county residents gathered last week in support of retaining the present Sheriff's Department.

Commissioner Gregg expressed the following thoughts on yesterday's decision: "Sheriff Evans presented the petitions, and pressed the board for an immediate decision, claiming no one, including himself, was notified of previous meetings on the matter, and that his own were uncertain of their jobs."

The people of Garrett County will pay for the loss of the program before it has a chance. It makes me wonder why I try when the decisions are always the same."

Gregg mentioned that Commissioner Hunter suggested, or perhaps the proposal should go to referendum to let the people decide.

"Going to referendum is a cop-out," Gregg stated. "The people of this county elected us to make decisions for them. This incident should point out that serious problems do exist in the Sheriff's Department."

Garrett County people better realize that they (the other two commissioners and the sheriff's department) win, but the county people lose. I am strongly opposed, on principle alone, of informed officers shoving petitions under people's noses. I never personally put stock in petitions. People feel intimidated if they don't sign them. I'm disappointed, but I will not sit back and coast through my remaining term. The public deserves to know everything that goes on."

Commissioner Gregg continued to say, "The present board will not do anything to make waves. No way can they say no on everything without raising the tax rate. The program never had a chance."

The following information was entered in the minutes of the April 7 Commissioner meeting.

Following discussions of the proposed Resident Trooper Program, Commissioner Paugh moved and Commissioner Hunter seconded the motion to continue the organization of the present Sheriff's Department with the recommendation that prior to any changeover to the Resident Trooper Program, the issue be presented to the voters in the form of a referendum. Commissioner Gregg cast the dissenting vote.

Commissioners Hunter and Paugh were out of town this morning and unavailable for comment.

PSC Approves New Electric Rates For PE

The Maryland Public Service Commission Tuesday approved new electric rates for the Potomac Edison Company's 134,000 customers in Western Maryland.

The new rates reflect the Commission's decision of March 19 permitting PE to increase rates to result in $3.34 million, or 3.17 percent, in additional annual base rate revenues. They also reflect changes in rate structure approved by the Commission that result in a greater part of the increase being assigned to some all-electric residential customers, all-electric schools and churches and the Eastcoast Aluminum Company. The PSC said a cost-of-service study in an earlier rate case showed the company's rate of return on investment from these three classes of customers was lower than others.

The new base rates are lower than those now in effect for more than 100,000 of the company's 119,000 residential customers, including all-electric customers connected since Feb. 1, 1975, as well as some other rate classes. Inclusion of about $4.2 million as a surcharge for deferred fuel offsets some of the reduction in base rates, however, with the net effect of creating a slight increase for most customers.

The deferred fuel surcharge, according to PE, results from an under-recovery of PE fuel costs for electricity already generated and used by its customers. The company can apply to increase the separately stated fuel rate on customers' bills only after fuel costs have increased more than five percent. The under-recovery occurs as PE fuel costs increase up to the five percent level when the fuel rate can be adjusted after special hearings before the PSC.

The total bill for a residential customer using 500 kilowatt-hours of electricity a month will increase 20 cents under the new rates. For a residential customer using 1,000 kWh a month, the bill will increase 39 cents.

A customer on the old electric rate (RA) using 2,000 kWh a month will notice an increase of $4.85 or 3.22 percent on the total bill. There are more than 18,000 customers on this rate.

Commercial all-electric (CA) customers will have increases

Civic Club Hosts Retired Foreign Service Officer

Guest speaker at the March 31 meeting of the Civic Club of Oakland, held at the Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake, was Edward Starr, a former foreign service officer. Starr's topic was Iran and its people.

Starr joined the State Department in 1949 and was a service officer in the U.S. embassies of the Far East, Near East and Europe. He retired last year, but was recalled to work with a group on the Iranian hostage crisis, as he is familiar with the language, culture and political problems of that area. He had served in the U.S. embassy in Turkey for many years.

There were 39 members of the club present and one guest, Mrs. Ann Martin.

Bike-A-Thon Is Scheduled For Grantsville Area

A Bike-A-Thon for the benefit of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital will be held in Grantsville on Saturday, April 25. Riders will be asking local citizens to pledge a small contribution for each mile they ride.

Mrs. David Hunt, the Bike-A-Thon chairman, explained, "The money our riders earn will help continue St. Jude's life-saving study of childhood cancer and other deadly diseases of children. We'll be showing how much we care about our children by helping this worthy cause. Please support our local riders with generous pledges, and then help them get the funds to us right after the ride is over."

Riders will be given lap cards when they register at the Grantsville Park on Miller Street at 10 a.m. Each time a rider completes a lap, the card will be marked as proof of how far each participant rides. Riders will then return to their sponsors to collect their total pledges.

All participants will be given a hospital bracelet reading, "I'm Riding for Terry" to wear on their wrists. According to Mrs. Hunt, most riders will still be wearing them while making their collections. Terry is a young patient at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital representing all victims of the illnesses under study at the national research center.

For further information, persons may call Mrs. Hunt at 865-5308.

MDOT Provides More Funds For KISS Program

Project KISS, a successful program of the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, is expanding its efforts to promote the use of child restraints in cars, according to the Maryland Department of Transportation. KISS, for kids in Safety Seats, has received $8,000 in additional federal funding from the MDOT's Transportation Safety Division.

Car accidents are the leading cause of death for children in this country, reminds the MDOT, and the medical community believes that child car seats can save many young lives. KISS personnel, operating through the Health Education Center, have spent the last 15 months encouraging health professionals and the public to use car safety seats. Three public loan programs have been set up, and professional education workshops have been held across the state.

Loan programs, where approved car seats for infants can be borrowed, are operating in health department clinics in Baltimore, Howard and Garrett counties. With the additional MDOT funding, more loan programs can be started. Programs will soon be operating on the Eastern Shore and in Southern Maryland.

"Although the use of car seats is a family decision, the success of car seat loan and education programs depends on community support and involvement," comments Michael Eriksen, Project KISS supervisor. "That's why we're encouraging and assisting in the development of car seat programs by community groups, hospitals, and civic clubs. KISS will provide enough safety seats and educational materials to start a program."

Since studies have shown that the majority of parents who use car seats fail to use them properly, adds Eriksen, "KISS personnel are also training program managers to correctly demonstrate the various types of seats."

Terri Regan, a mother who borrowed a GM Love Seat from KISS, recently testified in Annapolis about the need for car safety seats. She had an accident when her daughter, Morgan, was just six weeks old, and she reflected, "I'm sure Morgan is alive today because she was in her car safety seat."

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, car safety seats can reduce the chance of a child's death in a car accident by 90 percent.

Information on approved car safety seats and the KISS project is available by calling the Health Education Center at (301) 383-7290.

Kitzmiller Man Suffers Injury In Auto Mishap

A Kitzmiller man, Frank J. Reel, 49, had undergone surgery Tuesday afternoon and was listed in good condition following a single vehicle accident on April 1 on the Boiling Springs Road, near Deer Park.

State Police said the Reel vehicle ran off the right side of the road, returned to the highway, flipped over several times, and landed on its top.

Reel was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and transferred to the West Virginia Medical Center by Southern Rescue Squad.

According to the report, charges are pending against the driver.

Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon Is Scheduled

The Maryland Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation has named Ann Ellis of Loch Lynn as chairman of a Spring Bike-A-Thon to be held in Oakland on April 18.

The course will begin at the National Guard Armory on North Eighth Street and will extend for 10 miles with a check point area every two miles. Bike-A-Thon staff will stamp mileage cards, and first aid and refreshments will be provided at these resting stations.

Prizes will be awarded to those collecting the most money. T-shirts will be given to those collecting $25 or more.

The bike route is being planned by Patti Blythe and will be published in next week's edition of The Republican. Brenda Davis is assisting with the project.

Mrs. Ellis stated that the Oakland Police Department will be available to assist the riders while crossing or riding in congested areas.

Persons interested in participating in the Bike-A-Thon should call Mrs. Ellis at 334-3896 to receive registration sheets.

Balloons Launched By County Youth Travel Southward

Balloons launched by Broad Ford Elementary School students March 23 have begun to make their landings, most of them in the southern parts of West Virginia, Virginia and the northern part of North Carolina, reports Wayne Johnson, principal.

So far, the message that has travelled the farthest distance went to Angie Hopson in Burlington, North Carolina, about 350 miles away. The sender of that balloon was third grader Kevin Lehr.

Responses to other student's messages have come from Roanoke, Va. and Faber, Va. as well as areas in southern West Virginia.

The students launched the helium-filled balloons as part of the nationwide Writing Pals Balloon Contest sponsored by Weekly Reader, a classroom newspaper. Messages attached to the balloons asks a finder to return the message with his or her name and address and the area where the message was found.

The goal of the program is to motivate children to write to, and to become familiar with, students in other parts of the country.

H. D. "HUB" SWARTZENTRUBER hands his hammer over to Al Reed, new owner of Hub's Harness Shop, signifying his retirement from the harness shop business. Hub sold his shop to Reed on April 1, but will still perform certain types of leather work in the shop.

H. D. "Hub" Swartzentruber Retires From Harness Shop Business

by Beverly J. Sincell

For the past week, H.D. "Hub" Swartzentruber and his wife Nell have been getting out of bed in the morning when they want. No more alarm clocks nor 9 to 5 business hours for them, because after 36 years in the harness shop business, Hub has retired.

He sold his store on East Liberty Street, Oakland, to Al Reed from Philippi, W. Va. on April 1, no fooling.

"I've been thinking of retiring for the last year," says Hub, who admits he feels kind of strange now that he actually has retired.

The whole transaction happened rather quickly. Reed, who owned a shoe repair shop in Philippi, said he had "gotten wind" of Hub's intentions to sell his shop.

He showed up in Hub's shop last week and offered a deal Hub couldn't refuse.

But, even though Reed, who began learning the shoe repair trade when he was a young lad, will be running the shop, Hub says he will make a guest appearance from time to time to perform certain kinds of leather work.

Actually Hub is in semi-retirement. He still has his duties as mayor of Oakland, a post he has held for 13 years, to perform.

Hub's term as mayor will end in another year, giving him a total of 14 years as Oakland's mayor.

Whether or not he will run for another term is a decision Hub says he will make "when the time comes."

HOVERING ABOVE the Mettiki coal mines for the past several days has been a state police helicopter, adding to the increased security at the mine site since the March 27 UMW strike. So far, there have been few incidents, although police officials state that several dozen UMW miners have been gathering in the immediate vicinity every day.

Three Receive Sentences After CDS Convictions

Three Westernport residents were sentenced during the March 23 session of Garrett County District Court, after they were found guilty of unlawful possession of controlled dangerous substances on January 26.

John Eric Fazanbaker, 19, his father, Jack Roosevelt Fazanbaker, 48, and friend Regina Lynn Minnick, 18, all pled guilty to the charges and pre-sentence investigations were ordered.

Charges were brought against the trio by Sgt. Howard W. Graham, Maryland State Police, McHenry Barrack. The offense occurred October 22, 1980, when Sgt. Graham found John Fazanbaker in possession of more than 22 ounces of marijuana, two pipes, and 39 pink tablets. Also found in Fazanbaker's bedroom was a small brown bag containing $2,300, lying on top of a 13-ounce bag of marijuana.

Minnick and Fazanbaker's residence is at Aaron Run Road in Garrett County, at his father's farm. A search revealed that marijuana was being grown on the farm.

John Fazanbaker was fined $100 and sentenced to six months in jail. The jail sentence was suspended and he was placed on supervised probation for a period of 24 months, specifying avoidance of any controlled dangerous substance. Fazanbaker was also charged with unlawful manufacturing of a controlled dangerous substance, which was declared Nolle Prosequi by the State's Attorney.

Jack Fazanbaker's guilty verdict was changed to probation as a result of the pre-sentence investigation. He has been placed on 24 months supervised probation, specifying avoidance of any controlled dangerous substance.

Jack Fazanbaker was also charged by Wilbur D. Gibbs, Jr., of Nikep, with possession of a deadly weapon with intent to injure, and assault. Pleading not guilty to both, he was found not guilty of the first charge and guilty of assault. The incident occurred when Gibbs and other hunters strayed onto Fazanbaker's land December 6, 1980. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered January 26. Fazanbaker was sentenced for that conviction to 30 days in jail. The sentence was suspended and he was placed on 24 months supervised probation.

Minnick's guilty verdict was changed to supervised probation for 24 months, specifying avoidance of any controlled dangerous substance.

In a separate case, Kay Elizabeth Livengood, 24, Oakland, was sentenced after she was found guilty of destruction of property and two counts of battery on February 2.

The charges were filed by Patricia Rena Griffith, Oakland, resulting from a December 24, 1980 incident in their apartment building. Livengood allegedly attacked Ms. Griffith and two others, breaking items in the hallway of the building. Livengood pled not guilty to the above charges, and to charges of assault and additional destruction of property, of which she was found not guilty. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered in February.

The three guilty verdicts were changed to probation before judgment, and Livengood was placed on 18 months unsupervised probation.

Judge Lewis R. Jones heard a variety of other cases during the March 23 session.

William Joseph Murphy, Jr., 30, Alexandria, Va., pled guilty to two counts of alcoholic beverage, intoxication, and disorderly condition on the land of another. Murphy was also charged with disturbing the peace, declared Nolle Prosequi by State's Attorney James L. Sherbin.

The charges were filed by Susan Beeman, Swanton, after an incident which occurred in her neighborhood on February 21.

Murphy was sentenced to 90 days in jail, concurrent, for the two counts of intoxication, and was fined $25 for disorderly condition. The jail sentence was suspended and he was placed on 24 months unsupervised probation and ordered by the court to refrain from excessive drinking and to stay away from the George Beeman and William Murphy homes when drinking.

In other business, two bench warrants were issued by Judge Jones that day when persons failed to appear in court.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Darlene F. (Sanner) Broadwater, Lonaconing, the complainant in a case charging Gerald Clinton Broadwater, also of Lonaconing, with various criminal charges stemming from two separate occasions.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of David Edwin Liller, 19, Oakland, who failed to appear for charges of carrying a concealed deadly weapon, filed by Sgt. Howard W. Graham, Maryland State Police.

In a separate case, Roger Rudolph Fogelpole, 29, Accident, was found not guilty of a battery charge when the complainant, Brenda M. Fogelpole, Accident, refused to testify.

Elbert Ray Bittinger, 56, Grantsville, was found not guilty of a charge relating to unlawful use of the telephone. An additional charge of trespassing was declared Nolle Prosequi by the State's Attorney.

The charges were filed by Marion R. White, Grantsville. Two other cases presented that day were declared Nolle Prosequi by the State's Attorney.

Tract Of Garrett Forest Dedicated

by Michael R. Gregory
Forest Naturalist
Maryland Forest Service

A dedication ceremony was held last Wednesday on the Huton Tract of Garrett State Forest. The purpose of this event was to formally dedicate this section of state forest as a multiple use area. For years, this section of state forest has been utilized as a source of timber, recreation, and wildlife habitat. Now, through the efforts of concerned citizens and the Maryland Forest Service this tract of land will also serve as an outdoor education area.

Planned development of the area for this purpose includes the construction of a visitor parking area, establishment of a primitive camping area, and provision of nature trails through the area. These various projects are being completed through the combined and cooperative efforts of local citizens, area school children and personnel from the Maryland Forest and Park Service.

Wednesday's dedication ceremony took place at the newly established visitor parking area on the Fingerboard Road. Speakers at the ceremony included Mrs. Ellen Zimmerman; Rev. Ray Beahm; Dr. Frank Custer, president of the Garrett County Forestry Board; Don MacLauchlan, Director of the Maryland Forest and Park Service; B.O. Aiken; and Howard Janoske, president of the Maryland Chapter of the National Wildlife Federation.

In celebration of Arbor Day, two sugar maple trees were also planted by children from Crellin School. The highlight of the ceremony was the unveiling of a monument, placed on the site to outline the significance of donation by John and Robert

An Ugly Game . . .

Once again the coal fields of this nation are the battleground, or playground, depending upon one's point of view, for the biennial event of a United Mine Workers' strike. All of the familiar elements are there—the attempts and subsequent failures at the negotiating table, the lost days of productivity, the financial belt-tightening of the striking miners and their families, the picketing of the non-union mine sites, the mob violence, and the greed, not only on the part of many of the union miners, who want more, but also of the mine operators, who don't want to give more.

It's all a big game, a game whose "rules" often circumvent moral and legal laws and thus result in the blatant violation of the rights of others.

One such violation is the forced closing or attempted closing of non-union mines by union picketers, via threats or acts of violence. It may be their right to strike, but it is in no way their right to stop others who wish to work from doing so. However, the animalistic psyche of a mob pays no attention to rights, laws and authority. This is why people get hurt.

Sometimes it seems that what are also apparent violations of others' rights are actually supported by the law. We refer to the outrageous regulation which forces non-union mines to pay a tonnage fee to the UMW union, a fee which so disgustingly ironically, goes directly into the union strike fund. Where is the rationale here?

Also, guess who must pay for all of the extra police protection needed to guard those who defy the union's threats. Those funds certainly do not come out of the pockets of the union.

We hope the ugly game is over soon. One person is already dead, which has made the stakes far too high.

Congratulations, Guys! . . .

by Carol Kapel

Isn't this a dandy kettle of fish? Another gutless move in the game of Garrett County politics, and we're right back to square one.

Last night's announcement of the railroad performance by Commissioner Truman Paugh and Commissioner Les Hunter concerning the Resident Trooper Program leads one to believe there really is a fantasy land, and Garrett County residents are living smack dab in the middle of it.

The Resident Trooper Program obviously had about as much chance as a snowball in Hades of ever becoming reality, since the dice were so blatantly loaded before Commissioner Gregg's turn to throw.

Just three short working days ago, Truman Paugh announced publicly that he was in favor of any program, including the Resident Trooper Program, that could save the county tax dollars, and admitted that much studying and financial consideration had to be done by him on the issue before he could render an intelligent choice for the county.

Mr. Paugh, the lightning speed of your calculating mind dazzles your constituents! How did we get so lucky to have you at the helm?

Mr. Hunter, knowing you carried the deciding vote on such a major issue must have instilled delusions of grandeur in your mind. Public pressure from special interest groups had nothing to do with your genuine concern for 27,000 Garrett County residents. It's so good to know that in our hearts!

Mr. Gregg, what can be said? You are to be commended for trying. Forget the fact that the public was just becoming aware of the details of the program, and that only a handful understood thus far. Forget the fact that yesterday's schedule reflected absolutely no mention for a vote on so serious a decision. Forget that Mr. Paugh claims publicly to "not like surprises," but sees fit to hoodwink surprises of his own.

Face it guys, the issue here isn't whether or not the Resident Trooper Program was a good one. It's the fact that we just witnessed another phase of the Mickey Mouse politics syndrome that lives in our county. Where were the meetings of the full board of commissioners, the law enforcement personnel, the studies of budgetary considerations, etc., etc., etc.?

County voters, please stand clear of the roads department plow, because we've just been very cleverly snowed!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am writing about a problem that involves the Road Crew working along Herrington Manor Road. I have watched for days now while they cut the brush back along the road. What bothers me is that along with the brush, they are cutting trees which are not in the way and which are also live. I then watch while a man marks them in 8 foot lengths and a private truck is waiting to take them away.

I can't understand why our taxes are paying to have fire wood cut for private people. My husband must purchase a permit to allow him to cut trees and this only permits us to cut dead trees. I am afraid, that if we considered cutting these live trees down, we would be faced with a fine. Also, if those trees which the Road Crew has been cutting, were permitted to be cut, they would have been cut long ago by other people in the county trying to keep their families warm in the winter and beating the high cost of heating.

I have heard from a county road worker that they are allowed to cut the trees and use them for firewood for their own use. I ask anyone driving along Herrington Manor Road to take notice of how far off the road the crew feels they have to go to cut the brush back. Also, take notice the size stump left from the so-called brush they were cutting. I consider what the road crew cut are large live trees in no one's way. Also, to any private citizen doing the same cutting, it would be unlawful.

A Concerned Citizen

Dear Sir:

I would like to commend the workers of the County Roads Department for the outstanding job they have done on the road at my home. I live at the intersection of Route 42 and Gap Run Road at Hoyes. Because of blowing and drifting snow the conditions in this area are often horrendous. The workers have never failed to have the road passable when I leave for my job at 6:30 a.m.

I don't think the workers get the credit they deserve often enough and therefore I would like to publicly thank them for a fine job.

Sincerely,

Melvin Dunithan

Dear Newsstaff,

I truly enjoyed the April Fool's page in last week's issue of The Republican. How refreshing the whole page was. I caught on to the 3 pictures right away, but I didn't take time to read the articles until late in the evening. I chuckled my whole way through.

With most of the news being so bitter and serious, your "special" page was a delight and an emotional relief. Thank you for spreading some humor and cheer.

Sincerely,

Rosanne Sherwood

"FOR A SIX-HUNDRED-DOLLAR DEDUCTION, I THINK I DESERVE MORE THAN A QUARTER."

Dear Editor:

As a subscriber to The Republican paper I found your April Fool joke to be in very poor taste. Not a very good example for our teenagers.

Catherine Westfall

Uniontown, Pa.

Dear Editor:

I wish to extend a hearty congratulations for your creative "new" addition to your newspaper. EHT NACILUPER. I was halfway through the article on the theft of Deep Creek Lake before I realized that I had been had. It was great!

I am sure that all Garrett Countians enjoyed the issue as much as I did. In closing, let me say — "It is going to be a lousy day." (April Fool.)

In His service,
Greg Grant, Pastor
Sand Flat Assembly of God

Dear Editor:

Probably the things on this page should have been on the "Naciluper" section, as the people who seem to dominate it have things backwards. First they preach "cooperation." Then they spit fiery bullets and verbal rocks at all public agencies, the "Know Nothings."

It seems we have been around by now, as the Hospital, county paper, road crews, Board of Education, radio, Social Services, Community Action, Sanitary Commission, County Commissioners, Sheriff Department, (and many more) have all been booted at, blasted and trampled in the mud. These include everything that works for the good of Garrett County.

Isn't it about time we hoist the flag of peace and cooperation? To the "Know Nothings," I wish to let you know there are still a few scattered over the county that appreciate what you are doing in the difficult positions you occupy.

The only reason the "Know It Alls" do not run things or hold office is they will not put their names on paper, much less a ballot. I'll be wearing my breast-plate next week, but I believe that if we can't pull we should push or get out of the way.

Margaret Beckman

Dear Editor:

It is interesting to consider what Commissioner Ernie Gregg is attempting to do to Law Enforcement in this county. Observe. Commissioner Gregg wants to throw away the careers of State trained Deputies who live in this county and are dedicated to law enforcement for State trained State Police.

Why is it, that when municipalities try to cut expenditures, they categorically start with cutting into law enforcement? Mr. Gregg, I think you should turn your job over to the state Governors Office first if you want to try to cut expenses.

As for saving the county money by bringing in state police to replace deputies? Mr. Gregg did not tell his interviewers that the resident trooper program is designed to support, not supplant law enforcement already in a given locality. He did not say that the county pays for those resident troopers salaries, (which is several thousand dollars higher than a deputy's salary) not the state. He did not say that the county pays for the equipment, but the state retains ownership.

Mr. Gregg did not say that there will not be 24 hours a day, 7 days a week coverage with resident troopers. Need I go on?

Election year is fast approaching and Mr. Gregg will no longer be involved in county government, but he wants to throw away eight careers.

Have you checked the crime statistics lately? We need more law enforcement officers, not less. And if commissioner Gregg gets this plan through, there will be less law enforcement officers in this county. It is a foolish plan, and I do not support it. I urge the Board of County Commissioners to vote this plan down as it is not in the best interest of Garrett County, or the Sheriff's Department. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
William R. Virts
Star Route
Kitzmiller

Dear Editor:

I read the piece in The Republican paper concerning getting rid of several of the deputies. I think that is a good idea. It should have been done long ago and instead of hiring so many in the first place.

When not so many years ago we had one sheriff, one deputy and a state police. Now we have a sheriff, several deputies and several state police and yet the crime rate in the past year has risen to an increase of 13% in Garrett County while state wide it is about 6%.

In the past week or so I've been in places of business where the petitions were left to be signed to keep the deputies. I would like to see one to sign for them to go. I believe it would be filled with names a lot sooner.

I have nothing personally against any of the deputies and I think Sheriff Evans has done a good job, except hiring so many deputies.

However I think commissioner Ernie Gregg is doing what he thinks right and I can't understand him not getting the support of the other commissioners. When if this state police program is put in force it could save the county and taxpayers several thousand dollars.

Thanks,

Sincerely,
Harry White
Rt. 3, Box 24
Deer Park, MD 21550

Sir:

As a County resident and Taxpayer I am opposed to the adoption of the Resident Trooper Program for Garrett County. The Garrett Co. Sheriff's Dept. and the Maryland State Police are both fine organizations. They both do their respective jobs in a highly professional manner. However, I don't believe one can replace the other under the proposed plan, and uphold the level of service normally available to the citizens of Garrett Co. Each organization has certain routine and specific duties that are unique to that organization. It would take more than two Deputies, full time, just to perform the basic functions of their Court and Jail related duties, this is not including the burden of various Court papers served daily.

I don't believe the Commissioners would be serving the best interest of the County by lowering the number of protection to the people. Alternatives to higher taxes or cutting needed services would be to concentrate on stimulation of business, industry, tourism, and other potential sources of revenue to supplement taxes.

Sincerely,
John L. Williams
Mt. Lake Park, Md.

Dear Sir:

I am 75 years of age and have been a resident of Garrett County for three years, having moved here from Pennsylvania. Today I regret ever having made the move.

Two years ago my Brittany dog, a wonderful household pet, was stolen right here along State Park Road, after previous attempts had been made to entice him into a car. My wife and I never did get completely over this loss. We recently acquired a young Beagle dog and in the six months we have had him he had become a real part of the family. Today we no longer have our little Beagle because one of the good people of Garrett County saw fit to steal him Sunday while he was romping here along State Park Road.

I know of a number of similar cases that have occurred in Garrett County in the past few years and it seems it's about time for pet lovers to band together in a concerted effort, through vigilante means or otherwise, to stop this distasteful practice, and to pressure the doggers in our State Government to pass laws that will mandate a severe penitentiary sentence for anyone who commits such a crime.

Frankly, the writer is not committed or obligated to live in a community that condones the kind of people who are so low in morals that they resort to stealing pets. Whether they steal them just for thrill, or for the purpose of selling them to a laboratory to be used as guinea pigs, is beside the point. It's a rotten, lousy bunch of humans who do this and until our lawmakers make the penalty severe enough, we'll continue to have subhumans in our midst. I shall now consider finding another place to live far away from Garrett County, Maryland.

Yours very truly,
Thos. H. Smiley

Dear Editor:

While my children are watching cartoons in the morning, or re-runs of Andy Griffin and such in the evening, suddenly there is an advertisement for a movie such as "Fear No Evil," or "My Bloody Valentine," etc. It is not only horrible for an adult to view, but frightening for children. I'm not trying to say they have no right to advertise such things, because we all have the right to public speech, but their timing is all wrong. As a concerned citizen, such viewing should not be shown during hours when children are normally watching their TV set.

If you feel the same as I do, I encourage you to write with me to: WPGH Channel 53 or 3, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. I'm sure it has been an oversight on their part.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Deborah Grant

The new rates become effective with meter readings on April 2, and will appear on bills mailed April 8.

County Farmer Loses Heifer To Phantom Butcher

An Angus heifer, owned by Wilbur Harry Myers, Kitzmiller, was stolen from his farm on North Hill Road sometime between March 26 and 28.

Myers told the Garrett County Sheriff's Department that the cow was noticed missing from his herd on the 28th. Myers, along with police, found a spot where something appeared to have been killed, and was then dragged through a nearby wooded lot approximately 400 yards to an abandoned strip mine road. There the animal was apparently loaded into a vehicle.

Remains of the animal were found scattered and partially hidden over a wide area, indicating that it had been butchered.

The animal's estimated weight is 600 pounds. It was valued at approximately $468.

In other business, two destructions of property were reported to the department last week.

Jeffrey Rohrbach, Deer Park, reported that someone broke the rear passenger side window glass in his 1973 Plymouth Scamp, while it was parked on Boiling Springs Road on Saturday. Damage is estimated at $30.

Harold R. Evans, Oakland, reported the second destruction to his mailbox within a period of two months. The incident occurred in front of his home on the Fingerboard Road during the night of March 31. Tracks indicate that a vehicle traveled near the mailbox, which was struck by an unknown object, knocking it from the post and breaking the boards holding it.

Second Impression

Fire In The Eye

by Harry Fox

It's hard to believe that the space program has been around for twenty years. At times, it's difficult to remember that there still is a space program. Since Alan Shepard made his twenty-minute sub-orbital ride, strapped to the top of a Redstone missile, the incredible growth of that precocious child has mellowed, and now blends into the American fabric with little fanfare. Houston, the Cape, Greenbelt, all places where the eyes and ears of the world turned, now exist in a distant memory of faded headlines and once-fervent hopes for a new and better future.

The most important passengers on the space shuttle "Columbia" as it lifts off Friday morning won't be the two pilot-astronauts. In their charge will be the hopes and the fears of a generation of persons, who invested their lives in the conviction that, despite all odds, outer space is a worthwhile place for mankind to live and work.

The benefits of the space program are legion, from research in medicine, physics, and energy, to more mundane things like permanent press fabrics. Yet, despite these "spin-off" products of the race to put a man on the Moon, the ultimate goal has never been reached: to take the exotic hardware and expensive research, and develop a durable, cost-efficient, practical means of getting into orbit. That is the payoff the engineers and scientists are seeking.

Many of us who lived out those years of tense excitement, who celebrated the triumphs and shouldered the defeats, and shared the drama of discovery, will be "going along for the ride" as well. The generation that watched Apollo 11 touch down on the Sea of Tranquility can reflect on the efforts of those who set out to do something that was, for so long, labeled impossible.

Apart from the practical reasons, and concern for the pilots' safety, it would be just plain great for Columbia to test out perfectly on Friday. Perhaps we need to gather once more as a nation, with a fire in the eye and a bit of a lump in the throat, and wish the space shuttle Columbia "Bon Voyage!"

police said. No loss value was placed.

In a separate incident, a cabin located near Lake Shore Drive, Deep Creek Lake, was broken into sometime between March 15 and 30. The dwelling is owned by George S. Hanna, Jr., Belair. Entry was gained by prying open a window, causing minor damage. Police said nothing appeared disturbed and nothing was reported missing.

Southern States Sponsors Youth Broiler Program

Southern States of Oakland, Accident and Grantsville has sponsored 23 Garrett County youth in their efforts to raise 1000 broiler chicks, which the youth will feed out and exhibit a sample of three dressed birds during the annual broiler show.

Chuck Shafer, Manager of the Oakland Southern States, related that the following youth were participating in the 4-H & SHS FFA Broiler Program this year: Robin Brant, Erica Carlson, Tom DeBerry, Rebecca and Raymond DeVone, Craig Evans, Karen Fink, Amy and Timothy Friend, Karen Gathier, Kevin Gamble, Quinton Guthrie, Steven and Stacey Malone, John Martin, Tammy Martin, Wade McKenna, Eric Paugh, Denise Riley, Glen Sanders, Michael Shannon, Theresa Sisler, Carrie Switzer, Danny Uphold, Teresa and Sam Wright, Dove Wassell and Amy Zimmerman.

These youth will keep records on feed costs and check mortality during the eight week grow-out period. They will meet in the Extension Office on June 2 to calculate the rate of gain, and profit or loss section of the broiler record book.

Interested youth will have an opportunity to learn how to do a better job dressing out their birds during a dressing demonstration on Thursday, June 4.

The Garrett Broiler Show will be held at the Southern High School Vo-Ag Center on Saturday, June 6, from 9-12 noon. Each youth will bring a sample of three dressed broilers and a record book for evaluation. Ribbons and cash premiums will be presented.

University of Maryland 4-H Program Leader Dr. Norman Smith, will conduct an educational program.

In a similar 4-H poultry activity, Dr. Bill Merka will conduct a poultry judging session in Cumberland on Saturday, May 23, starting at 1:00 p.m. Interested youth and adults will have an opportunity to learn more about evaluating egg quality, selecting the most productive live birds and determining which dressed birds yielded the most meat for the table.

The Broiler Program is sponsored by the Garrett County Extension Service, the Southern Garrett FFA Chapter, and Southern States. The Oakland, Accident and Grantsville Cooperatives provided the chicks free of charge to 4-H and SHS FFA youth.

Lakers Take Four-Game Losing Streak To ACC

The Garrett Community College Lakers will attempt to bring a four-game losing streak to a halt this afternoon when they travel to Allegany Community College in Cumberland to face the 10-8 Trojans in a 1 p.m. double-header.

The Lakers were in Baltimore Thursday and suffered 15-9 and 6-1 losses to the always-powerful Red Devils, who placed seventh in the national tournament last season and returned a strong nucleus this year.

In the opener Baltimore crossed the plate nine times in the first inning and added three more scored in both the second and third to put the game out of reach.

According to Coach Phil Caruso, the Lakers hit the ball well, gaining ten hits and nine runs, but could not recover from the "disasterous first inning."

Brian Turley paced the Lakers hitting, going three for four on the afternoon, including a homerun. Lawrence Nesselrodt added a pair of safeties along with Dennis Marsico and Bill Bender.

recorded a double. In the second contest, GCC was on top 1-0 until Baltimore scored four times in the fourth inning.

Saturday's home opener for the Lakers was no more encouraging than Thursday's performance, as they dropped a pair to Frederick Community College 14-4 and 10-7.

The Lakers played even ball for five innings in the opener, but Frederick exploded for eight runs in the top of the sixth to pull away.

Lawrence Nesselrodt and Rick Bricker each homered for the Lakers while pitcher Steve Butler absorbed the loss "Steve pitched excellent ball for five innings," Caruso stated, "before tiring in the sixth."

In the nightcap Frederick struck for five runs in the second inning and the Lakers could not manage to catch up, despite a two-run homer in the sixth by Corky Sweitzer.

Nesselrodt and Bender each singled for Garrett.

"Our hitting has come through, but our defense and pitching has not been consistent enough to win against Maryland competition," Caruso said. "We are averaging over four runs a game and once our pitching catches up, we'll be in good shape."

The Lakers are 2-6 on the season.

The show, with a total of 53 gardens and 85 retail booths, took 600 square feet of mulch, tons of building materials and hundreds of varieties of plants, according to Heselbach.

Crowds were drawn from as far away as Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Delaware, as well as all areas of Maryland.

The Landscape Design exhibit consisted of a 19'x24' deck in the shape of an elongated octagon, a six-foot privacy fence, a brick walkway, a cascading water fountain made from three rain barrels and a variety of plantings. The plantings consisted of three European White Birch, P.J.M. Dwarf Rhododendron, Mondo Grass, Hattfield Yew, Grape Holly, Liriopei Variegated, Daffodils, Cherry Laurel, Spreading Yews, Silver Spreading Juniper, Torulosa, Bar Harbor Juniper, Japanese Flowering Quince and a Blue Spruce.

Four men worked 47 hours to complete the exhibit by the show opening on Wednesday at 10 a.m. They began Sunday, March 8 at noon.

During construction of the exhibit, Bryan Heselbach was interviewed by the Sun Paper, WBAL, Channel 11 in Baltimore filmed the waterfalls in the exhibit for its evening and late night news.

"It was a lot of hard work and a lot of fun but the crowds are what made the long hours involved in setting it up worth it," said Heselbach. "We're looking forward to being invited back again next year."

1982 Capital Projects Budget
Nears Passage In House, Senate

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The state's capital construction budget for next year, a spending plan usually the subject of complaints about "pork barrel projects," quietly moved toward a final vote in the House of Delegates Tuesday.

The Senate was expected to consider a slightly different version of the same bill later in the day.

If adopted, the $168,095,000 conglomeration of building and renovation projects before the House would fall below the $175 million limit on state debt recommended by Maryland's Capital Debt Affordability Committee.

It also would amount to less than half of the $384.2 million in projects requested by General Assembly members this year.

The largest chunk of money, $45 million, would go toward public school construction and renovation.

Other projects included construction of jails in the city of Baltimore and in Kent and Worcester counties, shore erosion control projects, dredging of the Bird River in Baltimore County, money for the Anne Arundel County Detention Center, and for separate state programs for commercial and industrial redevelopment and community mental health centers.

Johns Hopkins University would receive $1.5 million for a new biology building that will be used primarily for cancer research. The money would complete a three-phase, $30 million program to which the state will have contributed about $4.5 million, said Delegate Frank Robey, D-Baltimore.

Building or renovation projects at Washington College in Chestertown, Western Maryland College in Westminster and a $1.5 million fine arts building at Loyola College in Baltimore were also included in the capital budget.

Discussion of the House version of the bill was limited, with most questions attempting to clarify what the money would be used for rather than objecting to their use.

In most years, legislators complain about what is included in capital budgets, but this year Delegate Larry Young, D-Baltimore, complained about a deletion: the reduction of $1.9 million that had been earmarked for construction of three Community Adult Rehabilitation Centers in Baltimore.

Young said city residents had battled plans to build the "CARCs" when the plan was first announced, but had come to accept the idea. Now, he said, the plans were being changed.

Two Die In Fire

SALISBURY, Md. (UPI) — Two persons burned to death in their home early today, Wicomico County fire officials said.

The victims, Annie Lee Peters, 63, and Benjamin Dorsey, 68, were found dead in the bedroom of the one-story, four-room house.

Firefighters arriving on the scene at 2 a.m. found the house engulfed in flames.

Fire officials theorized the blaze started in a couch in the living room, but they said their investigation was continuing.

Escapes From Jessup

JESSUP, Md. (UPI) — An inmate at the Maryland House of Correction walked away from an outside paint detail Tuesday, state police said.

William T. Jones Jr., 35, of Baltimore, was serving a 13-year sentence for armed robbery, possession of narcotics, carrying a deadly weapon and a previous escape.

Police say Jones, who also used the name Michael G. Jones, was discovered missing by guards supervising the work crew.

Farmland Protected

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The Anne Arundel County Council passed a bill to restrict residential development on the county's agriculturally zoned land.

County Executive Robert Pascal said he will sign the bill, which takes effect 45 days after he signs it. But he said if the new law devalues farm land, he will ask for legislation to give farmers a tax break.

Under the bill passed Monday night, owners of land zoned residential-agricultural will be limited to one residential building lot on an acre or more for each 20 acres they own.

Rehab Center Defeated

ELLCOTT CITY, Md. (UPI) — The Howard County Council tabled a measure to put an adult rehabilitation center in the county, and defeated a bill to restrict residential development on agricultural land.

The Council held a bill Monday to locate a community adult rehabilitation center, which would house 30 inmates, in the county. The state has mandated the center and if the County doesn't select a site by September, the state will pick the location.

A citizens panel selected three possible locations but residents of all three areas objected.

The land preservation bill would have permitted farmers to sell their development rights but keep title to their land. Developers who bought the rights would forfeit the chance to develop farmland but could apply their rights to an urban zone.

Dies In Accident

PITTSVILLE, Md. (UPI) — State police said Tuesday an 18-year-old Delmar man died when he lost control of his car and struck a tree near Pittsville.

Arthur J. Steingger was dead on arrival at Peninsula General Hospital in Salisbury, police said.

Steingger was northbound on Pittsville-Nelson road when he lost control, ran off the road and hit a tree late Monday night, police said.

Steingger was Maryland's 181st traffic fatality this year compared to 165 this time in 1980.

Cable TV Study

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The education task force of Baltimore's Cable Television Commission recommended the city be divided into several cable TV areas so local investors and minorities will have a greater opportunity to own a cable company.

The education task force's report, presented Monday, disagrees with the commission's business task force suggestion for one city-wide franchise to provide uniform service.

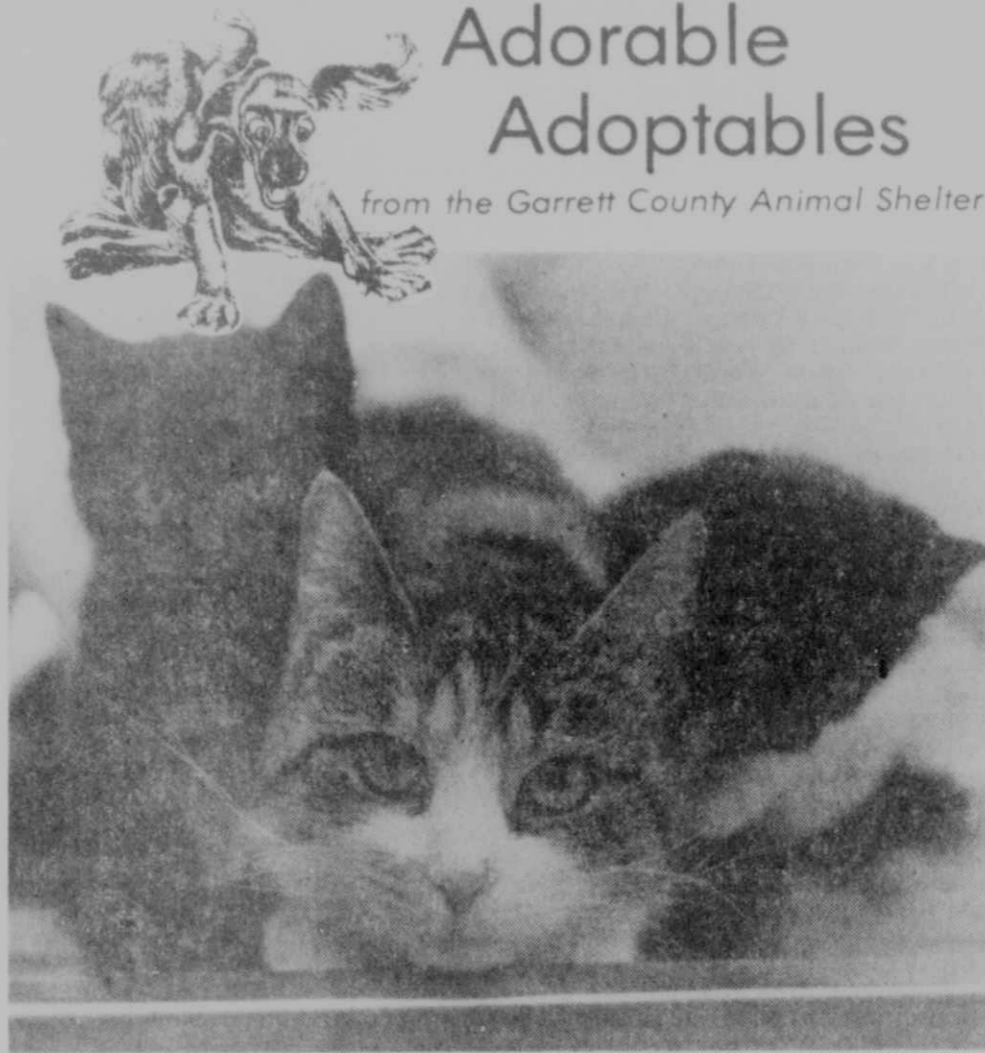

The full commission will report its recommendations in June and the City Council will have veto power.

Resigns As Regent

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Acting Gov. Blair Lee III said he is leaving his post as a University of Maryland regent because of the state's new financial disclosure law.

"I don't really want to go," Lee said Monday. "I enjoy the work. It's just the sheer burden of work that I object to," Lee said Monday.

The General Assembly passed the law in 1979 in an effort to reveal financial conflicts with state officials, with the first disclosures due June 1 for anyone in their position April 15.

A CHOICE OF THREE — These tiny kittens are six-week-old mixed Siamese, and the gentle lady guarding them is a calico with no definite proof of her age. All three are available at the Garrett County Animal Shelter, or you may call 334-3553 to reserve your choice. Last week's pups were given a new home by Alan Donovan, and the Doberman now lives with Philip Sherman.

Two Are Injured
As Scaffolding
Collapses

DUNDALK, Md. (UPI) — Two construction workers injured when a scaffold collapsed at Bethlehem Steel's Sparrows Point plant were in satisfactory condition at City Hospitals Tuesday.

Clem Bickerstaff, project manager of Furnco Construction Corp., said Monday the five men were working on a coke oven on a platform about 12 feet from the ground when it gave way.

Andrew Lewis, 48, was in satisfactory condition at City Hospitals with arm and head injuries.

Terry Ward, 41, also was in satisfactory condition at the same hospital with a broken leg and cuts and bruises.

Steve Bramble, 22, was treated at City Hospitals for a back injury and released.

Two other workers were treated for minor injuries at Dundalk Medical Center and released.

Construction of the $160 million coke oven began last April and is expected to be completed later this year or early next spring, Bethlehem officials said.

Bomb Threat Is Used To Rob
Gas Station

BALTIMORE (UPI) — City police Tuesday investigated the robbery of $125 from a gasoline station attendant who said the robbers threatened her with a fake bomb.

Police at the Southeastern District said two men approached attendant Frances Arwood early Tuesday and purchased a pack of cigarettes.

As Ms. Arwood pushed the cigarettes to the customers, they in turn placed what looked like a bomb in the booth's tray and demanded money.

Ms. Arwood in turn pushed $125 to the men, who fled, police said.

Police later discovered the bomb to be only two shotgun shells and a lighter fluid can wrapped in wire and tape.

Sgt. Joseph Mon, of the Southeastern district, said police were still looking for the robbers.

Balto. City Cab
Drivers To Face
Fines In County

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — City cab drivers who pick up passengers in Baltimore County could be fined up to $250 under a bill passed by the county council.

"In Baltimore City, they impose fines on county taxi drivers if they pick up a fare there. This imposes fines on Baltimore City drivers for picking up fares in the county," Councilman John W. O'Rourke, sponsor of the bill, said Monday.

Nation
And World

NEW YORK (UPI) — Edward Richardson, 22, an unemployed landscaper from the Philadelphia suburb of Drexel Hill, was held in lieu of $500,000 bail today in the Metropolitan Correctional Center on charges of threatening to kill President Reagan.

Secretary of State Alexander Haig, Sen. Jesse Helms and teen-actress Jodie Foster.

Secret Service agents said the threats were made in two letters — one found in a New Haven, Conn., hotel room, the other sent to Miss Foster at Yale University.

Washington (UPI) — President Reagan's rapid recovery has slowed a bit, placing in doubt a scheduled trip west for his daughter's wedding, a GOP fund-raiser and a meeting with Mexico's president.

Reagan is scheduled to attend his daughter Maureen's April 24 wedding in Los Angeles, then go to a California GOP fund-raiser. He is to meet April 27-28 with Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas — A rolling series of explosions, apparently triggered by sparks from machinery, devastated a 14-story dockside grain elevator in Corpus Christi, Tex., killing three workers and injuring 33 others. Three workers were listed today as missing in the rubble of the massive complex, which consisted of 153 grain silos.

A few hours later, a farmer's co-op elevator in Bellwood was ripped by an explosion, killing one man, who was trapped for five hours in a 10-foot pit. Two other workers were critically injured.

The state Public Service Commission's regulations allow taxis to pick up fares only in the jurisdiction where they are licensed. However, cab drivers who have taken a fare to a neighboring jurisdiction can return to pick up that passenger.

County cabbies complained last month they were fined by city police when they returned to pick up fares they had dropped off in the city earlier.

Special Judge Asked

DUNDALK, Md. (UPI) — Lawyers for Browning Ferris Industries have filed a motion requesting a special judge be appointed to rule on Baltimore County's suit against the company over the Norris Farm landfill.

Browning Ferris has processed hazardous chemicals at the site since 1976. County officials said the firm has a state permit for a landfill, but not a permit for hazardous chemicals.

County Executive Donald Hutchinson filed a suit in Circuit Court, but a judge refused to shut down the facility until the company responded to the county's complaints.

Browning Ferris Monday denied any wrongdoing and asked for a judge who does not regularly sit on the Circuit Court for the county.

"The defendant and its counsel believe that such a special assignment is necessary in light of the political sensitivity and citizens' protests associated with the operation of a designated hazardous-substances treatment facility," the motion said.

Three Suspects Held
After Bank Robbery

DUNDALK, Md. (UPI) — Baltimore County police at the Dundalk precinct arrested three armed robbery suspects "around the corner" from the station, an investigator said.

Police said two male suspects, assisted by a female companion, drew handguns and announced a holdup.

Police surrounded the bank and the two male suspects surrendered about 40 minutes later.

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Lech Walesa said he wants to retire as head of Solidarity soon and urged his union to settle internal differences and avoid brinkmanship confrontations with the Communist government.

Walesa's call for a moratorium on big battles came Tuesday as the Soviet Union announced the end of the Warsaw Pact maneuvers that has raised fears of Soviet intervention to crush the Solidarity free trade union movement.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The countdown to launch for the space shuttle Columbia was back on track today, heading for a spectacular Friday morning start to the 2½-day test flight of the ship designed to make space flight routine.

The Columbia's pilots, John W. Young and Robert L. Crippen, were to arrive at the spaceport later today for a final emergency landing rehearsal Thursday at the base's new 3-mile runway.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Police searched today for a mustachioed black man with long graying hair and horn-rimmed glasses who reportedly gave a ride to the latest youth to vanish in the city's string of 25 missing and murdered young blacks.

Late Tuesday night police released a composite drawing of the man, who a witness said was driving a 1966 green Chevrolet station wagon Larry Rogers, 21, was seen getting into March 30 — the last time he was seen by acquaintances.

What's Happening At . . .

GCC Dean Says There Is More
To ARC Than Meets The Eye

Editor's note: This article is a follow-up to articles which have appeared in previous issues of The Republican describing the effects of President Reagan's proposed abolition of the Appalachian Regional Commission.

Robert L. Trantham
Dean of Garrett Community College

In a recent article, Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Superintendent of Garrett County Schools, indicated that should the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) cease to exist, that "Garrett County specifically would feel the effects of such action as soon as September, 1981 . . ."

Secondary as well as post-secondary education, namely Garrett Community College, would suffer in that some aspects of programming would be affected. This action would impact on the total quality of some educational opportunities as they now exist.

Dr. Ryscavage effectively laid it out on the line in terms of what that effect would be as it relates to public school programming. The abolishment of ARC funding would force decisions, on the part of the Board of Education, to either continue specific programs under local support or terminate those named educational experiences.

Garrett Community College shares the view that should Congress support the request to eliminate ARC, the young men and women both locally and statewide who seek learning experiences in higher education in this area may well be denied some desirable, worthwhile opportunities.

The College, working closely with appropriate authorities and professional educators has realized, through ARC funding, some of the best teaching/learning facilities in the state.

The Vocational-Technical complex, opened in September, 1976, provides a wide variety of vocationally related instruction in the areas of Construction Technology and Industrial Education. The ever increasing number of students in these areas have the benefit of professional vocational counseling as well as career development and placement services.

In 1977 Garrett Community College, with appropriate state approval, began a regionally designated program in Veterinary Science Technology.

The program, utilizing the facilities of the Garrett County Animal Shelter, continues to attract students who are aware of the excellent facilities, equipment, and a reputation of highest quality. Following its initial year, the Veterinary Science Technology Program was accredited by the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Funds for the Vet Tech instructional equipment, the vocational-technical complex and the counseling and placement services were provided through ARC funding. The quality of such programs and services must be maintained. Like the public schools, the burden of designating local funds for such equipment and services would be difficult.

The Appalachian Regional Commission Development Act of 1965 "was created by a major effort . . .", and is viewed as "helping Appalachia change from a region of dependency to a region of growth and hope". Educationally speaking, our efforts have been properly motivated and effective in providing a diversity of well-designed educational experiences. However, the greater potential has not been realized and if the ARC ceases to exist, the potential may be totally lost.

The recommendation to abolish the ARC has far reaching implications, both of large and small dimensions, but none the less implications which will force a re-thinking of priorities and a re-direction of educational programming. With these concerns in mind, it is wise to realize that there is more to ARC than meets the eye.

Readin', Writin', and Cipherin' Labs Available At GCC

Although most college laboratories are places where experiments are conducted and frogs are dissected, Garrett Community College has three labs that serve a different purpose. These are the Writing, Reading, and Math Labs that are equipped to serve students who desire or who need individualized instruction in the basic skills.

The Writing Lab, located in LC-159, is supervised by Fred Jacoby who conducts small group and individualized instruction sessions for students who are referred by their instructors, and helps students who have research papers or reports to write for other classes. According to Jacoby, "More students are coming to the Lab as 'walk-ins' every semester. When they need help with organization, footnoting, outlining, or when they have problems with spelling or punctuation, they know where to come."

For the first time this year a group of tutors has been trained to give assistance in the Writing Lab and to work with instructors in the composition classes. The lab has many printed materials — packets, modules, handbooks, programmed instruction cards available on the shelves for student use.

Located in the Learning Resources Center, the Reading Lab is under the supervision of Carole Ann Lovett, Assistant Professor of Reading and Study Skills, and is staffed by Ross Harper, GCC student. This area has seven study carrels equipped for cassettes, film strip and slide projection, as well as many printed resources for student use. Early in the semester, Ms. Lovett conducted orientation workshops to the lab so that students can now use the facilities as they need.

One resource that has been widely used this semester, the Math Lab, located in according Ms. Lovett, is the set of language master cards that teach vocabulary related to zoology. Similar cards for other content areas will be available in future semesters.

With the combined efforts of concerned citizens and interested organizations, the Garrett County 4-H Handicapped Riding Program will launch a pilot program during the months of June and July.

one Friday

When we become mired in the routine of life, one day is like any other. This was just another working-day for most of the people in Jerusalem.

Three men died on Calvary Hill. One of them was the Galilean! Business as usual in Jerusalem. Unless we understand the whole significance of what is happening we pay little attention.

Do you understand what happened that Friday? Do you realize WHO hung on that central Cross? Do you know WHY he died? And FOR WHOM?

There is nothing more necessary in our lives than the deep, personal knowledge of what happened that Friday... and the Sunday following.

Come to Church!

CALVARY 1981

April 12, 1981

Background Scripture: Matthew 21:1-13, 27:1-41.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53:7-12

As I write these words, the 52 American hostages held in Iran 14 months have just arrived back in the U.S.A. Minutes after their plane landed and they are on their way to West Point to be reunited with their families. All across America there is joy and relief.

But there is also another emotion we are experiencing. Having heard the hostages' stories of brutality and mistreatment, many of us are angry and some of us are crying out for vengeance. "Blat them (from off the map)!" one man was quoted in the morning paper, apparently speaking for many Americans indignant at what the Iranians have done.

Crucify Him! These feelings that cry out for retaliation, for I too have felt the anger and outrage that so many have experienced. In my own heart there is a terrible wound that savors retaliation, "paying them back in kind," and showing "them" they can't get away with it. How easy it would have been, just five short minutes ago, to raise my voice with millions of others crying, "Vengeance! Vengeance! Vengeance!"

But before I could vent my anger and hatred, I sat down at

BATHROOMS NOT BEST FOR KEEPING MEDICINES

Modern medicines are potent. It is important they be protected against deterioration. When ever you take a hot shower or bath, the temperature is raised to a degree that may affect stability. Store medicines in a constantly normal, locked cabinet out of reach of children.

Be off the fumes of every medicine. Some should be refrigerated. Most medicines last up to one year dry place. None should be placed near heat.

We invite your inspection of our prescription laboratory. You can see thousands of medicines stored for maximum potency and immediate availability. We welcome prescriptions requiring intricate compounding.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shipping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Goldstein Says Maryland Law Helps Keep Gasoline Prices Lower

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein told a congressional subcommittee today that Maryland's Retail Service Station Divorcement law is working to the benefit of both consumers and service station dealers. He urged adoption of a federal divorce statute being considered by the Subcommittee on Energy, Environment and Safety Issues of the Small Business Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Citing a study by his office of prices and service station closings, Goldstein said retail prices are lower in Baltimore than in similar east coast cities and lower than the national average. He also said Maryland service stations are closing at only about one-fourth the national rate.

"I firmly believe Maryland has lower prices and a more stable marketplace because of our divorce law," he said.

Maryland's Retail Service Station Divorcement law provides that no producer or refiner of petroleum products may operate retail service stations. The stations must be dealer operated.

The resulting competition among small businesses has also benefited the consumer through improved service at the service station," Goldstein said.

The comptroller noted that Maryland's experience of lower prices and fewer station closings is counter to widely held national trends. "The price of gasoline, as reported by the U.S. Department of Energy, is lower in Maryland than in other states," he said.

Those same Baltimore prices were from 12 to 17¢ per gallon higher than the national average for June, July, and August of 1980, and January and February, 1981.

Goldstein also told the subcommittee that, while one in five, or 20%, of retail service stations nationally and 18% of the stations in the northeast have closed since January, 1979, only 14, or 5.6%, of Maryland's stations have closed during that period. Since major oil companies cannot operate retail stations in Maryland, there is less reason for them to arbitrarily cancel leases and close stations, he said.

Goldstein said that Maryland was the first state to pass divorce legislation, acting on his proposal in 1974 which followed allegations of station lease cancellations and discrepancies in the allocation of gasoline to different kinds of retail dealers. Maryland's pioneering law was upheld by the United States Supreme Court in June 1978 and implemented in July 1979.

Comptroller Goldstein urged the subcommittee to act favorably on a national divorce law, but asked that it not pre-empt stricter provisions of state statutes such as Maryland's.

IRS Offering Tax Tips To Late Filers

With the April 15 tax filing deadline only days away, Internal Revenue Service is offering last minute tips to approximately one-half million taxpayers in this area who haven't yet filed, according to a release from the IRS.

"Start today, so you can deal with any last minute surprises; and read your instructions carefully," suggests Ted Kern, IRS Director of the Maryland and the District of Columbia. "People may find they need certain records and receipts or IRS forms in order to take advantage of all the tax benefits the law provides," he said, "and at this point, they should plan to pick up any additional forms from a local IRS office, rather than order by mail or phone."

According to Kern, many taxpayers who postpone their tax work until the closing days of the filing season submit tax returns containing mistakes which are apparently the result of hasty preparation.

Such mistakes, including math errors, missing entries, and unallowable deductions, can often delay the processing of a return, he said. For taxpayers expecting funds, the delays caused by certain errors can set back receipt of the refund by several weeks.

"People who are unable to file at this time may wish to apply for an automatic 60 extension," Kern said. "To do so they must estimate the amount of any tax due and send that amount with a completed Form 4868 to their IRS Service Center by April 15." When the return is actually filed, any additional amount due will also include interest at the rate of 12% a year. Extensions of more than 60 days may be requested on Form 2688 when necessitated by "very unusual circumstances."

To those who haven't filed because they can't pay, Kern says, "By all means, file the return and pay what you can in order to comply with the law and avoid a Failure to File Penalty of 5% per month (up to 25%) on the balance. IRS will send you a bill for the remainder plus a possible Failure to Pay Penalty of ½% per month and interest at 12% per year."

IRS advises all last minute filers to check their returns over carefully, especially their arithmetic; attach all other schedules, Forms W-2, and checks or money orders; include their signature(s); attach the peel-off label; and mail the return in the pre-addressed envelope. "If the return is complete and accurate, you'll get any refund due in about ten weeks," Kern said.

All local IRS offices and telephone lines are open for tax assistance Monday through Friday, 8:30 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. The IRS Tax Assistance Number for Garrett County is toll-free 1-800-492-0460.

"Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) Programs have been established by colleges, churches, libraries, and senior citizens groups trained by IRS to prepare returns for low-income, elderly, and foreign language taxpayers in their neighborhoods. In the past ten years, VITA has grown to over 20,000 volunteers nationwide, who prepared 4 million returns last year," Kern said.

Frederick CC Students Work In Local Parks

Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls State Parks received assistance from Frederick Community College students on the weekend of March 27-29, according to Kenneth G. Meyers, Park Ranger at Herrington.

Working through the VIP (Volunteers in Parks) program, the students were fulfilling a requirement for a park maintenance class which included three days of actual field work. Among the maintenance tasks performed were construction of a sawmill platform, erecting campsite markers, and leveling off camping pads.

At the conclusion of the program, Park Manager Gerald Sword commended the members of the group on their performance and enthusiasm. Instructor Marshall Botkin was also pleased with the results and has expressed a desire to make this an annual project.

The shoestrings were invented in England in 1790.

Supreme Court Asked To Review Decision On Congress, Income Taxes

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said Thursday that the United States Supreme Court has been formally asked to review the decision of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit ruling that members of Congress living in Maryland are not subject to Maryland State and Local income taxes.

On December 31, 1981, the Circuit Court upheld a decision by the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland which allowed to stand a law passed by Congress in 1977 exempting its members from paying state and local income taxes to other than their home states.

The U.S. Department of Justice brought suit against the State of Maryland and Comptroller Goldstein in July, 1978, following efforts by the Comptroller to collect taxes from members of Congress in accordance with Maryland State Law.

"The Maryland Attorney General has asked the U.S. Supreme Court to review the lower courts' decisions because we believe the law passed by Congress interferes with the accepted power of a state to levy taxes and because we believe the U.S. Department of Justice should not be representing the members of Congress in what is essentially a private, individual income tax matter," Goldstein said.

At the time the suit was filed, it was believed that approximately 125 members of Congress lived in Maryland. Of the 125, only about 25 were from states with no income tax and would be required to pay the Maryland State Income Tax. All 125, under Maryland law, would be subject to the local "piggyback" income tax.

Approximately $225,000 in annual revenue is thought to be involved, most of it local income tax revenue benefiting Prince George's and Montgomery Counties.

Four State Park Campgrounds Open

Four Maryland state park campgrounds are open with limited sites available. Early season campers will find camping loops open for primitive campers in Swallow Falls, Elk Neck and Assateague State Parks. Point Lookout State Park is open for self-contained units only.

The Maryland Park Service will open all other state park campgrounds on May 1, 1981. Until that time the Park Service has a campground open in four distinct geographic areas of Maryland. No reservations are accepted at any of the four parks.

Jane Alexander knows value of temperament

Jane Alexander loved portraying the temperamental Mrs. Patrick Campbell, opposite Edward Herrmann's George Bernard Shaw, in "Dear Liar" because, "temperament accounts for an interesting performance."

"Personally, I don't know an actor in the field worth his or her salt who doesn't have some temperament," she says.

"Dear Liar," written by Jerome Kilty and produced by David Susskind in conjunction with WGBH Boston, will be telecast April 15. (Check local listings for air times in your area.) The production concerns Shaw's consuming infatuation with the beautiful leading lady of the London stage. As a theater critic and playwright, Shaw showered the British actress with praise and poetry, but their romance never went further than correspondence.

"Mrs. Pat was very well known for her candor, which was often pretty outrageous," Ms. Alexander says.

"Mrs. Pat" reportedly once asked Joan Crawford what she did for a living, she also told John Gilbert he was very handsome and ought to consider getting into pictures.

"I've been known to be that way," Ms. Alexander says. "But when people are working with really good people they usually don't make waves. It's only because they want things to be a certain way and they have a strong vision about something. Mrs. Pat had strong visions about the way things should be."

Jane Alexander as Mrs. Patrick Campbell in "Dear Liar."

Ms. Alexander says she finds the chemistry between Shaw and Mrs. Pat particularly interesting.

"I can imagine their relationship easily. Writers make the theater go round — they make it happen. Here was Shaw with these wonderful parts (he had written "Pygmalion" specifically for her), his facile mind and his wonderful way of expressing himself. I think she admired that more than anything."

I myself have married two directors, but I've had love affairs, platonic and otherwise, with writers."

Although Mrs. Pat had a reputation for being capricious, Alexander thinks a great deal of the problem was Shaw himself.

He already had a wife, and made no indication to Mrs. Pat that this situation would ever change. He also made impossible demands on her, creating a love that was more a figment of his imagination than anything else.

"He had this image of her — Mother of Angels, Dark Lady of the Sonnets," she says. "At first it was all very wonderful and romantic, but then Shaw began to chastise her for being the woman he wanted her to be, not the woman she really was."

It was a Shaw play that first brought Ms. Alexander and Herrmann together: they both played in "Major Barbara" in 1972. Most people think of them as Eleanor and Franklin from the two TV shows about the Roosevelts. They also were in "The Betsy" together.

"I love working with Ed," she says. "He's just great, particularly in this role, where he's almost as wonderful as he was as F.D.R."

In real life, the two are neighbors in Putnam County, north of New York City.

Walters at a party; and Ford at a palace

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — Barbara Walters showed up at a party in a Mary McFadden gown. Designer George Stavropoulos, sitting at the next table, smiled sweetly with, "Well, let's say Mary has to live, too."

Christina Ford, ex-wife of Henry, is the current houseguest of Imelda Staunton of the Philippines. Christina's roughing it in the palace deep in the heart of Manila. Burt Bacharach left his Carole Sager and their shared Beverly Hills home long enough to dash into New York for one day, do a quick recording date and dash back home.

Princess Pahlavi, twin sister of the late Shah of Iran, is back in her Manhattan triplex.

Norman Mailer definitely what you'd call the marrying type) dragged four of his kids and three of his wives — two exes and the current one — to dinner — I saw Hal Linden lumbering up Madison Avenue all alone eating an apple. And I also saw Roy Scheider coming out of a coffee shop in his neighborhood after lunch. He eats breakfast in another coffee shop. Apparently he doesn't have any food at home.

Lily Tomlin

Since working together in "Nine to Five," Lily Tomlin and Dolly Parton are inseparable chums. They confide in each other and depend on each other. Donald O'Connor mumbled that his "Bring Back Birdie" show was torpedoed because they needed the theater for Liz Taylor's show. He didn't specify who they are.

Olivia Newton-John spends the off-hours teaching her dog tricks.

Barbara Walters

Says Walter Cronkite about all the wall-to-wall awards he's vacuumed up lately: "I don't say I don't deserve all this because I probably do."

Tom Jones is selling his Rolls — the bargain price is $75,000. That includes the built-in bar. Very reasonable, right?

The eternal search for the right role

By Ruth Thompson

One subject brought up by the Katharine Hepburn retrospective on PBS recently was the actor's eternal dream of finding "the right role."

In the plot of one of Hepburn's early movies, "Stage Door," shown during the festival, a talented actress (Andrea Leeds) loses a role to a neophyte (Hepburn), goes into a depression because of it and commits suicide.

Did the character played by Leeds have the talent the fictional role required? According to the script, yes. But she lacked the one strength even the most sensitive of professionals have: they know they're in a tough business, and if their "dream" role gets away once, they hang in there, hoping, at least, for a good one.

Frances Sternhagen, who starred on stage in "On Golden Pond," told us last year that she knew she would not be asked to reenact the role when it was made into a movie. She thought it would go to a "big name." It did. Katharine Hepburn. Did Frances mind? Not at all — let the movie prosper and she'll do the same. In fact, she's already on her second Broadway role right now.

Hepburn herself says she has had several "right" roles during her long career, each relating to her age and experience. When she starred in "The Philadelphia Story" in 1940 (which was written for her), the role most resembled the Hepburn of her younger years, and when "African Queen" came along in 1951, both the role and her treatment of it came close to being the kind of person the public perceived her to be then — and therefore "right."

***

An example of an actor in a

Edward Herrmann

right role is Ed Herrmann in PBS' "Dear Liar" (check local listings for air times in your area). Ed plays George Bernard Shaw, playwright and theater critic, who was infatuated with London's leading lady of the theater for over 40 years. Ed's good friend and frequent co-star, Jane Alexander, plays the magnetic, temperamental Mrs. Patrick Campbell, for whom Shaw wrote "Pygmalion."

Ed says that if he has had any disappointment in his career — and he says it lightly — it is that, after three years in England on a Fulbright scholarship, "I wanted so much to become an English actor, which is impossible, of course, for an American. Because, while I had mastered three English dialects, the real English could do a dozen. Then I took some good advice and came home. I think my father was beginning to get worried because I didn't really get my career started to where I could earn a living until I was 27."

Viewers are by now familiar with the Ed Herrmann versatility. His interpretation of Franklin Roosevelt stands as the definitive one (even Frank Roosevelt Jr. called it "uncanny") in both "Eleanor and Franklin" and its sequel, "The White House Years," with Jane Alexander as Eleanor.

And one of the chief fans of Ed's television portrayal of baseball great Lou Gehrig was Gehrig's widow, who became such an Ed Herrmann fan that she went to the wedding when Ed and actress-playwright Leigh Curran pledged their troth.

And now "Dear Liar." It is a dream role for him. And he has only one concern about this new Hallmark Hall of Fame production.

In order to create a truly theatrical feeling, "Dear Liar" was filmed in a real theater in Boston by WGBH. "I hope it comes out all right, especially the close-ups. You get up a different adrenaline for stage than when you know you are working directly to the camera."

In his early career, before fame came his way, Ed had directed "Dear Liar" in Dallas. "Two fine actors starred. I would not have been ready to perform Shaw then. I needed more time and experience."

Linda Gray's long journey to 'Dallas'

By Debra Morgenstern Katz

When Linda Gray was a teen-ager, she went to watch a fashion show at her high school in West Los Angeles. One photographer, after developing and printing his photos, was more interested in a young woman in the background of the pictures than in the professional models. He went back to the high school, showed the picture, and said, "Who's that young lady in the back?"

That was Linda Gray, whose Texas drawl, now speaks to J.R. and millions of viewers every Friday night on "Dallas." Her teen-age "discovery" was quick, painless and exciting. Stardom, however, took another 18 years.

After being seen by the photographer, she modelled, did commercials, and later, guest spots on weekly series. "I used to see parts on television and films and in the theater and I thought, 'I can do that. I want to do that. Doesn't anybody know that I'm here?'" It was very, very frustrating for me. So I just kept hanging in.

There was a lot of rejection, a lot of frustration. There were continual auditions, and many lost parts.

Yet Linda Gray persisted, and today, her face is probably as familiar as co-star Larry Hagman's. Of whom she says, "I have total love and respect for that man. I know I could call Larry at 4 in the morning and say, 'Larry, I need you, can you come over and bring $50,000 cash?'" In fact, her favorite story is of the time she and her husband, Ed Thrasher, boarded an airplane and were approached by a man sitting next to Thrasher.

"Excuse me," he said, "your traveling companion is Linda Gray. May I have her autograph?" I know she's on a very famous television show, but I don't know the name of it.

And I thought, "She's Gray. I've arrived!" Gray says the character of Sue Ellen Ewing is very fascinating to men, especially businessmen. "They say she's the most womanly, even though she has giant problems. They can relate," they say. When I did this to my wife and she reacted this way, I could really understand because you did this on the show. Linda Gray loves the character of Sue Ellen, loves striving to keep her vulnerable and unpredictable and complex. And Gray also loves what Sue Ellen has brought her celebrity status.

"I'm having the best possible time ever. It's just terrific that it's all happening. It's a bonus after all those years."

She objects, though, when it's suggested that rejection is behind her new success. She has many goals beyond an hour a week on network television. "I want to do everything," she says, including comedy and, especially, film. And that's where the rejection comes in.

"I desperately want to get into films and still hear, 'Well, you're not a movie star.' In fact, she says Hollywood makes a distinction between movie stars and TV stars. "They want to keep you there because they're comfortable in that. And the thing that I'm fighting is the fact that if you have a talent and if you are right for a particular role, then it shouldn't matter whether you come from Broadway or television or whatever."

So there's another one, she says, with determination of this new struggle. "I'm not going to give up on that one either."

MAKE US ACTUALLY SHOW YOU WE CAN BEAT ANY PRICE YOU FIND!

HOW CAN WE SELL SO INCREDIBLY ROCK-BOTTOM LOW AND STAY IN BUSINESS?

THE WAY THE CLUB WORKS IS ACTUALLY QUITE SIMPLE

As a new member you immediately receive our two high status jewelry catalogs of fine, top quality nationally advertised items. But — as you'll see when your membership materials arrive — there is one big important difference between the Club's two high status catalogs and other catalogs you may have seen. The regular retail prices shown in our catalogs are never the prices you pay us. Your prices are always the "super" discount prices that all club members — and only members — receive.

These hard-to-believe-it's-true, low rock bottom prices are all provided for you in the members only, confidential Super Discount Price List. This Price List shows you your cost for each of the many hundreds of high status, top-notch quality items in your Club catalogs. You pay only the confidential price listed (which is always less than half of retail) plus a modest shipping charge.

EVEN BIGGER BARGAINS ARE IN STORE FOR YOU!

From time to time — besides our always in stock high status jewelry catalog items — as a member, you enjoy receiving special surprise bargains bulletins... offering you the exclusive privilege of sharing in "limited quantity" merchandise. Spectaculars like you've never seen before! These Surprise Bargain Bulletins are chock full of famous designer and name brand items — consisting of such fabulous goodies as fashionable luxury furs, leathers, sportswear for women and men, as well as children's apparel. Plus everything else from cameras, stereos to TV sets.

GUARANTEED FIRST CLASS TOP QUALITY DESIGNER NAMES AND NATIONAL BRANDS

Anything you get from the Club is brand-spanking new... nationally advertised "first class" all the way, the kind featured by the finer department stores, the fashionable boutiques and establishments in your area and in chic, upper income national mail order catalogs. But, whether ordering from the Clubs high status jewelry catalogs or from special surprise close out bargains bulletins — we have just one basic never changing pricing policy. All our fabulous first-quality items are available to you at less than half of suggested retail. Quite often you save an incredible 90% off! You never again need to wait around for local "going out of business sales" anymore. You enjoy unbelievable savings everyday 365 days a year! Every item is guaranteed to please you.

CHECK IT OUR FOR YOURSELF! 30-DAY NO-RISK TRIAL MEMBERSHIP!

Any item you order may be returned within 30 days for a fast, no-question asked refund. Your orders filled and shipped to you promptly. Everything shipped insured. No hidden charges or catches, ever. This year we expect 1,200,000 smart American consumers to join the Club and buy the many hundreds of eye-catching selections lavishly illustrated in both club catalogs. Like you, they shy away from junk jewelry and cheap merchandise of any kind... they too know that the quality of items we purchase says a lot about ourselves. For themselves and their families they prefer nationally advertised and top quality items. But they'll buy them always at less than half of retail... conveniently shopping from their homes and, thereby saving time, gas and money!

HERE'S ALL IT TAKES TO JOIN:

Simply mail the attached coupon with $1 for your lifetime membership fee. Anyone can join and there will never be any additional dues or fees to pay, ever! And, if you are not fully satisfied — even your $1 membership fee is refundable — just return everything within 30 days. You are never obligated in any way.

We hope you will fill out and mail the no risk membership coupon today. We are ready to rush the Club's two fabulous "high status" jewelry catalogs and, of course, your confidential Super Discount Price List. Plus we will include an easy to use ring sizer for accurately fitting all finger sizes. After you've examined our two classic catalogs you'll find that as a member you can now afford the elegant designer fashion jewelry you want... and you'll wear proud. Yet you never again need to pay more than what most junk jewelry costs... all that, and much more, without ever leaving your home! This may all seem "just too darn good" to be true...

and we understand that! That's why we strongly urge you to fill out the membership coupon right now, and see for yourself. If you do not, you'll certainly regret it the next time you are asked to pay full sky-high retail prices. Don't delay — join now and do yourself, your family, and your bank account a giant favor... we guarantee that you'll be glad you did.

CHECK PRESENTED — A donation of $400 was presented recently to the Garrett County 4-H Junior Rifle Club from the treasury of the now-defunct Mt. Top Rifle Club. Receiving the check in the photo is Mrs. Connie Swiger, secretary of the 4-H Rifle Club, and making the presentation is George Porter, former treasurer of the Mt. Top Club. Mrs. Swiger said the funds will go for the purchase of new equipment. A similar check was also presented to the Western FOP Junior Rifle Club, which was pictured in last week's edition of The Republican.

State Offers Last Minute Tax Assistance

"If you're among those taxpayers who still haven't filed their State income tax returns, there are some extra hours of free tax help you'll be interested in," State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has announced. "In addition, there are some common last minute errors you should be trying to avoid."

Goldstein noted that all 12 offices of the Maryland Income Tax Division will be open Saturday, April 11th from 9:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. to offer free assistance. They will offer telephone assistance on Monday evening, April 13 from 4:30 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. and all offices will remain open on the final day of the season, Wednesday, April 15, from 8:30 a.m. until 9:00 p.m.

"We find many people work on their tax returns the last weekend before the filing deadline and we stay open to answer their questions, or even complete their Maryland returns, free of charge," Goldstein said. "In addition, many taxpayers have questions to ask after working on their returns over the weekend and we offer extra telephone assistance on Monday evening to allow them the opportunity to get answers to their questions."

Last minute filers also tend to make more mathematical errors than those taxpayers who file earlier in the year, making it especially important to double check calculations and be sure all W-2 statements are included with the return.

Goldstein noted that another common last minute error involves taxpayers who file a Homeowners' Property Tax Credit application. "Please keep the property tax credit application separate from your State income tax return. Mail each in the separate colored envelope provided for that purpose," he said.

Alpha Alpha Group Meets

The Alpha Alpha Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held a luncheon meeting at Will O' The Wisp on Saturday, March 28.

Anna K. Beachy presented the program entitled "Women Educators — Architects of the Future," with focus on quality of living and women who might be expected to determine part of that future.

President Jean Grose conducted the business meeting. The group's summer workshop will be held June 17 at 4 p.m. at Anne Bishop's cottage on Green Glade Road.

The group will not meet during the month of May.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig

Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."
EYE-OPENING FACTS ABOUT CARPET INSTALLATION

Many people go to their carpet store with their eyes wide open. They've read books and literature on carpet construction and carpet fibers and they know just what they want for their home. They've consulted decorating books which talk about carpet color and texture and they've decided on exactly what they want. Then they purchase their carpeting, and wait for it to be installed — with their eyes tightly closed.

Carpet installation is an important part of the total carpet package you buy. You can purchase a good quality carpet — yet, if it's installed improperly, you'll not be getting your money's worth. When making your carpet purchase, be sure to ask how it will be installed. And ask who will be doing the installing. Many people don't realize that most carpet stores hire outsiders to do their installing.

The best way to be sure that a reputable installer is going to be putting in your carpet is to buy your carpet from a reputable store. Their reputation depends on quality installation jobs.

Next time we'll talk more about carpet installation in this column. Watch for it. In the meantime, stop in at Roderick's to make your carpet selection. Butch is our professional carpet engineer and he does the best job possible. When it comes to floor prep and installation preparation be sure to listen to him carefully and follow his instructions exactly.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

Byron Releases Results of 1981 Questionnaire

Sixty percent of the people in Maryland's Sixth Congressional District support an immediate tax cut, even if the federal budget is not balanced until 1983, according to results from Rep. Beverly B. Byron's (D-Md.) 1981 constituent questionnaire.

In addition, some 96 percent of those who responded would support legislation which would require all able-bodied welfare recipients to work in public-service jobs to offset the benefits they receive.

The results show that Sixth District residents feel that increasing the readiness of our current armed forces should receive highest priority as defense spending is increased, followed by increasing the salaries and benefits for military personnel to attract qualified persons and expanding the number of conventional weapons.

Of the more than 15,000 who responded, only six percent want no increase in defense spending.

Opinion was evenly divided on the question of imposing import quotas to protect domestic industries.

More than 60 percent responded favorably to the idea of lowering the minimum wage to teenagers. Thirty-one percent stated they were against such a move and five percent were undecided.

In the area of Social Security, constituents cite using general revenues, establishing new limits on family benefits and limiting the size of annual automatic benefits as the policies they prefer in solving future financing problems. Sixty-eight percent are against increasing current Social Security taxes, and 75 percent said they did not favor reducing average benefit payments. Slightly more than half (52 percent) said they are against a gradual increase in the retirement age to 68 years.

Eighty-nine percent of the Sixth District residents believe the U.S. should increase the use of coal for electric-power generators, and 62 percent stated that the government should build more nuclear plants to replace oil-refined electricity generators.

"I am pleased that so many people took time to respond and return the 1981 questionnaires," Rep. Byron said. "I find the questionnaire a valuable tool in discovering the feelings and priorities of my constituents, in addition to individual meetings, telephone calls and personal letters. This is one of the ways I can keep attuned to the public's beliefs," Rep. Byron said.

Ring Divisions

It was thought, before Voyager 1, that Saturn's rings were confined by gravitational interactions with the moons of the planet. Voyager 1 photographs showed many more rings than moons and objects in what was thought to be empty space between rings. Additional observations indicate many very small moons whose gravitational effects appeared to be part of the force contribution along with electrostatic forces on the components of the rings. The existence of many rings with spaces between them seems to be much more complicated than was thought prior to the Voyager 1 observations.

A KICK-OFF DINNER for the 1981 American Cancer Society Crusade in Garrett County was held recently at the Wisp Ski Area. given the materials needed for the crusade at the dinner. They will be visiting door-to-door during April.

Decisions Rendered In Circuit Court

Several verdicts were rendered in Garrett County Circuit Court last week as two Grantsville men faced various charges of misconduct.

Larry Charles House, 31, was charged by Maryland State Police with disorderly conduct and carrying a concealed weapon, stemming from an October, 1980, incident in the parking lot of Grantsville Ford.

According to the report, the defendant was observed by a passing motorist in the truck lot of Grantsville Ford at approximately 11:45 p.m. The citizen reported the presence of the defendant to Sgt. William Graham and Trooper Ronald B. Westmoreland, who were on patrol in the area at the time.

Upon encountering the defendant, a scuffle ensued when House allegedly refused to identify himself to the officers. During the customary weapon search, a sheathed hunting knife was removed from the belt of the defendant, which had been covered by the tails of an open shirt.

Judge Fred Thayer dismissed the first count, and a jury of seven men and five women found House not guilty of the concealed weapon charge.

Marvin Elwood Wiley, Sr., Grantsville, was found not guilty on Monday on charges of simple assault stemming from an incident between himself and Wilbur R. Younkin, also of Grantsville.

According to the report, Wiley had been cutting wood with Younkin when an argument broke out between the two men concerning the amount of wood each had accumulated.

According to the complaint, Wiley struck out at him with a chain saw, attempting to cut him about the face and neck. Younkin's wife allegedly stepped between the two men, and managed to turn off the saw.

Younkin filed the charges against Wiley, according to the report, because he feared for his life during the incident. A motion of acquittal on charges of assault with attempt to murder and/or maim was granted by the court prior to the simple assault hearing.

Loan Interest Rates Increased

Interest rates for all Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) farm facility and commodity loans have been raised to 14.5 percent per annum according to Stuart C. Peterson, Acting Chairperson of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

The interest rate will be variable for all loans approved after April 1, 1981. The rates will be reviewed each October 1 and April 1 and may be adjusted, upward or downward, for the remainder of the loan period.

"Farmers who were approved for CCC before April 1 would not be affected by the new interest rate," said Peterson.

The previous rate for farm facility loans had been 12.5% per annum and the commodity loan interest rate had been 11.5% per annum. The new rates are based on the cost of borrowing money from the U.S. Treasury. "Continuing interest rate at the earlier level would result in losses to CCC," said Peterson.

The farm facility loan program provides loans of up to $100,000 to producers needing farm facilities for storing dry or high moisture grain, soybeans, high moisture forage, and silage. Loans are also available for drying and handling equipment. A minimum down payment of 15 percent of the cost is required before the loan is disbursed. The loans may be repaid in seven equal annual installments over a period of eight years.

"The need for storage structures is based on two years' crop production minus any existing storage capacity," said Peterson.

The commodity loan program provides operating cash and allows farmers to hold their crop off the market and benefit from price increases that often come after harvest. Grain loans are available for approximately 10 months following harvest and mature on the last day of the ninth month following the month the loan is disbursed. Producers may satisfy the loan by repaying the loan or in cases where the market value is below the loan rate, forfeiting the grain to the Commodity Credit Corporation. "For additional information on loans, contact your county ASCS office," said Peterson.

Maryland Feed Costs Decline

Maryland farmers saw their costs for all feeds generally fall below a month ago announced the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. Decreases from February prices ranged from two to five percent for all mixed dairy feed, laying feed and broiler feed. All feed prices were above a year earlier.

The prices producers received in March for most commodities were above a year ago, but generally below February's prices. The Index of Prices Received for all commodities dropped four points (two percent) below the previous month, but remained 33 points (16 percent) above the previous year. Wheat at $3.97 per bushel, calves at $84.00 per hundredweight and fresh apples at 15.5 cents per pound were the only items with prices below last year.

The All Crops Index, at 290 percent of its 1967 base, increased 39 points (18 percent) above last March, but remained unchanged from last month. All individual crop prices were above last March except wheat and only soybeans and wheat were below the month before, losing 29 cents to $7.15 per bushel and 48 cents to $3.97 per bushel, respectively.

The Livestock and Livestock Products Index rose 30 points (15 percent) above March 1980, but dropped six points, three percent below February 1981. Calf prices averaged below last year while only eggs were above a month earlier.

For Handicapped Residents

Ability As Opposed To Disability

Editor's Note:

This is the second in a six-part series dealing with available services for handicapped people in Garrett County, and the determination and contributions of handicapped individuals and those who work for their welfare.

by Kathy Bailey

During the past six years an organized non-profit advocacy group concerned about the welfare of Garrett County's handicapped population has been changing and growing, continually advancing toward more efficient and effective ways to serve the handicapped. This group of private individuals, school teachers, parents and professional people is now established as the area's single voluntary force which exists solely to assist mentally, physically and emotionally handicapped people.

"The Garrett Organization for the Handicapped (GOH) is not a social organization; we are here to help, and all of our members work," said Mrs. Dorothy Leuba, president. The group's leader is an enthusiastic woman who has been described by her peers as a "focal point" in motivation and growth toward expanded services and recreational activities for the handicapped. Thomas Graybill, speech therapist, currently serves as vice-president; Luanna Toston is secretary and Alice Ann Ridder is treasurer.

The group's cross-section of professionals identifies needs in the community, refers individuals and their families to appropriate services throughout the county and aids in the initiation of new programs. Problems are explored by the group, and on a lighter side, GOH sponsors various social activities for Garrett County's handicapped, including annual Halloween and Valentine's Day dances for handicapped adults, and an annual Christmas Party for handicapped adults and children.

GOH members provide architectural barrier surveys for public and private buildings, and have consulted with the Garrett County Board of Education in planning for barrier-free schools in the future. The group has in the past assisted in the establishment of graduation procedures for the developmentally disabled, together with the Board of Education.

The group has also sponsored two public meetings relating to Special Education Services for handicapped children in Garrett County. Topics at the meetings dealt with budgets and programs, funding of Special Education services in Maryland and Garrett County, and legal rights of parents, as well as implications of current legislation in Maryland. State representatives and Al Ringer from the Garrett County Board of Education were brought in as guest speakers for these public awareness programs.

GOH provides Garrett County residents with a central unit in which assistance of all types can be sought for any matter relating to the handicapped. Through the evolution of various county services, and time devoted by interested people, this interagency committee has become very effective in identifying and meeting needs.

"Without parents participating, however, GOH would be severely limited as to what it can do for their handicapped children," said Mrs. Leuba. The group is now concentrating on expanding awareness and community involvement, sending out a special plea for more parents to join the organization. It is estimated that, through all of the effort and services available, county agencies today serve less than 10 percent of the county's total adult handicapped population.

With a greater influx of services and increased awareness GOH is hoping that more area residents will join in the enthusiasm for services generated by that group. Garrett County is unique in that it can identify with an individual, rather than a number. This type of personal interest is evident within the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped.

Since the group has been in existence it has been helping to streamline existing services and attempting to get more people involved in handicapped programs. The group was slow in getting started, but now has approximately 30 members, of which an estimated 60 percent attend meetings regularly, all of whom are very active. Group members attend committee meetings in addition to regular monthly meetings, focusing on such aspects as finances, advocacy, publicity and others.

When the group was first organized in 1975, as part of the Maryland Association for Retarded Citizens, it was named the Garrett Association for Retarded Citizens (GARC). The concept of GARC was to promote the abilities of mentally retarded citizens rather than their disabilities. In the beginning several parents involved with the group and its main purpose was to determine a site for a group home (now Garrett Crossroads). Two homes for mentally handicapped adults, initiated by original GARC members, became a reality this year in Garrett County.

One member said the group became established in the eyes of the community when interest was generated through fund-raisers. In 1976 GARC organized its first Hike and Bike, still the group's primary source of funds. They put a lot of effort into the event and raised $2700, from which the state took 60 percent.

This loss of local funds in lieu of services received from the state group led the local members to believe they could do a more effective job as advocates for Garrett County's handicapped, independent of the State group. In April, 1978 they split off from MARC and formed the Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens. From that time on all monies generated by the group have gone back into services for the handicapped in Garrett County exclusively. GORC became more active in advocacy roles, and in January, 1980, it merged with the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. As most members of

AIR-CONDITION WITH TREES

Step into a woodland on any hot summer day and you can appreciate, without needing any elaborate instruments to prove it, the air-conditioning job performed by trees. They can do the same work at your home.

All summer long the shade trees intercept and absorb the sun's heat, at the same time transpiring cooling water. With your house shielded from the impact of the sun's rays, inside temperatures are kept lower - power consumption for the air conditioner is down. Even if you don't have an air conditioner, those beautiful gifts of nature can help you be more comfortable.

Differences of eight degrees in temperature have been recorded between shaded and unshaded outdoor surfaces. As winter approaches, the clever shade trees shed their leaves to let the sun shine through to help warm up your home. Incidentally, shade trees will do their work most effectively if they are arranged on the south and west sides of the building. They should be no less than about 20 feet from the house so they won't crowd the walls once they're fully grown.

Ability

one committee were also members of another, the merger created one organization which could effectively serve all handicapped groups, eliminating any duplication of services.

Shortly after the merger the group changed its name to the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped, moving in the direction of serving not only retarded citizens, but all handicapped citizens.

This year the organization will hold its fifth annual Hike and Bike, attracting hikers, joggers and bicyclists in the sixth grade or older. The fundraiser is based on pledges, and participants travel 10-mile routes set up in both the northern and southern ends of Garrett County. Other fundraising events are the Autumn Glory Road Rally and the sale of tootsie rolls during the Autumn Glory Parade.

The organization annually sponsors the local Special Olympics for the mentally handicapped, with the assistance of many other community organizations. This event is held each year in May at Garrett Community College, McHenry, and children and adults may participate. Local events include a softball throw, a 50-yard dash, standing long jump, a frisbee throw and non-competitive fun and games. Coordinators of the local competition are Mrs. Leuba and Rick DeWitt of the Appalachian Adult Activities Center, who conduct practice session prior to the event with adults at the center. Adaptive physical education teachers in the Garrett County schools work with children in practicing for the event.

Winners of that event travel to state competition at Towson State College, Baltimore, usually the first weekend in June. The state designates how many Garrett Countians can participate, based on the number of local participants. The trip to Towson, special uniforms and adult supervision, are sponsored by GOH and donations from area service groups. Last year 22 Garrett Countians went to state competition.

Other organizational funds go toward the development and publication of a Directory of Services for Handicapped Persons in Garrett County, and Lois E. Naylor Fund, which subsidizes the Garrett Crossroads, Inc. Board of Directors and their activities. The group has made cash donations towards the support of a handicapped Boy Scout Troop at Dennett Road School, and pays the salary for a Camp Hickory nurse for a one-week camp program for handicapped children.

GOH provides financial assistance for the Appalachian Adult Activities Center and area nursing homes, in addition to finances for a respiratory fund for one area patient, and three-month temporary foster care placement for a mentally retarded adult.

The organization sponsored a participant in the Heart Fund Rock & Roll Jamboree, and is contributing financially to RESPOND, Inc., toward that group's purchase of a van to be used by a severely disabled resident of Garrett County.

The group is currently providing financial assistance to the Maryland Extension Service to aid in developing a horseback riding program for the handicapped. The program, which has been described by GOH as a "good step toward recreation," is expected to begin operation at the Garrett County Fairgrounds this summer. The Garrett County Horsemen's Association is also involved with the project.

Groups within GOH can exchange resources to meet community needs. Numerous service organizations, private businesses, individuals and county agencies have also contributed time, energy and money for GOH activities.

The Garrett Organization for the Handicapped is open to the public for membership. The group meets the first Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Appalachian Adult Activities Center in Oakland. Due to Special Olympics and the Hike and Bike both held in May, next month's meeting will be on Tuesday, May 5.

The smallest airplane in the world measures just nine feet ten inches long, yet can fly at speeds up to 185 miles per hour.

Fifteen Killed On State Roads

Fifteen persons lost their lives on Maryland highways, according to the weekly News Release compiled by Lt. C.R. Troutman of the Maryland State Police. Of these fatalities, 10 were drivers, four were passengers and one was a pedestrian. Alcohol was a contributing factor in one of the deaths, speed in 12 and driver error in 14.

Persons killed through April 5 total 177, compared to 162 for the same period last year.

Maryland Quilt Block Contest Is Announced

To help celebrate their 100th birthday, the Home Arts Department of the Maryland State Fair is having a quilt block contest with the theme: Maryland — It's Treasures and Pleasures," according to Mrs. Jane Rentchler, extension agent, Home Economics. Ideas can be obtained from daily activities, hobbies, nature, sports, special events, or place of residence, she said. The rules for the contest are as follows:

2. Fabrics must be cotton or cotton-polyester blend. Kits are not eligible.
3. Designs may be pieced, appliqued, embroidered or a combination of these techniques. No liquid embroidery will be accepted.
4. All quilting on the block must be done by hand.
5. Entrants should give the design a title and write a brief explanation about the quilt block on a 3" x 5" card.
6. The contest is open only to Maryland residents, with no age limit.
7. Only one entry per person will be accepted.
8. Entries will be judged on originality, workmanship, color, and appropriate use of techniques.

Applications For Preservation Grants Now Being Accepted

The Maryland Historical Trust is now accepting applications for matching federal grants to assist in the funding of historic preservation activities throughout the state, according to the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development. Grants are available to local governments, non-profit organizations, and individuals for up to 50 percent of project costs.

Eligible activities include the acquisition, stabilization, restoration and rehabilitation of historic sites included on the National Register of Historic Places, classified as Acquisition and Development

(A&D) activities; and architectural assessments, sites surveys and planning (S&P) activities.

Applications are due no later than May 15, 1981. Applicants will be notified of project ranking by August 15. The amount of funds available will be known after December 1, 1981.

To receive an application or for further information, persons may call or write the Maryland Historical Trust, 21 State Circle, Annapolis, Maryland, 21401.

Episcopal Council Hears Director Of Salem Village

Miss Louise Sutermeister, executive director of the Maryland Salem Children's Trust, spoke to the Western Maryland Regional Council of the Episcopal Church at a recent meeting held at St. John's Episcopal Church in Deer Park.

The Salem Children's Trust, which is patterned after similar holistic Christian communities in Germany, endeavors to provide a home for abused and neglected children. Master craftsmen teach each child a trade, and therapy is provided through music, swimming and other water sports, horseback riding and a family atmosphere.

The Salem community in Maryland was established in 1978 in Calvert County. In 1979 a farm on the Lower New Germany Road in Garrett County became the nucleus of a second Maryland home. Both homes are licensed by the Maryland Department of Social Services and accept children from anywhere in Maryland. Other Salem communities have been established in Michigan and in the White Mountains of New Hampshire.

Volunteers and donations are needed, according to Ms. Sutermeister, for the growth of the Salem Village concept. More information can be obtained by phoning 689-8176.

Reverend Roy S. Turner, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in Frostburg and the Episcopal chaplain at Frostburg State College, reported that the Episcopal Fellowship at the college, which meets weekly for worship and fellowship, have been awarded $1,000 by the Diocesan Ministry in Higher Education to enable the Fellowship to further its ministry and mission on the FSC campus.

Armed Strikers Return To Mettiki

Approximately 200 strikers with United Mine Workers from the Tri-State area gathered outside the gates of Mettiki Coal Mines yesterday to protest coal operations there. This was the third incident since the beginning of the strike 20 days ago on March 27. This time the strikers were armed.

Police officials said that nearly all of the strikers were carrying clubs and were attempting to keep the non-union Mettiki employees from entering and leaving the coal operation. They were spread out over an area of about 200 yards, and stood along the road from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Nearly 25 county and state police officers were stationed at the mine entrance area to prevent any harm to Mettiki workers and their vehicles. Maryland State Police K-9 units were on hand, in addition to the State Police helicopter. The Garrett County Sheriff's Department responded with 10 deputies and five special deputies and wardens. Some employees' vehicles reportedly suffered minor damage, however no one was injured and no one was arrested.

Injunctions were served to the picketing miners yesterday, issued by Mettiki Coal Company, to limit the number of pickets at that mining operation.

About 500 of Garrett County's 800 coal miners are employed by Mettiki, and all are non-union. Mettiki is apparently the only mine operating in the county at this time. The company is able to remain in operation because about 70 percent of its product is for the export market, according to Tim Jones, Garrett County Economic Development Director. His office was involved with the preparation of a feasibility study for a coal preparation facility last year.

Jones said that "even a 150-day strike would not spell the doom of any company in the county today," as the weak market conditions during the last three years would have already filtered out any mining operations which could face bankruptcy in a prolonged strike.

Police will continue to be stationed at Mettiki around the clock.

Because of the situation at Mettiki and department scheduling the weekly Sheriff's Department report was unattainable. It will appear in next week's issue of The Republican.

Kingsford Closes White Church Kiln

The Kingsford Company has permanently shut down the White Church Kiln which produced approximately 3,000 tons of charcoal a year for the firm's charcoal briquet manufacturing operation at Parsons, W. Va.

Robert Pemberton, area manager for Kingsford said, "We regret having had to take this action, but there were no alternatives."

Pemberton noted that demand for wood by paper manufacturers and for use as home fuel has made it impossible to assure a consistent supply for the 25-year old kiln. The absence of an adequate wood supply was compounded by very high operating costs of the kiln.

According to Pemberton, the shut down will have negligible effect on the Parsons operation which produces charcoal briquets for distribution and marketing in the eastern United States.

The Parsons plant has approximately 180 employees.

To help alleviate the effect the shut down on the six employees, Kingsford provided benefits including termination pay and continuance of group medical plans.

Pemberton said the company

UMW STRIKERS stood their ground throughout the rain yesterday outside the entrance to Mettiki Coal Mines. Table Rock, demonstrating increased unrest over operations there. Nearly 200 strikers, armed with clubs, were present. About 35 state and county police officers used K-9 units and police vehicles to keep the situation under control. The strikers were apparently attempting to keep non-union employees from going in and out of the operation.

Coal Tax Bill Passes Assembly

The coal tax bill for Allegany and Garrett Counties was sent to Gov. Harry Hughes Monday night after successfully passing both houses of the Maryland General Assembly.

The bill has the blessings of the Garrett County Commissioners who, in the words of Chairman Ernie Gregg, are "happy it finally got through."

Gregg noted "everyone involved in the coal tax legislation had to compromise to a degree."

Before the bill cleared the Senate Monday night, a joint conference committee, appointed to iron out differences between the two houses on the bill, had okayed the much-amended measure and sent it to the House, where it also received approval.

The bill, as approved, mandates the two counties' commissioners to place a 30-cent tax on each ton of strip-mined coal beginning July 1. The personal tax on coal mining equipment, which the commissioners have said is too hard to collect, would be abolished.

The measure provides for an additional five cents per ton for fiscal year 1982 (beginning July 1, 1982) to go to municipalities in the two counties that suffer coal haul damage to their streets.

The bill also contains a clause calling for a sunset review in fiscal year 1984 which brings the bill up for General Assembly review that year.

Del. DeCoursey E. Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) said that although the sunset provision is unpopular with local coal tax proponents, it had to be included to win the support of Baltimore City legislators.

Bolden said Baltimore legislators are interested in instituting a coal tax of their own for shipments through the Port of Baltimore beginning in 1986.

The Garrett County Commissioners expect to receive $125,000 in revenue in FY1982 for use in repair of coal haul roads in the county.

Commissioner Lester Hunter pointed out that 15 cents of the 30-cent tax will go to repair of coal haul roads while 20 cents will replace revenues lost from abolition of the personal property tax.

They requested Sue Shockey, a county resident who had shown interest in such a project, to present a written proposal for a presentation to be used for such events.

Shockey presented her proposal Tuesday at a meeting with the commissioners which was also attended by Promotion Council representatives. She proposed a seven-part, 30-minute, automatic slide presentation on various aspects of the county.

She estimated the total cost to be approximately $1000. The commissioners had already authorized purchase of a 35mm camera, a cost of $350, for the project.

Former Promotion Council director Edwin Walball told the commissioners the estimated $1000 cost was "far below what you're going to find it will actually be."

He pointed out that there was

Five Plead Guilty To Theft Charges At Manor Builders

Several county residents pled guilty to various charges of theft stemming from the August 28 breaking and entering of Manor Builders Supply, Mt. Lake Park, during last week's Circuit Court session before Judge Fred A. Thayer.

Donald Carl Dammie, 23, Oakland; Timothy Allen Whitacre, 20, Mt. Lake Park; Anthony Leon Miller, 19, Oakland; and Larry Wayne Friend, 18, Accident, pled guilty before Judge Fred Thayer to assorted personal responsibilities in the crime.

Presentence investigations were ordered, and a continuance was granted for another defendant, Michael Edward Madigan, 19, Swanton.

Dammie, and another defendant in the case, Nancy June Sluss, 19, Oakland, were sentenced for their parts in the theft.

Dammie was sentenced to one year in jail, which was suspended, fined $100 plus court costs, and placed on one year supervised probation.

Sluss was sentenced to 18 months in jail, which was suspended, fined $250, plus court costs, ordered to make restitution, and placed on two years supervised probation.

Value of the stolen property, which included 12 rifles, two portable 8-track players, and two Beacraft scanners, plus damage to the building, totaled $1167.

Vietnam Veteran Advocates Walk 800 Miles Seeking Support

By Kathy Bailey

Kim Splain and Junior Wyatt, both of Jacksonville, Illinois, were greeted Sunday by members of the Oakland American Legion Post No. 71, when they arrived in Oakland, enroute to Washington, D. C., attempting to gain support for the construction of a national memorial for Vietnam veterans.

Splain, 28, and Wyatt, 34, both members of Jacksonville American Legion Post No. 279, are walking from Illinois to Washington, D. C. in a campaign to generate concern for Vietnam veterans and contributions for the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, a non-profit organization.

Oakland is their only stop in the state of Maryland, and the two hiked all day Sunday and Monday, arriving at the intersection of Route 50 and Route 219 at Red House, after a 25-mile jaunt from Grafton, W. Va., their last stopping point.

They are accompanied by Homer Tutor, 33, Deersville, Ohio, who joined their cause just when they "were on the verge of giving it up," Tutor saw an article in his local newspaper and had originally wanted to join them in walking, but chose to drive along with them, picking them up at stopping points and transporting them to their motel. He carries their clothing in the car, informs people of their arrival and passes out press releases along the way.

Tutor and his wife Charlotte had a son in the Vietnam conflict. A boring mill operator in Cleveland, Ohio, Tutor provides reinforcement for the two hikers and he recently brought them to his home for a weekend rest from their long journey.

The total estimated length of the hike is 818 miles. The two

Board Asks County Agencies To Cut Budget Requests

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners have returned FY1982 budget requests to the 35 county departments, asking them to resubmit their budgets based on the amount of county money they received this year.

The commissioners took this action after "wrestling" with budget requests which amounted to $14,225,000, or $3 million over the FY1981 budget.

The county department directors, who have generally been receptive to the commissioners' directive, were also informed to anticipate no salary increases for county employees.

Ernest Gregg, chairman, stated the commissioners are trying to keep the budget down in order to stay within the constant yield tax rate of $3.17, which would be a 14 cents drop in following years by as much as $300,000.

In a statement released to the press, the commissioners explained their reasons for their action was due to their unwillingness to increase the county tax rate and their desire to prevent layoffs of personnel.

The commissioners indicated there would be few increases in allocations over this year to any county departments, even those who are losing large amounts of state and federal funds.

Commissioner Gregg noted the county is also facing revenue cutbacks at the state and federal levels. "It is just not feasible for the county to make up other revenue shortfalls," he said.

The departments are to resubmit their revised budgets next week.

Education Board Approves '81-82 School Calendar

The Garrett County Board of Education at their regularly scheduled meeting on Thursday, April 9, approved the school calendar for 1981-82. School will begin for students on Monday, August 31, 1981, with dismissal at 1:00 p.m. on that day. Providing no days are used for inclement weather, schools will close for students on Friday, May 28, 1982.

New teacher orientation for the 1981-82 school year will begin at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, August 26, 1981, with all teachers reporting for a full day of work on August 27 and 28. Graduates at both Northern and Southern High Schools will be scheduled for Sunday, May 28, 1982.

In addition, the Garrett County Board of Education will hold a special Board of Education meeting on Tuesday, April 21, 1981, to discuss various personnel matters. The meeting will begin with an executive session at 4:00 p.m. with the public session to follow at 4:00 p.m.

The adopted calendar closely followed a calendar proposed by the Garrett County Teachers Association.

Commissioners Approve New System For Solid Waste Disposal In County

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday unanimously approved the replacement of the green dumpster waste disposal system in the county with a computer station system.

Explaining the present system as "cost prohibitive" to operate, they directed Herb McCrobie, county roads and solid waste administrator, to begin proceedings to change the system as soon as possible.

The new system would involve replacing the 31 dumpster sites with five compactor station sites in the county.

McCrobie noted that although the cost to the county for the first year would be $58,500 (about $27,000 more than the operating cost of the dumpster sites would be for FY 1982) the cost would drop in following years by as much as $300,000.

Each site would involve a permanent compacting unit with a 40-yard box with the capacity of 50 green boxes. The county would purchase one truck to haul the boxes for emptying at the county's landfill sites.

Tentative plans for the sites include surrounding them with a chain-link fence, constructing hard-surfaced roads into the compacting units, and manning the units with retired persons.

In order to implement the new system, McCrobie stated the county will have to obtain five sites throughout the county, will have to purchase the equipment, prepare the site, and hire persons to man the stations.

McCrobie said he hopes to have the system ready for operation the first of July.

In other business, the board heard a presentation by representatives of the C&D Telephone Company on a proposed Bell System Communication System designed for Garrett County Government.

The presentation included the communications requirements for the Courthouse Complex as well as for the Health Department, Board of Education, and Community Action.

The representatives emphasized this centralized communications system would improve operating efficiency through use of a countywide system and significantly improve citizen access to county services.

The Board and representatives from the county departments will study the proposal further before making any decision.

The Board opened four bids for a cleaning and custodial care contract for the Courthouse Complex, the administrative office of the county roads department and the planning office.

Bids opened included Fike's Cottage Maintenance, Addison, Pa., at $1.21 per square foot; $47,407.29; Best Cleaning Services Ltd., at $1.40 per square foot, $48,064.96; C&D Cleaning Services, Mt. Lake Park, at $1.09 per square foot, $39,440.01; and Triple 'A' Cleaning Service, Oakland, at $1.40 per square foot, $50,044.00.

The commissioners determined to review the bids before final awarding.

The commissioners concurred in the acceptance by Tim Dungan, county planning director, of a position as representative for Allegany and Garrett counties on the Maryland Historical Trust.

Harman Says Meal Program Must Change

Garrett County Board of Education president Herbert Harman believes the school meal program will have to change with these times of high costs and lack of funds, but he is not sure just how it will change.

He is sure of one thing, "I definitely feel we need a school lunch program." Whatever form the program takes, he states it will have to provide reasonably priced and nutritious meals for county students.

He noted that after the board's recent decision to raise school meal prices, he had received numerous calls from county residents.

"I found out two things," Harman stated. "Garrett County people won't pay over a dollar for lunch and they don't want county tax dollars used in the food program."

Harman expressed these thoughts at the Thursday meeting of the Board while it was discussing the school meal program.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, school superintendent, who distributed information on the financial record of the program

Managership Of Westvaco Mill Changes Hands

Dr. Philip H. Emery has been promoted to the position of manager of Westvaco's Lake mill, effective immediately, according to an announcement last week by Harold A. Sutphen, Senior Vice President of the company.

Dr. Emery succeeds Dr. David G. McMaster who has accepted a position with another company. In commenting on Dr. McMaster's resignation, Harold Sutphen said, "For 18 years, Dave has had an outstanding career with Westvaco and in leaving the company he goes with our very best wishes."

Since October 1976, Emery had been production manager at the Lake mill. He joined the company in March 1963 at the Charleston, South Carolina, mill and has been at Lake since August 1970.

He received his B.S. degree in engineering physics from the University of Maine in 1957 and completed the five-year course in Pulp and Paper Management there in 1968. Then Emery attended the Institute of Paper Chemistry in Appleton, Wisconsin, where he earned his M.S. degree in 1969 and his Ph.D. degree in Paper Technology in 1975.

Dr. Emery, his wife and four children reside in the Horse Rock Development, Westernport.

Quarterly Report Is Released By Garrett Central

A total of 2505 calls were handled by Garrett Central Alarm during the first three months of this year, according to a report released this week by Ed Livengood, chief dispatcher. This represents an average of just under 28 calls per day over the 90-day period.

Of the total, 1296 calls were classified as emergency, while 1298 were non-emergency calls. A total of 933 calls were received over the 911 emergency line.

County rescue squads responded to 456 calls, the Southern Rescue handling 277, the Grantsville station of Northern Rescue handling 195 and the Accident station responding to 74.

Fire calls for the period totaled 216, with Oakland Volunteer Fire Department responding 51 times; Deer Park, 38; Grants-

Harman Says

Continued from Page One over the past five years to the Board and to cafeteria workers and others attending the meeting, stated, "Many things have been said about the program, some were close to the facts, others were far afield."

Ryscavage noted student participation in the program has risen and fallen over the years. The present participation rate was almost equal to the rate in 1977 when the program was not centralized.

Ryscavage also pointed out that under the centralized program, which was instituted in 1979, this year the program lost about $17,746 which was $2,000 less than it lost in 1977 under the decentralized program.

In addition, Ryscavage stated, the amount of county funds supplementing the program decreased when the program was centralized.

A school cafeteria manager told the Board that the cafeteria workers wanted to see the school meal program continued but they wanted to participate in any discussions on the future of the program.

She told the Board that the workers "were fighting mad" when Richard Buckingham, county cafeteria manager, announced at a cafeteria worker meeting that their hours would be cut back. She noted that no one had any idea that a cut back in hours was even a possibility considered for relieving financial troubles in the program.

When asked how the Board could justify the cut backs in employee working hours, Ryscavage replied that the school meal program had to be operated as a business. "You don't operate a business on a deficit."

Harman added, "The Board regrets having to cut hours of an employee, but those are the realities of any business."

The cut back of employees' hours and an increase in school meal prices were recent measures approved by the Board to balance the school meal program budget and in anticipation of a federal funding reduction.

Buckingham explained that his original budget for this year had been planned to make a $10,000 profit, but that the 13 percent increase in the price of food and an unanticipated salary increase for all employees approved by the Board were the two major factors in the $30,000 deficit in his budget.

Two Persons Hurt In Collision Near Deep Creek Bridge

An accident Monday evening at the entrance of the bridge over Deep Creek Lake, Rt. 219 N., resulted in a major property damage and injury to a Grantsville man and a Moundsville, W. Va. woman.

According to Maryland State Police, a vehicle driven by Phillip Andrew Dice, 23, Grantsville, was traveling south on Rt. 219 when the driver failed to keep to the right of the center line and slammed into an auto being driven by Della Rae Collins, 33, Moundsville.

Northern and Southern Rescue Squads responded to the call, transporting the injured to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where both were listed in satisfactory condition yesterday.

Dice was charged by Maryland State Police with illegal approach to a right of way.

Both vehicles were destroyed in the mishap. Tfc. Larry Rosage investigated.

I didn't care about the rain that day. Just looking at her happy face made everything seem sunny and bright.

A rainy day.

"Good Lord, Harry, just look at all this. They ought to kick us up. We must have slipped. We really can't afford it!"

I looked around the reception hall of the local country club. Table after table had been set up for the wedding feast. An orchestra was tuning up off to the side on a raised stage. Waiters were weaving around with big trays of champagne. Others were going through the ceremony of uncorking the wine. And it was all on me.

Mrs. Hillman, second cousin to the groom, patted my arm and grabbed my arm to say something. I couldn't understand. But I smiled at her while I said to my wife, Martha, "Don't worry. I told you I had a way to go. But at 8:30 you ought to be well up on it. Eat, drink, dance."

Now Mrs. Hillman was holding Martha's hand, babbling away. Martha smiled back at her but otherwise she was not paying any attention. Out of the corner of her mouth she said in a pained voice, "But take worry. I'm a beam of worry. What do you have in mind? A second job? Selling the house? Or just taking every last cent out of the bank?"

I wondered what the chances were of getting a glass of the champagne as I leaned to the departing Mrs. Hillman. "Nonsense, not the house! I said to Martha, 'But on the other hand, we will have to cash in a large chunk of those U.S. Savings Bonds.'"

"The Bonds? Oh, Harry, you never told me, I'd forgotten about the Bonds. What a lifesaver!"

I had almost forgotten them, too. But that's one of the good things about U.S. Savings Bonds. You have to mind them. You have to mind them. When you really need them, they are all yours and waiting.

The band struck up as the wedding party came in the door. Everyone applauded. Martha was smiling with a big grin as she rolled down her chair.

Oh, Harry, said she to me, "It's worth it. Even though we were saving those Bonds for a rainy day. I put my arm around her and said, 'Don't worry. I'm still buying the new car. And as far as my wife, she's got to take a look at the new car.'"

A. I looked at my wife and she really did seem worth all the expense. I didn't care about the rain day. Just looking at her happy face made everything seem sunny and bright.

As the dance ended, she looked up at me and said, "Thank you, Daddy. For everything. And especially for today."

I squeezed, and said to her, "You're welcome. It's nothing, nothing at all."

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds, money helps to build a better future for our country and for yourself.

friends as gifts. While most egg-decorating enthusiasts are concerned only about the exterior of the egg, Mrs. Inks spends most of her time constructing scenes on the insides of the shells. As is evidenced by the photo above, she even uses the shells to create a tea service. She said the individuals who encourage her the most in her efforts are her three grandchildren.

Facilities At Deep Creek State Park Expanded

Deep Creek Lake State Park has expanded its facilities for group use, according to the Maryland Forest and Park Service.

This year a new shelter area will be open with four shelters available. Two shelters have a capacity of 99 persons each and two have a capacity of 149 persons each. Each shelter has its own parking lot, fireplace and grills. In the immediate area are sanitary facilities, game court and playground.

The park has about one mile of shore frontage on the lake, providing access for fishing, boating, swimming and water skiing. There are also wooded picnic areas which parallel the shoreline and the camping area will open May 1.

Reservations for the shelter or other park information can be obtained by writing the Park Manager, Deep Creek Lake State Park, Route 2, Box 70, Swanton, Maryland 21561 or phoning (301) 387-5563.

Promenaders Observe 11th Anniversary

The Mt. Top Promenaders, local Western-Style Square Dance Club, observed their eleventh anniversary on April 13 with a dinner at the Deer Park Fire Hall followed by a square dance at the Dennett Road School with the caller Al Schwinabart.

New officers for the year were also installed as part of the evening activities, attended by 65 persons.

Officers installed were: presidents — Doyle and Louise Biser; vice presidents — Neil and Virginia Sanders; treasurers — Charles and Joanne Shahan; secretaries — Mike and Eleanor Winter; and hospitality — Arnold and Barbara Feather.

The club, which dances the second and fourth Mondays of each month, originated locally through the efforts of Shirley Ramsey, a member of the Rappahannock Twirlers, Fredericksburg, Va., who resided in Mt. Lake Park and was a teacher at the former Center Street School.

Others who helped from the club were Gerald and Helen Giotto, Double G Ranch, McHenry, who were members of other square dance clubs and who began square dance classes.

Charter members still in the club, in addition to the Giotto's, are Bill and Jo Ashby, John and Leah Brennenman, Dale and Marie Custer, and Arnold and Barbara Feather.

It Was Super!

As the wheels of the space shuttle Columbia gently re-touched the surface of the earth yesterday afternoon, millions of people, who moments before had been sitting on the edges of their seats, collectively released an almost indescribable explosion of emotion which could be felt all over the nation. "It was super!" exclaimed astronaut John Young, which, although rather vague, seemed like a perfect, catch-all statement to describe the event.

Incredible pride probably topped the list of emotions, pride not only in our space program, but also in our nation. Along with that was a marvelous feeling of happiness, accomplishment, success and hope, even among the masses of citizens who had nothing to do with the mission. There was a feeling of tension one moment, which seconds later was replaced by pleasing relief. There was the sensation of many new doors of opportunity being opened for the first time. Many things which some thought might be done, have now been done. The unbelievable success of the mission made believers out of the skeptics and non-believers.

Many of these same feelings will hopefully be re-experienced just four days from now. Although there is little relationship between a successful space mission and the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, perhaps we can note some similarities in what went on in our minds yesterday and what was experienced in the minds of the first Christians.

The joy, the happiness, the relief, the sense of overcoming difficulties, the feeling of success, and, in particular, the tremendous sense of hope were also felt the moment Christ came forth from the tomb. The door of eternal life was at last opened for all people. Many of the skeptics and non-believers were transformed.

While yesterday's event was indeed significant and historical, it doesn't hold a candle to the significance of the "super" event we celebrate on Easter. Those same wonderful feelings that Christians enjoyed on the first Easter should also be in our hearts and minds, not only on Easter Sunday, but every day of our lives.

Correction . . .

The basic theme of last week's editorial entitled "An Ugly Game" concerned the violations of others' rights by union coal miners who are attempting to shut down the non-union mines during the UMW strike. Despite opposing views expressed to us over the past week by some individuals, we have no intention of backing down or changing our minds on this particular point.

However, the editorial did contain some mis-information, by stating that non-union mine operators are required to pay a tonnage fee which goes into the union's strike fund. In reality, as pointed out to us by several union miners, there is presently no strike fund in the UMW and the only royalties paid are by union operators who process non-union coal, and those royalties go into the pension fund, not a strike fund. We apologize for that error.

We also wish to state that the editorial was not intended to criticize union miners in general, but to condemn the illegal actions of those particular union miners (fortunately a minority) who resort to threats and violence.

*****

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

In last week's paper you stated that the non-union mines pay a fee that goes to the UMW strike fund. I wish to correct you. First of all, the UMW does not have a strike fund. When we are on strike we get nothing, other than a few food stamps. Speaking as a Maryland resident, the people begrudge us of getting them. I assume the people of this county think none of our Union money goes toward the Food Stamp Program.

Secondly, the non-union mines pay no royalty into the UMW at all. When the union mines buy coal from the non-union mines they pay the royalty into the UMW Health and Retirement funds.

As in every strike (I have been through quite a few) certain people of this county, blame every raise of products and the highrise of the economy on the striking coal miners.

Let me ask the business people of Garrett county, how much they would lose if all the Union money was taken from them. Also, you non-union miners, how much do you think you would be making if it weren't for the Union miners and the sacrifices we are making?

I think we deserve a little consideration, even from Garrett County since this is where our Union money goes.

Getting back to the past strike we went through, we were belittled, and run down all through it. When we finally got a contract some of the area merchants had a "Back to Work Sale." Well, let me tell you, this time we don't want your sales!

Sincerely,
A UMW Union

Local 2410

Mr. Editor:

Due to your totally irresponsible editorial in the April 8th issue, I find I must now descend to your level to correct the gross lies which you have printed.

You seem to think that the UMW regards the coalfields as a playground, but I would like to inform you that we do not consider our jobs a joke. Any fairness you may have planned, ended with the first paragraph in which you referred to the "greed" of the miners and operators. However, I still don't know of one miner, union or non-union, whose pay scale equals that of an autoworker or steelworker. Where are your scathing editorials when the autoworkers are on strike? No need to answer, since most of you don't quibble about the price of a new car.

Be that as it may, the lies that you have printed in the fourth paragraph approach libel. There is neither a law nor a regulation that "forces" non-union operators to pay a fee to the union. The facts are: 1) the operators of union mines pay a royalty on all non-union coal that is processed at the union operator's job site. In the past the union operator's have agreed to this. 2) the UMW does not have a strike fund as do other big unions. The royalty that is paid goes into the UMW pension fund. Pension, Mr. Editor! Is that something that is paid to your employees after 20-30 years of service?

Now that you have done your part to arouse the "animalistic psyche" of our mob more than anyone else, and at the same time placed your publication in a class with the National Enquirer, I'm sure I speak for all my union brothers when I insist you print a retraction as well as an apology.

Less than respectfully
Karl P. Stern

Editor:
I read with great amusement your editorial commenting on the UMW coal strike.

Coming on the heels of your prior editorial concerning the National Enquirer and Carol Burnett lawsuit in which you castigated the Enquirer for its inability to report and comment in a truthful manner, I remind you of the parable, "Those who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones."

The coal strike editorial contained several errors of fact which could have been easily checked had the writer tried.

1. The coal strike is not a "biennial event." The economic strike occurs every three years, not every two and only in the event a settlement cannot be reached prior to the expiration of the old contract.

2. There is no regulation requiring "non-union" mines to pay a tonnage fee to the UMW Union. What is required is that if a UMW Coal Mine purchases coal from a NON-UMWA mine and runs it through their cleaning plant, the UMW coal operator must pay an additional royalty into the UMW Health and Retirement Funds.

3. There is no "Union Strike Fund." The UMW Health and Retirement Fund provides health insurance and pension benefits to retired coal miners, their widows and families.

Had the writer bothered to make one simple phone call to the UMW all of the above information could have been provided.

Since the writer or editor did not bother with this simple task, it only lends credence to the rumor that "The Republican" is the unofficial P.R. arm of the Mettiki Coal Corp.

I suggest you owe your readership and the UMW a sincere apology for your errors of fact.

Sincerely,
David L. Moe
Mt. Lake Park

Dear Editor:

In your April 8 edition, you wrote an editorial called "An Ugly Game." When I read it, it was obvious that the person who wrote it did not have the least idea what he was talking about.

Being an UMW member and having been up to Mettiki, the only violence I saw was on the part of the non-union miners. But you don't have to believe me, just ask your paper's photographer who was hit by one of the Mettiki workers. I might just add the fact that it was one of the violent union miners who might very well have saved his life.

I would also like to know where you got your information about the Union Strike Fund! Isn't it strange no one in our local has ever heard of it, much less collected from it?

I would like to ask the people of Garrett County if they know where the Garrett County Sheriff and his deputies have been? It hasn't been protecting the county, just Mettiki.

Also, I would like to ask why the State Police allegedly told Mettiki employees that if we got in their way to run over us? It would seem to me that if violence does break out, it will not be the UMW that starts it.

A concerned United Mine Worker of America and a Garrett County resident

Dear Concerned,

There was absolutely no mention of the Mettiki Coal Company in the editorial. We were speaking of the violence which has occurred in other areas.

Also, we have no reason to defend the Mettiki Coal Company. In fact, when we tried to get a statement from Mettiki officials, we were refused. We do, however, defend the rights of those individuals who work at non-union mines, whether it is Mettiki or some other mine.

As for the errors in information, we stand corrected. Editor

Dear Sir:

Your Carol Kapel, "Congratulations Guys!" Was a masterpiece! One such as I have been hoping to hear and read for many years in The Republican. Someone who had the "guts" to write it like it is! Hurrah Carol!

As she writes, many of us had not the opportunity to make an analysis of the subject, pro or con. I first knew of it in the previous week's Republican. Where I live I do not receive WMSG or WXIE, but I do receive WFBR very well.

I am so thoroughly disgusted, discouraged and ashamed of the way our County government works. I wonder how much longer the public can endure this type of Mickey Mouse operation, without rising in revolt? Surely there should be concerted efforts to change it or do we suffer fools gladly?

Why has not DeCorsey Bolden introduced a bill in Annapolis long ago to change this way of governing? Why have the people not demanded a change from childish politics? It's very strange to me where people interest lie. What will Americans fight for anymore?? I personally cannot forget the few short months ago, when a young woman was violated, hurt and humiliated in the Courthouse, while on the job by members of our Sheriff's Department, and the deplorable conduct of the affair which followed. That alone, if none other called for a very close scrutiny of the Sheriff's Department. I don't feel its been made yet.

Mr. Paugh and Mr. Hunter you deserve 0% for your performance! Mr. Gregg, thanks again for trying, but it is

Get Involved? Why Not?

by Carol Kapel

In the recent life of the Garrett County Board of Education, it seems reasonable to say, "When it rains, it pours."

The Board is currently being plagued with employee disputes. The Southern Middle School Physical Education instructors are voicing their opposition to a problem they feel is endangering the health and safety of their students—overcrowding in the instructional area.

The cafeteria and food service workers, as well as students and faculty members, are up in arms over meal prices, cutbacks in hours, and the general feeling of failure directed toward the centralized operation of the school food program.

Portions of the attendance policy are being challenged by county parents who resent the term "indifferent" as a parental or pupil description on a rigid, inflexible absenteeism code.

Discipline (or lack of it) on county school buses is being questioned by the students, themselves. The widespread use of drugs and alcohol among county young people is uppermost in the minds of the student majority. These problems all indirectly affect our children.

Perhaps it's far beyond the time more parents should seriously "get involved." Perhaps it's now finally time to contact school officials, form parent groups, talk with, not to, the young people who are experiencing the current difficulties and make a real attempt to "do" something.

The Board's purpose is to organize and implement an educational system for our youth. A goodly portion of its funding to do so is generated by county tax dollars.

Each parent and taxpayer has the right and the obligation to be fully informed.

This can become reality by conscientiously attending PTA meetings and school board meetings; making direct contact with teachers and administrators; organizing and attending drug and alcohol abuse seminars; seeking the suggestions and support of teenagers who are actually involved in the system; cooperating with law enforcement officials, etc. The list goes on and on.

Let your voice be heard. The young people are waiting. Aren't they worth it?

obviously clear even to you now, that it doesn't make any difference what you try to do it will be defeated.

Dear Editor:

I can't believe Ernie Gregg is still trying to make the people believe they would save around two hundred thousand dollars if they got rid of the deputies. We got a snow job all right, when we got him.

All of us aren't dumb so why don't you just admit that some of your buddies would lose their jobs if you started saving taxes where you should.

We also resent you saying Petitions were shoved under peoples noses by uniformed officers, just one more thing you don't know what you are talking about. I am like Johnny Carson with the Enquirer. You are a liar.

Go back and mind the store and take Carol Kapel and Tom Butcher with you.

Commissioners Paugh and Hunter pay no attention to them. We don't want our decisions made by Gregg and it is a pity we elected him. It is great how he lets the Public know what is going on when he doesn't know himself.

Carol Kapel has a lot to learn about Garrett County and the people. If she doesn't like our law enforcement that is her problem. I am sure she will be remembered, as well as a few others.

I think it is great that Commissioners Paugh and Hunter came up with answers so quickly that it took Gregg two years and he still knows nothing.

Good job Commissioners Paugh and Hunter. Congratulations! If taxes raise it won't be because of the Sheriff's Department.

Grateful

I would like to know who Carol Kapel thinks she is too. She thinks she knows more than the taxpayers that have lived here for years and I am sure she hasn't.

The railroading should begin by getting rid of Ernie Gregg, for if the people didn't understand this program it was because he doesn't know what he is talking about.

It is true the troopers are to support other law officers, not take their jobs, but Gregg probably raises he knows more than Col. Smith.

Second Impression Report To Parents

by Harry Fox

"Report cards come out next Friday," the teacher announced to her class of squirming, giggling second graders. Instantly the room grew quiet, as the shadow of inevitable reckoning cast a pall on the usually excited youngsters. There's something about report cards that can do strange things to people, old or young.

When we can be honest about it, adults derive much the same mixture of pain and pleasure from our "quarterly reports," or sales records, or year-end reviews. When the fancy titles and slick covers are removed, though, it's still the same. Where have we been? What has been accomplished?

United Press has in today's newspapers a "report card" of what our state legislators have been doing this year. It really amounts to a report to parents, telling us what our political offspring in Annapolis have accomplished, or failed to do in the 1981 General Assembly. It would pay concerned citizens throughout the state to read carefully, and then offer our representatives some "grades" on their performance. Herewith, my own contribution to the legislative report card:

Drunk driving - Both houses passed a bill to lower the required alcohol content in the blood for a conviction. Bloody testimony to the need for this, and other legislation is in almost every day's news. I give them an "A."

Sovereign Immunity - This is an impressive way of saying that the state or its officials may not be held personally liable for damaging actions taken in the course of their duties. The legislators removed some of this protection in civil lawsuits. While the trend seems to be "sue thy neighbor" for almost anything, it makes sense that personal accountability and accompanying care, be encouraged for our leaders. I'll give them a "B."

New judgeships - The creation of six new circuit court judges was approved. Even a glance at the caseload carried by our overcrowded courts indicates the need for more judges. It isn't the whole answer to the problems of criminal justice, but it is a step in the right direction. "A."

Drinking age - No consensus could be reached by the two houses. Teenagers have enough problems without alcohol. It won't stop teen drinking, but a higher legal age would help. In the light of the action on drunk driving, give them an "F" for "fence-straddling."

Time-wasters - Maryland has its share of jokesters in the Assembly. This wouldn't be bad if there was time for all the vital work. Such efforts as making the Lone Ranger the state "Hero" failed. Give the sponsors a "D," and an attitude check.

Citizenship - This was always a favorite of mine in elementary school. Nobody quite knew what it meant, but it wasn't hard to get a good grade. Our legislators struggled with a large amount of work in a short time. They weren't always efficient, or always capable of using good judgment. That's good, because our representatives reflect us. So, let's give ourselves the citizenship grade, a "B+," because there's always room for improvement.

*****

people of this county elected us to make decisions for them."

I am certainly glad to see that the commissioners know what their responsibilities are, the sad thing is that they are not fulfilling their responsibilities.

It would be great if all the taxpayers could go to Oakland and by sheer numbers show the commissioners that we will not tolerate any more taxes and that we disapprove of their way of running our county.

Since everyone cannot do that, I think everyone should write a letter to the commissioners stating that we will absolutely not tolerate anymore or any higher taxes.

Now is the time for the taxpayers to let the commissioners know what decisions should be made.

Terry L. Stanton

Dear Editor,

If the Deputies were to spend as much time solving crimes as they recently spent organizing a petition signature drive and letters to the editor campaign, their jobs wouldn't be in jeopardy to begin with. I had no idea they had so many relatives!

Dear Editor:

After reading your front page article about Mr. Buckingham and the cafeteria workers, it made me wonder how Mr. Buckingham can get away with passing "The Buck" to President Reagan, who has not yet cut the school budget. To the cafeteria managers about the menus when it is my understanding that centralized buying means he will make the menus and do all the purchasing. Then when he cuts workers hours from one to four hours he states the school board made him do it. To me that is a lot of passing the Buck.

As a parent with children in school, I think it's time we parents ask the school board, and the cafeteria managers and these women who work in the kitchen cut just what's going on? After all these women feed our children breakfast and lunch.

Wake up parents before Mr. Buckingham completely destroys the lunch program.

Nation And World

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Polish authorities said today an announcement of drastic food rationing was premature and the Solidarity union labeled the move a government retreat in the face of labor opposition.

One day after the official news agency PAP announced emergency rationing of butter, flour, rice and other cereals starting May 1, a spokesman for the government said the "information spread by the mass media was a simple misunderstanding" and had not yet been approved.

ATLANTA (UPI) — FBI Director William Webster's remarks at a Washington press lunch on the investigation into Atlanta's 23 child murders have incurred the wrath of the police, the mayor and the City Council.

As a small crowd gathered Tuesday to bury Larry Rogers — the 23rd victim and second consecutive mentally retarded black youth slain, Mayor Maynard Jackson fired off an angry letter to Webster, while the City Council's Public Safety Committee was drafting a letter of its own and Public Safety Commissioner Lee P. Brown called the FBI director.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Former U.S. Attorney General Richard Kleindienst, who resigned at the height of the Watergate scandal, was indicted on 14 counts of perjury for statements he made to a Bar Association committee investigating his dealings with a convicted racketeer.

Kleindienst, former President Richard Nixon's law enforcement chief for 14 months until May 1974, could be sentenced to up to 14 years in prison on each of 14 felony counts handed down Tuesday by a Maricopa County grand jury.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Roadblocks on Capitol Hill and prolonged FBI "conflict of interest" checks are keeping some high-level jobs in the Reagan administration from being filled.

The vacancy problem is beginning to cause some concern, acting White House press secretary Larry Speakes conceded Tuesday. He said, "I judge there will be discussions with the committee chairman" who are holding up some of the nominations.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Jubilant over the space shuttle Columbia's near-perfect performance on its maiden shakedown cruise, project officials quickly picked a two-man crew — astronauts Joe H. Engle, 48, and Richard H. Truly, 43, — to fly its next mission, possibly in September.

Today, John W. Young and Robert L. Crippen start filling in shuttle managers on what they learned during their 54½-hour, 36-orbit mission — an exhaustive process that will take eight to nine days.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans have until midnight to file their 1980 income tax returns or face the possibility of being assessed a penalty by the Internal Revenue Service.

Any taxpayer unable to file a return by the deadline may have a 60-day extension for the asking, but it is not exactly a free ride. They must file Form 4068, estimate their tax bills and pay today. The extension is for filling out the return, not for paying the tax.

The reception was the last of a full day of activities scheduled for the Bishop who was visiting Garrett and neighboring West Virginia counties. During the day, the Bishop attended a breakfast for ministers and their wives in Aurora, W. Va., a luncheon with church women in Terra Alta, W. Va., and a dinner with 165 church youth in Mt. # Ability As Opposed To Disability

Part Three

Following is the third in a six-part series dealing with available services for handicapped people in Garrett County, and the determination and contributions of handicapped individuals and those who work for their welfare.

by Kathy Bailey

The Appalachian Adult Activities Center in Oakland, a resource for Garrett County's severely handicapped population, has expanded its services considerably since the original 13-client day care facility was established in 1975. The group has expanded upon suggestions for employment of its clients, now setting a goal for eventual employment of every program participant.

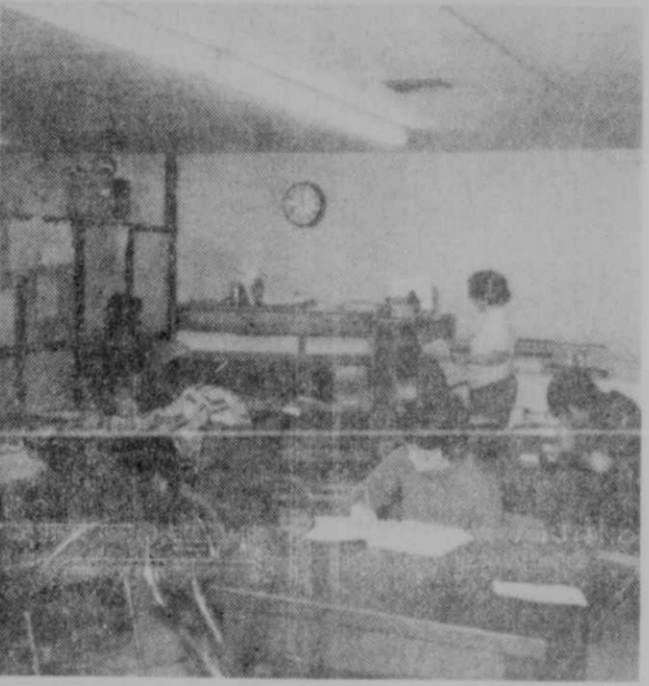

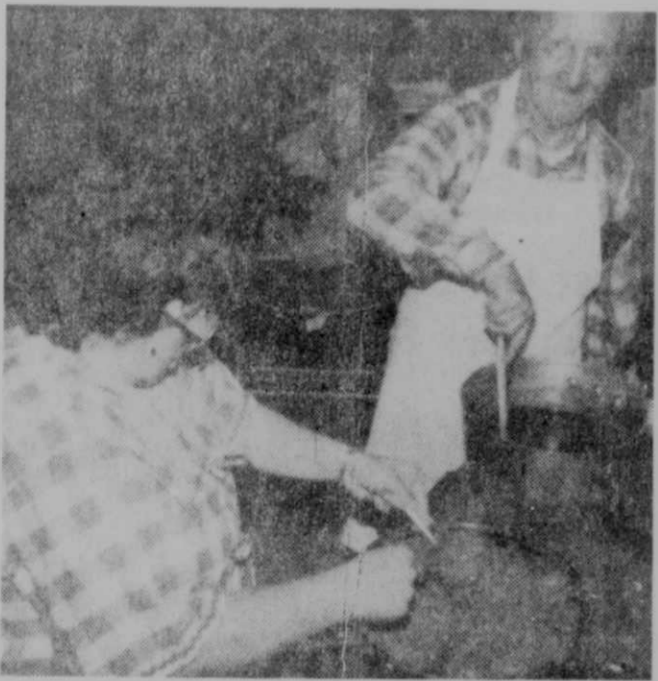

According to Dave Koontz, AAAC Director since 1976, approximately 66 percent of the center's clients are working. The center currently serves 50 people in daily direct services, which is only 8.9 percent of Garrett County's total estimated adult handicapped population. However small that percentage, each individual there is able to work toward a goal.

According to the state, which supplies 75 percent of AAAC's operational funds, the center can serve up to 60 people. Koontz pointed out that each client costs the state about $15 per day, in an atmosphere where this person is becoming productive and is working toward an ultimate goal of employment. For that same individual in an institution, it costs the state about $130 per day just to supply his basic needs, in a place where he is generally non-productive. In group figures, Koontz said, the state pays $331,000 to maintain the same number of people in an institution which the center serves for $24,000.

Aside from the benefits of productivity and self-sufficiency for the center's employed clients, these people are no longer dependent upon third-party payments, such as Social Security Disability Income, but are now taxpaying citizens of the community no longer relying upon assistance to meet their daily needs.

People served at the center are 21 years of age and older who have, through development, accident or disease, contracted a disability which impairs daily living activities. Emotionally, physically and mentally disabled people of the community are served under one roof at AAAC. Koontz stated that the center was told by other agencies that disabilities could not be mixed in a day care center. However, he has found this to be an advantage, as persons of varied disabilities support each other.

Clearly, much determination and years of hard work and planning have brought the center to its present status in the community. Operations began in June, 1975, with Frederick A. Peters as Program Director. At that time the center provided strictly day care services in addition to transportation, meals, medical examinations and a small amount of funds for outside activities.

PRODUCTIVITY, COMPANIONSHIP PART OF AAAC — Gainful employment is a goal set for all clients at the Appalachian Adult Activities Center, however not all activities are geared toward employment. The clients take frequent field trips for boating, picnics and to enjoy sports activities. All of the clients' needs are met through the center, which also utilizes the services of many other county agencies.

The initial funding source, continued through five years of operation, was the Appalachian Regional Commission. The center opened under a demonstrative grant with a defined number of individuals to be served. According to Koontz, public response was durn, as many people felt, "Government funds are being used again, and is it going to last?" Because of its small number of program participants the center was nearly shut down in December of 1975.

The population of the center started to increase rapidly in 1976, however, as the group began interacting more with other county agencies. AAAC opened its doors and services to the community and others responded by offering referrals, financial support and services. This "unique working relationship with agencies in the county" is still true today, said Koontz, through the Inter-agency Committee on Handicapped Services (all county agencies).

Clients at the center have access to obtaining whatever they need or want to achieve, either at the center itself or with the help and cooperation of other agencies. The key seems to be individual care and concern, and the AAAC staff, in particular, is described by Koontz as "believing equally in the population served," advocating ability as opposed to disability. Garrett County is unique in that formal written requests are not necessary in filling a handicapped person's needs... all it really takes is a phone call and the agencies work willingly together, said Koontz.

In 1976 the center received grant assistance from the Mental Retardation Administration, a portion of which was local, to supplement ARC monies, thus enabling the center to continue operations. (ARC requires that a 25% state or local funding source supplement its 75% grant).

In March of that year the center began with the Lindy Pen Company out of California, purchasing component parts, assembling them and selling the finished product. This was the center's first vehicle to generate workshop monies. At that time the organization applied for an Evaluation and Training Certificate from the Department of Labor, and a Work Activities Certificate, still held by the organization today. The center also became acquainted with the National Industries for the Severely Handicapped (NISH), and became certified as a non-profit organization and recognized as a Minority Business.

The organization's first fund-raising activity, an auction, was held in August of that year, when the $868.70 raised enabled the group to purchase its first hot foil stamp machines. This sparked the second work-related activity, that of printing matchbooks, personalized pens, stationery and Christmas cards.

As most clients at the center were not on the top priority listing of potential employees in the community, the center began an endless thrust to create businesses within the organization where their people could work. This not only provides program participants the opportunity to earn a living, but the businesses also provide additional community services.

A Parent Group was formed in 1976 and the center became a part of the Community Action Committee, meeting daily in Small Business at Frostburg State College a commercial cleaning company was developed. The Department of Human Resources, State Manpower Planning Office gave initial support in February, 1978, to the Triple "A" Cleaning Service through a $61,062 grant. This provided one year's funding under a demonstration project, and the money was used to purchase two vehicles, equipment for two crews and paid the wages for 10 handicapped individuals.

All employees were hired through a competitive process and received training using mock work sites. A one-year contract, obtained through the open bid process, got the company moving. It was awarded by the county government to provide janitorial service to the receipts, of which 90 percent is returned to the employees through wages.
